ROME PACT DEVELOPS

Holy See-Italy Terms Near

[illegible]iators of Pope Meeting With Government Envoy on Old Problem

[illegible]tion to Involve Return of Property and Also Large Payment

ROME, Jan. 14. (AP)—It appears [illegible] vexed Roman question is [illegible] about to be solved. There [illegible] doubt that negotiators, who [illegible] with full knowledge of the [illegible] See and the Italian government, [illegible] without full authority, [illegible] reached an agreement on territorial as well as financial conditions. The question now is in the [illegible] of the Pope and Premier to [illegible] these conclusions and decide [illegible] ways and means of carrying [illegible] out.

The agreement is based on the [illegible] by Italy to the Holy See [illegible] small extension of territory [illegible] of the Vatican garden, including the villas of Bamefi and Doriapamphili, with extraterritorial rights.

PAYMENT INVOLVED

There also would be payment of [illegible] indemnity of 1,000,000,000 lire, which at the present rate of exchange amounts to about $52,632,[illegible] This would compensate for [illegible] properties taken by the Italian government in 1870 by annexation of the papal states.

The negotiators were Mgr. Borgoncini Duca, secretary of extraordinary affairs at the Vatican, [illegible] Mgr. Pacelli, brother of the [illegible] nuncio at Berlin, on the one [illegible] and Prof. Giannini and Domenico Barone, on the other. Barone died recently.

In Vatican circles it was said [illegible] that these men exchanged [illegible] views in conversations which [illegible] no official and which had [illegible] private and personal character." [illegible] it is known that they [illegible] authorized to exchange views [illegible] subject by two "high par[illegible] who remained entirely free to [illegible] modify or reject the conclusions reached.

DAILY REPORTS

[illegible] matter of fact, it is known [illegible] Borgoncini Duca reported on [illegible] daily to the Pope, with [illegible] Pacelli also had frequent [illegible] interviews to receive instructions.

The negotiations with the Fascist [illegible] were started originally by the [illegible] Father Tacchi Venturi, and [illegible] almost without interruption [illegible] for about two years. By the [illegible] desire of both Pope Pius [illegible] and Premier Mussolini, these [illegible] from simply tentative efforts [illegible] to have both sides com[illegible] to make a definite decision whenever they thought advisable. During this period of time [illegible] have been various stages of [illegible] less activity in the negotiations and of more or less probability of success, but the intercourse between the negotiators always [illegible] characterized by the [illegible] cordiality.

The question now is in the hands [illegible] Pacelli and the Premier to [illegible] a formal agreement upon [illegible] conclusions reached embodying [illegible] and ways for carrying [illegible] into effect. The impression [illegible] that some announcement

Will Rogers Remarks:

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—[To the Editor of The Times:] The Senate is fighting over a bill providing for $25,000,000 more to add to the prohibition enforcement. The drys say they need the extra money to get more evidence; the wets say, "Why should we furnish the drys money for evidence? We have to buy our evidence ourselves."

Since Morrow did some real good for his country and received much praise our rich men are beginning to realize that you got to be something besides rich to be favorably known nowadays. J. P. Morgan is the latest recruit.

HIGH COURT WILL PASS ON GAS TAX

Angelenos Attack Law on Grounds of Refund to Nonauto Users

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14. (AP)—The Supreme Court agreed today to pass on the validity of California's gasoline-tax law. It announced that George B. Williams and others of Los Angeles had presented a case within the jurisdiction of the court and that it would be heard on its merits.

Williams and his associates sought to prevent the State from collection of the gasoline tax on the ground that it constituted illegal discrimination by providing a refund to those using gasoline for other purposes than driving an automobile. Various other grounds were advanced for challenging the validity of the tax.

The Supreme Court also consented to review an attack on the California law taxing motor carriers 5 per cent on their gross earnings. The attack was made by the Bekins Van Lines, Inc., and other operators of motor vehicles bringing vegetables and other farm products into San Francisco.

Two Children Perish in Fire

TYLERTOWN (Miss.) Jan. 14. (AP) Locked in a burning barn while their mother tried in vain to rip boards from the walls to rescue them, two children of Mr. and Mrs. Otis Dier perished today.

The mother left the children, Otis, Jr., 9 years of age, and Mary Inez, 6, in the barn while she returned to their dwelling, 300 feet away, to answer the cries of her infant. It was believed the children started the fire while playing with matches.

SUPREME COURT TO RECESS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14. (AP)—The Supreme Court announced today a recess from January 21 to February 18.

ICE DEATHS INCREASE

Little Hope Held Out for Any Immediate Relief Being Given Sufferers

CHICAGO, Jan. 14. (AP)—The Middle West is locked tonight in the icy grip of one of the most severe cold waves and the worst snowstorm in recent years. Six deaths have been attributed to the storm.

Subzero temperatures that yesterday broke records of forty years were followed today by a snowstorm that continued from dawn until dark and is expected to last until tomorrow, when weather almost as cold as that of the last three days is predicted.

MANY SUFFERING

The storm and cold tonight had succeeded in accounting for the death of half a dozen persons and suffering for thousands of others, had blocked main highways in half a dozen States, hampered rail transportation and tied wire communication facilities into a snarl.

In Chicago, with a temperature yesterday of 9 below zero and readings today of a few points above, hundreds of men labored to keep the streets cleared of snow. Hundreds of homeless persons found shelter in police stations or welfare institutions and four deaths have been attributed to the cold.

FIRES BATTLED

Firemen fought two disastrous blazes in the cold and snow, one yesterday on the forty-second floor of the unfinished Foreman National Bank Building in La Salle street and the other today in the South Side plant of the Inland Rubber Company. One high school was closed because it was impossible to provide enough heat.

A Chicago and Northwestern Railroad engineer was killed by a snow plow at Minnesota Junction, Wis., and fears are expressed for the safety of two parties of fishermen, one of which drifted into Lake Superior, near Isle Royale, Saturday, and the other of which put out from Charlevoix, Mich. Searching parties are looking for each of them.

BUENOS AIRES SUFFERS FROM HEAT

BREAK FORECAST IN BAY CITY'S COLD

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 14. (Exclusive)—A break in Northern California's latest protracted cold spell was forecast tonight by the Weather Bureau. Although subfreezing temperatures remained general today, the barometer has receded to normal levels and rain was indicated on the extreme north coast tomorrow and may come farther south by Wednesday.

In San Francisco today the minimum was 37 deg. or within one degree of the lowest mark registered for the winter.

'Bathhouse' John Candidate Again

CHICAGO, Jan. 14, (AP)—John J. (Bath-house) Coughlin, finishing his thirty-seventh year as an Alderman, announced his candidacy for re-election today.

"Just a formality," he said. "My ward (the First) has taken it for granted I would go on serving. Early in life I dedicated myself to the people, and though my hair has turned gray in public service, I shall continue to be at their call."

FOCH BATTLES FOR HIS LIFE

World War Leader Stricken With Heart Attack But Rallies After Several Crises in Day

PARIS, Jan. 14. (AP)—Ferdinand Foch, marshal of France and commander-in-chief of the Allied armies in the closing stages of the World War, tonight was holding a slight advantage in his most critical engagement, a battle against illness. The winner of many gigantic battles was fighting for his own life against a heart attack which struck him down this morning while he was lighting the cigar which habitually follows his morning coffee.

The Marshal was resting this evening, but was in a rather exhausted state after the bitter struggle of the day. Intermittent sinking spells, followed by courageous recoveries, had six doctors much worried. At one stage his two daughters were called to the bedside with their mother, and many expected that the end was near, but the medical men on leaving the house this evening said that the condition of their patient was fairly satisfactory. They said they will not return until tomorrow evening.

MARSHAL FOCH

The doctors issued this short communique:

They explained, however, that M. Foch is enjoying what probably will be only a temporary truce. The probability of another attack is regarded with the gravest forebodings.

The medical communication was signed by Doctors Davenlene, Herts-Roger, Degenner, Lautry, Julez-Renault and Balinski.

Marshal Foch caught a cold on Armistice Day which settled in his bronchial tubes, causing a hacking cough and affecting the action of the heart. Despite this condition he continued work in his office in the Invalides Building until Saturday, when severe pains in his side forced him to remain at home.

AMERICAN REPARATION TRIO NAMED

J. P. Morgan, O. D. Young and T. N. Perkins Picked to Help Revise Payments

PARIS, Jan. 14. (Exclusive)—The appointment of J. Pierpont Morgan, Owen D. Young and Thomas Nelson Perkins as the American members of the financial experts' commission to revise the Dawes plan and to fix the total reparations Germany must pay will be made within twenty-four hours.

It is learned that the trio have accepted the request to serve, having assured the British Ambassador in Washington of their willingness to aid after the United States government announced its willingness for Americans to participate unofficially.

Mr. Morgan's readiness to join is creating tremendous surprise here in view of the financier's hitherto unalterable opposition to appearing personally in any sort of public or semipublic negotiations.

The French feel that Mr. Morgan will prove a strong friend of the Paris viewpoint during the pourparlers, pointing out that the Morgan-Harjes bank is established here, and that Mr. Morgan was one of the biggest war operators, aiding the Allies with huge loans and credits.

They also point out that Mr. Morgan saved the franc in 1922 when it tumbled to twenty-nine to a dollar.

BERMAN PARRIES KEYES ATTACK IN WORD DUEL

State's Witness Fortifies Position as Accuser When Questioned by Former District Attorney

Attempts by former Dist.-Atty. Keyes to weaken the damaging testimony of Jacob Berman, star State's witness in the trial of Keyes and others charged with bribery conspiracy, ended in failure yesterday in Superior Judge Butler's court.

Keyes, who personally took over cross-examination of the witness by special permission of the court, was met more than half way on the legal battle ground by the "bright young man of the Julian case," and when the conflict was ended by adjournment of court Berman's testimony remained not only unshaken, but considerably fortified.

(1.) He denied that he had ever offered, or instructed his attorneys to make an offer, that he would turn State's evidence in the Julian conspiracy cases in return for immunity or a light sentence.

(2.) He asserted that a proposition that he testify for the State was made to him by former Chief Deputy District Attorney Harold L. Davis and that he (Berman) turned it down.

(3.) He told Keyes face-to-face that he always believed the former District Attorney was getting at least a part of the bribe money, although he admitted he had never given Mr. Keyes any money, or talked about the bribes with him.

ATTACK BY KEYES

Keyes centered his attack, it was apparent, on Berman's activities during the Julian conspiracy cases in the obvious hope of showing that Berman was refused a chance to turn State's evidence by the then prosecutor.

Failing in that, Keyes then switched to a different angle of attack. He asked the witness, in substance, what made him believe that Keyes was getting the bribe money Berman said he put up.

"Because Ben Getzoff said he would put me behind a screen and let me see Keyes get the money," retorted Berman.

Ben Getzoff, another defendant in the case, was the owner of the little tailor shop at 609 South Spring street and asserted go-between in the bribery conspiracy.

DIDN'T TRUST HIM

"I didn't trust him, but I took his word for it when he said he would put me behind the screen," replied Berman. "I took his word for it when he was in close association with the man supposed to get the money. I didn't want Getzoff to think that I didn't trust him."

A little later Berman further amplified this statement with another, as follows:

"I always believed Keyes got some of the money, but I also believed Getzoff was holding out some, but I didn't believe that he dared hold it all out."

Berman admitted that he never talked to Keyes about receiving money, why his case was not dismissed or why the prosecutor continued to pile up evidence against him.

"Why should I, when I knew he'd deny it, and when I saw him all the time with the man I was paying the money to?" replied the witness.

WOULD BE DISMISSED

Ben Getzoff, he said, was assuring him at the same time that it did not matter how much evidence piled up that his case was going to be dismissed anyway. Getzoff further declared, said Berman, that the only thing that was holding up the dismissal of E. H. Rosenberg's case and that of Berman was Superior Judge Doran, before whom the Julian cases were tried, who disliked the District Attorney.

Keyes's cross-examination began inauspiciously, the first few questions leading to a hectic legal argument between opposing counsel that grew so heated that apologies were in order before the examination could proceed.

"You left town rather suddenly, didn't you?" asked Keyes, referring to May, 1927, when Berman fled from Los Angeles to Europe shortly before the Julian stock overissue was revealed.

Special Prosecutor Clark objected that the leaving or the manner of it had nothing to do with the present case and was only an attempt to influence the jury. The argu-

PACT MEETS DEADLOCK

Interpretationist Group Balks

Proposal for Limit on Debate Frustrated by Reed and His Followers

Resolution Offered Calling for Report Embodying Views of Borah

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14. (AP)—Senators favoring an interpretation of the Kellogg antiwar treaty today frustrated another proposal to limit debate on the pact by the Senate and this resulted in opening the door on the series of secret negotiations in an effort to straighten out the situation.

The "interpretationists" took the offensive with Senator Reed, Democrat, Missouri, offering a resolution directing the Foreign Relations Committee to submit a report embodying the views expressed on the floor of the Senate by Chairman Borah on the treaty's constitution.

Until he can get definite assurance of a vote on that resolution Senator Reed is holding out against the limitation of debate sought by Senator Borah. Senators Reed, Moses, Republican, New Hampshire, and Bingham, Republican, Connecticut, who are leading the fight for a committee report on the treaty, said they are ready to agree to a vote on the treaty provided they can obtain a vote on Reed's resolution.

After two hours of bickering on the floor for an agreement during which Senator Robinson of Arkansas, the Democratic leader, took sides with President Coolidge in an effort to break the deadlock, Senators Borah and Reed finally did some plain talking on their differences over an interpretative statement.

BORAH'S STATEMENT

Senator Borah said that at one time Secretary Kellogg and himself had agreed to the drafting of a report by the Foreign Relations Committee embodying the expressed view of Borah that the treaty does not infringe upon the Monroe Doctrine or on this nation's right of self-defense. Then, he said, it was proposed that this report be transmitted to the other powers and to that the Secretary and himself had objected and would continue to object.

Senator Reed then disclosed that he has polled the Democratic members and Senator Moses has polled the Republican members and has obtained pledges from virtually the entire membership that no motion will be made to have the proposed committee report adopted and sent to the other powers.

Senator Borah, however, contended that publication in the meantime of the story of the negotiations had created an understanding in the minds of other governments that any manner of construction on the treaty by the Senate or its Foreign Relations Committee would amount to a reservation. For that reason, he said, he cannot assent even to the drafting of the committee re-

STUNT SET QUESTION MARK

Famous Plane May Attempt Refueling Flight Across Continent, Says Commander

SAN DIEGO, Jan. 14. (AP)—Probability that the Question Mark, famous record-smashing army endurance plane, will make a nonstop refueling flight back across the continent to Washington was expressed here today by Maj. Carl Spatz, commanding officer.

The Question Mark, which will be accompanied by refueling ship No. 1, piloted by Capt. Ross G. Hoyt, will attempt the first nonstop transcontinental refueling flight in history if the plan is carried out.

Maj. Spatz said that final decision would be withheld until Capt. Ira C. Eaker, chief pilot in its epochal flight of more than 150 hours at Los Angeles last week, returned here from Texas. Capt. Eaker was called to his mother's home near San Angelo, where she was seriously ill.

"In compliance with our orders to return to Washington as direct and speedily as possible," Maj. Spatz said, "we may find it advisable to save time and make mileage by pushing the Question Mark through a 'round-the-clock' flight without landing, refueling as we go."

FLIGHT ITINERARY

"Our present itinerary," Maj. Spatz continued, "calls for our return by way of the southern route with overnight stops at Tucson, Ariz., Midland, Tex., Shreveport, La., Montgomery, Ala., and some point between Montgomery and Washington not yet selected. The reason for this uncertainty is that we may be compelled to adjust our course to weather conditions along the Atlantic seaboard.

"Even if the twenty-four-hour nonstop flight is not made necessary there will be refueling contacts between the Question Mark and refueling ship No. 1.

"Refueling plane No. 1 will be piloted by Capt. Ross G. Hoyt, its regular pilot during the endurance flight, and Lieut. Elwood R. Quesada, one of the pilots of the Question Mark in its record endurance flight at Los Angeles, will be aboard.

TILT REVEALED IN TRANSCRIPT

Former Prosecutor Questions Witness for State

Score of Objections Lost by Defense in Fray

Bitter Arguments Feature of Drama in Court

Former Prosecutor Opens Fire on Berman's Story

Witness for State Parries Defense Thrusts

Scene in courtroom yesterday when former District Attorney, surrounded by his lawyers, was conducting cross-examination of Jacob Berman. Left to right—M. G. Phillips, Al McDonald, Paul Schenck, Le Compte Davis, Asa Keyes and William Beirne.

Cross-examination of Jacob Berman, alias Jack Bennett, principal State's witness at the trial of Asa Keyes, former District Attorney, and five others on charges of bribery and conspiracy, yesterday filed the official transcript with a score of objections lost by the defense, bitter argument by contending counsel and further revelations by the "bright youngster" of Julian notoriety.

The first several hours of yesterday's court session were spent in argument by the attorneys on the lost demand of the defense for Berman's purported confession. Subsequent pages detailed attempts of Keyes to cross-examine personally the witness in the face of a score or more of prosecution objections, the majority of which were sustained.

TAKES UP FLIGHT

Keyes questioned Berman on his flight to Europe immediately after the collapse of the Julian Corporation, his return to America, the retention of attorneys in New York, negotiations for his return to Los Angeles, in which the former prosecutor inferred Berman sought immunity, and the final return to California, all of which was constantly interrupted by prosecution objections.

After Berman's return to Los Angeles, Keyes demanded to know if he made any offers or overtures with the District Attorney toward turning State's evidence in the Julian cases. To which Berman replied:

Answer: After the trial started Chief Deputy District Attorney Davis sent for me and said, "Aren't you going to be a witness for the State?" I says, "Not that I know of." He says, "Well, you had better be," he says, "because the rest of the defendants are ready and willing to make you the goat." I says, "What do you mean, ready and willing to make me the goat?" He said, "Well, they are going to turn State's evidence." He says, "The dismissal has been made for Rosenberg so if he takes the stand you know where you are going to be." I says, "Well, where am I going to be?" He says, "You will be con- "You will be convinced," I says, "Well, I don't know about that." He says, "Well, you had better take a plea to the first count and take a year in the penitentiary." I said, "Nothing doing. I will stand pat, with the rest of the defendants and stand trial." That was four days before I met Mr. Getzoff. After Mr. Getzoff met me he says, "Are you going to make that deal with Buddy Davis?" I says, "No." He says, "Well, he said, "Ace sent word down for you not to make the deal; if you do you are crazy."

Question: Who said that?

NOT INTERESTED

A.: Mr. Getzoff. I said, "Well, I have already told Davis that I would not make the deal and I was not interested in the deal."

Q.: That was four days before you had met Mr. Getzoff, was it?

A.: Approximately.

Q.: Well, isn't it a fact now, Mr. Bennett, that you had agreed to surrender yourself to the authorities here in Los Angeles and to testify for the State in the trial of the Julian case, so-called, wherein Mr. Lewis, you and others were defendants, in consideration that you would be allowed to plead to only one count of the indictment and receive as light a sentence as could be gotten for you?

A.: No, sir.

Q.: During the month of January, while the jury was being selected in the third trial that was had in the Julian cases, and between, we will say, January 5 and January 20, didn't Mr. Murphy on at least two different occasions report to you that he had attempted to get the District Attorney to accept a plea to the lesser count in that indictment and give you a County Jail sentence, and Mr. Keyes and Mr. Davis had both refused to do it.

CITES LEGAL FEE

A.: No, sir. On the other hand, if I had expected to plead and was going to turn State's evidence, and even hoped to, I would not have retained Mr. Murphy and pay him $25,000 for his services. If I was going to do that, I would not need a lawyer. Mr. Donnelly could have arranged that, and also received $125,000 for his services.

Q.: Did you ever discuss at any time—you yourself—with either Mr. Davis or me or anyone else in authority at that time, the question of being allowed to plead guilty to either count in this case and take a light sentence?

A.: No, sir.

Q.: You never at any time had any such discussion?

A.: The only discussion was with Mr. Buddy Davis when he asked me to take a plea of guilty on the first count by representing to me if I didn't somebody else would, and the best I could get out of it was a conviction.

Q.: And did not Mr. Davis tell you at the time of that conversation, "Mr. Bennett, that was the agreement under which you came out here and we want you to stand by it and fulfill it?"

A.: He didn't say a thing about it.

Q.: He didn't mention that at all?

A.: No sir. May I explain that further?

Q.: Yes.

"DAVIS TO LEAVE"

A.: Also at the time that happened, I met Mr. Getzoff a few days later and he said the only reason that Buddy Davis was interested was because you were going to fire Buddy Davis and if he could deliver me to the prosecution and convict anybody that it would be a feather in his cap and it would keep himself in the District Attorney's office rather than get fired.

Q.: Now, you say, Mr. Bennett, that along about February 10, 1928, you formed a contact with me through Mr. Rosenberg and Mr. Getzoff, or rather that you had believed you had because you had paid Mr. Rosenberg $10,000 to take care of my gambling debts, as you testified, that Getzoff told you, and that $7500 to Mr. Getzoff at one time and $10,000 at another. Did you believe, Mr. Bennett, at that time that these amounts of money had been paid to the District Attorney of this county, Mr. Keyes?

A.: Yes, sir.

Q.: You believed it at that time?

A.: Yes sir, for the reason that I asked Mr. Getzoff if Asa Keyes was getting this money and he said, "Ye: don't you believe me?" He says that he would put me back of the screen when you came in and that I could see you taking the money and I says, "No, I will take your word for it."

Q.: But you didn't trust him, did you?

A.: No, sir.

Q.: And you didn't trust Ed Rosenberg?

A.: No, sir.

Q.: Well, if you didn't trust either Mr. Getzoff or Mr. Rosenberg, why didn't you fall into this plan that Mr. Getzoff outlined to you and get back of the screen and see whether or not Keyes was getting this money?

LET IT GO

A.: Well, I didn't want to have Mr. Getzoff get the idea that I was afraid of him so I just let it go at that.

Q.: What do you mean by that, Mr. Bennett, that that would give Getzoff the idea that you were afraid of him?

A.: I wanted him to believe that I trusted him at that time.

Q.: But nevertheless you did not trust him at that time?

A.: That is right.

Q.: And you didn't trust Ed Rosenberg at that time, is that true?

A.: That is right; that is true.

Q.: So at no time during this period did you ever ask either one of these gentlemen to get Mr. Keyes in such a position or such a place that you could prove to your own satisfaction that he was getting any of this money, is that true?

A.: Well, I took their word for it on account of the close association, and you seeing him all the time. That made me believe there was some truth in the story.

Q.: Now when Mr. McNaob, the United States Attorney, came into the matter, and Mr. Getzoff mentioned him to you, you wanted proof that Mr. Getzoff could do anything with Mr. McNabb, did you not?

Mr. Keyes: Well, I will change that: You wanted proof that Mr. Getzoff had some influence with Mr. McNabb?

A.: Yes, sir.

Q.: And so it was arranged that Mr. Getzoff should take Mr. McNabb and me to the Hoffman Cafe for lunch, is that it?

A.: Yes, sir.

Q.: And you were there and saw us three together there?

A.: Yes, sir.

Q.: Now, at any time, Mr. Bennett, during the trial of the Julian case in which you were a defendant, did you ever at any time approach the District Attorney, Mr. Keyes, and ask him to do anything at all with reference to his conduct so far as you were concerned in that case?

A.: No, sir.

TALKS OF TRIAL

Q.: As you sat in court day after day and day after day and listened to the introduction of the evidence in that case, Mr. Bennett, you realized, did you not that every single item and iota of testimony that had been introduced before the grand jury in that case was put in evidence against you in the case on trial?

A.: Yes, sir.

Q.: And in addition to that, there was other testimony or other evidence introduced by Mr. Keyes and Mr. Davis and his associates in that case against you, besides what had been taken before the grand jury?

A.: I noticed that Mr. Davis and Mr. Richardson and Mr. Van Cott put all of it in that they could find. There is no question about it.

Q.: Did you ever at any time during the progress of that case, Mr. Bennett, suggest to either Mr. Getzoff or to Mr. Rosenberg that they intercede with Mr. Keyes in your behalf with reference to the introduction of evidence in that matter?

A.: No, I saw no reason for it. Rosenberg was supposed to be dismissed any day and the same thing was going to be one for me. Mr. Getzoff gave me to understand—as much as told me, "What is the difference what went in? It don't make any difference."

Q.: Did you really expect to have your case dismissed in any event? Did you really think that your case was going to be dismissed?

LINKED WITH ROSENBERG

A.: If the dismissal was asked for Ed Rosenberg, yes.

Q.: And you thought your case should be dismissed?

A.: I didn't say that I thought that my case should be dismissed.

Q.: You thought it would be?

A.: Yes, sir, I thought that it would be.

Q.: Well as day after day went on, and as the evidence was rolling in day after day, piling up against you, why didn't you make some protest to these men that you say you paid this money to; why didn't you make some protest about the conduct of Keyes?

A.: I did, and he said, "Don't worry about it."

Q.: But you never said anything to me?

A.: No, sir.

Q.: Well, you never talked to me after the case was disposed of with reference to my receiving any money, did you, Mr. Bennett?

A.: No, sir.

Q.: Now, Mr. Bennett, you have stated that you believed Mr. Ben Getzoff had paid me all or part of this money which you had paid to him. If you really believed that during the progress of this case, when this evidence was coming in day after day against you, why didn't you come to me and say, "Mr. Keyes, I know that you have received a certain sum of money for the dismissal of my case and I want it dismissed. I know you have been bribed?"

A.: You ask me why?

Q.: Yes.

NOT GOOD POLICY

A.: I didn't think it was a good policy. I figured if you got the money, you would deny it anyway, so I didn't go near you. Why should I go near the District Attorney and ask him that when I see him with the man that I am giving the money to every day? I have got to take his word for something.

Q.: Why didn't you demand that Mr. Getzoff take you to Mr. Keyes and find out the truth about it, of whether or not he had received this money?

A.: I don't know why I didn't do it, but I just didn't do it, but I kept giving him money every time he asked for it.

Q.: And then why didn't you go to Mr. Keyes or to Mr. Getzoff and find out whether or not you had spent your money in vain or whether or not Keyes had received any of that money?

A.: Because Mr. Getzoff said it was not his fault, that it was Judge Doran's fault, and called Judge Doran a lot of names that I cannot mention here, for not granting it (dismissal of Ed Rosenberg,) and also telling me that the reason that Judge Doran didn't grant it was because of his animosity toward you, that you were never friends, that he worked with you in the District Attorney's office and that you were never friendly and that was the reason that he would not discuss it.

"NOT SATISFIED"

Q.: And at that time, Mr. Bennet, you were pretty well satisfied, were you not, that Mr. Keyes had not received any of that money?

A.: No, I was not satisfied.

Q.: Well, you satisfied yourself afterward, didn't you?

A.: I satisfied myself that there was nothing done for me but he said that the balance of the money was to be paid for the dismissal of the other case.

Q.: Which other case?

A.: Embezzlement and forgery.

Q.: Isn't it a fact that you never paid him any money to go to Mr. Keyes after, as you say, March 25 or 26 or along in there?

A.: That is true after the last $10,000 payment; he told me that was all that was to be paid for you.

Q.: And anything else that you paid him was paid on his $5000 that he was to collect for his services?

A.: For that and expenses.

Q.: Mr. Bennett, you have stated in answer to a question on cross-examination that you believed at the time this money was being paid to Mr. Getzoff that Mr. Keyes was receiving part of it. Did you continue to believe that down until the time that the indictment was returned against me and you and others?

A.: I believed that.

Q.: At all times?

A.: Well, I will qualify my answer in this: I always believed that you were getting some of this money, but I always believed that Mr. Getzoff might have been holding out some. That is what I distrusted him about, but I didn't think he would dare hold it out.

At this point Keyes asked Berman questions concerning documents relating to the original Julian cases or the investigation of the financial collapse. He produced a paper and an instant objection to the procedure came from Special Prosecutor Clark, whereupon some discussion ensued. It ended when the papers were submitted for overnight examination by the prosecutors and court adjourned.

LADY BAILEY'S FLIGHT INTERRUPTED BY FOG

ABBEVILLE (France) Jan. 14. (AP) Lady Bailey, British aviatrix, left Le Bourget Field, near Paris, today in an attempt to reach Croydon, Eng., and thus complete her round trip by air from London to Capetown, but heavy fog forced her to land here. She now has been in France for nearly a week and has taken up more time in trying to cover the distance from Paris to London than she needed to fly from Dakar, Senegal, to Paris.

MARY GARDEN INJURED DURING OPERA SCENE

CHICAGO, Jan. 14. (AP) — Mary Garden, opera star, was painfully injured during a performance of "The Love of Three Kings" here yesterday. Virgilio Lazzari, as the blind king, in hurling the diva from him during a scene, inadvertently put too much force into the acting and Miss Garden was badly bruised. She stood up until she reached the wings, where she collapsed and fainted. Miss Garden had recovered sufficiently to take part in tonight's performance.

LOS ANGELES SHOWMEN IN CHILE JAIL

Pair Held on Charge of Trying to Flee Country to Dodge Duty Debts

[Copyright, 1929, by the Chicago Tribune.]

VALPARAISO (Chile) Jan. 14. (Exclusive)—P. T. Finney and Walter Sibley, both of Los Angeles, proprietors of Sibley's South American and South African Wild West Shows, were taken from the steamship Teno just before it sailed for New York today. It is charged they were trying to flee the country in default of 100,000 peso ($12,000) bond posted against debts of 8000 pesos ($960) owed to the Customs Department. The shows are stranded here and the proprietors are in the local jail.

Finney, who boasts that he has been stranded in more tank towns than any living showman, told the police when he was discovered hiding in a stateroom that he was rushing to New York to promote a new road show called "Human Hearts."

Eleven cowgirls and two injured cowboys were returned on the Teno. Seventeen cow-punchers still are stranded at Rancuaga, Chile, and have sold their equipment, it is said.

The police charge Finney and Sibley with fleeing, leaving the local bonding company holding the sack. They may obtain their liberty by paying the duties and other bills.

QUESTION MARK SET NEW STUNT

"Lieut. Harry A. Halverson, also one of the Question Mark pilots, will not make the eastward trip aboard the plane he helped to pilot into fame, as he is leaving on Wednesday for San Antonio, Tex., for which station he has received temporary orders. The personnel of the Question Mark on its homeward journey will be Capt. Eaker, Staff Sergeant Roy Hooe, M. J. Adamson, special representative of the War Department, and myself."

NATION'S AWAKENED

The nation-wide interest evidenced in the flight of the Question Mark was viewed by Maj. Spatz as an indication of the "air-mindedness" that is overtaking the country.

"We are delighted with the interest taken in the flight," Maj. Spatz observed, "but what impresses us most is the enormous quantity of letters from boys between the ages of 12 and 16. There is no doubt but that the youth of America is air-minded, and inasmuch as we are looking to the growing generation to carry on the work of advancing American aviation, this air-mindedness should be encouraged in every possible fashion and I dare say that it will be."

Maj. Spatz is coming to Rockwell Field for permanent duty in about six months, it was announced at the field this afternoon.

CAPT. EAKER'S PARENTS BOTH SERIOUSLY ILL

SAN ANGELO (Tex.) Jan. 14. (AP)—Y. Y. Eaker, father of Capt. Ira Eaker, chief pilot of the record-breaking plane Question Mark, was brought to a hospital here today to undergo an operation. Capt. Eaker accompanied his father here from their home at Eden. The pilot flew to Midland, Tex., from San Diego Sunday, completing the journey to his mother's bedside after nightfall by automobile. Mrs. Eaker is ill with pneumonia.

Dr. S. J. Burleson, Mrs. Eaker's physician, said tonight Mrs. Eaker was resting fairly well, but showed marked exhaustion.

The father of the flyer lay ill in a hospital here during his son's endurance flight but had gone to his home when Mrs. Eaker was stricken.

A suggestion that no change had been made in the present territorial conditions of the Holy See was immediately discarded, there being on both sides a desire that the status of the Pope in Rome be one of liberty and independence, not only real and perfect but also manifest to all Christianity. To obtain this, it was decided that the Pope should have his own territory, no matter how small, on which he might enjoy and exercise real territorial sovereignty with all rights inherent to it.

ATE WITNESS STANDS GROUND

Prosecutor Takes Up Quiz Before Jury

[illegible] Offer in Julian Case Flatly Denied

"PASSING OF BUCK"

[illegible] testified that he learned [illegible] indictment while in Europe [illegible] returned to New York in June [illegible] relatives there retained [illegible] Donnelly of that city to [illegible] to California to represent [illegible] reports were that every[illegible] Los Angeles connected with [illegible] Julian fiasco was "passing the [illegible] to me."

[illegible] Berman declared [illegible] Donnelly got $125,000 of Berman's money as fees, and John F. [illegible] local attorney, $25,000 more [illegible] the case was over. [illegible] Donnelly's instance, Berman [illegible] he came to California and [illegible] the lawyer in Oakland and [illegible] the same day the then Chief [illegible] District Attorney Davis in [illegible] Francisco. Berman admitted [illegible] he made a written statement [illegible] with his activities in [illegible] Julian case at that time, but [illegible] that he asked or was made [illegible] offer of immunity. He insisted [illegible] to California because the [illegible] York attorney advised him [illegible] the best way was to make "a [illegible] breast of everything" and [illegible] he had not authorized Donnelly to make any deal by which he [illegible] turn State's evidence in return for a light sentence.

[illegible] any promises made to [illegible]" asked Keyes.

"[illegible] were not even discussed," [illegible] Berman with finality.

The witness declared that Harold [illegible] one had sent for him and told him that the rest of the defendants in the Julian case were ready to turn State's evidence and that he better beat them to it and "take a rap" on the first count of the indictment and accept a one-year sentence in the penitentiary.

Berman said he told Davis he wasn't interested in the proposition and later was told by Getsoff that "Ace" sent word that he would be a fool to make such a deal; that Davis was on the verge of being discharged by Keyes and getting Berman to turn State's evidence would be a feather in his cap at the time.

The witness admitted, under questioning, that he thought the prosecution had produced all the evidence at their disposal at the Julian trials—strong enough, he thought, on which to base his former statement that Keyes could have crucified him if he wanted to in the prosecutor's argument to the jury.

Keyes indicated he was about through his examination of the witness last night. Two more defense attorneys have yet to cross-examine and it was estimated that Berman probably will be on the stand all of this morning. Louis Berman, his brother, may be the next witness.

Just before Keyes began his cross-examination yesterday afternoon the prosecution won an important legal victory when Judge Butler ruled that a satement taken by Dist.-Atty. Fitts and members of the grand jury just before the final indictments were returned need not be produced for the perusal of the defense attorneys.

The defense won a lesser victory when the court at the same time ruled that they could examine Berman on the question as to whether he had ever authorized Attorney Donnelly to ask immunity for him in return for his testimony for the State in the Julian cases.

Legal argument consumed a large part of the court day, Judge Butler indicating that night sessions will be in order if the arguments of counsel continue.

Estimates of the length of the trial — first set at three weeks—lengthened considerably yesterday as progress slowed down. It was pointed out that the prosecution has innumerable witnesses. The five other defendants—Ben and Dave Getsoff, Charles Reimer, E. H. Rosenberg and Jack Rosenberg—each have more or less individual defenses to offer, all of which will take considerable time.

MORNING SESSION

The morning session of court was devoted almost entirely to arguments between opposing counsel. Two issues were at stake. The defense asserted that a statement made by Berman on October 7, last, and on which some of the charges in the indictment are said to be based, should be made available for the perusal of the defendants' counsel. The defense attorneys also contended they should be allowed to cross-examine the witness as to whether he authorized his attorney to make an offer in his behalf to turn State's evidence at the trial of the Julian conspiracy cases.

Both of these questions came up during cross-examination of Berman last Saturday morning, the court ruling at that time temporarily in favor of the prosecution, but allowing the defense attorneys until yesterday morning to assemble legal opinions showing that he might be wrong.

WOULDN'T SHIRK DUTY

Both sides came to court yesterday ready to go into the matter exhaustively. Arguments on Berman's original statement were first considered. Dist.-Atty. Fitts went on the witness stand and testified he was informed by Dep. Atty.-Gen. Maltman in Los Angeles the day before the Berman statement was taken that Atty.-Gen. Webb was going to appoint him special prosecutor in the Keyes case and that he (Fitts) might consider Maltman's statement as an official appointment to that post, pending official papers from Sacramento.

"I told Maltman that I preferred not to take the Keyes case, but that I would not shirk my duty," Fitts testified.

Maltman then told him, he asserted, that it was impossible for him to avoid the appointment, and thus confronted with the responsibility Fitts arranged for the taking of Berman's statement the next day. The statement was taken at the Biltmore in the presence of Fitts, the present Chief Deputy District-Attorney Stewart and Grandjurymen Cooke and Porter, with a shorthand reporter taking down the proceedings.

READ FROM LAW

The statement contained not only material pertinent to the present case, but Berman was questioned and gave information on other criminal cases now under investigation, the prosecution continued, that "would be highly prejudicial to the public welfare" if it was made public.

Basing their argument on Fitts's testimony, the State in the present case further contended that Fitts, by reason of his appointment as special prosecutor, was a public officer and communications regarding criminal cases to such a public officer are inviolate under the law. Innumerable authorities to substantiate this contention were read into the records by Stewart.

Attacking the prosecution's stand, Defense Attorney William Beirne, representing Keyes, read almost as lengthy legal authorities that he contended showed that the statement should be given the defense, and wound up by declaring that the defendants are willing that matter unrelated to the present case be expurgated from the statement before it is produced for general examination.

Attorney Le Compte Davis, representing Ed Rosenberg, also was vigorous in his demands for the Berman statement, finally asserting that the defense expected to prove by it that Berman was promised in return for his evidence that all State charges against him would be dismissed and that influence would be used to soften his sentence or gain a pardon for him on his recent sentence of seven years in the Federal penitentiary for using the mails to defraud in connection with oil-stock promotion.

GILDA GRAY SHAKES SPOUSE

WAUKESHA (Wis.) Jan. 14. (AP)—Gilda Gray, dancer and film actress, today was granted a divorce from Gil Boag of New York by Judge Davison in Circuit Court here.

Cruel and inhuman treatment was the specific charge lodged against Boag by the actress. The divorce was recommended by Divorce Counsel Collin.

GILDA GRAY

A. W. Grady, attorney for Boag, said he had communicated with his client both in New York and London and that the latter had stated he wished to go no further with the action. He previously stated an intention of fighting the divorce on the grounds that his wife was not a legal resident of the State.

Under the provision of the divorce Boag will receive property and furnishings with estimated value of $100,000 and a commission for an indefinite time on the actress' salary.

When the court asked the actress if this arrangement was satisfactory, she replied: "Anything to be away from him."

Boag and Gilda Gray were married in Chicago January 31, 1924. The actress has a child by a former marriage but none of her second husband. She testified that she contributed to the support of her husband during their married life and that he had been a habitual drunkard.

The dancer-actress, who was born in Milwaukee and who danced at cheap cafes here before her rise to fame in the films, said she wished to be known as Mary Gray.

FOES OF TREATY HOBBLE ACTION

Reed Ties Up Senate With Motion for Report

Robinson Works Hard to Get Vote on Measure

Fess Accuses Missourian of Veiled Attack

port, which is all that the "interpretationists" now ask.

Content that the twenty-four signatures received to their round robin petition have clearly shown a distinct sentiment in the Senate for a committee interpretation of the treaty, the Reed-Moses-Bingham group made no further effort today on this score. They insist that their purpose is not to defeat ratification of the treaty and that therefore it is immaterial whether the one-third votes necessary to accomplish that end are enrolled on their petition.

Senator Robinson entered a vigorous plea to break the deadlock during the squabble, arguing that agreements be entered providing for votes both on the treaty and the pending cruiser-construction bill. His effort was about as futile as that by President Coolidge who conferred several times on Saturday with the Senate leaders and today had another Senatorial breakfast party.

"Inasmuch as a construction is being made," Senator Borah explained, "both in this country and abroad, that this report would be the same as, or similar to, a reservation, I cannot take the position of conniving with such a move."

REED'S ATTITUDE

"All that we ask," said Senator Reed, "is that we shall say formally what you have said informally. None of us is seeking to block ratification of this pact. Personally, I think it would have been better to have left undone that which has been done in writing this treaty. But it has been written and we cannot afford to negative the expressions carried in it. But in the hope that we could avert some of the dangers which some of us believe lurks in it, we ask merely for a report by the Foreign Relations Committee construing the treaty in the words of the committee chairman.

"Then if in the future our good faith on the views of this nation regarding the treaty are challenged we can point to this understanding reached at the time the treaty was negotiated."

Senator Robinson declared "We have wrangled much over trivial matters and all interested in the progress of legislation want to see some understanding which will get this treaty to a vote and the cruiser bill to a vote."

Senator Fess, Republican, Ohio, at the conclusion of the fruitless but lengthy discussion seeking an agreement, charged that the move for a reservation or interpretation of the treaty is aimed to effect the defeat of the treaty indirectly by forcing foreign opposition to it. This was denied by Senator Reed.

WOMEN TO MARCH ON CAPITOL TODAY

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14. (AP)—A march on the Capitol to present 10,000 resolutions of women's organizations to Senators indorsing the ratification of the Kellogg antiwar treaty is planned for tomorrow by representatives of ten national feminine bodies gathered here for the fourth conference on the cause and cure of war.

Called to discuss the problem of national armament reduction, the conference delegates under the leadership of Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, a former suffrage leader, tonight completed plans for their move in support of the pact's ratification. "We are determined to use every resource within our power to obtain its ratification by the Senate," Mrs. Catt said.

"More than 10,000 meetings held in forty-eight States," she added, "show that national feeling is squarely back of the treaty. There is no other measure before Congress on which there has been such a definite expression of public opinion."

Besides the treaty and the disarmament question, the delegates to the conference, numbering about 1000 women, will study during the three-day gathering the American foreign policy in Latin America and the "possible menace to world peace inherent in airplane and naval construction programs."

The conference got under way with a banquet tonight at which Rev. Harry Emerson Fosdick of New York and E. C. Lindeman of the New York school of social work were the principal speakers. In his prepared speech Dr. Fosdick declared the "Fight to establish peace is in the same category with the fight to stamp out yellow fever and other thrilling enterprises where man has matched his intelligence against an ancient evil and surmounted it."

READY FOR VOTE

Hopeful of the votes for adoption of their resolution the "interpretationists" were prepared tonight to call it up tomorrow.

There is some doubt as to whether resolutions can be called up under the rules, although an agreement was entered in today at the request of Senator Reed that the rules requiring an adjournment rather than a recess before such a resolution can be brought up will not be applied. A recess was taken.

Another signature was voluntarily given to the "round robin" late today, bringing the total to twenty-five, but no further effort to get names is contemplated.

One of the last events of today's discussion of the treaty was the reading by Senator Bingham of the "round robin."

"We believe," it said, "in the purpose and objective of the Kellogg multilateral treaty. We believe clarity of understanding regarding its inherent and declared functions is vital to its usefulness at home and abroad. To avoid reservations we believe the Foreign Relations Committee should report its official interpretation."

Iowa Birthplace Will Have Boulder With Tablet by Plan of D.A.R.

IOWA CITY (Iowa) Jan. 14. (AP)—The birthplace of Herbert Hoover at West Branch, Iowa, is to be marked by a granite boulder bearing a suitably inscribed bronze tablet, the Iowa City chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution announced.

Consent of Mrs. Jennie Scellars, owner of the home where the President-elect was born, has been obtained for placing the marker. It is planned to have the memorial ready for dedication August 10, Hoover's birthday.

Legion Fixes Session Dates

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 14. (AP)—The national executive committee of the American Legion, meeting here today, fixed the dates for the eleventh annual convention at Louisville as September 30 to October 3, next.

The resignation of National Chaplain Herman J. Beck of Pottsville, Pa., was accepted without discussion. Appointment of a new national chaplain will be made at tomorrow's session. In keeping with Legion policy, the successor will be of the same religious faith as the resigning chaplain.

Pretext Used to Obtain Gun to Free His Son

PHOENIX, Jan. 14. (AP)—Outwitting a man who was holding his son, Joe Thompson, prisoner in an automobile outside his home, Col. J. E. Thompson, millionaire mining man, this afternoon shot and fatally wounded Basil Meade, 27 years of age, according to officers who investigated the shooting.

Thompson told the officers that he heard a commotion in his yard and went out to see what was going on. Meade, he said, called to him and told him that he wanted $1500, and that if Thompson did not get it for him he would kill the boy he was holding prisoner.

According to Thompson's statement, he then went into the house on the pretext of getting the money, but in reality to get his gun.

When he returned to the car Meade drew a gun and snapped it twice before Thompson could draw his own gun, he stated.

Thompson told the officers that he then fired twice, hitting Meade both times. Meade died a few minutes later in a local hospital.

Ex-Foes Would Become Citizens

CHICAGO, Jan. 14. (AP) — Three hundred German veterans of the World War have banded together as the German World War Veterans' Association and have taken steps to become American citizens.

Carnes Shortage Put at $909,000

ATLANTA (Ga.) Jan. 14. (AP)—Dr. R. Christie, president of the Southern Baptist Home Mission Board, announced today that a nearly completed audit of the books of Clinton S. Carnes, former treasurer, has placed the asserted shortage in his accounts at $909,000. Carnes, who was arrested in Canada after fleeing from Atlanta several months ago, is scheduled to go to trial February 12 on charges of embezzlement.

TAX MEASURES NEARING CRISIS

Hearing to Learn Meaning of Bills Brings Clash

Legislature Members Hear from Constituents

Protest on Hurried Action Flood Members

BY C. A. JONES

"Times" Staff Representative

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 14. (Exclusive)—The situation in respect to the tax bills on intangibles, banks and corporations became acute today with the introduction of a resolution by Senator Merriam of Long Beach calling for an early joint session of both houses to hear Dr. Robert M. Haig, Columbia University professor and tax counselor of the California Tax Commission, explain the meaning of the proposed legislation.

Senator Inman of Sacramento, Young administration leader, objected to the resolution, but it was adopted and sent to the Assembly, where Assemblyman West of Sacramento, another administration stalwart, declined to introduce it. Mr. West said his reasons for delaying action was that the more appropriate method was to have Dr. Haig appear before the joint Senate and House Revenue and Taxation committees. This plan, however, is subject to revision, inasmuch as Senator Merriam believes the temper of the Legislature is such that the members are determined to hear what the bills contain immediately.

LEARNED LESSON

The Legislature learned a bitter lesson two years ago when the 7 per cent assessment law on intangibles was repealed hastily at the behest of the administration with unfortunate results.

Conferences continued today on the tax bills, with no appreciable progress. A report was current that the entire measure, which may run to thirty pages when printed, must be rewritten. The Tax Commission, according to Irving Martin, chairman, will be in session Wednesday, when various interested groups, such as agriculture, manufacturers, oils and mines, have been invited to appear.

Scores of telegrams are pouring in to legislators protesting against hurried action, and the members are becoming disgruntled. They contend that these measures of major importance should have been worked out between the last election, when the constitutional amendment was adopted by the people, and the assembling of the Legislature. The bills must be passed by the first Monday in March. Meanwhile, the Legislature must recess for thirty days. The Legislature wants full understanding of the proposals before adjournment, which is expected Friday, so explanations may be given constituents. Therefore, the members are eager to hear from Dr. Haig, who has been at his classes in New York City since September, and who is expected here tomorrow.

CAN'T GET COPIES

Legislators complain that they have been unable to obtain copies of the tentative draft of the bills except "surreptitiously." Due to the pressure for writing the bank and corporation bill, little work, it is understood, has been effected on the intangible bill. A determined effort is being made to set the tax rate on these securities at two mills per dollar. Some of the agricultural members, it is reported, want the rate higher. Under the constitution this is restricted to four mills.

The administration is anxious to bring the first part of the session to a close Friday, so on reassembling February 18, next, the Legislature will have two weeks in which to iron out differences in the bills before March 4.

Many members believe it will be impossible to complete their duties by Friday, and are inclined to oppose an adjournment resolution which Senator Breed plans to bring in tomorrow. Among these is Senator Merriam, and he so stated when Senator Inman objected to his tax-bill-hearing resolution. With this undertsanding, Inman withdrew his objections, and Merriam apparently is satisfied with the early adjournment date. Assemblyman West's action, however, may change the procedure.

TAX LAW CHANGES

In connection with tax laws, the commission is expected to bring in, during the recess, a sensational report dealing with the tax structure of the State, and making fundamental changes in the laws. It is possible the commission may recommend that the taxing of public utilities be returned to the counties.

Senate Committee appointments are expected tomorrow from Lieut.-Gov. Carnahan, with Speaker Levey naming his committees on Wednesday. Speaker Levey declared today that the day's delay has no connection with the Senate appointments. Reports are being carried that if Mr. Carnahan, who is close to Gov. Young, spanks the opposition too heartily, Mr. Levey will retaliate.

Members of the Assembly from Los Angeles, fifteen in number, met at luncheon today and organized, with Harry Lyons as chairman and Willis Baum as secretary. It is planned to create a steering committee and utilize the strength of Los Angeles county as one unit instead of dissipating the force of the delegation. The San Francisco delegation of thirteen always votes as a unit and therefore exercises far more influence than does Los Angeles.

Escaped Leper Hunted in North

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 14. (Exclusive)—All agencies of search were impressed into action here tonight to apprehend Ignacio Gestelum, Mexican, 29 years of age, and a leper, who escaped from the isolation ward of the San Francisco Hospital under unexplained circumstances early today.

Gestelum recently applied at the Stanford Clinic for treatment and his ailment was diagnosed as leprosy. He was ordered into isolation and was to have been sent tonight to the colony at Carrville, La.

Woolwine Measure Will Class Armed Robber With Murderer

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 14. (Exclusive)—Two bills revising the Criminal Code and making burglary and robbery, when firearms are used, equivalent in penalty to that of first-degree murder will be introduced in the Legislature tomorrow by Assemblyman Woolwine of Los Angeles. Mr. Woolwine said a robber or burglar, carrying a pistol or rifle, is a potential murderer and should receive the same treatment as an actual killer.

BILL SEEKS ELECTION OF PARTY JUNTA

Radical Change in State Central Committee Form Proposed by Merriam

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 14. (Exclusive)—Revolutionary changes in the manner of making up the partisan State central committees are proposed in a bill to be offered the Legislature this week by Senator Merriam of Long Beach, he stated today.

Senator Merriam would have the State committee composed of 160 members, two from each Assembly district, these to be elected outright by the voters. Senator Merriam stated he thought one of these members should be a woman.

In Presidential years the committeemen will be elected at the Presidential primary in May and organize on the third Saturday of the following June. The committee thus will be ready to take over the Presidential campaign immediately upon nomination of the candidate.

In the other even-numbered years the committeemen are to be elected at the August primaries and organize the third Wednesday of September, the day following the State convention, and be prepared to handle the fight for Governor or Senator or other partisan office at stake.

Restrictions also are placed upon the giving of proxies. Members of the committee who affiliate with other parties or who support the candidate of another party may be removed from office. Only those who have been affiliated with the party for at least one year are eligible to be candidates for the committee. The committee is empowered to contract with a campaign manager and otherwise direct the partisan contest.

The bill, if adopted, Senator Merriam said, will strengthen party government and will do away with the present haphazard manner of selecting a State committee by the convention. Senator Merriam himself is chairman of the Republican State Central Committee.

Defendant Finds Peck of Trouble

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 14. (Exclusive)—Although he had no difficulty in obtaining subpoenas for fifty of San Francisco's business leaders, Knudt B. Hoegsberg, former assistant bank cashier, found himself in one predicament after another today when he was called for trial in connection with a $600,000 bank embezzlement.

To begin with, his codefendant, Arthur V. Scott, pleaded guilty, following the lead of Owen Sullivan, whose importing methods disclosed the embezzlement. Then Hoegsberg told the court the only attorney who would take his case has not been admitted to practice in the Federal courts.

Because of the emergency Federal Judge Louderback allowed the entry of Attorney Golden. Then Hoegsberg was twenty minutes late for a court session and was sent to jail for that length of time to make up for it.

Bills Would Develop Parks

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 14. (AP)—Development of the State park system and preservation of California tidelands by safeguarding them against encroachment, setting aside "protected scenic regions" and adding two parcels to the State park system would be provided in a bill introduced in the Legislature today.

Senator Mueller of El Cajon presented a bill that would provide for a State park on Mission Bay in San Diego county.

Senator Breed introduced four bills, one setting aside scenic regions, one transferring State holdings in Del Norte county to the State park system, another placing all park camp ground, monument sites, landmark or historical sites now owned by the State to the park system, and still another protecting tidelands of the State from encroachment by private individuals or corporations.

Bill Asks Curb on Land Frauds

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 14. (Exclusive)—Assemblyman Jones of Ontario today introduced in the Assembly a resolution calling on Real Estate Commissioner Barnson to halt speculation in desert lands and to report if the restrictive laws on this subject are insufficient to prevent defrauding the public.

Mr. Jones's action is based on the widespread sale of "Boulder dam lands," thousands of acres of which can never be watered from the Colorado River.

BILL-AVALANCHE IN LEGISLATURE

Two Hundred Measures Snow Under Both Houses

Session's Second Week Finds 643 Introduced

New Registration Plan One of Day's Entries

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 14. (AP)—Opening the second week of their forty-eighth biennial session with a flurry of bills, the California Legislators today introduced 206 bills, bringing the total to date to 643. These touch on a wide field of subjects, important among which were:

Changing the method of conducting primary elections; providing for calling a constitutional convention; reorganization of county governments; aid to veterans; redistricting the State as provided for by the Reapportionment Act passed at the November election; striking at asserted labor and cement trusts; providing for registration of voters every six years; regulating operation of the Real Estate Department and calling for licensing of salesmen; exempting non-profiting hospitals from taxation.

SPEED URGED

Senator Breed urged the upper house to speed its work so that the Legislature might start its thirty-day recess at the end of this week.

Two moves were made in the Senate to investigate and eliminate existence of asserted trusts. Senator Inman introduced a measure designed to place the Industrial Association under the definition of trusts by amending the anti-trust law to include the organization.

Senator Carter of Wilmington submitted a resolution seeking appointment of a special Senate committee of five members and a appropriation of $2500 for an investigation to determine if an illegal combination or conspiracy exists among California cement manufacturers to control the price of the product.

CONSTITUTION TINKERS

Senator West's measure to authorize a constitutional convention is a step carrying out Gov. Young's suggestion that the Legislators should consider substituting the present Constitution with a new modern document. The convention would, under the terms of the bill, be composed of delegates from eighty State Assembly districts.

The six-year registration plan was set forth in Senator Mueller's measure. This would do away with the present system of registering annually and carries a clause invalidating the registration of those, who fail to vote in two consecutive elections. Mueller also introduced a resolution providing for appointment of a committee to plan for redistricting of California so that the Legislature of 1931 may proceed with the reapportionment provided for through passage of an act at the last election.

Assemblyman Heisinger of Selma introduced a constitutional amendment in the lower house affecting the plan of county governments. His measure would give boards of supervisors power to determine the number, duties and terms of office for deputies and assistants in county and township offices and would fill vacancies occurring in such offices, providing that no increase in salaries is made without consent of voters.

FOR SERVICE MEN

Six bills and one resolution were introduced in the two houses by war veterans in the interest of ex-service men. These measures, sponsored by twenty-two veterans in the Assembly and eight in the Senate, call for establishment of a department of military and veterans' affairs; establishment of a nautical school at San Francisco; a $20,000,000 bond issue for the Veterans' Welfare Board and minor matters.

A brief sally of words in the Assembly marked an attempt by Quigley of San Francisco to get immediate action upon a resolution introduced by himself, Flynn, Hornblower, Morrison and Gilmore, all of the Bay City, calling for creation of a body to investigate prison camps and reformatories. Speaker Levey referred the measure to committee despite Quigley's plea that it be considered at once.

RESOLUTION EXPLAINED

The intent of the resolution, as explained by the San Francisco Assemblymen, is to provide a committee with a sufficient appropriation to investigate the methods of conducting prison camps and of the manner in which paroles are granted. The committee would be empowered to summon witnesses.

Senator Crowley of San Francisco presided over the upper house of the Legislature at the afternoon session today in the absence of Lieut.-Gov. Carnahan, who was busy whipping into final shape the forty Senate committees. Senator Breed, president pro tem, called the Senate to order after noon recess and then placed Senator Crowley in the chair.

'INSPIRATION' GIVEN CLOAK OF DEFENSE

Nude Statue in Library at Sacramento Nice Lady, Sculptor Sanford Declares

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 14. (Exclusive)—Edward Field Sanford, Jr., sculptor of the much-discussed nude statue, "Inspiration," in the State Library, came forth today with a statement condemning adverse newspaper articles and defending his work.

He described "Inspiration" as reflecting the perfect feminine form, sensuous but not sensual.

"It was my earnest desire," he said, "that in no way should this statue be undignified or arouse thoughs of a sensual nature.

The sculptor takes particular exception to the photographs which have been used in connection with newspaper stories in the State.

"It seems quite unfair to my sincere efforts to produce a work of art and merit," he says, "that photographs so uncomplimentary to my works should be broadcast."

Giving some idea of what the sculptor had in mind when he carved the figure, Sanford writes:

"'Inspiration' in itself is as subtle and nonunderstandable as the very life spark of life itself. With this in mind, it was decided that beauty must be the theme of our expression. There can be little question in anyone's mind but that the most beautiful thing in the world is the perfect feminine form."

AFGHAN RULER FLEES THRONE

King Amanullah Abdicates in Brother's Favor

Effort to Westernize His People Costs Crown

Rebel Victory Ends Reign of About Ten Years

LONDON, Jan. 14. (AP)—The ambition of King Amanullah to place Afghanistan on a par with the modern industrial and cultural development of western countries has cost him his throne. A report today from Peshawar, northwest frontier province, India, confirmed in British official circles, states that Amanullah has abdicated in favor of his brother, Prince Inayatullah, and has fled by air to Kandahar.

It was only last June that Amanullah returned home from his splendid tour of Europe full of enthusiasm for westernizing his people, as he had seen the Turkish people westernized by Mustapha Kemal. While his decrees met with some success in the area around the capital, in the distant parts of the mountain kingdom the priestly influence, dead against reforms, stirred up a civil war. This gained strength largely owing to the fact that the army pay was in arrears.

The King at first appeared successful, but the tide finally turned in favor of the rebels. Amanullah then tried to retrace his steps and withdrew the hated decrees. It was too late and the rebels emerged victorious.

Amanullah reigned for almost ten years. Prince Inayatullah was born in October, 1888, and thus is the senior of Amanullah by four years.

GASOLINE PRICE WAR IN COURTS

Bay City Independent Signs Complaints

Action Hits at Standard Through Lessees

Major Competition Said to be Real Issue

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 14. (Exclusive)—Action was launched here today to have the courts rule upon the legal phases of the gasoline-price war which has spread to all of the Pacific Coast States. James L. Hanley, president of the Independent Service Station Dealers of San Francisco, acting as an individual, signed complaints, and warrants were issued for the arrest of three men who operate a service station on lease from the Standard Oil Company. They are charged with violation of a city ordinance that requires all operators of a gasoline-service station to have permits. It was explained the suit is friendly and is designed as a test case.

Although the action is local in its specific character, it is said it will attract the attention of all gasoline handlers on the Coast on account of the embodied accusation that the major oil companies are responsible for the present price war because of the nature of their agreements with service-station dealers and the further assertion that the major companies can stop price cutting within twenty-four hours if they choose.

Gasoline continued to retail throughout the Bay District today from 15 to 21 cents a gallon, the maximum price being charged at the stations still directly operated by the major companies.

No Justice in World, Says A. K. Bourne

A. K. Bourne, prominent Southern California sportsman, and "papa" of the $4000 Pasadena open which gets under way over the Pasadena municipal links today, declares there isn't any justice in the world. Bourne, who, with John Eagle, put up most of the purse for the professionals, was all set for a happy day. He was paired with Walter Hagen and Leo Diegel in the tournament, and expected to enjoy a few good rounds with some high-class competition. Yesterday the deadly "flu" germ bit him, and today he is confined to his home. Harry Westbrook takes his place with the two prominent pros in the threesome.

Set Dates for All-Navy Meet

Schedules for the all-navy athletic championship competitions, to be held at Panama in February during the United States fleet concentration, were announced yesterday by Lieutenant-Commander William I. THE THREE HORSEMEN OF THE L.A. $10,000 OPEN

MacDonald Smith settled first place honors at Riviera Sunday afternoon, but some of the other boys were caught by enveloping darkness and postponed play until yesterday afternoon. As a result Tommy Armour, runaway leader the first two days of play, barely captured second place from Leo Diegel by one stroke. Galloping Leo had one bad round—the first—but was coming strong at the finish. Armour had another seven—on the eighteenth this time—and took an 80 for his last round as contrasted with the 68 and 67 he had on his first and second rounds. All the boys converge on the Pasadena municipal links today, where they are scheduled to play 54 holes for prizes aggregating $4000.

DIEGEL FINISHES FAST TO TAKE THIRD PLACE PRIZE

Former Champ Takes Seven Again on Eighteenth; Leaders Enter Pasadena Tourney Today

BY EDWARD LAWRENCE

The Los Angeles $10,000 open is over. Enter the Pasadena $4000 open, which starts this morning over the Pasadena Municipal Golf Course with an eighteen-hole qualifying round.

Final echos of the fourth annual golfing classic reverberated through the Santa Monica Canyon yesterday afternoon, when those who failed to complete their last rounds on Sunday due to darkness, finished the seventy-two holes of play.

Tommy Armour of Washington, D. C., who furnished the fireworks to the bitter end, almost blasted himself out of second place, when he completed the seventy-second hole with a 7, his forth in the final thirty-six holes of play. He wound up with cards of 68-67-76-80—291 for second place.

Leo Diegel of the Aqua Caliente Golf Club played beautiful golf for his last eighteen holes to come in with 36-36—72. His total card of 77-69-74-72—292 was only one stroke back of Armour, and nosed out Horton Smith of Joplin, Mo., for third place by three strokes.

SINKS BIRDIE

Among those who finished yesterday were "Big" Ed Dudley of Hollywood, who sank a thirty-foot chip shot from off the green to get a birdie 3 on eighteen and a tie for seventh, eighth and ninth places with Frank Walsh of Appleton, Wis., and Billy Burke of Port Chester, N. Y. All registered 300. They will split $575 between them, or $208.33 apiece.

Bobby Cruickshank of Purchase, N. Y., and Eddie Loos of Pasadena tied for fifty and sixth places with 298. Each will get $350.

As Armour stepped up to the eighteenth tee yesterday it seemed almost impossible that he would take another 7 to join those he shot on the first and fifteenth holes Sunday. But he did, and here's the way it was accomplished:

Tommy had a sizzling drive, but it landed in a tree basin. One stroke. He had to lift out and was lying two strokes. He then batted into a trap and was lying three. His out landed on the edge of the green for four and his chip shot was over the green in five. He missed his putt coming back and then holed a three-foot putt for a 7.

Those sevens cost Tommy a lot of money. Besides the difference between first and second place money Armour also bought himself in the pool and lost some three thousand more.

SLIPS BADLY

Diegel's finish was the most sensational and Watrous's the most disastrous. Al was sitting pretty in third place with 217 strokes, six behind Armour and five behind Mac Smith at the fifty-four-hole mark and then took eighty-four strokes on his last eighteen to slip seven places to tenth place. Such is golf.

The cards:

Par (out)	544	243	444—33
Diegel	454	434	354—36—	72—[illegible]
Armour	454	437	257—41—	80—[illegible]
Par (in)	454	434	354—36—	71
Diegel	454	434	354—36—	72—291
Armour	454	437	257—41—	80—[illegible]

HOW THEY CUT THE MELON

Here are the scores of the first ten and the purses they drew down:

1.	MacDonald Smith	212-73—285	$3500
2.	Tommy Armour	211-80—291	$1750
3.	Leo Diegel	220-72—292	$875
4.	Horton Smith	218-76—292	$600
5.	Bobby Cruickshank	226-72—298	$400	Tie
6.	Eddie Loos	225-73—298	$300	"
7.	Ed Dudley	223-77—300	$250	Tie
8.	Frank Walsh	221-79—300	$175	"
9.	Billy Burke	222-78—300	$150	"
10.	Al Watrous	217-84—301	$100

The following finished in the order named and will receive $100 each: Harry Cooper, Henry Ciuci, Johnny Golden, Jack Tarrant, Fred Morrison, Al Espinosa, Walter Hagen, Craig Wood, T. H. Cotton, Bob Macdonald, Willard Hutchison and R. S. Miner. Four will split $300, giving each $75, Abe Espinosa, Tony Manero, Chet Beer and Bob Stupple.

Six prizes of $50 were divided between the following: Dallas Jeffers, Johnny Rogers, Francis Gallett and Tom Racklets.

BRUINS DON'T THINK SO MUCH OF TROJAN TOSSERS

BY BRAVEN DYER

It appears that our Trojans and Bruins will have quite a basketball series between themselves, even if they can't figure very prominently in the Coast Conference race. Of course, neither team is definitely out of the struggle as yet, but things look rather bad for both, the Trojans especially in view of their double-barrelled defeat at the hands of the Golden Bears.

LEO CALLAND

Strange things happen in the realm of sport, however, as witness the sudden slump of Tommy Armour just when it appeared that he had that first prize of $3500 all tucked away in his wallet. Last year the Trojans were pretty jolly well out of it when all of a sudden the race ended in a tie and during the play-off Leo Calland's boys won the southern championship. Then to complete the round of surprises the men of Troy went out and knocked over the Huskies from Washington.

So there may be some hope for the local teams after all, but not much as we see it. Until we have had a peek at Stanford we'll string along with those Golden Bears from Berkeley. Stanford may be better than Nibs Price's team, but we doubt it.

The Redshirts play Southern California here Saturday night, while California entertains the Bruins for two games in the north.

To get back to the local angle—the Bruins don't think so much of either the Trojans or California. Not only that, but the U.C.L.A. boys come right out in the open and say so. The official Bruin organ says of California and S. C.: "Neither team showed anything remarkable in the way of basketball and the result leaves Stanford big favorites to take the title." And again: "The Bears will have a pretty time of it this week trying to boost up 43 points over Capt. Balter and his Bruin buddies." Once more: "The Trojans did not show anything that should worry Coach Works."

Of course, the Bruin scribblers are youngsters and U.C.L.A. is still in swaddling clothes so both California and S. C. will probably excuse the above outbursts. The Trojans probably don't think so highly of the Bruin tossers after what hap-

TRIO OF MEN TO HANDLE MADISON GARDEN AFFAIRS

NEW YORK, Jan. 14. (P)—For the next two or three months, at least, the destinies of Madison Square Garden will be in the hands of a trio that includes William F. Carey, Col. John S. Hammond and Tom McArdle. This has been made clear by Richard F. Hoyt, chairman of the board of the Garden corporation.

The responsibilities Tex Rickard laid down in death will be distributed among Carey, first vice-president and treasurer of the corporation; Hammond, a vice-president and acting general manager, and McArdle, matchmaker.

On the eve of his departure on a cruise of more than a month, Hoyt outlined the situation at the Garden as he and his associates saw it.

"The men in charge now are perfectly capable of handling the business," he declared. "Carey, Hammoud and McArdle constitute a combination which is satisfactory from every standpoint and, regardless of the reports circulated since the death of Mr. Rickard, no change is contemplated in the organization as it is at present constituted. It is only a matter of loyalty that we give the men in control now a chance to direct affairs.

"Both Mr. Carey and Col. Hammond are good business men and Tom McArdle is there to advise them with respect to boxing. Carey built the Garden and had been associated with Mr. Rickard over a stretch of years, which afforded him ample time to familiarize himself with the direction of the business.

CAREY TO LEAVE TODAY FOR MIAMI FIGHT

CONSISTENT GOLFING WINS OPEN AGAIN FOR MAC SMITH

Averaging one quarter of a stroke over par per round, MacDonald Smith won the Los Angeles $10,000 open for the second consecutive time. Cards of 71-71-70-73—285 brought the victory. Smith succeeded in maintaining a steady pace where flashier golfers cracked, and one-round stars alternately sparkled and dimmed.

HORTON SMITH

ED DUDLEY

Steady golf enabled Smith to not only pick up seven strokes on Tommy Armour in two rounds, but to add a five-stroke victory to his credit. That is a mere matter of twelve strokes in thirty-six holes. Leo Diegel, Agua Caliente pro, is one of those unfortunates who just must have a bad round in every tournament. He started off with a 77, and wound up at the end of seventy-two holes in third place. His second card was 69—two under par—bringing him up to a tie for sixth place. A 74 Sunday morning moved him up to fifth, and another 74 put him in third money position.

Armour's disastrous Sunday rounds have been commented on sufficiently. After two brilliant under-par exhibitions, he wobbled badly, but still maintained a one-stroke lead, only to crack even more, and wind up barely nosing out Diegel by one stroke for second place.

Al Watrous had a great chance to finish second, but blew it in the last round. At the end of 54 holes he stood in third place with 72-73-72—217. Had he been able to get around in 72 again, he would have been second, but took a disastrous 84, that landed him in tenth position.

Ed Dudley played fairly steady golf, but it wasn't good enough to win. He had consistent rounds of 74-72-77-77—300 for seventh money. Bobby Cruickshank came from nowhere to take fifth money. His 72 on the final round pulled him up from a tie for eleventh position to a total of 298. Eddie Loos was another who came up with a rush. He had 225 after three rounds, and finished with 298.

Four players registered the only five better than par rounds in the entire tournament. Armour had a 67 and 68; Diegel got a 69; and Mac Smith and Harry Cooper each had 70's. There were no under par rounds in the last 18 holes. Leo Diegel's 72 was the best figure.

The following figures show how the first ten professionals stood at the end of each round:

	18 Holes		36 Holes		54 Holes		72 Holes

BY BOB RAY

A pair of battling basketball squads from L. A. High and Lincoln tangle this afternoon at the Tigers' gymnasium in the "piece de resistance" of the City League's third round of cage play.

Both the rampant Romans, coached by Al Hemsath, and the terrible Tigers, whose basketball A. B. C's are taught them by Hap Van Pelt, have gone through the first two rounds of play without a sign of a setback, and are full of confidence and title aspirations. The teams appear pretty evenly matched and it looks as though there should be a lot of excitement out at the Lincoln gym today.

L. A. High probably will take the floor a slight favorite, for The Romans thumped Polytechnic, 26-14, last week, while Lincoln was only able to trim the Mechanics 22-18. The Tigers, however, will have the advantage of playing on their home court, which sometimes means quite a lot in these prep struggles.

The Romans' victory hopes hinge on the eagle eye of little Jerry Nemer, half-pint forward, who has chalked up 23 points against Franklin and Poly, and was high-point man in both games. The rest of the Romans "feed" the ball to Nemer and Jerry makes the points. "Moose" Campbell, giant center, and McMahan are capable assistants to Nemer on the offense, and with Capt. Shapiro and Tower form a tough defense to break through. In fact, a good defense and Nemer explain the success of the Blue and White quintet.

Lincoln's team is composed chiefly of speedy individuals who can and do play basketball. Van Pelt has the Tigers coached well in the intricacies of dribbling, short passing and feinting and they're liable to make the huskier and rougher Romans commit quite a few fouls.

Except for Guitero, center, the Lincoln team for the most part is composed of small but speedy guys. Pazdra and Riggs, the forwards, are both liable to go on a scoring spree any time. Guitero only scored 2 points against Poly, but I think he's the most dangerous scorer on the Lincoln squad. Onishi, one of the guards, is another good shot and is just like a third forward. Fontes will probably start at the other guard.

Two other games are billed for today, Jefferson invading Manual Arts' gym and Franklin entertaining Hollywood. Manual and Hollywood are tabbed to win.

Coach Jim Blewett's Toilers, so far, look like the best team in the circuit. Next Friday Manual faces Lincoln in another "croocial" clash.

SQUARE DEALING MINERS IN YUKON DRILLED PRINCIPLES OF HONESTY INTO RICKARD

This is the only autobiography written by Tex Rickard. It was prepared in collaboration with Bozeman Bulger, for publication exclusively for The Times and the North American Newspaper Alliance. Shortly before Rickard's death he discussed with Bulger plans for publication of these memoirs in book form. Following is the seventh installment of the autobiography, which is appearing in daily chapters.

BY TEX RICKARD

(In collaboration with Bozeman Bulger.)

The gold strike at Rampart blew up with a bang—not exactly a bang, at that. It was more like the busting of a cap on a musket. The load didn't go off. We didn't find as much gold as I have in my teeth right now.

TEX RICKARD

It was in those trying days, though, that the principles of honesty were grounded in me. I believe now it was the bigness of things, the naturalness, the openness. Even though I have observed the seamy side of life, I do not believe to this day that many people are dishonest by nature. The principles of square dealings, I find, apply in the fight game just as they did along the Yukon when every man was his own court. There were no courts to adjust disputes. We didn't have disputes.

The question has been asked me, "How do you manage to make the roughnecks in the fight game keep their word?"

Truthfully I can say that I never have found these "roughnecks" dishonest.

If you give an ignorant man the impression that you are on the square with him he will be on the square with you. The parasite managers may give trouble, but never the man who does the fighting.

There were two boats on the Yukon, the Bella and the Alice. They brought up supplies in the spring. Whether a miner was present or not they would leave a six months' supply of food on the shore, put the man's name on it and nobody ever thought of molesting it. There was no favoritism. A man was a man and he needed so much food.

NO INTEREST IN MONEY

Going out of Dawson City, dead broke and disappointed, three prospectors and myself aimed ourselves at Rampart. As I say, that strike was a bloomer. There we were, further away than ever and more dead broke than ever—if that be possible. My $57,000 had gone rolling along with the little white ball on the roulette wheel.

I am trying to make the point that money, except in so much as it would buy food, never concerned us deeply. It doesn't bother me to this day.

We learned that the river boats would pay $15 a cord for wood, cut the proper length for the boilers and piled on the banks of the stream. That being the only way out we started cutting wood. Nobody checked up this wood and no workman thought of getting his pay at that time. When the ice broke and the boats got through they would simply pick up the wood, figure out the amount and leave the money for us. The boatmen trusted us because they knew we trusted them.

So I set to work as a woodcutter. It took muscle, but I had it. We worked for several months at this job in an effort to restore our lost fortunes.

One day I noticed another gang cutting wood on the opposite side of the river a few miles down. Naturally we went over to call and gossip. Men were scarce those days. To see a new face was quite an event. One of the other wood cutters I found to be a strong, intelligent looking young fellow. He took us in, gave us the best he had in the camp and made us sit down for chuck.

"What's the name, if you don't mind?" I asked.

"Rex Beach," he told me.

I knew this young fellow was educated, a sort of college man, but I thought him just a prospector, like myself. In fact, he was. It was a long time after that before I ever knew that my friend, Rex Beach, cutting cordwood on the Yukon, was the writer. I simply know him as Beach, a darn good fellow.

I don't remember how much Beach earned that winter, but I earned about $300.

ANOTHER STRIKE

When the river opened up and our wood was being taken on the boats, a man came ashore with some important information.

"I hear down the river," he said, "that a lot of the boys have struck it rich around Nome. A whole lot of 'em are packing up and getting into the mountains near the Bering Sea."

We knew the man was talking straight. His message was enough.

Out of my wood money I had enough to pay my passage to St. Michaels and have $35 left. I lost Beach then for a while.

On the boat I met up with a man named Jim White. He had come from Dawson and was of particular interest because he owned a tent.

"If I had somebody to go in with me," he said, "we could set up a place up in the Nome country and make some money."

Neither of us had enough money to start in business. We thought, though, that we could establish some kind of a public house and get started. The Nome miners were very much in need of a social center—a gathering place.

Landing at Nome Beach we found that we could get a lot for $100 and we scraped up enough to get an option on it.

By that time the Bering Sea had opened. While I was standing on the beach a steamer came down to unload lumber. That gave me an idea.

"I'd like t oget enough of this lumber to build a floor under our tent," I told the boatman, "if it wouldn't cost me too much."

"Well, I'm going to leave it here," he said. "Suppose you just pick out what you want and use it. You can pay for what you use or return it later."

That was a real bonanza. In two days we had a nice floor for our tent, so that we could store our stuff without its getting ruined. Then another boat came along and began unloading a cargo of boxes containing whisky, wines and brandy. They were tumbled about the shore.

I suggested that there was enough room in my tent to store this stuff and not inconvenience us.

"All right," the boatman said. "You store this stuff, and if you want to use any of it just keep tab on it and we can settle when I come back."

STORES LIQUOR

Without a thought of profit at the time, we carefully stored this liquor, feeling that we had done a fellow a good turn.

The next man I met was George Murphy. I'll never forget him because he was a salesman for a brand of cigars we all liked. This was on the 27th of June, 1899. The fact of a fortune there makes me remember the incident so well. I told Murphy we were going to open up a place; that if he would open up a little gambling, so as to make the place sociable, we would sell his cigars and he could take the profit out of the games—if any.

Then I thought of the stored liquor. The upshot of it was we opened our place on July 4, 1899, a big day in the social history of the Yukon.

We sold whisky at 50 cents a drink. The roulette wheel and faro bank opened under proper auspices. Miners came in for miles. The woods seemed to be full of them. That was a gala day in my life.

Our gross receipts on the opening day were $935. That, mind you, for drinks alone. But the best was yet to come.

We had struck the real heartstrings of Alaska. This leads me into the excitement of the great Nome beach strike, the heart thrills and heartbreaks of a gambling house on the Yukon. Man will never see the like of it again.

REDLANDS EXPLAINS INABILITY TO SCHEDULE FOOTBALL TEAMS

REDLANDS, Jan. 14.—Athletic officials of the University of Redlands stated today that the football schedule for next year does not include Pomona and Occidental because of inability to arrange a schedule and not because Redlands did not want to play these two teams. It is possible that a date can be arranged with Pomona College. There is still hope of that, according to officials. But the only date Occidental was able to offer was so early in the season as to make it unwise for Redlands to meet what promises to be the strongest team in the conference.

Because of the hot weather in September the coaches here always have trouble in bringing teams up to early-season form. It is usually ruinous to play a tough game early. So many men are injured that it wrecks the whole season. Last year Redlands could not get a date with San Diego and did not play the Aztecs. This year a date was arranged with San Diego, but the schedule could not be arranged then except with a very early-season game with Occidental.

There is great disappointment on the campus here because dates could not be arranged with both teams. It is the first year in eighteen years that Redlands has not played them both. The feeling here is that if the conference is to be maintained each team should be required to play every team in the conference instead of cutting out one or two conference teams as is the practice now in order to provide room for games with teams outside the conference.

Putts Missed by Locking of Wrist

BY SOL METZGER

In a talk with Tommy Armour one day about putting he brought up the point about so many putts being spoiled by reason of the left wrist locking. "Just what do you mean by that?" I asked. Tommy demonstrated. If you put the left hand over the putter, the back of it staring you in the face, as in the accompanying sketch, instead of the back facing the hole, and swing your putter through with the left hand only, you will see what Armour meant.

Just after you stroke the ball the wrist locks. It will not move any further forward. Now all good putters have a smooth and rhythmic swing, no jerk to either start or finish, no sudden start or stop to the club. The club head reaches the end of its arc as a pendulum, the end of its swing in a gradually slowing-up motion.

That's why the back of their left hands face the hole in putting. This position enables them to make use of the natural hinge joint one has in his wrist. It is no more possible to get a smooth putting stroke with the left hand over the shaft than it is to have a door swing true if its hinges are or out of line. In addition, when the left hand is over the shaft the club head will rotate in its swing instead of following the straight line leading to the cup. Tomorrow—the position of the right hand in putting.

LANGFORD AND COLIMA TANGLE

Mickey Walker Arrives Here and Will See Fight

Ace Hudkins Due Tomorrow from Nebraska Home

Loughran, Emanuel Bout May be Moved Ahead

terday he would go to the desert town in a few days to look into the matter more definitely.

Colima is boxing right at 160 pounds tonight. This is the heaviest he has been. In the past he was at his best down around 155 to 156. He even got down as low as 150 for Hudkins.

Langford has twice battled Colima and believes he will stop the Mexican. Down at Tia Juana Langford has always claimed he really knocked Colima out, but they gave him a long count to save him. Later in the fight Colima knocked Langford out.

Matchmaker Wad Wadhams is showing another fine bout in the semi-wind-up when Charley Sullivan, Bakersfield bantamweight, boxes Huerta Evans. The weight is 122 pounds.

Sullivan was substituted for Earl Mastro to box Kid Francis a week ago, but the Boxing Commission tossed him out due to the fact he had no license. There was also said to be some trouble over just who held his contract.

However, Sullivan is all straightened out now. He is a tall lanky fellow and hits a lick about as hard as his Fresno neighbor, Ray Ravans.

Evans and Sullivan fought all over the ring in the Olympic last summer in a special event with the Bakersfield boy getting the decision which was a shade. That fight looked like a better draw.

Luis Firpo, Tacoma (Wash.) 170-pounder, makes his debut in a special event against Marvin Rife. Firpo comes highly touted. He is a swinging hitter much on the order of the South American, it is claimed.

Walker will be at the ringside tonight with Kearns to have a look at Colima.

CHANGE EMANUEL-LOUGHRAN DATE

Date of the Tommy Loughran-Armand Emanuel fight, which was originally set for February 12, may be moved up to February 5, according to Olympic officials yesterday. The reason for making the change is to avoid conflict with the Wampas ball, which would cut down between $5000 and $10,000 worth of business from the cinema people alone.

Loughran has agreed to the new date and will leave for California tomorrow if Emanuel sanctions the change. Emanuel is boxing Harry Dillon in Minneapolis Friday night.

While Armand expects a rather easy time with Dillon he figures he may injure his hands and not be at his best for Loughran. The Olympic expects a definite answer from the Emanuel camp today.

With Mickey Walker here interest has picked up in the Emanuel-Loughran fuss since Jack Kearns is going to try to smoke Loughran into a light-heavyweight championship fight with the Jersey Bulldog.

Kearns declared yesterday that Walker would take care of Loughran after disposing of Jack Willis and Bert Colima.

"I am also interested in that Las Vegas offer for a Walker-Hudkins championship fight," said Kearns yesterday. "I intend to take a trip down there in a few days and look over the situation from their standpoint.

"Las Vegas has great possibilities and a Walker-Hudkins fight is the best match in the country just now."

Tom Kennedy is leaving Thursday for the desert town to keep an appointment with the Chamber of Commerce, which organization is actively interested in backing such an enterprise.

Kennedy has held several conferences with Kearns. He already has Hudkins's sanction of the bout.

"WILDCAT" IS DUE TOMORROW

Mickey Walker beat Ace Hudkins back to this city by two days. The "Wildcat" arrives tomorrow at 2:30 on the Gold Coast Limited, his brother, Clyde Hudkins, said last night.

The "Wildcat" stopped over at Lincoln, Neb., to see his mother after his recent bout with Rene De Vos in New York, and after beating the Belgian fighter is returning geared for action.

Brother Clyde says he will fight Mickey Walker for the latter's middleweight title at First and Spring, Eighth and Spring, Las Vegas, New York or any other way points.

All the "Wildcat" wants is the chance at Walker, according to Brother Clyde.

In the meantime he is willing to battle Homer Sheridan, Bert Collima or other hopeful souls at the Olympic for Matchmaker Hayden Wadhams.

Fields Moves to Windy City

CHICAGO, Jan. 14.—Jackie Fields, Los Angeles welterweight, has decided to make his home in Chicago, Paddy Harmon of the Chicago Stadium Corporation announced today. Harmon will try to match Fields and Joe Dundee for the world's welterweight championship.

"OPEN" MEMORIES

THE fourth Los Angeles $10,000 open has come and gone carrying in its wake memories of gorgeous golf and tragic breaks; a reminder of what might have been done to keep the boys from finishing in the dark, and a memorandum that 1930 will see a $15,000 open.

Some of the boys had to save their finishing strokes until yesterday, which is unusual and somewhat inexplicable. All three preceding $10,000 opens finished within the schedule. Perhaps the unusual length of the course—nearly 7000 yards—and the prevalence of parallel fairways at Riviera had something to do with the matter, plus the turnout of the largest gallery in Southern California history on the final day of play.

Then there was the Cyril Walker incident, Walker, national open champion in 1924, was alleged by the "big six" committee of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, to have refused permission to MacDonald Smith, Horton Smith and Charley Seaver to go through when there were two and one-half clear holes ahead of him and his playing partners.

Walker's remarks were termed unsportsmanlike and he was ruled off the course at the end of his third round. The little Englishman also got into trouble at El Caballero two years ago, withdrawing from competition before the tourney was finished.

"THOU ART A JEWEL"

IN RESTROSPECT the consistent play of MacDonald Smith in the last two $10,000 opens will go hand in hand with the story of perfect sunshiny weather that has greeted every $10,000 open.

Mac Smith seems to be the consistent jewel the post wrote about. Glance at his last two years' scores in the opens:

Riviera (1929) ....71-71-70-73—285

One of the greatest stylists of all time, he didn't get going in our $10,000 opens until last year, but he has been going—and how—ever since. In 1926 he finished in a tie for fifth and in 1927 in a tie for sixth.

But while Mac Smith holds all the consistency records Lighthorse Harry Cooper and Wee Bobby Cruickshank still retain their finishing honors.

Lighthorse Harry rattled home with 67 on the last lap to score 279 at the Los Angeles Country Club and win the first $10,000 open.

And Wee Bobby, not to be outdone, also reeled off a 67 on his last lap at El Caballero in 1927. His total was 282. He finished with a birdie on the home green while the previous year Lighthorse Harry brought everybody up screaming with an eagle on the last hole.

Great finishers when they're hot—Lighthorse Harry and Wee Bobby. They weren't as warm as the weather this trip, but you never can tell when they're likely to open up with both barrels.

Incidentally, Wee Bobby denies that Tommy Armour or anybody else ever paid his way to Southern California to play in the $10,000 open. He says he is his own "angel."

RED HOT BERT

BERT COLIMA goes to the post at the Olympic tonight—his 1929 debut.

The Mexican has been a headliner in these parts for many years and is starting on something like his tenth year in competition.

That's a long time in the wars, but Bert has taken good care of himself even if others have not of his money, and he's looking for a good year.

He yearns for a return engagement with Mickey Walker, who arrived in our midst yesterday. Bert has never forgotten that licking Walker gave him when the latter was a welterweight four years ago, and there are those who say this will be a good match again.

If Colima puts away the black boy, Walcott Langford, tonight, he will be hot with the Mexican populace as of yore, and when he has that support he is a great box-office attraction.

NIGHT football!

But Occidental and Arizona will pry off the lid at the Rose Bowl next year with a postprandial game played under the arc lights.

They say night games have gone over big in the Middle West and that Drake, for example, plays all of its early season games after supper.

The experiment will be watched here with considerable interest.

DUKE KAHANOMOKU, one of the world's greatest swimmers, is busy again.

He parades a river bank—but doesn't swim a foot.

At least that is what Joe Sherman tells me. The Duke is working in pictures with Lon Chaney at the M.-G.-M. studios. He pilots the wild animals to a compound in the picture, "Where East Is East."

The Duke's shape won him his role. The director looked for a perfect physical specimen, and decided Duke had "It."

Uzcudun Back, Wants Action With Heavies

NEW YORK, Jan. 14. (AP)—Paolino Uzcudun, Spanish heavyweight, returned to New York from Panama today after defending his European championship against Jack Renault in Cali, Colombia. He said he was ready to fight Tom Heeney in the upper bracket of the current heavyweight elimination tournament as soon as the match could be arranged.

The Basque picked young Stribling, the clouting Georgian, to defeat Jack Sharkey in the first of the elimination bouts the late Tex Rickard planned for this season. He has high hopes that Jack Dempsey will return to the ring and oppose him in a match for the heavyweight title Gene Tunney vacated.

The two local teams meet for the first time at the Olympic one week from Saturday night. There should be a hot time in the old town that evening, particularly if the Trojans should in some mysterious manner learn what the Bruins thing of them as basketball players.

Last year Caddy Works's boys won two out of three games from Southern California, but the Trojans became champions of the entire Pacific Coast. The Bruins naturally felt a bit superior to their local brethren, but after all it was U. C. L. A. that upset Washington for the championship.

SAGEHEN TRACKSTERS PREP FOR FRAT MEET

CLAREMONT, Jan. 14. (Exclusive)—Pomona College track athletes today began tuning up for two important intramural events which are scheduled for the next two weeks. The annual interfraternity clash is programmed for the 25th inst., and the interclass meet comes the following week. Both are open events, with varsity letter men and freshman numeral wearers eligible. Two smaller events, the intramural and novice meets, are on the program for this week. The intramural opens Wednesdays and continues through Saturday.

Death Calls Star Pomona Grid Player

CLAREMONT, Jan. 14. (Exclusive)—Edward Hansen, varsity baseball captain, and star football player at Pomona College, died at his home in Pomona last night, after a stubborn six weeks' fight against a combination of pneumonia and internal injuries. Hansen was injured in an automobile accident near Banning on November 24, last. His condition was not considered serious until the original trouble was complicated by an attack of influenza, which later developed into pneumonia. Hansen was a senior. He transferred to Pomona from Pomona Junior College in 1926. Funeral services will be held in Pomona on Wednesday.

SANTA MONICA LADS NAB TENNIS LAURELS

BERKELEY, Jan. 14. (AP)—Tennis youngsters of Santa Monica pounded out decisive victories over the Berkeley Tennis Club here on Saturday in a series of matches in which Santa Monica won three contests, lost a fourth and tied in the fifth.

George Trask of Santa Monica defeated Donald Ross, Berkeley, 9-7, 6-3.

Jam Cohn, Santa Monica, won a first set, 8-6, from Carl Homes, Berkeley, but Holmes came back to take the second set, 6-3, and the match was called because of a time limit.

ROGERS HORNSBY TELLS HOW HE BUILT UP HIS WEIGHT TO BECOME BIG LEAGUE PLAYER

Rogers Hornsby is one of baseball's famous figures. Next season he will be seen in a Chicago Cubs uniform, on second base. His salary, it is said, will exceed $100,000 a year. Hornsby writes here, for the first time, his own story of his remarkable climb from the sandlots to big league stardom. The story following is the fifth of the series.

BY ROGERS HORNSBY

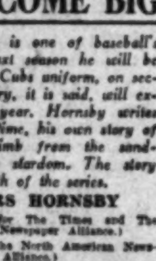
When I went back to Texas in the fall of 1915, after my first venture into the big league, I didn't know whether I was a big leaguer or not. I kept thinking about what Miller Huggins, the manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, had said to me: "I wish you were bigger."



ROGERS HORNSBY.

He didn't wish it half as much as I did. I wondered what I could do to get bigger. I weighed only about 130, but I was pretty tall. I was a long, slim string of a boy, only a little past 18. But that seemed old to me then. I thought I was full grown.

When I got home I told my troubles to my mother, and it cheered me same when she said: "Why, you're only a boy yet, Roger. You'll get bigger. Don't worry about that. I know you'll make good with St. Louis." She always had encouraging words for me.

I intended to look for a winter job in Fort Worth, because I felt I couldn't afford to lie around all winter and not earn any money. But mother had another idea. I had an uncle with a farm near Lockhart, Tex., and it seems he had suggested that I spend the winter on his place and help him with the farm work.

"That will be just the thing for you," said my mother.

ACCEDES TO MOTHER'S PLAN

I didn't feel that way about it, but when my mother added that the outdoor exercise and the plain food would make me bigger and stronger I agreed.

Ever since then I have felt grateful to my uncle for his suggestion. It was amazing what that winter did for me. I did nothing but eat and work and sleep. I got up early and helped about the farm. It was just what I needed. There were cows and horses and hogs to take care of. There was some work to be done on the land, but there was plenty of time to go hunting and I had many long tramps hunting rabbits and quail. That meant I had a good appetite, and there never was a better place to be with an appetite than on that farm.

My uncle had a set of scales and I made great use of them. Before Christmas I had taken on ten pounds, and I was tickled to death.

That was only a start. I don't know whether it was the exercise, the milk, cream and butter, or just the fact that I was at the age to fill out. Anyway, I filled out. I had a bat and ball at the farm and got some practice at hitting when I could find anyone to pitch to me.

The bat felt better than ever in my hands. I could feel added strength in my hands and arms. My legs were in great shape because of the long tramps chasing game.

QUARTS OF MILK A DAY

I drank quarts of milk every day. I never got over the habit, either. I still drink milk with my meals instead of tea or coffee.

It wouldn't be long after supper before I would be in bed when I was on the farm. I usually slept ten hours. There were no parties. There were no picture shows. There was no hanging around a cigar store or a billiard hall. Nothing but outdoor exercise, lots to eat and plenty of sleep. My advice to any lad who needs to build up would be to spend a year on a farm.

In February I received a letter from St. Louis telling me to report early in March at the training camp in San Antonio. I could hardly wait. The day I left the farm I stepped on the scales. They registered 160.

I never will forget how pleased and surprised Miller Huggins was when I reported. He couldn't believe his eyes. He shook my hand and said: "Get out there now and knock the cover off the ball."

Mercury Squad and Alhambra Meet Tonight

Unbeaten in two starts in the Southern California A.A.U. basketball league, the Los Angeles Athletic Club quintet faces a stern test tonight when the Mercuries tangle with the fast Alhambra Athletic Club five at the L.A.A.C. gym. The game will be called at 8 o'clock and Alhambra, also credited with two victories, will bring a big crowd of rooters here for the game.

On the basis of past performances there is little to choose between tonight's foes and one of the fastest games of the A.A.U. season is promised.

ELMER JACOBS SIGNS UP WITH SEALS AGAIN

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 14. (AP)—Elmer Jacobs, one of the outstanding pitchers in the Pacific Coast League in 1928, will play with the San Francisco Seals again in 1929. His contract was received today from Salem, Mo., where Jacobs wintered.

WILLIAMS SHADES GARCIA

Amateur Ring Stars Tangle

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 14. (AP)—With approximately eighty battlers competing, the annual Far Western amateur boxing championships started at Dreamland Auditorium here tonight. Tomorrow night, the semifinals and finals will be held. All the bouts are three rounds.

Martin Zuniga of the Los Angeles Athletic Club knocked out Charles Rodericks of the Y.M.I. in the third round.

Abe Miller of Howard's Boxing School of Hollywood, knocked out Henry Fuste of the Y.M.I. in the second round.

Walter Matson of Howard's Boxing School of Hollywood knocked out Kenneth Green, unattached, of San Francisco, in the third round.

Leo Sydney, Y.M.I., San Francisco, knocked out Floyd Taylor, Howard's Boxing School, Hollywood, in the second round.

Oakland Trims Hollywood, 2-0

The fast skating Oakland ice-hockey team raced to a 2-to-0 victory over the league-leading Hollywood puck chasers last night at the Winter Garden rink. The game which was one of the fastest staged this season, was a thriller from the opening toss-in to the final minute of play.

The Oakland goals were scored by Bud Cook in the first and second periods. Cook scored both times on passes from George Bond. The Hollywood team bombarded the Oakland net throughout the game but they were unable to get the puck by Heck Fowler.

GAIN IN NORWAY CALLERS LOOMS

Oslo Shipping Chief's Visit Held Significant

Entry of Five Fast Carriers Seen as Possibility

Admits Field Inviting, But Keeps Own Counsel

Entry of a regular fleet of fast cargo motor ships in the trans-Pacific run from this coast by A. F. Klaveness & Co., of Oslo, Norway, is seen as a possibility coincident with the present visit of A. F. Klaveness, head of several Norwegian companies.

Five thirteen-knot ships now building in Europe, it is believed, might form the nucleus of such service, which would be independent of the Klaveness cargo and tank motor ships now calling here in various tramp runs.

While Mr. Klaveness was reticent yesterday about the five new ships and insisted they were too good and fast for tramp service, he finally acknowledged they "might be seen in these waters."

It is deduced that five such ships easily could maintain a monthly service between this coast and Australia, but that a run to the Orient might require more. It is reported an American firm which has had former experience in trans-Pacific freighting, is familiar with plans now brewing. Sconhoft-Gallis Corporation is agent for the tramp service and probably would continue, as such.

"The coast's trade opportunities are absolutely unlimited in all directions," Mr. Klaveness declared, without committing himself specifically on the other side of the Pacific.

He and his son, Tor, yesterday visited his motor ship Slemmstad in from Vladivostock for bunker oil, bound for Copenhagen. After a few more days here they and Mrs. Klaveness will go to North Pacific ports and home to Oslo, whence he will return in the spring.

Mr. Klaveness is president of the Norway Steamship Men's Association, and is the founder and financial backer of the Oslo Symphony Orchestra.

"The only difference between W. A. Clark, the supporter of your Los Angeles orchestra, and me, is that he may escape that portion of his taxes, whereas in Norway even those gifts are taxable."

FIFTY EMBARK FOR DOLLAR GLOBE TOUR

Los Angeles contributed fifty-five passengers to the Dollar liner President Madison, which sailed for the Orient yesterday noon, after dropping 2200 tons and loading 2800. Banning company's stevedores did it in twenty-two hours, believed a record.

Among the travelers were J. S. Mather, owner of the T. W. Mather Company's department store in Pasadena and Mrs. Mather, en route around the world; John J. Mitchell, manager of that store, en route to Honolulu; E. Jackson Casse, New York, owner of the safe patents, en route with Mrs. Casse to Tokio, and China, where he built several mints; W. Milne, owner of fabric factories in Tokio and Yokohama, and with Mrs. Milne making their thirty-sixth trans-Pacific voyage, and Miss Lillian Griffith, bound for Manila.

Dollar officials advise that passengers on the globe-girdler President Adams, now repairing at Panama after a minor beaching, will not come north on the liner California. They chose to remain on the Adams, which will be delayed only slightly, and probably will be able later to make up her schedule. She may be seven or eight days late, arriving here.

Assignment of one or more passenger carriers of the Canadian National Steamships to ply seasonally between here and Vancouver, (B. C.) is believed possible, due to the three ships now building in Montreal. Contract for the third was let last week. Tremenduous summer tourist travel northward is believed irresistible. B. C. Keeley of Vancouver, coast manager for the line, is due here in two weeks to confer with Perry S. Newcome of Dodwell & Co., and American Pacific Coast manager of the Canadian government line.

Twenty-five passengers from South America disembarked yesterday from the N.Y.K. liner Bokuyo Maru, which embarked seventy and sailed last night, direct for Japan. Through passengers included I. Kitasawa, secretary of the Japanese Legation at Valparaiso, and J. Usui, secretary of the Japanese Legation at Lima, Peru. The vessal had 9200 tons of Chilean nitrates for Japan.

Brig.-Gen. J. G. Austin, retired, of the British Royal Artillery, and Mrs. Austin, passed through port yesterday en route from England to Vancouver, B. C., on the Furness motor liner Pacific Enterprise. R. R. Chalcroft, British shipbuilder and family, are bound for the same port. The vessel dropped European cargo and 15,000 bunches of Panama bananas and sailed north last night.

Strikes in German mills and shipyards have delayed completion of the Oregon, first of four motor liners for the French Line, and that ship will not enter the European-Pacific Coast run until autumn, according to Capt. H. H. Birkholm, of General Steamship Corporation, coast agents. Each ship will carry fifty passengers. Fares, it is announced will be $300 for cabin, and $200 third class, between here and Havre.

News of Ships and Sailings at Pacific Ports

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 14. (AP)—Two liners for Australia, both carrying large passenger lists, are scheduled to arrive here this week. The Matson liner Sonoma, Capt. W. E. Bell, is due Thursday. Friday the Union liner Makura, in command of Capt. William Martin, is scheduled to make port.

SEATTLE, Jan. 14.—Preliminary inspection of the steamship Starr, which was grounded on Dark Island, near Seward, Alaska, and which was towed to Seattle by the Roosevelt, showed the damage suffered by the Starr was more serious than at first anticipated. The Starr and Roosevelt arrived in Seattle Saturday after a long battle against Arctic gales.

The survey showed all four blades of the propeller were broken, the stern shaft bent, afterpart of the stern frame damaged, and some plates in need of repairing. The repair work is expected to take ten days or more, the San Juan Fishing and Packing Company, owners of the vessel, said today.

After an eight-day session representatives of intercoastal steamship lines, lumber manufacturers and lumber wholesalers and distributors closed their meeting here today. The conference was for the purpose of improving conditions in the intercoastal lumber business. The only definite action taken at the meeting was the setting of the March lumber rate at $14. Other conferences are to follow soon, delegates intimated.

TACOMA, Jan. 14.—The former Shipping Board freighter Havalah arrived here this morning from Everett to complete loading lumber for Japan, where the vessel is to be scrapped. The steamer Amur arrived today with ore from British Columbia mines. Bringing offerings of California freight, the steamer Santa Inez docked this afternoon from Los Angeles and sailed for Seattle later.

Finishing her loading of lumber and general cargo for east coast ports, the Edgar Luckenbach departed for Boston, via Seattle and other Coast ports today.

VICTORIA (B. C.) Jan. 14.—The liner President Pierce docked here this morning from the Orient to discharge 1800 tons of general cargo. The Pierce brought in a light passenger list, there being thirty-three first-class and eighty-three steerage passengers aboard.

Review of Day in Congress

By the Associated Press

A move to limit debate on the Kellogg treaty was blocked in the Senate.

The House approved a $10,000,000 increase in the War Department appropriation bill for inland waterways.

The tariff needs of the iron and steel industry were studied by the House Ways and Means Committee.

Fraud and irregularities in the Philadelphia voting in the 1926 election of Senator Vare of Pennsylvania were charged in a Senate committee report.

insist on early trial of Albert Fall, former Secretary of the Interior, who heretofore has escaped a final appearance in a District of Columbia court on account of his health. It is certain that whoever is Attorney-General in the Hoover Cabinet will have specific instructions to bring Fall to trial whenever the weather will permit the ordeal. The fact that William J. Donovan, now assistant to the Attorney-General, is soon to visit New Mexico and the Southwest, possibly indicates a desire of the incoming President to have all the facts of the present condition of the former Secretary of the Interior before him. Donovan, who now is regarded as a likely successor to Atty.-Gen. Sargent, is to later confer with President-elect Hoover in the South.

Senate Not Sure of Proceeding on Liquor Quiz Plan

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14. (AP)—A question as to the propriety of approving legislation during the Coolidge administration for an investigation of prohibition during the Hoover regime today caused the Senate Judiciary Committee to postpone a report on the Edge-Jones resolution for an inquiry into enforcement of the liquor laws.

The committee also desired to further discuss other features of the proposal and decided to hold another meeting later in the week.

Some of the committee members doubted the wisdom of proceeding with the resolution, which will permit Herbert Hoover, after he becomes President, to name a committee of nine civilians to make the investigation, without more specific information from the President-elect.

Senate Suffers New Inroads in Wave of "Flu"

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14. (AP)—Influenza is making inroads in the Senate, overtaking Senator Watson of Indiana, and threatening Vice-President-elect Curtis, and Senator Goff of West Virginia.

Senator Watson, who on Saturday contracted a cold and fever, was under the care of physicians today and was treated for influenza.

Senators Curtis and Goff came to the Capitol today, but were forced to return to their homes because of colds. Senators Walsh of Montana and Hale of Maine, who have been confined to their beds by the flu, were able to return to the Senate floor today.

In the absence of Senator Curtis, the Republican leader, and Senator Watson, the assistant leader, Senator Jones of Washington took over the leadership on the floor.

Senate Committee Reports Out House Bill

Rules Chairman Obdurate on Preferential Status

Advocates May Find Lever in Census Legislation

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14. (Exclusive)—The Fenn reapportionment bill, passed last Friday by the House, was reported favorably today by the Senate Commerce Committee by a vote of 9 to 5, but efforts to obtain assurance from the Senate Rules Committee that it would be given preferred status on the calendar were unsuccessful. Nevertheless, proponents of a reallocation of House seats are confident the measure will be placed before the Senate soon after the Kellogg treaty and cruiser bill are out of the way, and assert they have sufficient votes to insure its passage.

Senator Vandenberg of Michigan, who is directing the fight for the bill in the upper branch, said analysis of the Senate situation led him to believe the legislation would pass by a margin of approximately 5 to 4.

OPPONENT WITHDRAWS

The Senate committee acted favorably after Senator Sackett, Republican, Kentucky, whose State would lose two Representatives, had withdrawn an amendment designed to wreck the reapportionment scheme set up in the bill. He proposed that the wording "according to the number of people" be changed to "according to the number of citizens." The purpose was to bar counting of aliens in figuring representation in Congress and was a continuance of the fight in this direction made by the Kansas delegation in the House.

Senator Vandenberg pointed out that the Constitution specifically requires enumeration of all "people" and suggested that a constitutional amendment would be necessary to accomplish Senator Sackett's aim. After considerable wrangling the Kentuckian consented to withdraw his amendment.

Another amendment offered by Senator Dale, Republican, Vermont, would have given each State a minimum of two House members instead of one as provided for in the bill. This was defeated without a record vote.

NOT TO BE SWERVED

Senator George, Democrat, Georgia, another opponent of reapportionment, suggested that in view of the favorable committee report, Senator Vandenberg should cease his opposition to the pending bill providing for the taking of the 1930 census. But Vandenberg refused, declaring he intended to prevent passage of the census bill until reapportionment was acted upon. He is holding up the reapportionment bill as an amendment to the census bill and again today blocked consideration of the census measure when an attempt was made to have it taken up in the Senate.

Senator Vandenberg and other friends of reapportionment say that if the Fenn bill gets to a vote in the Senate it will be passed. Their chief obstacle is in the person of Senator Sackett, who is chairman of the Rules Committee and who has refused thus far to give the legislation a place on the calendar. But as an ace in the hole the reapportionists have the Vandenberg amendment to the census bill, and between the Fenn bill and this amendment they are confident they can force the Senate to act.

Senator Blocks Deficiency Bill

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14. (AP)—Senate consideration of the first deficiency bill with its $75,000,000 for tax refunds and $25,000,000 prohibition enforcement increase, was blocked today by Senator McKellar, Democrat, Tennessee.

The Senator explained that he desires the Senate first to receive a report from its Judiciary Committee favoring passage of his bill which would require the Board of Tax Appeals to consider all proposed tax refunds of $10,000 or more. The bill was approved by the committee, but it has not yet filed its report.

Kellogg to Quit; Live in St. Paul

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14. (AP)—Formal announcement that he will retire from the Cabinet on March 4 and make his home in St. Paul has come from Secretary Kellogg to terminate intermittent speculation as to the course he intended to follow.

It is the Secretary's intention to resume the practice of law in his home city. Recent reports that Mr. Kellogg was to make his residence in California are termed incorrect.

Legion in Drive to Aid Women

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14. (Exclusive)—The American Legion opened a drive today to obtain for ex-service women of California and the Pacific Coast the right to receive hospitalization at the Pacific branch Soldiers' Home at Sawtelle, the same as men.

At the Legion's request a joint resolution admitting women who saw service in the World War to the Sawtelle home's new barracks was introduced by Senator Johnson.

Inland Water Funds Advanced

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14. (AP)—The House today amended the War Department supply bill to include $10,000,000 for inland waterways development.

The amendment, proposed by Representative Clague, Republican, Minnesota, is designed to provide for expansion of the inland waterways corporation on the Upper and Lower Mississippi, the Warrior, Missoula and Illinois rivers.

IRON GIANT ASKS TARIFF DEFENSE

Metals Industry Presents Case in Congress

Says Higher Rates Necessary to Maintain Wages

Requested Schedule to be Presented Later

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14. (AP)—The iron and steel industry, representing a capital investment of $4,750,000,000 and employing more than 1,500,000 men, today added its plea to those of smaller businesses for increased tariff protection.

Appearing on behalf of 95 per cent of the iron and steel producers, John A. Topping, vice-president of the American Iron and Steel Institute, declared before the House Ways and Means Committee that higher duties are needed to maintain present wages and to further stabilize the business.

While no rates were proposed by the industry in general, several witnesses representing companies which are members of the institute requested that duties on pig iron, the basic product of the industry, be raised from $1.12½ to $3 a ton. They contended imports are having a depressing effect on the domestic market.

In a brief Topping declared a complete new schedule of duties will be filed later, as the industry had not had time to determine exact duties desired in the period elapsing since announcement of the hearings on the metals scheduled.

Topping contended that high taxes, wages and freight rates justified the proposal for higher steel duties and, under cross-examination, declared that, although only one-tenth of 1 per cent of domestic consumption is imported, this is sufficient to affect the entire price structure of the United States.

REED FILES REPORT IN VARE CASE

Senator-elect Given Ten Days to Answer Finding of Election Irregularities

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14. (AP)—The first report on the extensive investigation by the Senate into the Philadelphia vote in the 1926 Senatorial election was given out today, charging a long list of "irregularities and fraud" and offering Senator-elect Vare of Pennsylvania, or his counsel, an opportunity to answer it on the 24th inst.

Senator Reed, Democrat of Missouri, the chairman of the Campaign Funds Committee, which inquired into Vare's primary contest that year and later into charges of fraud in his election, detailed the committee's first report in a letter to Vare. It notified the Senator-elect that the committee was through and anxious to act on Vare's case and would wait only for the hearing now offered the Senator-elect, who is ill.

The letter declared that in only 181 divisions out of a total of 1500 divisions was the Senatorial vote correctly counted; that in 674 divisions a total of 21,572 tax receipts were illegally issued in 1926 and that the names of 2018 voters were "forged" in 187 of the divisions selected "at random" for examination.

While a total of 18,954 ballots issued to polling places were unaccounted for, Senator Reed reported that fifty divisions made returns for 922 ballots more than the records showed they received.

McCOURTS LEAVE CAPITAL

TATE BOWS OUT AS TREASURER

Nomination to be Withdrawn Because of Opposition

He Asks That Mellon Take His Name from Congress

Another Man Held Entitled to Government Post

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14. (AP)—The nomination of H. Theodore Tate to be treasureer of the United States will be withdrawn by the Treasury Department because of opposition which developed in Congress to Tate.

"Mr. Tate's nomination will be withdrawn because he could not be confirmed and because he requested the Secretary of the Treasury to take that action," Undersecretary Mills said.

"There is nothing to reflect on his integrity in any way. The treasurer's office has been well run while he has held the position."

Tate, who succeeded Frank White as treasurer, was given a recess appointment. Representative Wood opposed it on the ground that Frank J. F. Thiel, assistant treasurer, was next in line for the position and should have received the nomination. Wood filed charges against Tate with Secretary Mellon and they have been under investigation for several weks.

Tate announced that he had asked the Secretary to recall his nomination.

What Doctors Say
About the Laxative Habit

What do YOU do when the bowels need a little assistance? If you clear up the condition with some laxative made with CASCARA, there is nothing better for the system—for the blood.

But if you don't KNOW the laxative you have learned to depend on is of harmless cascara, here's some truly valuable advice:

The bark of a tree called cascara is the most marvelous conditioner mankind has yet found. It stimulates the bowel's muscular action, but does NOT weaken. A violent laxative forms the laxative HABIT. You always need more on the morrow. With cascara, you don't. Its gentle influence carries on sometimes for days. With less and less need of any aid, as time goes on.

So, the very next time you feel sluggish, take only a candy Cascaret. Delightful to the taste, sweet and acceptable to any stomach, and just as efficient as the powerful purges that fairly paralyze the peristaltic walls of one's intestines. The only habit you'll get from Cascarets is the one of going weeks and months without ANY help of the kind. And when you do invoke their aid again, the same small dose suffices. Any doctor can tell you about cascara; and any druggist has the candy Cascarets.—[Advertisement.

Instead of eating between meals ... instead of fattening sweets ... beautiful women keep youthful slenderness these days by smoking Luckies. The smartest and loveliest women of the modern stage take this means of keeping slender ... when others nibble fattening sweets, they light a Lucky!

Lucky Strike is a delightful blend of the world's finest tobaccos. These tobaccos are toasted—a costly extra process which develops and improves the flavor. That's why Luckies are a delightful alternative for fattening sweets. That's why there's real health in Lucky Strike. That's why folks say: "It's good to smoke Luckies."

For years this has been no secret to those men who keep fit and trim. They know that Luckies steady their nerves and do not harm their physical condition. They know that Lucky Strike is the favorite cigarette of many prominent athletes, who must keep in good shape. They respect the opinions of 20,679 physicians who maintain that Luckies are less irritating to the throat than other cigarettes.

A reasonable proportion of sugar in the diet is recommended, but the authorities are overwhelming that too many fattening sweets are harmful and that too many such are eaten by the American people. So, for moderation's sake we say:—

"REACH FOR A LUCKY INSTEAD OF A SWEET."

"It's toasted"
No Throat Irritation-No Cough.

CHICAGO LOSES LAKE USE FIGHT

Supreme Court Decides Ten-Year Battle

City Must Cut Withdrawals to Dispose of Sewage

Diversion Permit Legal at Time, Ruling States

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14. (AP)—Chicago's diversion of water from Lake Michigan was held by the Supreme Court today to have been lawfully authorized by the Secretary of War, but because the lake levels had been lowered six inches, Chief Justice Taft ruled that the withdrawals should be reduced as rapidly as practicable.

The court announced that Charles E. Hughes, who as a special master heard testimony in the case, will be appointed to determine through experts just how rapidly the diversion could be safely decreased.

In deciding the case, which has been in controversy for ten years, and in which millions of words of testimony have been taken, the court acted without a dissenting opinion. It ruled that the permit granted the city by the Secretary of War was valid because the methods used in the disposition of sewage made the diversion necessary in the interest of navigation in Chicago Harbor and the lower end of Lake Michigan.

The present rate of withdrawal, it is held, cannot be justified as an aid to navigation on the inland waterway from the Great Lakes to the Gulf of Mexico, and diversion of water purely for sanitary purposes could not be authorized under existing law.

The effect of the decision is to hold that Chicago, through its sanitary district, has created conditions which made diversion necessary. The dumping of sewage into the sanitary canal required the current of the Chicago River to be reversed by taking water from Lake Michigan to prevent injury to navigation through the turning of sewage into the lake.

While the Secretary of War had lawfully met the conditions confronting him, and had not exceeded his authority in granting the permit, he had made it revocable and conditional, the Chief Justice pointed out. Chicago must comply with these conditions, he said, explaining that as soon as the diversion can be largely reduced, or stopped entirely, it will be possible to restore the old lake levels.

Most of the Great Lakes and Mississippi Valley States were parties to the suit.

PAJARO VALLEY LINE WOULD QUIT BUSINESS

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 14. (AP)—The Pajaro Valley Consolidated Railway Company, which has forty miles of trackage in Monterey and Santa Cruz counties, applied to the State Railroad Commission today for authority to abandon service. The line extends from Spreckels in Monterey county through Watsonville into Salinas. Motor trucks have taken over the transportation formerly carried by the railroad.

ENGLISH SUBMARINE RUNS INTO DREDGER

PORTSMOUTH (Eng.) Jan. 14. (AP)—While undergoing engine trials off the Isle of Wight during the week-end, the British submarine L-5 had a narrow escape from disaster. She collided with a dredger which suddenly loomed out of the fog. Rebounding under the impact, she bumped the dredge a second time. Although damaged, she returned to Portsmouth under her own power.

False Knights of Columbus Oath Circulated

Maximum Penalty Carries Prison Sentence

New Jersey Minister Issued Campaign Pamphlet

NEWARK (N. J.) Jan. 14. (AP)—Rev. Elmo L. Bateman, deposed pastor of Hilton Christian Church of Maplewood, was convicted of criminal libel by a jury in Judge Van Riper's court late today. He was charged with publication and circulation of a false Knights of Columbus oath during the Presidential campaign. He will be sentenced on the 28th inst. Maximum penalty is three years in prison and $1000 fine.

When first cross-examined Bateman declared he believed the oath to be the true oath. Later when shown a copy of the order's ritual he retracted the statement. He said on direct examination that he had copied the oath from the Congressional Record.

The former pastor admitted he had not sent the oaths out under his own name, because he was associated with the International Publishing Company and the money collected went to the company. He said he owned the majority of the stock of the concern and put out the pamphlet containing the oath on his own initiative.

9 Trains daily to San Francisco

Trains to Fit Your Plans

WHETHER business or pleasure takes you to San Francisco, you want to be there on time, rested and ready for work or play. Southern Pacific trains take you there in a hurry, in perfect comfort and on schedules to suit most any demand.

There are trains by night and trains by day—up the Coast Line or through the interesting San Joaquin Valley. Their schedules—

Leave Los Angeles		Arrive San Francisco
7:30 a.m.	"San Joaquin"	10:05 p.m.
7:45 a.m.	"Daylight"	7:45 p.m.
8:00 a.m.	"Shore Line"	10:40 p.m.

8:15 p.m.	"Coaster"	10:35 a.m.
11:00 p.m.	"Tehachapi"	6:50 p.m.

Nine trains every day! There are the same number leaving San Francisco for Los Angeles, and operating on about the same schedule.

For the sightseer, we recommend the "Daylight," up the Coast, 113 miles along the ocean shore, past quaint, old missions—only twelve hours on the road and every minute worth while.

The "San Joaquin" takes you through California's rich valley empire, over the famous Tehachapi Look, offering scenery different from any other in the world.

Go by train. It's the time, money and trouble-saving way, and really much the better way.

New Orleans is Host to the Nation

A CENTURY has passed since a small band of young exuberant Creoles of Old New Orleans, just back from their studies in Paris, donned fantastic costumes one Shrove Tuesday morning and startled the colonial guard with a street procession. Probably not more than a dozen of them. Should these boys come to life today, what surprises would await them! They would see their thoughtless frolic of a dull pre-lenten morning become a world-famous festive celebration which has helped make their city one of the show places of America.

The New Orleans Mardi Gras is different from any other festival in the world. From January 7 to February 12 there are days and nights of gay revelry, gorgeous parades . . . grand balls, fascinating and intriguing.

YANG'S DEATH AROUSES JAPAN

Fearful Looks Being Cast at Manchuria as Result

Empire's Interests There in Peril, Leaders Believe

Nanking Watched Closely to See What Comes Next

TOKIO, Jan. 14. (AP) — Official advices somewhat clarifying the execution of Yang Yu-Ting, chief of staff of the late Chang Tso-Lin, at Mukden, Manchuria, today evoked official statements on Japan's deepening concern over the aftermath.

The government spokesman said the Mukden situation is "hysterical and sinister." He acknowledged that Yang's execution is a blow to Japan since he had recently become pro-Japanese and was at least complacent toward, if not actively supporting projects for the consolidation of Japan's interests in Manchuria.

The chief of these projects is new rail lines from the South Manchuria Railway Company, for which negotiations have been in progress at Mukden for some time.

DELAY EXPECTED

At the Foreign Office it was stated these must be suspended until the position and attitude of Chang Hsueh-Liang, ruler of Manchuria, toward Japan becomes clearer.

Conversations in authoritative quarters and newspaper comment indicate that Japanese officialdom and the public believe that the nation is confronted with a major crisis in Manchuria where there are rights and interests which were wrested a quarter of a century ago from Russia and which are deemed the empire's most vital external consideration.

Japanese officialdom does not believe that Nanking in any way instigated the killing of Yang. It is indicated, however, that the feeling is that the removal of the strongest opponent of a reunification between Mukden and Nanking facilitates Nanking's assuming full control of Mukden's external relations.

DANGER SIGHTED

Official confirmation is lacking of Shanghai press reports that Nanking had ordered Chang to cease all diplomatic negotiations, especially those with Japan. It is believed here that Nanking's domination of Mukden is inevitable sooner or later and thus Japan's place in Manchuria further is jeopardized.

Reports that Nanking is preparing to demand that Japan retrocede the South Manchuria Railway officially are scouted. Nevertheless it is acknowledged that such an attempt is to be expected sometime after Nanking is in control of Manchurian diplomats.

Dispatches from Mukden described efforts by Chang to appease Yang's followers. He offered the family a solatium of $10,000. He announced that he intends to bear the expenses of an elaborate funeral.

REASON ASSIGNED

The authoritative consensus here is that the killing was due largely to Chang's hysterical fear of Yang's growing power as a skilled intriguer and lack of confidence in his own position.

Yang's strong clique is not expected to accept the situation quietly. The provincial magnates, Chang Tso-Hsiang of Kirin, Wan Fu-Lin of Heilungkiang and Tang Yu-Lin of Jehol, are seen as strengthening their own feudal positions, which may tend to bring on internecine disorders which in turn may call for Japanese military measures to defend "vested interests."

Even such no longer powerful leaders as Sun Chuan-Fang, whom the Nationalists drove out of Kiangsi, and Chang Tsung-Chang, former Military Governor of Shantung, are seen emerging from obscurity and joining in the intrigues, especially Sun who has been consolidating his political position.

Prosecution Due for Witchcraft

YORK (Pa.) Jan. 14. (AP)—Convictions of a pow-wow doctor and two accomplices for a murder seemed likely today to be followed by prosecutions for the practice of witchcraft.

"Something's got to be done about it," said Dist.-Atty. Herrmann in regard to the situation which culminated in last week's trials.

Ever since Nelson D. Rehmeyer, a farmer, was slain on the theory that he practiced black magic and bewitched an entire family, State officials have been trying to learn the identity of other practitioners of witchcraft and obtain evidence warranting prosecution.

AUTO-MAKER LEAVES WATCHES TO MUSEUM

COLLECTION OF TIMEPIECES OF PACKARD WILL GO TO CLEVELAND INSTITUTE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14. (AP)—One of the largest collections of fine watches ever made by an individual is to be brought to Washington this week as a permanent contribution toward advancement of the art and science of timekeeping.

Reflecting the interest of a mechanical genius in fine mechanisms and his recognition of the importance of accurate measurements of time in modern affairs, the collection was made during the last twenty-five years of his life by James Ward Packard, automotive engineer and inventor.

Consisting of about thirty watches representing an outlay estimated at $100,000, the collection was left at his death last March to the Cleveland Museum of Art which, with Mrs. Packard and trustees of the estate, "will turn it over tomorrow at Cleveland to the Horological Institute of America for permanent preservation and use.

The watches, ranging in value from $500 to more than $8000, will be placed temporarily in the old National Museum of the Smithsonian Institution.

BUS LINE'S FIGHT AGAINST TAX LOST

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 14. (AP) The United States Circuit Court of Appeals today affirmed the decision of the District Court of Montana in dismissing the suit of the Yellowstone Transportation Company, operating a bus line in Yellowstone National Park, for an injunction to prevent Gallatin county in that State from collecting taxes assessed against the company. The Circuit Court held that the company's contention that the Yellowstone Park is not in the political jurisdiction of Montana is without merit.

WRECK INJURIES SLIGHT

PLEASANT HILL (Ill.) Jan. 14. (AP)—Several passenbers suffered minor injuries when seven cars of Chicago & Alton passenger train No. 9, Chicago to Kansas City, were derailed by a broken rail two miles east of here today.

Chinese Regime Valid to Court

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 14. (AP)—A Federal Court decision in effect affirming recognition of the Nationalist Chinese government was handed down here today.

The United States Circuit Court of Appeals reversed the United States Court for China and held that fire insurance claims by the original Chinese Republic on a government building at Wuchang which burned were valid.

The fire was before the establishment of the present government and the Federal Court in Shanghai dismissed the claims on the ground that the United States had not recognized the government.

EX-GOVERNOR'S WIFE DIES

HOLD-UP MAN SHOT BY INTENDED VICTIM

PHOENIX, Jan. 14. (AP)—Shot down when he attempted to hold up two men at a country home six miles north of Phoenix, Basil Meade, 30 years of age, is believed fatally wounded. Meade, walking along the country highway, approached the residence and accosted two men who were working in front of the house. He drew a gun, commanding them to put up their hands. He then told one man to go in the house and get whatever money he could. The man went inside, got a gun and slipped up behind the lone bandit, shooting him several times.

DRY OFFICER FALLS DEAD

Senators Guests at White House

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14. (AP)—Eleven Republican and eight Democratic members of the Senate were guests of President Coolidge at breakfast today at the White House. The President held a similar breakfast party on Saturday.

The Republicans who attended today were: Couzens of Michigan, Deneen of Illinois, Edge of New Jersey, Johnson of California, Metcalf of Rhode Island, Oddie of Nevada, Thomas of Idaho, Frazier of North Dakota, Jones of Washington, Norbeck of South Dakota and Phipps of Colorado.

The Democrats were Black of Alabama, Bratton of New Mexico, Harris of Georgia, Kendrick of Wyoming, Sheppard of Texas, Robinson of Arkansas, Broussard of Louisiana and Wheeler of Montana.

SHOWDOWN DUE IN BOOTH FIGHT

Salvation Army Conflict May be Ended Today

Each Side at Sea as to Plan of Aged Commander

Refusal to Quit Will Bring Firm Ouster Action

LONDON, Jan. 14. (AP)—Definite action on the continuance in office of Gen. Bramwell Booth, commander of the Salvation Army, probably will come tomorrow, in the opinion of leaders of both factions of the organization. They agreed on this point after it had become known that the general's reply to the suggestion of the high council that he retire had been delivered late today at Sunbury-on-Thames.

Both sides say they are completely in the dark as to whether the aged leader will make a counter-move against retirement when the high council reassembles. The reform element says, however, that if he declines to retire the council will proceed at once to vote on his physical fitness to continue his duties.

They predict that the ballot—if the case comes to that—will be overwhelmingly in favor of a new head of the army and reform in its basic organization.

"If Gen. Booth should say that he cannot retire because such action would be illegal, he will contradict his own words," says one of the leaders of the American delegation. "In the letter which he sent to the council last week he said this:

"'Had I been asked to resign, it would have been a very different matter, and I should not, on my own account, have much regretted the request.'

BALLINGTON BOOTH'S VINDICATION EXPECTED

NEW YORK, Jan. 14. (AP)—Mrs. Maud Ballington Booth, cocommander with Gen. Ballington Booth of the Volunteers of America, today broke what she said was a silence of many years to assert that the present controversy in the Salvation Army will make the general's friends feel that his judgment and action of thirty-two years ago in withdrawing from the army have been vindicated. Gen. Booth and Mrs. Booth make their headquarters in this city.

Recalling events that led Gen. Ballington Booth to break with the Salvation Army and establish the Volunteers of America, Mrs. Booth said:

"Thirty-two years ago, looking upon Ballington Booth as reactionary and fearing his widespread influence with the many Salvationists who loved him, the high officials of the army fostered the erroneous idea that he had left the organization because he chose to disobey orders to leave America and take another command. In a semimilitary organization such action is considered the unpardonable offense. Hence the general was looked upon as a lawbreaker.

LOST CONFIDENCE

"The facts as revealed by documentary evidence, however, are quite conclusive if one should choose to turn back the pages of history, Gen. Booth would have obeyed such an order and gladly gone as a missionary to any part of the world had he retained his confidence in the government and policies of the movement. But, having utterly lost faith and trust in those of high command, there was nothing for him to do but retire, a step which was hastened by Evangelist Booth's demand that he do so within twenty-four hours. That time she succeeded in deposing a brother in command.

"Twice Miss Booth has received orders to leave this country. Each time there has been strenuous objection and she has remained, although five years is the regulation tenure of office, according to her verdict of thirty-two years ago."

EVANGELINE BOOTH HIT

Mrs. Booth questioned whether the convocation of the Salvation Army's high council, now in session in England, has been well timed in view of the illness of Gen. Bramwell Booth, head of the army. She asked whether it would not have been "kinder" to await his recovery or death, when another leader, even if appointed by his will, "could have been persuaded to retire gracefully," thus sparing Gen. Bramwell Booth "the sorrow of seeing his authority set aside."

The statement asserted that it was Evangeline Booth who "most bitterly opposed her brother, Ballington, and who, after he had stepped out, rather than cause friction in the organization, caused him to be ostracised and misrepresented and allowed him to suffer the fate of all pioneers of reform."

Peninsula Rail Plans Indorsed

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 14. (Exclusive)—Indorsements of the projected peninsula railroad line of the Western Pacific California Railroad Company were voted today by the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce and the San Mateo County Board of Supervisors, thus giving the Western Pacific subsidiary an expression of favorable sentiment in every peninsula community directly affected.

Action of the San Francisco chamber comes only a few days after the San Mateo county Chamber of Commerce and other civic organizations of the peninsula, in joint session at San Mateo, condemned the San Francisco chamber for not expressing itself.

CHINA OPENS RADIO SERVICE TO MANILA

SHANGHAI, Jan. 14. (AP) — The Nationalist government today opened a world-wide radio service with their station here connecting with Manila and co-operating with the Radio Corporation of America. The service is under the name of "The Chinese Government Radio Administration," which is under the direction of the Nationalist government's reconstruction bureau.

NOTAS TELEGRAFICAS

Cabecilla Rebelde Muerto en Méjico

CIUDAD DE MEJICO, Enero 14.—Dicen mensajes de hoy procedentes de Guadalajara que Manuel Caro, uno de los más destacados jefes insurrectos del Estado de Jalisco, ha sido muerto en combate con las tropas federales. Perdió Caro la vida en una tentativa de tomar la población de Tenamaxtlan.

Dícese que ya Ha Sido Elegido Embajador Argentino en Washington

BUENOS AIRES, Enero 14.—Tiénese entendido aquí que Federico Alvarez de Toledo, embajador en Francia, va a ser nombrado embajador argentino en Washington para reemplazar a Manuel Malibrán, embajador dimitente.

El señor Alvarez irá a los Estados Unidos a representar al presidente Irigoyen en la toma de posesión de Herbert Hoover, y probablemente se quedará en Washington.

Senadores Huéspedes del Presidente Coolidge

WASHINGTON, Enero 14.—Once senadores republicanos y ocho demócratas fueron hoy huéspedes del presidente Coolidge a la hora del almuerzo en la Casa Blanca. Este último sábado tuvo el presidente Coolidge otro grupo de legisladores almorzando a su mesa.

Se Pone la Piedra Angular del Ministerio de Agricultura

WASHINGTON, Enero 14.—Hoy ha puesto el ministro Jardine la primera piedra de la primera unidad de un edificio de $5,750,000, que dará cabida a todas las dependencias del ministerio de Agricultura, que hoy ocupan aquí unos cuarenta y cinco edificios.

"Cuando esté completa la construcción", dijo el ministro, "formará el establecimiento más grande de su clase en el mundo para funcionarios y empleados de ambos sexos consagrados al estudio y fomento de la agricultura, y será ese grandioso edificio el símbolo de nuestras responsabilidades nacionales con respecto al grupo que forma la cuarta parte de nuestra población."

EDEN (Tejas) Enero 14.—Llegado aquí anoche a última hora, tras haber viajado con la mayor premura desde San Diego por aire y automóvil, el capitán Ira G Eaker se encuentra hoy a la cabecera de su madre, gravemente enferma de pulmonía. El citado capitán es, como se sabe, el primer piloto del "Question Mark." aeroplano que tiene batidos todos los records de permanencia en el aire.

Dicen los médicos que el estado de la señora Eaker ha mejorado desde la llegada del capitán Eaker y sus otros tres hijos, y que hay buenas probabilidades de que se restablezca la paciente.

La triple ejecución comenzó con Lucitti, convicto, con Roy Wenrich, de haber muerto a tiros a los policías Louis O. Knapp y Paul B. Fox en Febrero de 1928, en los momentos en que éstos los cogían metiendo contrabando de whisky. Weinrich se hizo testigo de cargo, y fue sentenciado a prisión perpetua.

Continúan las Pesquisas para Coger a un Plagiario

Ayer continuaban los detectives de Wilshire haciendo activas pesquisas para dar con el individuo que se dice intentó secuestrar a las dos jovencitas hijas de W. M. Brunswig, vicepresidente de la Brunswig Drug Company, que reside en el 1006 de South Wilton Place.

La tentativa de plagio ha sido descrita por la señora John Linsley, doncella negra de la casa del señor Brunswig. Declara esta doméstica, según se asienta en el parte rendido por la policía, que ella amedrentó e hizo huir al presunto plagiario de la casa de la familia Brunswig disparándole varios tiros a la sazón que el malhechor trataba de violentar una puerta trasera de la citada residencia. Entregó la criada a los agentes de policía una botella con éter, varias tiras de algodón y un largo cordel, que, según afirma élla, dejó abandonados el intruso en los momentos de darse a la fuga.

Los padres de las niñas estaban ausentes cuando eso ocurría, pues hasta hoy no llegarán de Del Monte. Ha dicho el capitán Cato la averiguación no se reanudará hasta que no tenga él oportunidad de hablar con el señor Brunswig.

Boone y sus amigos trataron en vano de seguirlos. A veces encontraban una huella, pero pronto se les perdía entre el tupido cañaveral (Boone and his friends tried in vain to follow them. Sometimes they would find a track but it would soon be lost in the thick canes).

La gente de Boone renunció a buscar la pista de los indios. Se fijaron en qué dirección caminaban éstos (Boone's party gave up trying to find their path. They noticed which way the Indians were going). Caminaron luego treinta millas en la misma dirección tan aprisa como pudieron (Then they walked as fast as they could the same way for thirty miles). Supusieron que los indios descuidarían la cuestión de sus huellas después de viajar tan larga distancia (They thought the Indians would grow careless about their tracks after traveling so far).

UNDERSIZED CLAMS BRING HEAVY FINES

SANTA CRUZ, Jan. 14. (AP)—The campaign against digging undersized clams was renewed here today when Elmer Higbee and I. E. Herry were fined $50 each, after they pleaded guilty to the offense. Fred Cunha, former Watsonville police officer, was arrested also when officers assert they found him carrying small bivalves.

INITIATIVE WOULD LIMIT RESERVOIRS

NAPA, Jan. 14. (AP)—An initiative petition aimed against the proposed $3,000,000 commercial water project in the Conn Valley, near here, was filed with the county Board of Supervisors today. The petition, carrying 2100 names, asks the adoption of a county ordinance limiting the size of reservoirs to 10,000 acre feet.

Standard of Indiana Head Issues Statement

President Will Join Ranks Against Rockefeller

Letter to Ask Withholding of John D., Jr., Proxies

CHICAGO, Jan. 14. (AP)—Edward G. Seubert, president of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana in a formal statement today announced his support of Col. Robert W. Stewart in the latter's campaign for re-election as chairman of the board of the company. It was Mr. Seubert's first official pronouncement that he will oppose the efforts of John D. Rockefeller, Jr., to unseat Col. Stewart.

The Standard Oil president also said that the board of directors is unanimously back of its chairman and that a letter will be directed by the board of stockholders opposing Mr. Rockefeller's attempt to obtain proxies for the annual meeting.

STATEMENT ISSUED

Mr. Seubert's statement read:

"I shall cast my votes for the re-election of Robert W. Stewart. I so informed Mr. John D. Rockefeller, Jr., several months ago and there has never been the slightest doubt as to my attitude. Any information to the contrary is without any foundation in fact.

"The members of the board of directors are unanimously of the same opinion. They also feel that the re-election of Col. Stewart is so important to the best interest of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana that they prepared and signed the following document which will be sent to every stockholder of the company. 'To the stockholders: The undersigned, being all the members of the board of directors of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana, except Mr. Robert W. Stewart, feel that it is necessary and proper at this time to inform the stockholders that on May 23, 1928, Mr. John D. Rockefeller, Jr., by letter requested that the resignation of Robert W. Stewart, director and executive head of the company, be demanded by the board.

STEWART SUPPORTED

"It being fully informed of the facts and having no doubts whatever of Mr. Stewart's honesty and loyalty to the company, the board, by unanimous votes was of the opinion that there was no justifiable reason for such action, and so advised Mr. Rockefeller under date of May 31. The members of the board feel that they are in the best position to judge Col. Stewart's actions and value to the company and are still of the opinion stated above. They believe that his retirement would be detrimental to the welfare of the company.'"

AMOUR TRACED IN RUTH DEATH

Dentist With Whom She Had Lived Questioned

Police Say Kinder Admits He Never Married Her

Owner of Fire Tragedy Home Tells of Hiding

WATERTOWN (Mass.) Jan. 14. (AP)—Dr. Edward H. Kinder, Boston dentist, was questioned for nearly four hours here late today by Watertown police concerning his relations with Mrs. George Herman Ruth, wife of Babe Ruth.

Mrs. Ruth was burned to death in Dr. Kinder's home here last Friday night. She had been known to the neighbors as Mrs. Helen Kinder.

Kinder hurried away with his attorney, James H. Vahey, immediately after the interview, but Chief of Police Milmore revealed that Kinder said he never had married Mrs. Ruth, although he had lived with her at intervals since 1927.

"Dr. Kinder told us," said Chief Milmore, "that on Saturday night he walked the streets in distraction, fearing the story was coming out. He remained in seclusion on Sunday on the advice of his father, who told him there was plenty of time in which to come forward and that there was nothing to fear."

Chief Milmore said that Kinder told him his brother, William H. Kinder, Jr., furnished the information to the undertaker which described Mrs. Ruth as Mrs. Kinder.

CHIEF SATISFIED

Milmore said he is satisfied with Kinder's statement and that as far as local police are concerned, the case is closed.

Meanwhile Dist.-Atty. Bushnell ordered a second autopsy on the body of Mrs. Ruth, although he said he is satisfied there is no evidence that Mrs. Ruth died by other than accidental causes. Medical Examiner West previously had reported that he had discovered no evidence that she had died by any other causes than burns and suffocation.

Mrs. Ruth's body was not identified as that of the home-run king's wife until yesterday, a short time before she was to have been buried as Mrs. Kinder. Dr. Kinder, called from a boxing show in Boston Friday night, after the fire, identified Mrs. Ruth as Mrs. Kinder and then disappeared until his visit to police headquarters today. Publication of a photograph of the woman in a Boston paper led to identification by Mrs. Ruth's sisters, Catherine and Nora Woodford of South Boston.

RUTH GRIEF-STRICKEN

Ruth arrived in Boston yesterday and issued a short statement saying: "My wife's death is a great shock to me." He since has remained in seclusion. Friends declared that he is grief-stricken.

Thomas P. Woodford and William J. Woodford, brothers of Mrs. Ruth, said today that they are not satisfied with the police investigation of the circumstances attending their sister's death and demanded a thorough investigation.

Kinder, in his interview with Chief Milmore, according to the latter, said there had been nothing morally wrong in his relations with Mrs. Ruth. He said Kinder did not recall having told Medical Examiner West that Mrs. Ruth was his wife, although he agreed it was possible that he did in the excitement which followed the fire.

Chief Milmore learned from Kinder that Mrs. Ruth, on many occasions, had taken her 8-year-old daughter Dorothy, to New York to visit Babe Ruth. Kinder, he said, is certain that Ruth knew that his wife was living at the Watertown address.

SECOND AUTOPSY

In announcing the second autopsy, Dist.-Atty. Bushnell said that it will be performed by Dr. George B. McGrath, medical examiner for Suffolk county. Dr. McGrath was chosen because he has equipment for a chemical analysis of the contents of the stomach, which Dr. West does not possess.

Judson Hannigan, counsel for the Woodford family, said, after a conference with Ruth's attorney, John P. Feeney, and Arthur Crowley, son of Police Superintendent Michael J. Crowley, a friend of Ruth's, that "Babe" and the Woodford family "have buried the hatchet temporarily." Feeney said that Ruth will attend his wife's funeral to be held in South Boston Wednesday.

Ruth declined to submit to questioning by newspaper men after the conference, dismissing them with the plea:

"Fellows, please let my wife alone. Let her stay dead. I'm in a terrible fix."

He had no comment to make concerning the future of his daughter, Dorothy. Mrs. Ruth's brother, Michael, said that his family is making arrangements for the child, who is attending a private school in Wellesley.

Farm Building Gets Under Way

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14. (AP)—Secretary Jardine today laid the corner-stone of the first unit of a $5,750,000 structure which will house the entire Department of Agriculture, now located in approximately forty-five buildings here.

The completed structure, he said, "will form the world's largest single housing establishment for men and women engaged in advancing agriculture," and will be "a symbol of our national responsibilities to those who make up a quarter of our population."

BLYTHE SPAN OPENING EXPECTED BY MARCH

PRESCOTT (Ariz.) Jan. 14. (AP) Unless some unforeseen circumstances arise to delay the restoration of the Blythe bridge, one span of which was washed out in a flood last summer, the structure will be reopened to traffic by the end of February or the first of March, according to engineers in charge of the reconstruction.

More than $350,000 has been spent on the rebuilding of the bridge and a considerably larger expenditure will be necessary before it is completed, engineers said.

National Legal Body Reports on Study of Topic

Current Arrangements Given Tacit Approval

Unsettled Authority Found Industry's Handicap

BY MARTIN CODEL

(Copyright, 1929, by North American Newspaper Alliance.)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14. (Exclusive)—Many of the questions now perplexing the nation's lawmakers as they pursue their current inquiry into the various ramifications of radio are answered in a tentative report just issued by the American Bar Association in the interest of "establishing radio jurisprudence on a sound basis."

The report reveals general accord with legislative recommendations already advanced by leaders in various branches of radio. It was prepared under the chairmanship of Louis G. Caldwell, chief counsel for the Federal Radio Commission. After he and his committee held conference with representative groups of legal and technical men from the government and the industry.

VIEWS NOT STATED

Like the National Association of Broadcasters, whose legislative report was submitted to the House Committee on Radio last week, the American Bar Association committee does not attempt to express views at this time whether the regulation of radio communication should be lodged in a single authority such as the Secretary of Commerce or in a tribunal like the Federal Radio Commission.

It does, however, urge that "the licensing authority, whatever its character, should be put on a permanent basis as soon as it is possible to do so; that it is undesirable that persons in authority over so important a field should be handicapped by the fact that their appointments are only for one year, and that it is important that an increased measure of stability be brought about."

On the matter of establishing a communications commission to regulate radio, telegraph, telephone and cable, combining the authority of the Federal Radio Commission and the Interstate Commerce Commission, the committee makes no recommendations, but its report points out how present radio law and authority overlap into other fields of communication and predicts that the question of unifying regulatory control over communications will doubtless take concrete form in the next Congress.

NEEDS MORE STUDY

Attention is called to the much-discussed equalization amendment, prescribing equal broadcasting service to the people of all zones through a division of channels, powers and hours of operation. This being a subject of great difference of opinion, the bar committee states it is not prepared to recommend any modification until it has had an opportunity to study a satisfactory substitute. This much, however, is said about the equalization problem:

"There has been vigorous opposition to this amendment on the part of organizations engaged in the radio industry, including the National Association of Broadcasters and the National Electrical Manufacturers' Association. It was urged, however, by certain of the representatives present at the committee's open sessions that this amendment, although not perhaps in accordance with sound engineering principles, has had its advantages in furnishing the occasion for the commission to make a more equitable distribution of stations and at the same time to reduce the interference which was affecting reception in many parts of the country.

"The committee believes that as a general principle Congress should refrain from confining its licensing authority too closely on matters of detail, particularly in such a complex scientific field."

MODIFICATION URGED

Modification is urged of the section of the radio law making it mandatory for the Radio Commission to deny a license of a corporation adjudged guilty of monopolizing communication or of unfair methods of competition. Some discretion should be left to the commission in cases of minor infractions and of practices which have no bearing on radio communication, it is recommended. Even the people most actively supporting the antimonopoly features of the radio law seem to agree that the section is in this respect too rigid, it is stated.

A current case in point might be mentioned, although it is not cited in the report. It would be left to the commission's discretion whether the recent sustaining of charges of unfair practices in the tube trade should be a basis for denying a company the right to engage in broadcasting or in transoceanic and transcontinental radiotelegraphy. Such a point is actually before the Federal Radio Commission at the present time.

ZONING CRITICISED

The zone system is criticised as the basis for a division of administration. There is no particular objection to establishing the country into five zones for the selection of commissioners, the report says, but principles of radio engineering cannot be made to depend upon area and quality of population. The important radio problems are said to be national in character and should have the benefit of the entire commission.

SURPRISE WITNESSES USED

Western Pacific Forces Call Executive Heads of Three Lines in East to Support Demand for Permit to Build

FRESNO, Jan. 14.—Calling as surprise witnesses the executive heads of three eastern railroads, the Western Pacific today fired the heaviest guns of its fight for a permit to extend its lines into the Fresno and Kings areas, when hearing on its petition was resumed before Examiner H. C. Davis of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Testimony to the effect that the large trunk line railroads cannot hope to exist on main line business alone, but must have feeder line business such as that produced by lines as contemplated by the Western Pacific was given by C. E. Spens of Chicago, executive vice-president of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad, J. W. Baldwin, president of the Missouri Pacific lines, and J. S. Pyeatt, president of the Denver and Rio Grande Western.

EXECUTIVES TESTIFY

All of the railroad executives said that construction of the Western Pacific line into the heart of the San Joaquin Valley, as contemplated in the $8,500,000 program, would materially increase the freight traffic of their lines.

It was the declaration of the witnesses that their lines cannot hope to get any additional business from this section because of the present dominance of the field by the Southern Pacific and Santa Fe lines, Pyeatt said, adding that unless the Denver and Rio Grande gets such additional business it cannot hope to remain solvent.

The influence of the Southern Pacific over the shippers of this section is such that it has restrained the shippers from requesting part of their business be routed over lines other than those affiliated with the Southern Pacific, Spens testified in response to a question by Southern Pacific attorneys as to whether it would not be possible for his line to get some of the business now originating in this area.

GENERAL ADVANTAGE

The gist of the testimony of all three of the executives was that the extension of the Western Pacific lines would be a good thing for the shippers and the community in that it would tend to stimulate competition, provide speedier service to certain parts of the country of fruit shipments and aid in the development of the area served by the new line.

Countering this testimony, attorneys for the Southern Pacific and Santa Fe lines called as witnesses a large group of shippers and business men of various communities through which the proposed line would pass, who testified that the additional railway line is not needed. They included R. L. Hagan of the California Cattlemen's Association; C. E. Capps, president of the First National Bank of Salida; B. F. Waymire, Turlock shipper; B. H. Nelson of Fresno; J. J. Lushbaugh, Dinuba grower and shipper; Charles Tourel, Ripon merchant; T. E. Wilson, Ceres merchant; H. K. Hullis, Merced shipper, and C. E. Stites, Modesto truck operator. It was agreed by stipulation that thirteen other witnesses, including shippers, merchants and truck operators, would give similar testimony.

Examiner Davis refused to allow in evidence a protest signed by more than 100 ranchers of the Del Rey-Parlier district of Fresno county, who objected to the extension of the line on the ground that it would cut up a large number of small farms and create additional grade-crossing hazards.

Davis said that if the hearing is not concluded on Wednesday it will be continued later in Washington, D. C.

Boy Found Dead From Rifle Shot

STRATHMORE, Jan. 14.—Howard Kellerals, 15 years of age, freshman in Porterville Union High School, was found dead in the bedroom of the family home on a ranch near here last night when his father and older brother returned home from church. Apparently the lad had accidentally shot himself as he cleaned his 30-30 rifle of which he was said to have been very fond.

His father, a rancher of this section for some years and the brother could give no cause for suicide on the part of the youth. The body is now at Webb's undertaking parlors in Lindsay, where an inquest will be conducted tomorrow morning by Coroner J. M. Hadley of Tulare county. The lad's mother died a few months ago.

Eighty-one Tried on Rum Charge

CHICAGO, Jan. 14. (AP)—Headed by their village president, Gus Bohlander, eighty-one residents of Melrose Park went on trial in Federal court today on charge of conspiracy to violate the prohibition law.

The charges resulted from seizure of more than 100 stills and hundreds of thousands of gallons of alcohol in the Chicago suburb.

SEARCH STARTED FOR ARIZONA PROSPECTOR

GLOBE (Ariz.) Jan. 14. (AP)—An extensive search for Marion J. (Back) Sawyers, 55-year-old prospector who has been missing from his mining claim located in the Aravaipa-Klondyke district, sixty-five miles east of here, was instituted today by the missing man's brother. The brother, Oliver Sawyers, who has procured the services of prospectors and trappers to assist in the search, said that nothing has been heard from his brother since Thanksgiving Day.

AMERICAN WOUNDED IN NICARAGUA

National Guard Clashes With Strong Bandit Band and Two are Killed

MANAGUA (Nicaragua) Jan. 14. (AP)—Lieut. William H. Smith, an American medical officer, received two slight wounds during the clash last week between a patrol of the Guardia Nacional and a band of outlaws in the vicinity of San Juan de Telpaneca in the Province of Nueva Segovia near the Honduran border.

The first comprehensive account of the engagement, which was the most severe in many months, was received here today. Two members of the guardia were killed and three were severely wounded. The fight occurred in a thick jungle so that neither the size of the outlaw group nor their casualties could be definitely determined. It was believed, however, that they numbered at least 100 and that several of them were killed.

The patrol was under command of Lieut. Chester A. Davis of the Guardia Nacional. He was formerly a captain in the Regular Army of the United States and during the World War held the rank of lieutenant-colonel. He resigned several years ago and about twelve months ago enlisted in the Marine Corps. He was later commissioned a lieutenant in the Guardia Nacional.

The outlaws were armed with a machine gun and bombs. Lieut. Smith suffered a slight bullet wound and was also struck on the side of the head by a bomb, although the wound is not serious. The patrol buried its dead and transported its wounded on the backs of mules to Apali, where there is a landing field. The wounded were brought from there by airplane.

Mystery Man Dislikes Bath

VISALIA, Jan. 14.—Ervita Cundo, 26 years of age, mystery man arrested in seed bins of the Porterville Cotton gin a few nights since on suspicion of being the "shadow prowler" and clubman who for some weeks has terrorized residents of that section, likes his comfortable bed in the Tulare County Jail and his hot meals, but oh, how he does hate having a bath.

Cundo's hair and beard were tangled into dirty mats and his clothing was indescribably filthy when arrested. Even so, he had no wish to be cleaned up and it required several attaches at the jail here to administer the scrubbing he so much needed. Sundo was brought over on a vagrancy charge. He is being watched for symptoms of insanity, his conduct and appearance all indicating a person not just right mentally. Jail attaches who had to act as his nurse maid, are convinced that their salaries ought to be raised.

Anthony Funds Plans Dropped

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14. (AP)—Dissolution of the Susan B. Anthony Foundation, Inc., was announced here today by Mrs. Mary Allen Adams, president, who declared "that after fifteen years' work collecting funds for a proposed memorial there was no money in the treasury and nothing but outstanding debts."

She said the board of directors have become convinced that no memorial to commemorate the woman suffrage pioneer ever will be built in Washington.

Navy Dirigible Arrives Home

NISQUALLY INDIANS SUE FOR MILLIONS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14. (AP)—The Nisqually Indians of Southwest Washington are demanding $8,200,000 from the United States because, the Nisquallies contend, their white brothers usurped lands, fishing and other benefits guaranteed to them in the covenant of December 26, 1854. A claim for this amount has been filed in the United States Court of Claims by Stuart H. Elliott of Tacoma, and Ralph H. Case of Washington, D. C., attorneys for the tribe, which numbers about 300.

INDIANAPOLIS CRASH FATAL TO FOUR MEN

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 14. (AP)—Four men, all of Indianapolis, were killed tonight when their automobile was struck by a freight train at the speedway crossing, near the Indianapolis motor speedway. The men killed were L. F. Poland, driver of the car; John Q. Mullen, Charles Meyer and Frank Glenn Ryker.

COMMUNITY HALL PLANNED

ARMONA, Jan. 14.—At the meeting of the Armona Chamber of Commerce this evening, steps were taken for the building of a community hall to be occupied jointly by that organization and the Armona Woman's Club.

PHILLIPS HEAD OF RIVER BODY

Colorado Commission Names Arizona Governor

PHOENIX, Jan. 14. (AP)—Gov. Phillips was elected chairman of the newly constituted Arizona Colorado River Commission at the first meeting of the commission held today in the executive offices.

Most of the session was devoted to a discussion of the section of the Governor's prepared message to the Legislature relating to the river question. The commission recessed, to meet again at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning after the Governor delivers his message to the Legislature.

The personnel of the commission includes Gov. Phillips, Clifton Matthews of Globe, Dwight B. Heard of Phoenix, Thomas Maddock of Phoenix, A. H. Favour of Jerome, A. M. Crawford of Clarkdale, M. F. Murphy of Globe and Mulford Winsor of Yuma.

TABERNACLE OPENED

HANFORD, Jan. 14.—A four-month evangelical campaign was opened last night in the Seventh Day Adventist Tabernacle erected at Eighth and Phillips street at a cost of $7500 and seating 1400 persons. H. M. S. Richards, D.D., of Washington, D. C., spoke on "Heaven."

Bay City Widow Wins New Trial in Tax Decision

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 14. (AP)—Laura Pratt Kelley, wife of Henry A. Pratt, who died in 1920 in Fresno, leaving an estate valued at $780,000, was granted a new trial today by the United States Circuit Court of Appeals in a suit involving payment of $19,860 inheritance tax.

Mrs. Kelley in 1921 paid $20,835 and additional taxes of which there remains no record. She later applied for a refund on the ground that only half of the property was taxable, she owning the other half. The government thereupon refunded $19,860.

Later there was a decision that estates should be taxed to the full amount, disregarding claims of community property. The government then brought suit in equity for a lien upon the property. The United States District Court in Los Angeles decided in favor of the government.

The Circuit Court today reversed the Los Angeles court's decision and ordered a new trial on the ground that the government had adequate remedy at law and should not have sued in equity.

OVERTURNED CAR KILLS TWO

STOCKTON, Jan. 14. (AP)—Silas S. Spyres, Modesto farmer, and Samuel Hodge, Turlock orchard worker, were killed today near Tracy when Spyres's car skidded and turned over several times.

AERONAUTICAL PRIZE AWARDED

Commerce Department Men Given Collier Trophy

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14. (Exclusive)—The special committee appointed by Senator Hiram Bingham, president of the National Aeronautical Association, to award the Collier trophy for the year 1928 today made the award "to the aeronautics branch, Department of Commerce, for its outstanding achievement in the development of commercial aviation in America, in 1928."

The trophy is awarded annually to the person or organization whose outstanding contribution to aeronautics has been demonstrated over the period of a year.

The committee's award was accompanied by the following statement:

"The growth of commercial aviation in the United States has been amazing during the past year. America now leads the world in the use of aircraft for commercial purposes. The committee feels that the efficient, unselfish, untiring efforts of the entire personnel of the aeronautics branch, Department of Commerce, has contributed more to this advancement of American aeronautics than any other one thing."

Doctor's Report Wins Delay of Trial for Fall

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14. (AP)—Although Dist.-Atty. Rover had sought to have the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia set this as the day of beginning the trial of former Secretary Fall for conspiracy, he announced today that the government had abandoned the plan and would seek to have the trial set late in April or early in May.

A physician's report showed that Fall would not be able to stand the Washington climate during the winter. Rover said he would confer with Owen J. Roberts, special counsel for the government, with a view to filing the motion for later trial.

Argentine Envoy Rumored Chosen

BUENOS AIRES, Jan. 14. (AP)—Frederico Alvarez de Toledo, Ambassador to France, was regarded today as the likely choice for Ambassador to Washington to succeed Manuel Malbran, resigned.

Senor Alvarez will go to the United States to represent President Irigoyen at the inauguration of Herbert Hoover and probably will remain.

WHY

HIGH COMPRESSION

THE greatest strides in automobile motor development have come through high compression. The modern 91.5 inch racing motor which has developed more than 280 horse-power and a speed greater than 164 miles per hour is only one-half the size of the old Model T Ford, which was capable of developing only 25 horse-power. High compression has done it!

Two years ago only 1%, a year ago less than 21%, while today more than 56% of American automobile manufacturers are producing high compression motors! Compression ratios are constantly increasing because with high compression there is less fuel consumption—greater power—greater speed and acceleration, with generally reduced operating costs.

High Compression motors were not commercially practical however, until a fuel was developed that would function where ordinary gasolines failed. This fuel is Ethyl Gasoline, developed and proved after many years research and the expenditure of thousands of dollars. Blended with the finest gasolines by 42 of the largest and best known oil companies in the world, it is the only genuine anti-knock fuel for high compression motors.

Because Ethyl Gasoline is dyed to distinguish it from ordinary gasolines, hundreds of imitators have produced dyed or so-called anti-knock gasolines whose chief merit is their many claims. Ethyl Gasoline is the only genuine, anti-knock, high compression fuel; and can be obtained only from authorized distributors of Ethyl Brand of anti-knock compound.

GUGGENHEIM IN GIFT TO CHILE

Fund of $480,000 Given for Development of Aviation There

NEW YORK, Jan. 14. (AP)—Daniel Guggenheim tonight announced he has made a personal gift of $480,000 to the government of Chile for the development of aviation in that country.

No plans have been made for the use of the money, Mr. Guggenheim said.

"Probably a school of aviation similar to the one at New York University will be established," he added, "but I cannot say anything definite as regards the plans for spending the money at this time."

BURKE SHIES AT INQUIRY ON CHARGES

Indian Commissioner Says He Has No Evidence That Pine Heads Conspiracy

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14. (AP)—Charles H. Burke, Commissioner of Indian Affairs, before the Senate Indian Affairs Committee testified under questioning today that he had "no direct evidence" to support his charge that Senator Pine, Republican, Oklahoma, is "conspiring to destroy him and the Indian service."

Burke last week had told the committee that the Senator, together with B. M. Parmenter, assistant Attorney-General; Charles B. Selby, special assistant Attorney-General in Oklahoma, and John Collier, secretary of the American Indian Defense Society, had fostered the asserted conspiracy. He was asked today to appear before the committee to prove the charge.

Under questioning by Senator Wheeler of Montana, a Democratic member of the committee, Burke, however, said he had no direct evidence on the conspiracy nor did he have any direct evidence to show that Senator Pine, who is a Republican on the committee, had sought his indictment by an Oklahoma grand jury.

Wheeler then asked Burke if he had made the charge in order to get publicity in the newspapers.

The Indian Commissioner replied that he was "very much incensed by the testimony of Selby" and "if there was to be publicity I wanted it all to go together."

Selby had told the committee which has been investigating Burke's administration of the funds of Jackson Barnett, a wealthy Creek Indian, that he believed he had evidence on which Burke could be indicted for fraud in connection with the case.

ARIZONA'S LEGISLATIVE MILL HUMS

Both Houses Organized, Officers Selected and Committees Named

PHOENIX, Jan. 14. (AP)—Shortly after the ninth regular session of the Arizona Legislature opened at noon today Senator Hill of Greenlee county was elected president of the Senate and Michael J. Hannon, also of Greenlee, was named as speaker of the House.

Naming of a president of the Senate and Speaker of the House, followed by election and appointment of other officers and committees to serve during the present session took up most of the first day's session. Only one other matter received consideration. This was passage by the House of House Joint Resolution No. 1, a memorial on the death of Representative Perkins of Flagstaff, who died the 6th inst.

Gov. Phillips will read his message before a joint session of the two legislative bodies tomorrow morning, it was announced before the Legislature adjourned this afternoon.

Former Senator Jones of Mesa was elected chaplain of the Senate, William J. Graham of Phoenix was named chief clerk of the Senate and Ralph Hooker of Yavapai sergeant-at-arms.

In the House Mrs. Lallah Ruth of Payson was chosen as chief clerk, Rev. C. M. Burkhart as chaplain and B. O. Whiteside as sergeant-at-arms.

SPRINKLER PRESIDENT DIES

NEW YORK, Jan. 14. (AP)—William G. Allen, president of the Independent Aetna Sprinkler Company of New York and the Automatic Sprinkler Company of Canada, died today in his suite at the Hotel Plaza. He was 56 years of age.

AIR RADIO CHAIN SYSTEM URGED

Plane Communication Faces Chaotic Condition

Line Operators Agree to Co-operative Plan

Low-Powered Transmitters Proposed by Experts

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14. (AP)—Operators of air transport lines today agreed that a chain of aeronautical radio stations should be established upon a "co-operative basis" to maintain communication with planes in the air and handle other matters not provided through regular government aids.

The move on the part of air line operators, made after a day of conferences, is expected to unscramble the problems of radio communication with airplanes, which experts testified was headed toward the same chaotic state experienced by the broadcasting industry.

CHAOS FEARED

Speaking of the day, considered not far distant, when thousands of airplanes will be kept in constant communication with their ground bases by radio, Capt. F. C. Hingsburg of the Department of Commerce pictured the chaotic state that might develop if each operator were permitted to develop his own system of communication and allotted a separate radio channel.

"There are sixty-four flying fields near Los Angeles," Capt. Hingsburg said. "If each of these fields is to be the base for an air transportation company, it is easy to visualize the confusion which might develop if each was permitted to operate its own station."

After agreeing to establish a nation-wide network of aeronautical radio stations, the conference appointed a technical subcommittee to confer with Federal radio authorities and to recommend the provision of specific bands for aeronautical radio and the reallocation of interfering bands in the coastal regions.

CHAIN PLAN URGED

The radio experts representing the air-transport companies recommended that all radio communication with airplanes be carried on with lower-powered transmitters closely spaced. It agreed that frequencies to be allocated to air-transport companies should be allocated to the various chains rather than to individual companies, with the reservation of adjacent bands for later chains which may parallel those immediately projected.

Herbert Hoover, Jr., son of the President-elect, acting in his newly acquired post as radio communications expert for Western Air Express, was appointed a member of the committee composed of Thorpe Hiscock of Boeing Air Transport, Paul Goldsborough, Universal Aviation Corporation; H. C. Lenteritz, Pan-American Airways; E. H. Proctor, National Air Transport, and H. J. Walls of the Department of Commerce.

ACTION DUE IN DIVORCE OF BISHOPS

Daughter of George Gould Expected in Reno Today for Final Decree

RENO (Nev.) Jan. 14. (Exclusive) Gloria Gould Bishop was expected to arrive here tomorrow for final action in the divorce suit she filed last August against Henry A. Bishop Jr., scion of one of Connecticut's proudest families.

It is believed the mother will be awarded custody of the daughter, in the event Gloria gets her decree—which she asked for on the grounds, it was said, of extreme cruelty. The beautiful dancing daughter of George Jay Gould mixes a frank love of the joys of Broadway with a deep attachment for her child. When the baby came, a little more than three years ago she said:

"I am through with society. All that is froth. No woman enjoys life to the full, until she has known the joys of motherhood."

Before she betook herself to Reno, Mrs. Bishop remarked:

"If ever my home is wrecked, it will be because of my love for my baby."

Gloria at 17 years of age, became the bride of Bishop, son of Henry Alfred Bishop, New England railroad executive and director of a dozen industrial corporations.

Chauffeur Left Riches in Will

BOSTON, Jan. 14. (Exclusive)—Under the will of Lora Littlefield of Brookline, filed in the Norfolk Probate Court of Dedham, the sum of $100,000 is left to Maurice J. Mahan, her chauffeur and his wife. Mahan is named executor of the estate.

G. Ruggles Smith, a Boston attorney, representing a relative of the woman, Alfred J. Perkins, will contest the will, it was revealed today when handwriting experts scrutinized the signature on record at Dedham.

Capt. Smith May Go to Honolulu

HONOLULU, Jan. 14. (AP)—Plans were announced today for the organization of Hawaii Airways, Ltd., with the services of Capt. Lowell Smith, commander of the Army's 1924 'round the world flight, requested as operating manager.

Capt. Smith announced late today that if those forming the company meet certain minor conditions that he has made he will obtain a year's leave of absence from the Army to develop the new concern.

The company plans a daily round-trip service from Honolulu to the islands of Maui, Hawaii and Kauai.

DUKE WILL AIDS CHARITIES

More Than $1,000,000 Left in Philanthropies as Daughter Gets Bulk of Estate

NEW YORK, Jan. 14. (AP)—Benjamin N. Duke, retired tobacco manufacturer and philanthropist, who died the 8th inst., left more than $1,000,000 to charitable organizations, most of which are in North Carolina, his native State.

The bulk of the estate, the value of which once was estimated at from $50,000,000 to $200,000,000, goes to Mrs. A. J. Drexel Biddle, Jr., of New York, a daughter.

WIDOW GETS HOMES

The Angier B. Duke Memorial, Inc., at Durham, N. C., an educational corporation founded in memory of the capitalist's son who drowned in 1923, receives $580,000, while $565,000 is divided among southern religious and charitable organizations, chiefly Methodist institutions. Mr. Duke and his father and brother are credited with having given $90,000,000 in philanthropies during their lifetime.

Mrs. Sarah P. Duke of New York, the widow, receives the life use of two homes, one on Fifth avenue here and another at Durham. After her death the property goes to Mrs. Biddle. Duke said in his will that his wife's bequest was no larger because of the "ample manner" in which he had provided for her previously.

The document provided for the disinheritance of any beneficiary who attempted to break the will, and reversion of that person's bequest to the Angier B. Duke Memorial.

OTHER BEQUESTS

Trust funds of $100,000 each are established for two grandsons, Angier B. Duke, Jr., and Anthony Newton Duke, both of Old Westbury, L. I. William R. Perkins, a friend, of Upper Montclair, N. J., is named executor and bequeathed $30,000. Anthony J. Drexel Biddle, Jr., of New York, Mr. Duke's son-in-law, is a coexecutor and the legatee of $20,000.

Some relatives receive bequests ranging from $5000 to $10,000 and bequests to charity range from $5000 to $100,000.

Among the larger charitable bequests are $100,000 to the Methodist Orphanage at Raleigh, N. C.; $50,000 to the North Carolina College for Negroes at Durham, and $50,000 to the Board of Foreign Missions of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, Nashville, Tenn.

Mexico City Has School Shortage

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 14. (Exclusive)—The primary schools of Mexico City are insufficient to accommodate all pupils this year. As a result 40,000 children face the possibility of no schools, says El Universal Grafico today.

The number of children of school age has increased remarkably since last January. This problem has been laid before the government by the educational authorities with a view to obtaining a remedy before the pupils register for the ensuing year on the 25th inst.

RITES CONDUCTED FOR PIONEER OF LAKESIDE

GUERNSEY, Jan. 14.—Funeral was conducted today at Hanford from the People's chapel for Mrs. Ellen Augusta Harper, a covered-wagon pioneer, and old resident of the Lakeside section. Many relatives and old residents attended the services at which Rev. R. E. Nunn officiated. Deceased came to California in 1859 from Iowa.

FRESNO, Jan. 14.—Byron Russell Potter, 25 years of age, of Shafter, was killed when his automobile struck a tree.

PORTLAND MEN LOSE APPEAL COURT PLEA

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 14. (AP) The petition of Emory Olmstead, former president of the Northwestern National Bank of Portland, Or., and John E. Wheeler, former publisher of the defunct Portland Telegram, or a rehearing of their case in which they were convicted of misapplication of $700,000 of the bank's funds, was denied here today by the United States Circuit Court of Appeals.

CREAMERY MANAGER RESIGNS HIS POSITION

HANFORD, Jan. 14.—R. E. Brooks has resigned as manager of the Kings County Creamery Association at Lemoore, to accept a position as manager of the Dairymen's Protective Association at Los Angeles. Brooks is also a director of the local Chamber of Commerce and of the Raisin Belt Kennel Club.

TOKIO, Jan. 14. (AP)—The Central Meteorological Observatory recorded an earthquake of three hours' duration at 7 p.m. last night, believed to be in Kamchatka Peninsula, Siberia.

Slimness Roils Vegetable Men

CHICAGO, Jan. 14. (AP)—The publicized theory of theatrical producers that the ideal feminine figure should have a boyish slimness has done "almost irreparable harm" to certain branches of the fruit and vegetable industry, E. S. Briggs, manager of the American Fruit and Vegetable Shippers' Association, declared at the annual convention today.

He referred particularly to producers of potatoes, rice and other starchy foods.

Since the "boyish figure" idea has been picked up from professional exploiters of feminine pulchritude the "potato and rice market has been glutted, due to the fact that everyone avoided starchy foods in the interest of slenderness," Briggs said.

HIGH COURT UPHOLDS WATER BOND ISSUE

PHOENIX, Jan. 14. (AP)—The va- ed by the citizens of Tempe for ad- lidity of a bond issue of $40,000 vot- ditional water supply facilities was upheld today in an opinion handed down by the Supreme Court in the case of C. L. Walmsley against the Council.

Avoid Accidents at night

Below: The car turning right crashed into a stalled truck parked without lights. The driver of the car suffered a broken shoulder, arm and jaw. His wife, riding with him, was badly cut about the face. Damage in money amounted to about $350.

RECORDS SHOW that you are facing the greatest danger of accidents when driving at night.

The records show, also, that better lighting would prevent many of the accidents which occur after dark. The reason is that ordinary headlights do not fully protect you ... no matter how carefully you drive. When you round a curve or corner, they shoot off into space, leaving you temporarily helpless in the dark.

Remedy Found

But now this danger can be largely corrected by a new scientific safety lamp called Pilot-Ray.

Pilot-Ray automatically turns with the wheels of your car (actually faster than the wheels do) and thus permits you to see around the blackest corner. You always know exactly where you are going ... you drive with confidence, and you and your family are really protected.

Drive Faster without Fear of Accidents

"Nerve strain is lessened, too," according to motorists already using Pilot-Ray. "And," they add, "you can drive at least ten miles an hour faster, yet with more security than before."

More Light Straight Ahead

On the straightaways Pilot-Ray gives you more light directly on the road. This enables you to avoid broken glass, nails, boulders, etc. Such illumination reduces the number of sudden stops you make, thus saving tires and brake lining.

Cuts Fog

In fog, also, you see the advantage of Pilot-Ray. Set lower than your headlights, it casts a beam along the ground where fog is thinnest and there is less reflected glare.

See Your Car Dealer

There is only one Pilot-Ray. No other lamp operates on this safety principle. No other lamp guards your life so faithfully.

All responsible automobile dealers recommend Pilot-Ray and guarantee it forever against all defects in materials and workmanship.

If you are buying a new car, you can include the price of Pilot-Ray in your contract. Or you can have your dealer install it on your present car. Pilot-Ray's brilliant chromium finish adds beauty to any automobile.

Tune in on the Pilot-Ray Public Safety Period, KHJ every Friday 9:30 to 10:00 P.M.

The Modern Light for Night

Once you have driven with Pilot-Ray, we believe you will never consent to go back to the old unsafe way of night driving.

See your dealer today about securing a Pilot-Ray, or send this coupon for prices and further information.

FORD AUTO MELON IN PROSPECT

Canadian Company May Split Stock and Make Substantial Donation

NEW YORK, Jan. 14. (Exclusive) Directors of the Ford Motor Company of Canada, Ltd., at their next meeting are expected to recommend a recapitalization plan to stockholders whereby 100 shares of new stock of $5 par value will be given as a stock dividend in exchange for each of the present shares of $100 par value common oustanding. The meeting is expected to be called in the near future.

The Ford Motor Company of Canada, Ltd., is capitalized at $10,000,000 of $100 par value stock of which $7,000,000 is outstanding. The proposed plan of recapitalization would increase the outstanding shares from 70,000 to 7,000,000. Cash dividends have been paid regularly while the following stock dividends have been declared: 500 per cent in 1911; 33 1-3 in 1912 and one of 600 per cent in 1916.

Ford of Canada shares have been exceptionally active on the curb and other securities markets during the last fortnight. The price of this issue advanced from 585 on December 24, 1928, to a high of 818 on the 7th inst., a gain of 237 points. Associated with this activity is the report that Henry Ford has made overtures to some of the substantial holders of Ford of Canada stock to acquire their shares at a price substantially above the market.

WESTINGHOUSE
SERVES EVERYWHERE

Men who put "mountain air" in basements and tunnels, theatres, mines, stores and factories

Think of the hours you spend in windowless places, places walled in from fresh, life-giving air. Every time you are in a subway or tunnel, a department store basement, a theatre or an inside office—you breathe and live only because pure air is propelled continuously into those places.

The genius of ventilating engineers has achieved the miracle that puts fresh "mountain air" where otherwise you would suffer from the want of it.

In the ventilating field, as in every other branch of industrial activity, Westinghouse serves with electric motors and control to fit all requirements of electric drive.

Grain Futures Renew Move to Higher Levels

CHICAGO, Jan. 14. (Exclusive)—Grain prices were again on the upgrade, with wheat selling at a new high on the present movement. All deliveries of corn and oats were in new ground for the season. While the markets were called upon to absorb heavy offerings, wheat finished with net gains of ¼@½c, with March at 1.19½@1.19⅝ and May at 1.22⅞. Corn was ⅞@1c higher, with March at 95⅝ and May 98¾@98⅞, the latter touching 99⅛ early. Oats were ⅛@⅜c higher, March being 50⅝ and May 50⅝, while rye was ⅛@⅝c lower, the close on March being 1.05 and May 1.07½.

Strength in foreign markets and apprehension of damage to the new winter wheat crop were instrumental in advancing the price of that grain. Liverpool made a full response to the strength in America on Saturday and closed 2⅛@2½d higher, while Buenos Aires was ½@1⅛c higher, May in the latter market closing at 1.15. Rosario was up 1⅛@1¼c. Winnipeg, however, was inclined to be easy and finished unchanged, with a lack of foreign demand a factor. The Orient refused to follow the upturn in futures and there was no interest at the seaboard.

Freezing and thawing weather in the Southwest is increasing apprehension regarding the outcome of the new winter wheat crop, and in parts of Nebraska there is a demand for durum wheat to reseed fields regarded as having been winter-killed. Selling of wheat against purchases of corn by local professionals had some effect in checking the advance, and there was a change in sentiment in some quarters. Open interest in May wheat at the close on Saturday was down to 94,976,000 bushels, a decrease of 17,300,000 bushels since the 3rd inst., suggesting heavy short covering. Visible supply decreased 3,543,000 bushels for the week and is 134,348,000 bushels, against 82,102,000 bushels last year.

Sentiment in corn is becoming more bullish and there was persistent commission-house buying which swept opposition aside, and the advance was easily attained. Selling was largely in the way of profit-taking. Drought continues over a wide area in Argentina, and while showers were reported in the province of Buenos Aires, private cables indicated that all prospects of a big crop were gone and the yield probably would not exceed last year's even with favorable weather. The country sold 152,000 bushels to arrive, and outside markets also made liberal purchases. Exporters were after corn at the Gulf, with sales by Omaha interests at ½c better basis than on Saturday.

Argentina corn markets showed a strong undertone, with Buenos Aires May ½c higher at the last at 86½, and Rosario was 84⅞, a gain of 1c. Domestic visible supply increased 1,329,000 bushels for the week, and is 20,182,000 bushels, against 28,570,000 bushels last year. Open interest in May corn here is about 48,000,000 bushels, a gain of 2,700,000 since the 9th inst.

New investment buying was in evidence in oats, and with the strength in corn, prices were kept on the upgrade, although the day's range was only ⅜@⅝c. Rye was firmer early with wheat, but the market eased toward the last, with the finish at the low point. Nothing was heard regarding export business.

Liberal buying of lard, attributed to eastern interests, combined with fair activity on that side by shorts, absorbed offerings by packers, who were hedging, and held the market steady throughout the day, with the close on futures unchanged for all except May, which was the most active and closed 5c higher. At the same time there were good realizing sales by holders of May clear bellies, which, like ribs, were unchanged in price. Trade in all was fair, with cash demand made.

METAL MARKET

CLEVELAND, Jan. 14. (Exclusive)—Daily Metal Trade today says: The pig iron market in the East continues to reflect a strong condition as far as consumption is concerned. Shipments on contracts are heavy and indications point to continued heavy melt. Current buying for the most part is confined to small lots.

Steel wire and nail makers in the Pittsburgh district entered the new year with large bookings received on fourth quarter contracts and the mills in a number of cases will be able to run at a high rate throughout January, although a decline in specifications is expected.

Because of the lull in specifications resulting from the holidays and inventory period, several sheet producers in Ohio have been able to catch up on deliveries.

The American Brass Company is said to have reduced pipe prices. Copper is quiet at 16.75c, Connecticut; zinc is steady at 6.35c and lead 6.50c, East St. Louis, and tin 49.12½, New York.

AN OBLIGING BEAUTY DOCT

A Beauty Specialist Gives
Recipe to Darken Gray

Mrs. M. D. Gillespie, a well-known beauty specialist of Kansas City, recently gave out the following statement regarding gray hair:

"Anyone can prepare a simple home that will darken gray hair and make it glossy. To a half water add 1 ounce of bay rum, a box of Barbo Compound and of glycerine.

These ingredients can be at any drug store at very little. Apply to the hair twice a week the desired shade is obtained will make a gray-haired person twenty years younger. It color the scalp, is not sticky and will not rub off."—(Adv

UNION-ETHYL

Now in Third Year ... offer

New Advanced Spark Power*

A High Compression Triumph that every motorist can take advantage

AFTER more than two years experience in "service testing" Union-Ethyl, the real anti-knock fuel built up for high compression, the Union Oil Company now announces New Advanced Spark Power.

Breaks Three World's Records

It was this multiplied power that enabled Brock and Schlee with Union-Ethyl to break American Record for sustained flight in an aeroplane without refueling.

It was this power that enabled Dick Loynes to break the International Speedboat Championship record in limited 151 hydroplane class.

It was Union-Ethyl Advanced Spark Power that enabled Holt to set a new world's non-stop tractor record.

To you—NOW—New Advanced Spark Power means Peak Performance from your motor car. It means that you will obtain—for the first time—maximum mileage.

A folder describing this new attainment can be secured from any Union dealer. Ask for one today.

Six Other Pioneering Feats of the Union Oil Company

1. Built the first refinery in the West.
2. Designed the first oil burning locomotive.
3. Constructed the first pipe line to tide water.
4. Commissioned the first tanker ever used on the Pacific.
5. Discovered the method of securing oil from below the 2,000 foot level.
6. Brought in four of California's greatest oil fields—Santa Fe Springs—Richfield—Dominguez—Rosecrans.

Local Broker Buys Seat on Chicago Mart

C. Jerome Cable, partner in the brokerage house of Wilcox Drake & Co., has purchased a seat on the Chicago Board of Trade, it was announced yesterday.

This Los Angeles house is now a member of the New York Stock Exchange, Los Angeles and San Francisco Stock and Curb exchanges, Chicago Stock Exchange and associate member of the New York Curb, in addition to the membership just acquired.

Frank J. O'Connor, for several years with the Bank of Italy bond department, is now associated with Wilcox Drake & Co. Before joining the Bank of Italy he was identified with banks in the Twin Cities. He will be stationed at the Hollywood office, which is expected to be opened shortly. The company maintains an office in San Francisco besides its head office in Los Angeles.

California Bank Adjunct Meets

All directors of the California Group Corporation were re-elected at the annual stockholders' meeting held yesterday. The only new member elected to the board was C. C De Pledge, recently elected vice-president of the California Bank.

Immediately following the stockholders' meeting, the directors elected the following officers for the ensuing year: A. E. Huntington, president; Lewis E. Bliss, J. B. Chaffey and G. L. Alexander, vice-presidents; B. E. Brownell, secretary; T. E. Ivey, Jr., treasurer, and T. K. Duke and R. D. Meineke, assistant secretaries.

Borg-Warner Rights Pend

CHICAGO, Jan. 14. (Exclusive)—Directors of Borg-Warner Corporation announced today that stockholders of record on the 24th inst. will be offered rights to subscribe for additional stock in the corporation in ratio of one share for each ten shares now held at $100 per share. Rights to subscribe will expire February 11, next.

Funds thus obtained will be used in the purchase of the Long Manufacturing Company of Detroit, one of the oldest and largest producers of automobile clutches and radiators, which was acquired by the Borg-Warner Corporation early this month.

CLARK GETS SEAT ON DOUGLAS BANK BOARD

DOUGLAS (Ariz.) Jan. 14. (Exclusive)—Harry A. Clark, general manager of the Calumet and Arizona Mining Company, has been elected a director of the First National Bank of Douglas. At the head of the organization since 1908 has been B. A. Packard, who still is active in management. E. W. Graves is vice-president, A. B. Packard, cashier, and E. E. Friday, assistant cashier. The last-named succeeds M. L. Hartley, who has been transferred to the staff of the Phoenix Savings Bank and Trust Company in Phoenix. J. H. White, who has been cashier and manager of the Douglas branch of the Arizona Southwest Bank of Tucson, has resigned to become connected with a southwestern air-transport corporation.

EAGLE AIRCRAFT TO MAKE RADIAL MOTOR

American Eagle Aircraft Corporation, Kansas City, Mo., has completed development of a new six-cylinder radial airplane motor of 110 horsepower and production is scheduled to start on or shortly after February 1, next, at the company's new plant at Fairfax Airport, Kansas City, Kan., according to an announcement yesterday. The production of this motor places the company in a position of manufacturing every part that goes into the construction of a plane with the exception of instrumental panels and landing gear. Orders on hand now total 1500 motors.

TRADING COST CUT ON LONDON MARKET

LONDON, Jan. 14. (Exclusive)—The Daily Express states that substantial reductions have been sanctioned by the London Stock Exchange in the cost of purchasing and selling of certain dollar securities. The paper adds that the British buyer in New York pays commissions each time he deals, as against only one commission on opening and closing transactions made over two accounts on the London Stock Exchange and that therefore it is now cheaper to deal in [illegible] through London.

FUEL OIL CUT UNIMPORTANT

Drop in Posted Price of 15 Cents Reflects Market Level of Long Standing; Heavy Stocks on Coast

BY EARLE E. CROWE

Refining companies are not greatly affected by the reduction announced by the Standard Oil Company of California of 15 cents a barrel in the price of fuel oil, effective today. The effect is actually negligible, although at first thought it would seem that this announcement adds still further to the troubles the refiners are having at this time.

Under the new schedule outlined by the Standard Oil Company, the posted price is 85 cents a barrel at San Pedro and 89 cents a barrel at San Francisco. While it is true that these prices are 15 cents a barrel under the previous quotations in effect at both points, fuel oil in practice has not been selling at the posted price for some time. The new posted prices are merely an adjustment to bring these quotations more in line with actual market conditions.

MARKET PRICES LOWER

Contracts and sales at Los Angeles Harbor have ranged from 70 cents upward even though the posted price has stood at $1 a barrel. Apparently then, the new schedule will not even disturb contracts specifying delivery at the market price, for it appears that the market is more likely to range below 85 cents a barrel than above.

Probably the chief effect of the reduction in posted price will be found in the value at which fuel oil inventories are carried. Those companies carrying inventories at the posted price will be forced to take a loss, while those adjusting inventory to changes in market prices will not have to worry.

Refining companies depend heavily on the sale of fuel oil to harvest a profit from each barrel of crude oil passing through the refinery. For several years, however, the fuel oil returns have not been of much assistance. Storage has increased steadily, prices have been unsatisfactory, and cracking of fuel oil to manufacture gasoline has not yet expanded very much in this State. Gasoline, as a result, has carried more than its share of the possible revenue from the refining of crude oil.

Unsatisfactory fuel oil conditions have prevailed for so long that it is clear that the new change in the posted price is only formal recognition of market prices. The oil companies, by shutting in the production of heavy crude oil, have done what they could to prevent the backing up of fuel oil in storage. The demand for light oil, containing more gasoline and less fuel grades, consequently has increased more than the normal rate.

HEAVY OIL SHUT IN

Approximately 100,000 barrels daily of crude oil production are shut in in this State, but still the amount of this kind of oil in storage grows. Pacific Coast stocks of heavy oil are now approximately 100,000,000 barrels, an increase of about 7,000,000 barrels in the twelve months of 1928.

The story of the rise in stocks of heavy oil tells the story of the decline in fuel prices. At the end of 1924, stocks were approximately 57,250,000 barrels, and the posted price for fuel oil at San Pedro was $1.40 a barrel. Two months later, in March, 1925, the recent high of $1.60 a barrel was reached. But from then on the price dropped step by step, settling at $1 in November of the same year. At the end of the year, stocks of heavy oil amounted to 82,800,000 barrels, a gain of more than 25,500,000 barrels in twelve months.

More than 5,900,000 barrels were added to storage in 1925, raising the total to 88,700,000. And the next twelve months brought the total up to 93,000,000, but the posted price for fuel oil remained unchanged at $1 a barrel. The current reduction to 85 cents is the first change in more than three years, during which stocks of heavy oil increased nearly 18,000,000 barrels.

REYNOLDS TOBACCO EARNINGS TURN UP

NEW YORK, Jan. 14. (Exclusive) Net earnings of R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company for the year ended December 31, last, after all charges, amounted to $30,172,563, it was announced today. Young Broker Buys Another Trading Seat

J. Chester Cuppia, newest member of the New York Stock Exchange and reputed to be one of the most successful of the younger brokers, is now a member of eight stock and commodity markets.

Besides the New York Stock Exchange, he holds a seat on the New York Cotton Exchange, Dallas and Memphis exchanges, New York Curb, National Metal, National Silk and National Rubber exchanges. The last three he helped to organize.

He started as a clerk on the cotton exchange in 1907 and after forming his own company in 1916, bought in quick succession his seat on that market and the Dallas and Memphis exchanges. Two years ago his company was acquired by E. A. Pierce & Co., and he continued as their representative on the New York Curb Exchange.

New Directors on Aero Board

Directors of the Maximum Safety Airplane Company announced yesterday the election of three new members to the directorate. They are Clifford R. Horne, formerly of Elliott Horne Company; Charles I. Starrett, lately with the Republic Iron and Steel Company, and R. Best, former manager of the Best Clymer Company of St. Louis. Other members of the board are Glenn E. Pollard, Frank W. Royer and Fred L. Bronson.

Mr. Bronson, president of the company, announced that all the capital stock has been subscribed and orders are booked for three months of factory production. Delivery on orders for two and four-passenger planes will commence in the coming week, and production will be speeded to the point of making a ten-ship delivery within the next month, he stated.

December Data on Cotton Out

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14. (AP)—The Census Bureau announced today that cotton consumed during December totalled 534,352 bales of lint and 68,569 bales of linters in November and 538,786 bales of lint and 53,758 bales of linters in December last year.

Exports totalled 1,058,013 bales, not including linters, which numbered 30,240 bales, compared with 1,427,699 bales and 23,806 of linters last November, and 744,640 bales of lint and 22,574 of linters in December a year ago. Cotton spindles active during December numbered 30,622,172, compared with 30,596,840 in November last year, and 31,622,276 in December a year ago.

Security Branch Head Appointed

Appointment of John W. Snyder to the post of manager of the Arlington Heights branch, Security Trust and Savings Bank, succeeding Guy E. Bowerman, Jr., who has resigned to become assistant manager of the local office of the Hibernia Securities Company of New Orleans, was announced yesterday by Herbert H. Smock, vice-president and cashier of the Security.

Mr. Bowerman has been with the Security Bank for the past eight years, the last four of which he has been manager of the Arlington Heights unit. Since 1923 Mr. Snyder has been associated with the Santa Barbara and Vermont-avenue branch.

Sound Pictures Granted Permits

Two sound picture corporations are among the latest list of concerns which have received financing permits from Corporation Commissioner Friedlander.

They are Metropolitan Sound Studios, Inc., with an authorized capital of 15,000 shares, par value $100 each, and Telefilm Pictures Corporation, capital 1000 shares of no par value. Charles H., Al E., and Ann Christie, William B. and Pauline E. Holman are officers of the first-named company and W. T. Lackey, Ralph M. Like and Ward Wing of the Telefilm Company.

FURNITURE CONCERN REORGANIZATION TOLD

Reorganization of the Pasadena Furniture Company is announced with granting of a permit to a new corporation, Pasadena Furniture Company, Ltd., by Corporation Commissioner Friedlander. The new company has an authorized capital of 30,000 no par value shares. Assets of the old company are to be acquired through an exchange of stock. The permit authorizes the issuance of 24,000 shares. William F. Roberts, Joseph C. Pyle, C. J. Hall, Monroe M. Cohen and A. B. Slack are the officers of the new company.

STOCK MART VETERAN TO QUIT GAME

L. F. Parsons to Withdraw from Active Participation in Company Management

L. F. Parsons, one of the oldest brokers in Los Angeles and a member of the Los Angeles Stock Exchange for many years, announced yesterday his decision to withdraw largely from active business. Control of the brokerage company of Newberger, Parsons & Co., in which he was a partner, recently was sold to Messrs. Ingoldsby and Giles, who have assumed active management.

Mr. Parsons will remain as a director of the new company, and retains his membership on the stock exchange. He plans to continue his connection with the exchange, having been a member of the board of governors and chairman of the floor for a number of years.

His semiactive connection with the new company, Mr. Parsons said, will give him an opportunity to take a long-deferred rest, and at the same time keep in touch with the markets and with the stock exchange organization, with which he has been closely identified for about twenty years. Around April 1, next, he will leave on a trip around the world.

For seven or eight years after coming to Los Angeles, Mr. Parsons was a member of the stock exchange staff, serving as secretary, general manager, and also doing the calling on the floor. He instituted the clearinghouse for the exchange, and was also its manager. He left the exchange about fourteen years ago to go into business for himself, and a few years later formed a connection with Aronson & Co. About a year ago Mr. Parsons and George Newberger bought control of this company, forming the new partnership of Newberger, Parsons & Co.

Tone Steady on London Market

LONDON, Jan. 14. (Exclusive)—The stock market had generally quiet tone today, there being a good supply of buying orders over the week-end. The industrial group moved irregularly with talking machine issues in supply. Tobaccos were firm and artificial silk and textile issues steady. There was a better demand for Ford Motors, Ltd., which sold at £3 31-32. The oils had an easier tone, while the mining group was quiet, with Mond Nickel lower. Rubbers were in demand, due to the higher quotations for the commodity.

The gilt-edge division had a steady tone. Foreign issues well supported. Home rails had a buoyant tone and Argentine rails were in good demand.

Net Income of Celotex Higher

CHICAGO, Jan. 14. (Exclusive) Net earnings of the Celotex Company available for dividends for the year ended October 31, last, after all charges were $1,380,622, as compared with $817,058 for the previous year, an increase of nearly 70 per cent, B. H. Dahlberg, president, announced today in his statement to stockholders.

Earnings are equal to $8.55 per share on the 154,635 shares of common stock outstanding as compared with $3.31 a share on the 154,313 outstanding in the corresponding period last year. Net sales for the year were $8,979,858, against $8,239,123 for 1927, an increase of approximately 9 per cent.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, Jan. 14. (AP)—The cotton market was somewhat more active today with prices advancing 20 to 26 points during the earlier trading on covering and trade buying, accompanied by a moderate commission house demand. The volume of business tapered off at the advance, however, and trading was comparatively quiet during the middle of the afternoon with prices showing reactions of 10 or 12 points under southern selling and realizing.

MORGAN CHOICE SURPRISES

Selection as Representative at German Reparations Conference Unexpected in Finance Field

BY JOHN F. SINCLAIR

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—J. P. Morgan, head of the famous banking house bearing his name, and Owen D. Young, chairman of the General Electric Company, have been selected as the two American representatives of the forthcoming conference in Paris which will undertake to work out a definite solution of the German reparations problem, it is unofficially reported.

At the same time, Thomas Nelson Perkins, Boston lawyer and financier, who for two years was a member of the Reparations Commission, is expected to be selected as the alternate for either of the distinguished American representatives.

While the Young appointment is expected, that of J. P. Morgan, if confirmed, will come as a distinct surprise to the banking and business world.

To have the head of the powerful Morgan house in the post of technical adviser to the Reparations Commission will mean several things. It will mean that Parker Gilbert's suggestion for the commercializing of a definite reparations amount, at the earliest possible moment, is being seriously considered.

It will mean that the largest American banking interests are preparing for the final reparation settlement with Germany, in the not too distant future.

It also will mean that a very large German bond issue will be sold to American investors at the "proper" time.

John Pierpont Morgan, a modest, quiet man, 61 years of age, Harvard graduate of forty years ago, entered his father's banking business in 1889. He is the third generation of Morgan, probably the most powerful banking partnership in the world. A partnership in the Morgan firm—there are now nineteen Morgan partners—is one of the most-prized positions in the business world. For even the youngest partner secures a compensation generally supposed to allow him to enter the millionaire class in twelve months. Few, even in Wall street, realize the amazing extent of the financial power of this house, for its banking and business interests are world wide in their scope.

Mr. Morgan is chairman of the board of the United States Steel Corporation, director of the International Mercantile Marine Company, the Pullman Company, and many others. He has received honorary degrees from universities here and abroad, and has been decorated by the governments of France, Belgium and England.

Adverse to personal publicity, attempting at all times to keep himself in the background of affairs, many of the Morgan partners are better known to the public at large than is Mr. Morgan. This appointment, if confirmed, will bring him before the public in a way which he never before experienced.

"Mat Sloan will do just what he says," a public utility executive said to me in discussing Mr. Cloan's sensational announcement that if the Public Service Commission of New York would eliminate the submetering concerns, he would promise the users of electricity in New York City the largest rate reduction ever made by a public utility company.

In a nutshell—the New York Edison Company, the United Electric Light and Power, and the Brooklyn Edison sell 566,000,000 kilowatt hours at an average rate of 3.6 cents per kilowatt hour, not to the people of New York direct, but to 10,154 master meters, which, in turn, sell to the people at an added cost.

These master meters add on 2.6 cents a kilowatt hour, according to Mr. Sloan, and their service makes the rate to the consumer average 6.2 cents a kilowatt hour.

"Cut out the middlemen," says this public utility executive, "and thousands of users of electricity will get better service for $14,000,000 a year less than they now pay."

"Then the electric rates in New York City are too high?" he was asked.

Mr. Sloan admitted on cross-examination that he was a director of the Bush Terminal Company, and that submeters were used on their premises at a profit to the Bush company of $150,000 a year. To him, the principle of the thing is wrong, and he wants it eliminated.

COOK REACHES NEW MILESTONE IN BANK

ASSISTANT TRUST OFFICER OF FIRST NATIONAL STARTS TWENTY-SECOND YEAR

George C. Cook, assistant trust officer of the Los Angeles-First National Trust and Savings Bank, today reaches his twenty-second year of continuous service with the bank.

Mr. Cook, who was born near Pittsburgh, attended the public schools of Leechburg, Pa., and the Vandergrift (Pa.) Commercial College. His first banking service was with the Vandergrift Savings and Trust Company, where he served as book-keeper and teller from 1903 to 1906.

The following year he came to California, and on January 15, 1907, entered the services of the First National Bank of Los Angeles, and was transferred to the Pacific-Southwest Bank on December 15, 1908. These two banks were consolidated on September 1, 1927, under the national charter of the First National as the Los Angeles-First National Bank.

Day's Trade Volume Set at 3,921,050 Shares

Advance in Call Rates Slows Bull Operations

NEW YORK, Jan. 14. (AP)—Prices again drifted in rather listless fashion on the stock market today, although a handful of issues were bid up vigorously on rumors of higher dividends, melon cutting, or split-ups.

Trading during the early hours of the session was impeded by the failure of wire systems west of Pittsburgh, but picked up somewhat as ticker service to western cities was restored, later. Total sales, however, aggregated but 3,921,050 shares.

CREDIT UNSETTLED

The credit outlook remained unsettled and blocked the way for ambitious bull operations. Call money renewed at 7 per cent, in contrast to Friday's 6 per cent renewal rate, and held at the rate all day, bearing out bankers' predictions that the marked January credit ease of recent years would not be repeated this year.

Time money held persistently at 7½ per cent for all maturities. This is the highest for the six-month maturity seen in mid-January in more than 20 years, save for 1920. The decline in sterling late last week, which revived hope of gold imports from London, was checked, which eliminated hope of immediate credit improvement from that quarter. Nothing developed to make an increase in the New York Federal Reserve rediscount rate less probable.

The day's business news was rather colorless. The Department of Commerce's report that American foreign trade in 1928 reached the highest level for any year save 1920 had been discounted marketwise several weeks ago. A further indication of the strength of the steel industry was the statement of the Otis Steel Company, showing the highest earnings in its history in 1928.

ALLIED CHEMICAL UP

Allied Chemical shot up 18 points to a new high price at 275 on rumors of a stock split up. Wright Aero was also carried up 18 points to a record price at 294, to the accompaniment of unconfirmed reports that a large melon would be cut through the granting of valuable rights, but fell back to 291 at the close. Curtiss Aero mounted more than 6 points.

Pennsylvania Railroad again broke into the highest ground since before the war, touching 80 3-8, up nearly 3 points. Wall street understands that the annual dividend rate will be raised from $3.50 to $4 at the next meeting. Canadian Pacific and Union Pacific also im-

An Age-Old Necessity—A Sound Investment

ELECTRIC lights have supplanted kerosene lights, the gas range has taken the place of the wood stove—but nothing has taken the place of water.

Water companies are little affected by business conditions and are not subject to radical changes in methods. Their assets are essentially permanent, their operating expenses and labor requirements are small. The market for their product is as stable as the community itself.

An investment in Federal Water Service Corporation Class "A" Common Stock represents an opportunity to share in the profits of the largest public utility company of its kind in the United States. The Corporation has no funded debt.

Local Broker Buys Seat on Chicago Mart

C. Jerome Cable, partner in the brokerage house of Wilcox Drake & Co., has purchased a seat on the Chicago Board of Trade, it was announced yesterday.

This Los Angeles house is now a member of the New York Stock Exchange, Los Angeles and San Francisco Stock and Curb exchanges, Chicago Stock Exchange and associate member of the New York Curb, in addition to the membership just acquired.

Frank J. O'Connor, for several years with the Bank of Italy bond department, is now associated with Wilcox Drake & Co. Before joining the Bank of Italy he was identified with banks in the Twin Cities. He will be stationed at the Hollywood office, which is expected to be opened shortly. The company maintains an office in San Francisco besides its head office in Los Angeles.

California Bank Adjunct Meets

All directors of the California Group Corporation were re-elected at the annual stockholders' meeting held yesterday. The only new member elected to the board was C. C De Pledge, recently elected vice-president of the California Bank.

Immediately following the stockholders' meeting, the directors elected the following officers for the ensuing year: A. E. Huntington, president; Lewis E. Bliss, J. B. Chaffey and G. L. Alexander, vice-presidents; B. E. Brownell, secretary; T. E. Ivey, Jr., treasurer, and T. K. Duke and R. D. Meineke, assistant secretaries.

Borg-Warner Rights Pend

CHICAGO, Jan. 14. (Exclusive)—Directors of Borg-Warner Corporation announced today that stockholders of record on the 24th inst. will be offered rights to subscribe for additional stock in the corporation in ratio of one share for each ten shares now held at $100 per share. Rights to subscribe will expire February 11, next.

Funds thus obtained will be used in the purchase of the Long Manufacturing Company of Detroit, one of the oldest and largest producers of automobile clutches and radiators, which was acquired by the Borg-Warner Corporation early this month.

CLARK GETS SEAT ON DOUGLAS BANK BOARD

DOUGLAS (Ariz.) Jan. 14. (Exclusive)—Harry A. Clark, general manager of the Calumet and Arizona Mining Company, has been elected a director of the First National Bank of Douglas. At the head of the organization since 1908 has been B. A. Packard, who still is active in management. E. W. Graves is vice-president, A. B. Packard, cashier, and E. E. Friday, assistant cashier. The last-named succeeds M. L. Hartley, who has been transferred to the staff of the Phoenix Savings Bank and Trust Company in Phoenix. J. H. White, who has been cashier and manager of the Douglas branch of the Arizona Southwest Bank of Tucson, has resigned to become connected with a southwestern air-transport corporation.

EAGLE AIRCRAFT TO MAKE RADIAL MOTOR

American Eagle Aircraft Corporation, Kansas City, Mo., has completed development of a new six-cylinder radial airplane motor of 110 horsepower and production is scheduled to start on or shortly after February 1, next, at the company's new plant at Fairfax Airport, Kansas City, Kan., according to an announcement yesterday. The production of this motor places the company in a position of manufacturing every part that goes into the construction of a plane with the exception of instrumental panels and landing gear. Orders on hand now total 1500 motors.

TRADING COST CUT ON LONDON MARKET

LONDON, Jan. 14. (Exclusive)—The Daily Express states that substantial reductions have been sanctioned by the London Stock Exchange in the cost of purchasing and selling of certain dollar securities. The paper adds that the British buyer in New York pays commissions each time he deals, as against only one commission on an opening and closing transaction made over two accounts on the London Stock Exchange and that therefore it is now cheaper to deal in some securities through London.

FUEL OIL CUT UNIMPORTANT

BY EARLE E. CROWE

Refining companies are not greatly affected by the reduction announced by the Standard Oil Company of California of 15 cents a barrel in the price of fuel oil, effective today. The effect is actually negligible, although at first thought it would seem that this announcement adds still further to the troubles the refiners are having at this time.

Under the new schedule outlined by the Standard Oil Company, the posted price is 85 cents a barrel at San Pedro and 89 cents a barrel at San Francisco. While it is true that these prices are 15 cents a barrel under the previous quotations in effect at both points, fuel oil in practice has not been selling at the posted price for some time. The new posted prices are merely an adjustment to bring these quotations more in line with actual market conditions.

MARKET PRICES LOWER

Contracts and sales at Los Angeles Harbor have ranged from 70 cents upward even though the posted price has stood at $1 a barrel. Apparently then, the new schedule will not even disturb contracts specifying delivery at the market price, for it appears that the market is more likely to range below 85 cents a barrel than above.

Probably the chief effect of the reduction in posted price will be found in the value at which fuel oil inventories are carried. Those companies carrying inventories at the posted price will be forced to take a loss, while those adjusting inventory to changes in market prices will not have to worry.

Refining companies depend heavily on the sale of fuel oil to harvest a profit from each barrel of crude oil passing through the refinery. For several years, however, the fuel oil returns have not been of much assistance. Storage has increased steadily, prices have been unsatisfactory, and cracking of fuel oil to manufacture gasoline has not yet expanded very much in this State. Gasoline, as a result, has carried more than its share of the possible revenue from the refining of crude oil.

Unsatisfactory fuel oil conditions have prevailed for so long that it is clear that the new change in the posted price is only formal recognition of market prices. The oil companies, by shutting in the production of heavy crude oil, have done what they could to prevent the backing up of fuel oil in storage. The demand for light oil, containing more gasoline and less fuel grades, consequently has increased more than the normal rate.

HEAVY OIL SHUT IN

Approximately 100,000 barrels daily of crude oil production are shut in in this State, but still the amount of this kind of oil in storage grows. Pacific Coast stocks of heavy oil are now approximately 100,000,000 barrels, an increase of about 7,000,000 barrels in the twelve months of 1928.

The story of the rise in stocks of heavy oil tells the story of the decline in fuel prices. At the end of 1924, stocks were approximately 57,250,000 barrels, and the posted price for fuel oil at San Pedro was $1.40 a barrel. Two months later, in March, 1925, the recent high of $1.60 a barrel was reached. But from then on the price dropped step by step, settling at $1 in November of the same year. At the end of the year, stocks of heavy oil amounted to 82,800,000 barrels, a gain of more than 25,500,000 barrels in twelve months.

More than 5,900,000 barrels were added to storage in 1925, raising the total to 88,700,000. And the next twelve months brought the total up to 93,000,000, but the posted price for fuel oil remained unchanged at $1 a barrel. The current reduction to 85 cents is the first change in more than three years, during which stocks of heavy oil increased nearly 18,000,000 barrels.

REYNOLDS TOBACCO EARNINGS TURN UP

NEW YORK, Jan. 14. (Exclusive) Net earnings of R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company for the year ended December 31, last, after all charges, amounted to $30,172,563, it was announced today. This is equal to $7.54 a share on the 4,000,000 common and common "B" shares outstanding, against $29,080,664, or $7.27 a share, in the same period a year ago.

Young Broker Buys Another Trading Seat

J. Chester Cuppia, newest member of the New York Stock Exchange and reputed to be one of the most successful of the younger brokers, is now a member of eight stock and commodity markets.

Besides the New York Stock Exchange, he holds a seat on the New York Cotton Exchange, Dallas and Memphis exchanges, New York Curb, National Metal, National Silk and National Rubber exchanges. The last three he helped to organize.

He started as a clerk on the cotton exchange in 1907 and after forming his own company in 1916, bought in quick succession his seat on that market and the Dallas and Memphis exchanges. Two years ago his company was acquired by E. A. Pierce & Co., and he continued as their representative on the New York Curb Exchange.

New Directors on Aero Board

Directors of the Maximum Safety Airplane Company announced yesterday the election of three new members to the directorate. They are Clifford R. Horne, formerly of Elliott Horne Company; Charles I. Starrett, lately with the Republic Iron and Steel Company, and R. Best, former manager of the Best Clymer Company of St. Louis. Other members of the board are Glenn E. Pollard, Frank W. Royer and Fred L. Bronson.

Mr. Bronson, president of the company, announced that all the capital stock has been subscribed and orders are booked for three months of factory production. Delivery on orders for two and four-passenger planes will commence in the coming week, and production will be speeded to the point of making a ten-ship delivery within the next month, he stated.

December Data on Cotton Out

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14. (AP)—The Census Bureau announced today that cotton consumed during December totalled 534,352 bales of lint and 68,569 bales of linters in November and 538,786 bales of lint and 53,758 bales of linters in December last year.

Exports totalled 1,055,013 bales, not including linters, which numbered 30,240 bales, compared with 1,427,699 bales and 23,806 of linters last November, and 744,640 bales of lint and 22,574 of linters in December a year ago. Cotton spindles active during December numbered 30,622,172, compared with 30,596,840 in November last year, and 31,622,276 in December a year ago.

Security Branch Head Appointed

Appointment of John W. Snyder to the post of manager of the Arlington Heights branch, Security Trust and Savings Bank, succeeding Guy E. Bowerman, Jr., who has resigned to become assistant manager of the local office of the Hibernia Securities Company of New Orleans, was announced yesterday by Herbert H. Smock, vice-president and cashier of the Security.

Mr. Bowerman has been with the Security Bank for the past eight years, the last four of which he has been manager of the Arlington Heights unit. Since 1923 Mr. Snyder has been associated with the Santa Barbara and Vermont-avenue branch.

Sound Pictures Granted Permits

Two sound picture corporations are among the latest list of concerns which have received financing permits from Corporation Commissioner Friedlander.

They are Metropolitan Sound Studios, Inc., with an authorized capital of 15,000 shares, par value $100 each, and Telefilm Pictures Corporation, capital 1000 shares of no par value. Charles H., Al E., and Ann Christie, William S. and Pauline E. Holman are officers of the first-named company and W. T. Lackey, Ralph M. Like and Ward Wing of the Telefilm Company.

FURNITURE CONCERN REORGANIZATION TOLD

Reorganization of the Pasadena Furniture Company is announced with granting of a permit to a new corporation, Pasadena Furniture Company, Ltd., by Corporation Commissioner Friedlander. The new company has an authorized capital of 30,000 no par value shares. Assets of the old company are to be acquired through an exchange of stock. The permit authorizes the issuance of 24,000 shares. William F. Roberts, Joseph C. Pyle, C. J. Hall, Maurice M. Cohen and A. B. Slack are the officers of the new company.

STOCK MART VETERAN TO QUIT GAME

L. F. Parsons to Withdraw from Active Participation in Company Management

L. F. Parsons, one of the oldest brokers in Los Angeles and a member of the Los Angeles Stock Exchange for many years, announced yesterday his decision to withdraw largely from active business. Control of the brokerage company of Newberger, Parsons & Co., in which he was a partner, recently was sold to Messrs. Ingoldsby and Giles, who have assumed active management.

Mr. Parsons will remain as a director of the new company, and retains his membership on the stock exchange. He plans to continue his connection with the exchange, having been a member of the board of governors and chairman of the floor for a number of years.

His semiactive connection with the new company, Mr. Parsons said, will give him an opportunity to take a long-deferred rest, and at the same time keep in touch with the markets and with the stock exchange organization, with which he has been closely identified for about twenty years. Around April 1, next, he will leave on a trip around the world.

For seven or eight years after coming to Los Angeles, Mr. Parsons was a member of the stock exchange staff, serving as secretary, general manager, and also doing the calling on the floor. He instituted the clearinghouse for the exchange, and was also its manager. He left the exchange about fourteen years ago to go into business for himself, and a few years later formed a connection with Aronson & Co. About a year ago Mr. Parsons and George Newberger bought control of this company, forming the new partnership of Newberger, Parsons & Co.

Tone Steady on London Market

LONDON, Jan. 14. (Exclusive)—The stock market had generally quiet tone today, there being a good supply of buying orders over the week-end. The industrial group moved irregularly with talking machine issues in supply. Tobaccos were firm and artificial silk and textile issues steady. There was a better demand for Ford Motors, Ltd., which sold at £3 31-32. The oils had an easier tone, while the mining group was quiet, with Mond Nickel lower. Rubbers were in demand, due to the higher quotations for the commodity.

The gilt-edge division had a steady tone. Foreign issues well supported. Home rails had a buoyant tone and Argentine rails were in good demand.

Net Income of Celotex Higher

CHICAGO, Jan. 14. (Exclusive) Net earnings of the Celotex Company available for dividends for the year ended October 31, last, after all charges were $1,380,622, as compared with $817,058 for the previous year, an increase of nearly 70 per cent, B. H. Dahlberg, president, announced today in his statement to stockholders.

Earnings are equal to $6.55 per share on the 154,635 shares of common stock outstanding as compared with $3.31 a share on the 154,313 outstanding in the corresponding period last year. Net sales for the year were $8,979,858, against $8,239,123 for 1927, an increase of approximately 9 per cent.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, Jan. 14. (AP)—The cotton market was somewhat more active today with prices advancing 20 to 26 points during the earlier trading on covering and trade buying, accompanied by a moderate commission house demand. The volume of business tapered off at the advance, however, and trading was comparatively quiet during the middle of the afternoon with prices showing reactions of 10 or 12 points under southern selling and realizing.

MORGAN CHOICE SURPRISES

Selection as Representative at German Reparations Conference Unexpected in Finance Field

BY JOHN F. SINCLAIR

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—J. P. Morgan, head of the famous banking house bearing his name, and Owen D. Young, chairman of the General Electric Company, have been selected as the two American representatives of the forthcoming conference in Paris which will undertake to work out a definite solution of the German reparations problem, it is unofficially reported

At the same time, Thomas Nelson Perkins, Boston lawyer and financier, who for two years was a member of the Reparations Commission, is expected to be selected as the alternate for either of the distinguished American representatives.

While the Young appointment is expected, that of J. P. Morgan, if confirmed, will come as a distinct surprise to the banking and business world.

To have the head of the powerful Morgan house in the post of technical adviser to the Reparations Commission will mean several things. It will mean that Parker Gilbert's suggestion for the commercializing of a definite reparations amount, at the earliest possible moment, is being seriously considered.

It will mean that the largest American banking interests are preparing for the final reparation settlement with Germany, in the not too distant future.

It also will mean that a very large German bond issue will be sold to American investors at the "proper" time.

John Pierpont Morgan, a modest, quiet man, 61 years of age, Harvard graduate of forty years ago, entered his father's banking business in 1889. He is the third generation of Morgan, probably the most powerful banking partnership in the world. A partnership in the Morgan firm—there are now nineteen Morgan partners—is one of the most-prized positions in the business world. For even the youngest partner secures a compensation generally supposed to allow him to enter the millionaire class in twelve months. Few, even in Wall street, realize the amazing extent of the financial power of this house, for its banking and business interests are world wide in their scope.

Mr. Morgan is chairman of the board of the United States Steel Corporation, director of the International Mercantile Marine Company, the Pullman Company, and many others. He has received honorary degrees from universities here and abroad, and has been decorated by the governments of France, Belgium and England.

Adverse to personal publicity, attempting at all times to keep himself in the background of affairs, many of the Morgan partners are better known to the public at large than is Mr. Morgan. This appointment, if confirmed, will bring him before the public in a way which he never before experienced.

"Mat Sloan will do just what he says," a public utility executive said to me in discussing Mr. Sloan's sensational announcement that if the Public Service Commission of New York would eliminate the submetering concerns, he would promise the users of electricity in New ◆York City the largest rate reduction ever made by a public utility company.

In a nutshell—the New York Edison Company, the United Electric Light and Power, and the Brooklyn Edison sell 566,000,000 kilowatt hours at an average rate of 3.6 cents per kilowatt hour, not to the people of New York direct, but to 10,154 master meters, which, in turn, sell to the people at an added cost.

These master meters add on 2.6 cents a kilowatt hour, according to Mr. Sloan, and their service makes the rate to the consumer average 6.2 cents a kilowatt hour.

"Cut out the middlemen," says this public utility executive, "and thousands of users of electricity will get better service for $14,000,000 a year less than they now pay."

"Then the electric rates in New York City are too high?" he was asked.

Mr. Sloan admitted on cross-examination that he was a director of the Bush Terminal Company, and that submeters were used on their premises at a profit to the Bush company of $150,000 a year. To him, the principle of the thing is wrong, and he wants it eliminated.

COOK REACHES NEW MILESTONE IN BANK

George C. Cook, assistant trust officer of the Los Angeles-First National Trust and Savings Bank, today reaches his twenty-second year of continuous service with the bank.

Mr. Cook, who was born near Pittsburgh, attended the public schools of Leechburg, Pa., and the Vandergrift (Pa.) Commercial College. His first banking service was with the Vandergrift Savings and Trust Company, where he served as book-keeper and teller from 1903 to 1906.

The following year he came to California, and on January 15, 1907, entered the services of the First National Bank of Los Angeles, and was transferred to the Pacific-Southwest Bank on December 15, 1908. These two banks were consolidated on September 1, 1927, under the national charter of the First National as the Los Angeles-First National Bank.

Advance in Call Rates Slows Bull Operations

NEW YORK, Jan. 14. (AP)—Prices again drifted in rather listless fashion on the stock market today, although a handful of issues were bid up vigorously on rumors of higher dividends, melon cutting, or split-ups.

Trading during the early hours of the session was impeded by the failure of wire systems west of Pittsburgh, but picked up somewhat as ticker service to western cities was restored, later. Total sales, however, aggregated but 3,921,050 shares.

CREDIT UNSETTLED

The credit outlook remained unsettled and blocked the way for ambitious bull operations. Call money renewed at 7 per cent, in contrast to Friday's 6 per cent renewal rate, and held at the rate all day, bearing out bankers' predictions that the marked January credit ease of recent years would not be repeated this year.

Time money held persistently at 7½ per cent for all maturities. This is the highest for the six-month maturity seen in mid-January in more than 20 years, save for 1920. The decline in sterling late last week, which revived hope of gold imports from London, was checked, which eliminated hope of immediate credit improvement from that quarter. Nothing developed to make an increase in the New York Federal Reserve rediscount rate less probable.

The day's business news was rather colorless. The Department of Commerce's report that American foreign trade in 1928 reached the highest level for any year save 1920 had been discounted marketwise several weeks ago. A further indication of the strength of the steel industry was the statement of the Otis Steel Company, showing the highest earnings in its history in 1928.

ALLIED CHEMICAL UP

Allied Chemical shot up 18 points to a new high price at 275 on rumors of a stock split up. Wright Aero was also carried up 18 points to a record price at 294, to the accompaniment of unconfirmed reports that a large melon would be cut through the granting of valuable rights, but fell back to 291 at the close. Curtiss Aero mounted more than 6 points.

Pennsylvania Railroad again broke into the highest ground since before the war, touching 80 3-8, up nearly 3 points. Wall street understands that the annual dividend rate will be raised from $3.50 to $4 at the next meeting. Canadian Pacific and Union Pacific also im-

Federal Water Service System

An Age-Old Necessity—A Sound Investment

ELECTRIC lights have supplanted kerosene lights, the gas range has taken the place of the wood stove—but nothing has taken the place of water.

Water companies are little affected by business conditions and are not subject to radical changes in methods. Their assets are essentially permanent, their operating expenses and labor requirements are small. The market for their product is as stable as the community itself.

An investment in Federal Water Service Corporation Class "A" Common Stock represents an opportunity to share in the profits of the largest public utility company of its kind in the United States. The Corporation has no funded debt.

SAN FRANCISCO

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 14. (AP)—Union Sugar and Fageol Motors were in the vanguard of issues traded in on the San Francisco Stock Exchange today.

The session as a whole was comparatively inactive, most sections of the list lacking the animation they displayed at the beginning of last week.

Bank stocks moved within narrow limits, industrials were mixed and the oils took on strength as the session continued, after a rather mild opening.

Kolster Radio started at 73¾, sagged to 73½, climbed to 74 and closed at 73¾, up ⅛. Magnavox ranged between the opening of 9⅝ and 9½, closing at 9⅝, off ⅛. Caterpillar declined from 78⅛ to 77, down ¼. The rights were in demand at 265.

Fageol Motors advanced from 6¼ to 6⅝, netting ⅜. Union Sugar opened at 22⅝, dipped to 22 and then soared to 26, easing to 25⅝, an advance of 3⅛.

Paraffine softened from 85½ to 85, and Crown Zellerbach from 24¼ to 24⅛, off ⅜. Clorox was off ¼ at 49. California Packing eased from 76 to 75½. Golden State Milk was up 1 at 57.

Standard Oil of California started at 68⅞, moved up to 69⅛ and closed at 69, up ⅛. Union Oil advanced from 48¾ to 49½, up ⅞, and Union Associates from 48 to 48⅞, up ⅞. Richfield Oil was firm at 43⅛. Fractional losses were witnessed in North American Oil at 37 and Honolulu Oil at 37⅞.

BAY CITY CURB

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 14. (AP)—Colorless trading held the curb exchange for another session today, as losses and gains were limited, few fluctuations being as much as 1 point.

Fokker Aircraft and Columbia Steel were in demand and were accumulated on fractionally rising prices. Heavy turnover marked the small oils, particularly Italo, which closed unchanged after slight variations in quotations. Occidental Pete was down 30 cents at 4.30, and Universal down 10 at 2.20 at the close.

LOS ANGELES EXCHANGE

Spectacular Advance of Pacific Finance Again Features Local Stock Trading

Pacific Finance Corporation, following a steady advance during the past week, continued a sensation as trading was resumed yesterday on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange. This issue shot up abruptly to another new peak at 106, a gain of 9¾ points which follows close on the heels of a 10-point rise Saturday. The close was at 105½. Speculation in the stock was intensified by the various rumors attaching to the directors' meeting to be held today when a stock dividend is expected.

The balance of the market, despite one or two soft spots, strengthened fractionally with an increased demand and a sharper gain in volume. Industrial and miscellaneous issues showed a marked improvement. Bank stocks were quiet, while oils were stronger for the most part, with the lower-priced issues lagging.

Rio Grande, leading the activity of the oil group, closed unchanged at 34. Union Oil and Union Associates advanced ½ and 1-4, respectively, to 49 1-4 and 48½. Standard of California rallied 5-8 to 69 1-8. Signal Oil lost 1-4 to 40 3-4 and Barnsdall held firm to 43 1-4. Richfield was unchanged at 45 1-4, while Pacific-Western improved fractionally to 22 3-8. Among the lower-priced issues, Bolsa Chica dumped 20 cents to 3.20, Occidental, 25 cents to 4.35 and Gilmore 7-8 point to 13 7-8. Holly Development lost 10 cents to 1.00.

Lincoln Mortgage, following a meteoric rise last week attributed to oil possibilities on land owned by the company at Lawndale, suffered from profit-taking and dropped 15 cents to 1.10. Piggly Wiggly Western States advanced 3-4 to 28 3-4. Transamerica Corporation sold down 1-4 to 131. Los Angeles-First National eased ½ to 122 1-4.

New stock of Emsco Derrick scored another new peak at 42 3-8 and closed at 42 for a net gain of 1 point. Trading in this issue set a brisk pace. Traders are interested in what dividend is to be declared on the new stock. Hydraulic Brake dropped 1½ points to 46, while Pacific Clay Products and Goodyear Textile each added a point to finish at 35½ and 99, respectively.

LOS ANGELES CURB

Speculative interest continued to center upon Gladding McBean as the week's trading was resumed yesterday on the Los Angeles Curb Exchange. Leading the volume of operations, the issued spurted 3 points to another all-time high at 95 and on subsequent realizing closed at 93.

A strengthening undertone crept in the trading of industrials, while the balance of the market showed no tendency to move one way or the other and the few changes recorded were of an irregular character. Claude Neon Electrical Products was second to Gladding McBean in activity and jumped up 2 points to a high and close at 64. Crystalite reacted 1½ points to 35½. Airplane stocks were fractionally stronger.

Mexican Seaboard, despite a small turnover, advanced 1 3-4 points to 55 3-4. Exeter Oil continued strong and added 10 cents to achieve a new top at 1.85. Bolsa Chica "B" dropped 10 cents to 3.05 and Bandini, 15 cents to 3.80.

RUBBER MARKET

NEW YORK, Jan. 14. (Exclusive)—Monday witnessed a considerable slump in the speculative activity which has featured the crude rubber market since Friday. While the opening was strong and buying orders appeared during the first hour in good volume prices began to decline around midday and activity fell off to comparative quietness in the afternoon session. Ten active deliveries on the close were 80 to 100 points lower and the day's volume amounted to 2999 contracts, or 7472½ long tons.

The decline in the outside market was limited to ⅛c, spot price closing at 20¼c. London, while opening ⅛d higher, turned weaker and closed on the decline ⅛d lower at 10⅛d.

ENID, OKLAHOMA, IN 1902

TWENTY-SIX YEARS OF CONSTRUCTIVE FINANCING

H. M. BYLLESBY AND COMPANY originated in 1902 for the purpose of supplying the engineering and financial requirements of electric, gas and other utilities.... From a small beginning, specializing entirely in utility properties, the organization grew rapidly, and in 1927 was a major participant in the underwriting and distribution of diversified securities exceeding 350 million dollars, including industrial, railroad, oil, bridge, utility and municipal financing.

Coincident with the growth of the firm an engineering and management organization was developed, which planned and constructed many large properties.... These activities compelled close-up contact with modern industrial institutions and required a large group of specialists whose investigations and analyses have unusual value.... We depend upon such authentic information in determining the merit of the securities which we underwrite and distribute, including those of soundly established industrial and public utility enterprises, railroads, highway bridges, oil companies and municipalities.......

NEW YORK BOND PRICES

NEW YORK, Jan. 14. (AP)—Prices held fairly steady on the bond market today and a few substantial gains were shown by rails and industrials without any important news developments nor changes in the credit situation to encourage buying. Total sales were $10,142,000.

Among the strong spots in the industrial group were sugar issues, notably Warner Sugar Refining 7s, which advanced nearly 3 points. Buying here probably was due to reports of improved earnings and general expectations of a brighter future now that the Cuban restrictions difficulty has been solved. Other industrials moving to higher levels included Crown Cork and Seal 6s, Kayser & Co. 5½s, International Cement 5s, United States Rubber 5s, which advanced in sympathy with the rise in rubber stock prices, and Abraham & Straus 5½s, Anaconda Copper 7s, Allis Chalmer 5s, Pathe Exchange 7s, Certainteed 5½s, General Motors acceptance 6s and most of the oils yielded to selling pressure.

Utilities were mixed, with International Telephone convertible 4½s and Public Service of New Jersey 4½s among the few issues to hold their gains, both closing up a point or more.

Rails were also mixed. Katy 5s A, Seaboard All-Florida 6s and International Great Northern first 5s B were bought at price levels a point or so higher and smaller gains were recorded by St. Paul 5s of 2000, Erie 5s and a few others.

Italian industrials again dominated the foreign list, Pirelli 7s advancing nearly 9 points to a new year's high at 148, and holding most of its gain.

United States government obligations were soft.

The quotations represent sales of bonds (in thousands of dollars) and the high, low and closing prices in the order given. To expedite transmission, the close is omitted when the same as the low, and both low and close when same as high.

The Finance Company
A Vital Factor in America

In this day and age practically everything is bought on time—thus accounting for the rapid rise of American Finance Companies. These institutions have become a vital factor in the prosperity of the United States and their stockholders have enjoyed exceptional profits with a high measure of dependability.

Financing the purchase of milk producing dairy cattle constitutes one of the most stable and profitable fields in the finance business as indicated by the unusual success enjoyed by the Seaboard Dairy Credit Corporation. Total volume of loans to date exceeds $12,000,000 with the exceptionally low rate of loss of less than 1-10 of 1%. We offer

SEABOARD DAIRY CREDIT CORPORATION
7% Cumulative Sinking Fund Preferred Stock
(With Common Stock Purchase Warrants)
Price $100 per Share and Dividends yielding 7%

The essential character of the business, together with the attractive stock purchase privilege, is fully explained in the circular which will be mailed to you on request below.

AGE ALONE IS NOT ENOUGH
---NOR IS SIZE

BUT the two together are a real combination, as shown by the success and prosperity of the Munson Steamship Line which is not only one of the oldest American steamship companies, but is also one of the largest.

And not only old and large, but still growing as indicated by the new MAIL CONTRACT with the United States Government, which was entered into on August 1, 1928 and will extend for 10 years. This contract alone is calculated to add more than $750,000 per annum to net earnings, or over 1¾ times annual interest charges on mortgage debt. This is in addition to consolidated net earnings for the year ended June 30, 1928 of over 2.8 times annual interest requirements on mortgage debt.

The Company operates regular lines between New York and ports in South America, Gulf of Mexico, Cuba, the Atlantic Seaboard, and the Pacific Seaboard by way of Panama Canal. For sound investment we suggest:

"The Market Outlook"

—a special report analyzing the trend of security prices, and advising what policy to follow now.

The sharp break of prices in December led many to believe that the end of the prolonged rise in security values had been reached. Yet, instead of continuing to decline, many stocks have since reached new highs. What should the investor look for now?

Are stocks at buying levels? What ones—specifically—are attractive?

Because of the complexities of the present situation we have prepared a report that everyone with capital for investment should read, before taking any action.

This report is concise and definite. It contains recommendations both as to a sound general plan and as to individual securities. Copies may be had free as long as the supply continues. Mail the coupon.

A Strong 7% Preferred Stock
Surrounded by Many Unusual
PROTECTIVE PROVISIONS

THE unusually strong investment position enjoyed by the 7% preferred stock of SEABOARD DAIRY CREDIT CORPORATION is shown by the fact that the Company has no funded debt; and that very strict protective provisions prohibit the payment of dividends on common stock, and the issuance of funded debt or other issues of stock except under certain conditions.

The essential character of the business, which consists of making secured loans on milk-producing dairy cattle, is another feature of strength. Total volume of loans to date exceeds $12,000,000, upon which the credit losses have been less than 1/10 of 1%. Net earnings for 1928 were more than 3½ times annual dividend requirements.

Stock purchase warrants entitle the holder to subscribe to common stock at rates ranging from $23.00 to $32.00 per share, affording an opportunity to share in future profits.

Motors improved somewhat on what appeared to be short covering. Studebaker broke into new high ground, and General Motors (old stock) sold about 3 points higher at one time.

American Sugar Refining sold up nearly 4 points to within striking distance of its 1928 high on reports that its 1928 earnings will run around $10 a share. Rubbers were again strong, U. S. selling up about 3 points. U. S. Steel was firm, but Bethlehem encountered realizing. Otis Elevator, International Telephone and American Type Founders made extreme gains of about 8 to 9 points.

National Bellas Hess slumped 15 points and Midland Steel Products preferred, 10. General Electric, Commonwealth Power and Reynolds Tobacco B fell back 2 or 3 points. Coppers were generally heavy.

The commodity markets were mostly firm. Cotton gained from 60 cents to more than $1 a bale. Corn improved on reports that the Argentine crop has been damaged by drought, and wheat was in better demand. Rubber encountered realizing.

Foreign exchanges were featured by the firming up of sterling, the demand rate rising 1-16 of a cent to $4.84 5-8. Japanese yen dropped 27 points to 45.13 cents.

Pathe Common

STRONG RUMORS are current that Pathe Exchange will absorb or be consolidated with some one or more important motion picture companies.

Since the era of the "Talkies" Pathe Exchange earnings have shown a marked increase, it is said.

It is possible that Pathe Common may repeat the phenomenal rise seen last year in Warner Bros. stock.

Company and Business: American Founders Corporation was organized under the laws of Maryland in 1928 as successor of American Founders Trust, a voluntary trust organized under the laws of Massachusetts in January, 1922. The Corporation is a management and holding organization which supplies investment supervision to four investment companies of the general management type: International Securities Corporation of America, Second International Securities Corporation, United States & British International Company, Ltd., and American & General Securities Corporation.

The Corporation has a general investment portfolio internationally diversified. The general investments, cash and call loans as of November 30, 1928, plus the cash to be received from the sale of 199,000 Common Shares, exceed $35,000,000. The Corporation also owns substantial blocks of the Class B Common shares of the four affiliated companies.

The combined resources of American Founders Corporation and the affiliated investment companies exceed $150,000,000.

Assets: As shown by the balance sheet at November 30, 1928, after giving effect to the issue and sale of 199,000 additional Common Shares, the resources of the Corporation will be $56,750,697.85. Taking the investment securities at market quotations November 30, 1928, these resources would be increased by $15,929,391.

Capitalization: The capitalization of the Corporation, as of November 30, 1928, after giving effect to the sale of 199,000 additional Common Shares, is as follows:

	Authorized	To Be Presently Outstanding
First Preferred ($50 par)	$30,000,000	$14,961,350
Second Preferred ($25 par)	$250,000	$142,575
Common (no par)	3,600,000 shares	1,794,932 shares

The Corporation may issue bonds or debentures maturing one year or more from the date thereof to an amount equal to the aggregate of the then paid-in capital, surplus and reserves, and may borrow money for temporary purposes to an amount equal to 25 per cent of its total assets from all sources.

Earnings: During the fiscal year ended November 30, 1928, Common Share dividends of 50 cents per share paid in cash were earned 3.66 times before Preferred Dividend Reserves. On the average number outstanding, $1.81 was earned per share before the reserves and $1.63 after reserves. The rate of net cash earnings after Preferred dividends on the average net Common Share paid-in capital and paid-in surplus was 27.96 per cent.

In addition to cash dividends paid, scrip totaling one thirty-fifth share was given, having a November 30 market value of $1.80. Rights were given per share during the year which if exercised were worth $2.70 at November 30 quotations. The holder of one Common Share, therefore, received during the year cash and rights worth $5. In addition, there was an increase of $9.11 per share in asset value through earnings and appreciation in value of investments at November 30 market quotations.

The outstanding Common Shares of the Corporation are listed on the Boston Stock Exchange

LOS ANGELES MARKET

CATTLE—Rather broad demand existed and a good clearance of yesterday's liberal supply was made; however, trading on the whole lacked snap. Around 1700 head had been weighed up to 2 o'clock. The run was largely steers, although she stock was fairly well represented. Steer prices ruled steady to 25c lower, most late sales showing the full decline. Other classes held fully steady, excepting bulls, some weakness developing on these during the late trading.

Two cars of good 1295-pound Southern California feedlot steers topped at 13.00, while two cars of good 1349-pound Central California steers scored 12.75. Four loads of good 1228 to 1353-pound California, Arizona and Idaho steers turned for 12.50. Two cars of 1112-pound Imperial Valley steers made 12.15, while the bulk of medium grade bullocks cashed from 11.10@11.75. Two loads of 789-pound Mexicans realized 9.85, while three loads of plain 638 and 814-pound Arizona Mexicans sold for 8.50 and 8.60. Other common steers were in light supply from 9.00@10.50.

A car of good 957-pound Utah heifers topped at 10.40, while three loads of lighter weight feedlot heifers sold for 10.00 and 10.25. Common and medium heifers went over from 8.00@9.50. Two cars of good 1102-pound Utah cows topped at 9.65, while odd head of cows sold higher. The bulk of medium and low good cows sold from 8.25@9.35, while common cows were numerous from 7.35@8.10. Cutters and low cutters cleared from 3.75@6.75 mostly, with a few at 7.00. A few good bulls went over from 8.85@9.25, with medium kind from 7.75@8.50, the latter price for a short load of 1322-pound Utahs. Thin bulls sold down to 7.00.

CALVES—Demand narrowed and trading was slow with the general market being quoted steady to 50c lower. Small lots of milk vealers went over from 14.00@15.00. A car of good 411-pound Arizona fed calves sold for 12.50, with 487-pound averages at 11.00. Other calf sales, mostly odd lots of plain and weighty kinds were noted from 9.00@12.00, including a part load of plain 483-pound Arizonas at 9.50. Two loads of calves, including a car of Imperials, were still unsold at a late hour.

HOGS—Active trading existed early at generally 25c lower prices; however, after the early spurt, trading slowed up and most sales and bids were 35@50c lower. Seven loads, two of which arrived late, were still unsold. Yesterday's top 11.00 was paid for a car of good 198-pound Nebraskas. The bulk of good 165 to 200-pound butchers sold from 10.75@10.95, while mixed offerings and the majority of 135 to 160-pound weights sold down to 10.50. A car of 122-pound pigs made 10.25. Small lots of mixed underweights and pigs sold down to 9.50. Packing sows went over largely from 7.50@8.00.

SHEEP—None. Medium to choice lambs were quoted from 11.50@13.50, with medium to choice wooled ewes from 5.50@7.50.

YESTERDAY'S QUOTATIONS

Notice to Bondholders

59 Issues Totaling $76,507,500 Called in 1928

BONDS amounting to $76,507,500, underwritten by S. W. STRAUS & CO., and representing 59 bond issues in whole or in part, were called during the year 1928 at premiums of $2,521,507.50, which represented profit to our customers in addition to the interest they received.

Many bonds on which interest has ceased are still outstanding, although notices have been duly published. Attention is therefore called to the following list, as interest ended on the call date of each issue. Bondholders are requested to present such bonds, with coupons attached, for redemption at once. The last column represents the total yield (interest plus premium) on bonds purchased on issuing date and held to call date.

NEW YORK CURB STOCKS

NEW YORK, Jan. 14. (AP)—Backing and filling movements characterized today's curb market which failed to make much headway in either direction. Final quotations disclosed widespread irregularity, reflecting continued uneasiness over the credit situation. Some of the recent liquidation is believed to have been inspired by the tightening of margin requirements by some of the large commission houses.

Revival of activity and strength in Standard Oil of Indiana was interpreted in some quarters as competitive buying in the battle for control of the company between the Stewart and the Rockefeller interests. The stock closed 2 points higher at 91½. Other oils were mixed, with a jump of more than 8 points in Vacuum to a new high at 123½ as the outstanding feature. Humble, Texon and Standard Oil of Ohio moved upward, but Gulf of Pennsylvania turned reactionary.

Active public utilities also moved in opposite direction, strength of American Super Power A, Buffalo, Niagara and Eastern, Engineers Public Service warrants and the Penn-Ohio Edison issues being offset by the heaviness of American and Foreign Power warrants, American Gas and Electric, Mohawk and Hudson issues and Northeastern Power.

A brisk demand for Universal Aviation, which advanced nearly 2 points to a new high at 24⅝, attracted widespread attention in the airplane group. This company recently obtained control of the Continental Airways in the Southwest, and is reported to be negotiating for other air mail, express and passenger lines. Fairchild gained about a point but Sikorsky fell back on realizing sales.

Trans Lux advanced more than a point to 11¾, doubling the low price of the year, on a heavy turnover. J. B. Penney & Co. soared 20 points to a new high at 400, but lost about a third of its gain. Bliss & Co., Todd Shipyard, United Biscuit and Western Auto Supply recorded substantial gains.

The closing price is omitted when same as the low, and both low and close when same as the high.

Applied Idealism
It is of importance to the user of appraisals that The American Appraisal Company is old, that it is the largest appraisal organization in the world, that it is international in scope. Of far greater importance, however, are the ideals of this organization, and the intelligence which has made it possible to adhere to those ideals in the valuation of property worth billions.

We pay our debt--- to the Realtor!
HERE'S A FINANCIAL INSTITUTION . . with old-fashioned ideals . . of paying debts . . and we owe our prosperity . . as does Los Angeles County . . to the Realtor . . whom ultra-selfish financial institutions . . now seek to departmentalize . . out of business.
WE WANT NO SUBSTITUTE FOR THE REALTOR . . nor can any financial department . . offer a corporate coldness . . to replace . . the warmth of personality . . the quickness of thought . . the spur of individual achievement . . and the unselfish service . . of the true Realtor . . as we KNOW him.
WHEN WE MAKE A LOAN . . your application may not come . . through a realtor . . but we check values . . through some public-serving realtor . . who wants income-making improvement . . in his neighborhood . . whether he gets commission or not . . and we've found . . that he tells the truth . . and knows his facts.
WITH NO LOSS RESULTS . . through 35 years . . this Mutual Building and Loan Association of POMONA . . advises its clientage . . holding State thrift records . . that they should know . . some Realtor . . with the same measure . . of trust and confidence . . that you know . . your family doctor . . your personal lawyer . . your golf-partner . . your pastor or your priest.
Your realtor knows . . too . . that the old-fashioned Mutual . . uses none of the 32 methods . . whereby side-line profits . . are sometimes used . . to shrink the borrower's dollar . . thus we keep the realtor's good will . . as we do our borrower's friendship.

BROKERAGE CONCERN IMPROVES SERVICE

Opening of a board room in the Stock Exchange Building providing continuous quotation service from the Los Angeles Stock and Curb exchanges was announced yesterday by Frank Benchley & Co. In addition a news service ticker has been installed for the convenience of customers. The general partners of the concern include Frank L. Benchley and Wallace P. Wagy.

BY C. D. WAIDE

Lawndale, California's newest oil field, continues the magnet of attention of oil men, with several companies announcing new drilling plans for the field. George F. Getty, Inc., controlling more than fifty locations in the field, announced yesterday this company will start drilling one well immediately and four more within ten days.

Drilling competition promises to be as keen at Lawndale as has been seen in any California field in recent years. Much of the drilling is being done on single lots, with adjoining wells on either side, so that the first well to the sand is likely to get much more oil than succeeding ones. Consequently the drill will be pushed to the limit of speed in every hole.

The Shell company, almost the last of the major companies to get in the field, took over seven locations yesterday and is preparing to drill two wells at once. These will be located at Dale street and Inglewood Boulevard and at Sixth street and Chicago avenue. The company took a five-acre lease northwest of Rosecrans avenue.

The Coast Line Oil Company announced plans yesterday for starting a well at once at Shirley avenue and Fifth street and the Plymouth Oil Company is starting a well at Lawn avenue and Sixth street. Dill & Comstock have announced plans for the immediate drilling of a well in the field.

The Standard Oil Company has spudded in its Vance No. 1 and the drill was down 363 feet yesterday afternoon. Before the end of this week a dozen new wells will be spudded in and it is almost certain that by the end of next week there will be thirty or more wells drilling in the field.

Ventura-Avenue Well

Production of 3500 barrels a day has been started in the Pacific Western Oil Company's Orton No. 13 at Ventura avenue, making it one of the best wells brought in recently in that field. The well is 6550 feet deep and the casing pressure is 1000 pounds and tubing pressure is 380 pounds per square inch.

The Pacific Western's Orton No. 11, which came in last week, has settled down to a steady flow of 2500 barrels of oil a day. The Orton No. 12 is down 6682 feet and due for a production test within a few days. The Orton No. 4 is down 7100 feet and it is planned to complete it soon.

The company has started work on the three locations on which it is going to drill at Lawndale, and expects to spud in all three wells this week.

Elwood Well Flow

Tests in the new Doty No. 2 of the Barnsdall-Rio Grande combination at Elwood, which was put on production late Saturday afternoon, show that the well is flowing at the rate of 4000 barrels a day, beaned down. Yesterday's twenty-four-hour test showed it made 3982 barrels. The initial flow, opened up, was at the rate of about 6000 barrels a day.

The well is making 1,300,000 cubic feet of gas a day, the tubing pressure is 265 pounds and the casing pressure 1060 pounds per square inch.

The equipment from the Doty No. 2 is being moved to the location for the Doty No. 3, which will be started at once.

The combination's newest well, the Luton-Bell No. 5, was down 3103 feet yesterday, within less than 200 feet of where the sand was picked up in the other producers in the field. The drillers are now coring for a landing place for the pipe. When this well is completed the equipment will be moved over to the location for the Luton-Bell No. 4.

Standard Well In

The Standard Oil Company's Walker No. 12 at Santa Fe Springs was completed yesterday and began producing at the rate of 4000 barrels a day with a cut of only 1.8 per cent. The well is down 5747 feet. The oil tests 35.2 deg. gravity.

The Standard has started work on the Mascot No. 1, a deep test being drilled near Taft on a lease held by the Mascot Oil Company, on Sec. 26, 32-23. The drill is now down 608 feet and going ahead.

The company's No. 81 at Kettleman Hills, which was started about ten days ago, was down 1555 feet yesterday.

Shell Wells Ready

The Shell Oil Company has three wells about ready for production tests at Signal Hill and one is being swabbed for a water test at Santa Fe Springs. The latter is the Slusher No. 12, down 5730 feet.

At Signal Hill the Alamitos No. 31 has been redrilled to 6327 feet, the Cresson No. 13 is down to 7350 feet and the Wilbur No. 6 is down to 6600 feet, and all will be tested within a few days.

Big Well Comes In

The Sovereign Oil Corporation completed one of the best wells of recent weeks at Signal Hill yesterday when it brought in its Beesemeyer No. 2 for a production of 4680 barrels a day. The oil is virtually clean and the well is making 3,000,000 cubic feet of gas a day that cuts two and six-tenths gallons of gasoline to the 1000 cubic feet. The well is 7813 feet deep.

Bolsa Chica Wells

The Bolsa Chica Oil Corporation's Mutual No. 4 at Signal Hill was down to 6210 feet yesterday and drilling ahead. It is drilling in the sand and the drillers expect to take about 400 feet more of the formation.

The corporation's Hartman No. 2 at Ventura avenue is down 7146 feet and reaming, preparatory to setting pipe.

Exeter Hits Sand

The Exeter Oil Company has picked up two strata of sand in its Ketuck No. 8, being drilled as a deep test in the heart of the Sespe field, in Ventura county. One zone was picked up at 1460 feet and another at 1535 feet. The well is being drilled ahead for a still deeper test.

New Plans for Colombian Oil Development On

NEW YORK, Jan. 14. (Exclusive) New agreements for the participation of American oil interests in the development of the oil industry of Colombia will be considered at a special meeting of the Colombian Legislature expected to be held in February, according to advices received in Wall street today from Colombia.

A contract is being worked out by Minister of Industries Montalvo and the Gulf Oil Corporation for the construction of a pipe line to serve some of the most prolific producing areas. A fifty-year contract for the development of between 750,000 and 1,000,000 acres of land which were held in the original Barco concession is being negotiated, it is understood. The Barco concession has been canceled.

According to reports received here, the Colombian government will receive a royalty interest of about 20 per cent and it is expected that some compensation will be made to the Barco heirs, who had a large royalty interest in the old Barco concession.

The Gulf Oil will hold a 75 per cent interest and the Carib Syndicate the remaining 25 per cent interest in the new concession.

Utility Offering on Mart Today

Offering of $4,000,000 Northern Texas Utilities Company first mortgage 7 per cent, sinking-fund gold bonds, due January, 1935, is scheduled for today by a syndicate composed of A. M. Lamport & Co. and Freeman, Smith & Camp. Proceeds of the issue will be used for redeeming the present outstanding funded indebtedness of the company and for other corporate purposes.

Dean Witter & Co., it is understood, will offer shortly 80,000 shares of Class A preference stock of the Consolidated Chemical Industries, Inc., carrying a participation provision. Proceeds of the issue will be used to finance a construction program.

RORS CONVICT LEACH OF FRAUD

Promoter Found Guilty After Long Deliberation

Twenty-six Counts in Note Indictment Upheld

Hurlburt Also Gets Adverse Verdict for His Role

Edwin A. Leach, Los Angeles promoter, late yesterday was convicted in Superior Judge Shaw's court of [illegible] counts of grand theft and violation of the Corporate Securities Act in connection with the sale of mortgage notes of the Pacific Southwest Loan and Mortgage Company.

Leach, together with Ernest P. Hurlburt, C. W. Chestnut, Frank [illegible], C. H. Walker and Clarence Birney, was tried on a total of thirty-five counts, including one of criminal conspiracy, twenty of grand theft and fourteen of violation of the Corporate Securities Act. The jury reported it had disagreed on the criminal conspiracy count and on one count of grand theft as relating to Hurlburt, who also was convicted on one count of grand theft. In all other instances the jury returned verdicts of acquittal.

REDISTRICT ORDINANCE GETS VOTE

Council Passes City Law Changing Lines as Fixed by Committee Report

The City Council yesterday adopted the ordinance defining the new boundaries of the Councilmanic districts as fixed in the redistricting report of its special committee on the subject which was approved by the Council several weeks ago. Adoption of the ordinance is merely the last formal step necessary to create the new districts.

The growth and shifting of the city's population in the last four years made necessary numerous changes in the old district lines to conform with the charter provision for making all districts as nearly as possible comprise the same voting strength. Based on the figures of the vote at the last Presidential election, the new Councilmanic districts will have a voting strength at the coming municipal election of approximately 28,000 votes each.

Among the changes made the most striking is the total elimination of the old Eleventh District, the territory which it now comprises being divided among the new Ninth, Tenth and Twelfth districts. A new Eleventh District has been created in the west coast region centering about Palms, Venice and Hyperion from parts of the old Third, Fifth and Sixth districts.

Two Children Hit by Auto in Front of Home

Two children playing at the curb in front of their home were struck yesterday by an automobile which swerved to avoid another machine. The children were Jimmie Esco, 3 years of age, and his sister, Viola, 5, of 1223 East Sixtieth street. A neighbor was turning into his driveway near by when a car moving behind him swerved out and struck the children, according to Deputy Sheriffs Palmer and Wierich of the Florence substation. H. J. Ludon of 4416 Lima street, the driver, was not held.

At Georgia-street Receiving Hospital it was found that Jimmie had a depressed fracture of the skull, while his sister was badly bruised. Chief Surgeon Wallace Dodge and Dr. John Edward Kirkpatrick operated to save the boy's life.

CHEMISTRY CLASS TO TREK

Burning of Old Laboratory Necessitates Early Use of New U.C.L.A. Building at Westwood

Early use of the chemistry building at the new Westwood site of the University of California at Los Angeles has been forced, it was announced yesterday, by the fire which ruined California Hall, at the Vermont-avenue campus, on the 3rd inst. Plans are being made to hold laboratory classes in the new chemistry building during the next semester, commencing in February.

Originally it had been planned to occupy this building only at the time of the general transfer to Westwood next fall. With the destruction of the chemical laboratories in California Hall, the university officials have been forced to the earlier use of the new building rather than to restore the old laboratories. Lectures, however, will resume at the present campus. During the remainder of the semester all classes will be lecture courses, some sections having been scattered by the fire as far afield as California Christian College.

Bus transportation, to be paid for by the individual students, will be provided, in all probability.

That the Westwood chemistry and physics buildings are ready to be recommended for turning over by the general contractor has been ascertained. The library and administration building and the auditorium and classroom building already have been accepted.

Work of salvaging the ruins of California Hall is now in progress, with co-eds aiding in the work of digging out valuable apparatus. Test tubes, retorts, Bunsen burners and other chemical apparatus have been removed from the charred building.

Contract Let for Demolishing Old City Hall

Under terms of a contract awarded yesterday by the Board of Public Works, the old City Hall on Broadway between Second and Third streets will be demolished within forty-five days at a cost to the city of $5000.

To prepare the way for the construction of the new Fourth-street viaduct, the board yeserday ordered the old Fourth-street bridge torn down. The new First-street and Seventh-street viaducts now are open for traffic. It is believed work on the new Fourth-street viaduct can be begun within the next three months.

BUYERS' LECTURE TONIGHT

Planned to interest buyers, assistant buyers and junior executives, a practical lecture on store services, credit and adjustment will be given this evening at University College, the downtown evening branch of the University of Southern California in the Transportation Building, Seventh and Los Angeles streets, at 7 o'clock. P. W. Stoddard, credit manager of J. W. Robinson Company, will give the talk.

SCHOOL UNIT BILL UNDER DISCUSSION

Arguments of Proponents and Opponents Heard at City Club Luncheon

Arguments for and against the proposed county school unit act, which will come up for a vote in the present Legislature, were presented at a luncheon at the City Club yesterday.

N. Bradford Trenham, representing the California Taxpayers' Association, pointed out the advantages that will accrue from the bill. He declared the multiplicity of small districts, each with its own governing board, buildings and unco-ordinated efforts toward education, has definitely retarded educational progress. The bill drafted by the educational commission of California Taxpayers' Association, employing the modified county unit system, he said, would consolidate the 3601 independent districts into about 164 large districts.

Some of the views of those opposing the measure were set forth by C. L. Broadwater, superintendent of schools at El Segundo and president of the Los Angeles County School Administrators' Association, and by F. L. Thurston, executive secretary of the southern section, California Teachers' Association.

William John Cooper State Superintendent of Public Instruction, discussed the bill briefly, pointing out its advantages and expressing the opinion that, on the whole, it is a good plan.

BELL PUSHES CEMENT PLAN

Backer of Rock Plant Project Discusses Issue With Opponents in Warm Forum Session

Alphonzo Bell, owner of a huge tract of land in the Santa Monica Mountains, and his associates in promoting a rock crusher and rock quarry in the Santa Ynez Canyon still believe he has the right idea idea about his cement project and intend to "go ahead with his enterprise" he told several hundred citizens at a meeting of the City Club forum last night.

The opposition to the cement enterprise as voiced by a score of property owners who gathered to hear the debate between the cement promoters and opponents to the scheme was characterized as "the bunk" by one of Mr. Bell's associates. The debate became animated and only the firm stand taken by Lew Head, forum chairman, prevented the debate from bordering on the acrimonious at times.

THREE IN DEBATE

Following the debate in which E. H. Brown, representing the residential property owners, and Bell and Wilkie Woodward, his chief engineer, spoke for thirty minutes each, the audience was invited to ask questions.

In his address Bell drew a word picture of the benefits that would accrue to the residential district by the presence of a noiseless, dustless rock quarry. He went into detail concerning the operations of a cement plant. He told how hundreds of thousands of tons of rock would be shaken loose from the mountains without a jar or jolt. He explained how tons of powder would be exploded without annoying resi-

MRS. BALDWIN IN BREAKDOWN

Ill Following Departure of Mlle. Lenglen

Statement Denies Rumor of Quarrel

Son Quits Home as Guests Go to Hotel

Mrs. Anita Baldwin, heiress to the "Lucky" Baldwin millions, was in a state of "complete collapse attended by her physicians" at her palatial Arcadia home last night, according to a statement by H. Dearborn, her secretary.

The statement was made without amplification as to cause when an interview was sought with the wealthy woman concerning a published report that Suzanne Lenglen, famous French tennis star, had left in a huff the Baldwin estate where she and her mother have been guests of Mrs. Baldwin and her son, Baldwin K. Baldwin, manager of the star, for a month.

GO TO HOTEL

Mlle. Lenglen herself denied the report of trouble but would give no explanation as to why she and her mother had left the Baldwin home and retired to the Biltmore.

"The statement that the Lenglens left the Baldwin home January 10 is correct," said an announcement at the Baldwin home late last night. "That there was a row, however, is incorrect, Mrs. Baldwin never quarrels with a guest."

Late yesterday both Mlle. Lenglen and Baldwin checked out of their places of residence and left for unannounced destinations without making any further statement to quiet the rumors of a rift with Mrs. Baldwin.

ROMANCE DENIED

From the Paris home of the Lenglens and from other places where Baldwin and the French star have been much in each other's company have come press reports from time to time of a romance between the two. Always, the rumors have been denied. When late last year it became known that the Lenglens and young Baldwin secretly came to America from France and journeyed to the Arcadia estate of the Baldwin family, where Mrs. Baldwin lives, Mrs. Baldwin issued a statement concerning the relations of her son and the sportswoman in which she pointed out that Baldwin still has a wife in Los Angeles from whom he never has been divorced and that talk of a matrimonial match between the two is idle.

It was asserted by representatives of the Baldwin family that the visit of the Lenglens to the Baldwin home was simply one of a number of visits made by nonresident friends of Mrs. Baldwin, who was entertaining during the holidays.

It was stated also that at conclusion of the visit Mlle. Lenglen and her mother would return to their Paris home.

The affair passed from public attention until it became known that on last Thursday both young Baldwin and the two French women had left Mrs. Baldwin's home.

Thaddeus A. Winter of Long Beach, divorced husband of young Baldwin's sister Dextra, called at the Biltmore for the Lenglens when they cecked out of the hotel.

Final Service Due Today for Col. Wheeler

Funeral services for Col. E. G. Wheeler, 79 years of age, a pioneer of the Nevada gold rush days, who died Sunday of a heart attack at his home, 501 North Normandie street, will be conducted at noon today at the Graham & Isbell mortuary chapel. The body will be cremated at the Los Angeles Crematory.

Col. Wheeler was known as a sportsman and yachtsman and traveled considerably. He owned extensive mining properties and several water companies in Nevada. He took part in the early gold rush and amassed a fortune. He had no near relatives.

SHERIFF SELLS DONOVAN'S HOME

JACK DONOVAN

MAE MURRAY.

The property, located at 136 Georgina street, Santa Monica, was sold in an execution sale to aid in satisfying a judgment of $32,500 obtained against Donovan and his mother, Mrs. Jeanette G. Donovan on July 17, 1928, by Mae Murray, motion-picture actress, following litigation over a home the actor sold her and which Miss Murray asserted was not what he had represented it to be.

The property sold yesterday was bid in by Attorney R. H. Purdue of the W. I. Gilbert law firm, attorneys for Miss Murray. It is not the house known as "The house that Jack built," which played such a prominent part in the litigation between the actor and actress. It is one that Donovan built for his own home about two years ago and is one of the show places in Santa Monica.

Before the sale of the property was begun by John O'Brien of the Sheriff's office, Attorney John Francis Maroney, representing Donovan and his mother, announced to prospective bidders that the judgment on which the execution had been taken and under which the sale was being made, is pending on an appeal in the Supreme Court of the State.

When the property was offered one bid was made, one for $2000, offered by Attorney Purdue. No others were made and the house was knocked down to him.

Donovan and his mother were present when the auction was held. They have one year in which to redeem the property.

SCREEN AND STAGE PAIR TAKE VOWS

W. N. Robson II, Scenarist, Marries Irene Kosinska, Dramatic Actress

A dramatic school romance had its culmination in Hollywood with the marriage of William N. Robson II, scenario writer, and Irene Kosinska, stage actress. The ceremony was performed Saturday evening but details of the wedding were not made known to their many friends until yesterday.

IRENE KOSINSKA.

The marriage was solemnized at the home of Mrs. Colin MacDonald, 6126 Glen Alder street, Hollywood, a friend of the couple, by Dr. James H. Lash, pastor of the First Congregational Church of Hollywood. The couple do not plan an immediate honeymoon because Robson is unable at present to leave his desk at the Paramount studio.

Interest in dramatics started the romance when Robson, a student at the dramatic school of Yale University, studying playwriting, visited the dramatic school of the Carnegie Institute of Technology while home on a vacation and met Miss Kosinska.

WILLIAM N. ROBSON II.

On his graduation last summer Robson was selected as one of a group of five Yale drama school students to join the Paramount scenario department. Miss Kosinska, winner of the Otto Kahn prize for excellent acting, went to New York, where she appeared on the stage in several productions before coming to Hollywood.

Newland Rites to be Today

Last rites for Edward Harvey Newland, Jr., will be conducted today at 10:30 a.m. at the chapel of L. G. Scovern, Glendale. Interment will be at Forest Lawn Memorial Park.

Mr. Newland, whose home was at 1900 Ivar avenue, Hollywood, was 29 years of age and had lived in Los Angeles for twenty years. He was a member of the Kappa Sigma Fraternity. He leaves his widow, Mrs. Joyce Newland, four children and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward H. Newland, Sr.

FLEET LEAVES FOR ISTHMUS

Great Armada Off Today in Ten-Week War Game

Two Hundred New Aircraft Will Join in "Fight"

Maneuvers to be of Unusual Interest to Powers

Bound for ten weeks of war games and sea training in the tropical seas off Panama the battle fleet will sail at 8 o'clock this morning, an impressive armada of eighty-two men-of-war and 200 brand-new airplanes.

During the entirety of the 3000-mile voyage to the isthmus, the battle fleet will theoretically be "at war" with the scouting fleet, in the Atlantic, both forces engaging in a far-flung strategical race for their common objective—possession of the Panama Canal. Complete radio silence will be maintained by both fleets and as they converge on the canal there will take place the most spectacular battle exercise ever held by the United States fleet—approximately 300 aircraft in the air and participating simultaneously in the engagement with dreadnaughts, cruisers, destroyers, submarines and thousands of sailors and marines engaged ashore, landed by the two fleets during the night at isolated spots. Capture of the canal is the aim of the battle fleet, under Admiral William V. Pratt, while the scouting fleet, commanded by Vice-Admiral Montgomery M. Taylor, will theoretically defend the isthmus against foreign aggression.

OF INTEREST TO POWERS

This year's maneuvers are of unusual interest to all naval powers because they include the operation for the first time of a fleet of 200 naval aircraft at sea entirely independent of land bases and initial operation of the giant new aircraft carriers Saratoga and Lexington with the fleet under battle conditions.

The battle fleet of eighty-two surface craft and twelve squadrons of aircraft to make the cruise includes the following units: Ten battleships, California, (fleet flagship;) West Virginia, (squadron flagship;) Colorado, Tennessee, New Mexico, Mississippi, Idaho, Pennsylvania, Arizona and New York, (to join at Balboa March 3;) light cruiser Omaha, flagship of destroyer squadrons; thirty-nine destroyers, McDermut, Decatur, Sinclair, McCawley, Moody, Henshaw, Meyer, Doven, Percival, Farragut, Somers, William Jones, Zeilin, Reno, Farquhar, Thompson, Kennedy, Barker, Tracy, Borie, John D. Edwards, Whipple, Litchfield, Yarborough, LaVallette, Sloat, Wood, Shirk, Kidder, Selfridge, Marcus, Mervine, Chase, Hull, MacDonough, Farenholt, Sumner, Corry, Melvin; three aircraft carriers, Saratoga (force flagship,) Lexington, Langley; two aircraft tenders, Aroostook and Gannet; two destroyer tenders, Melville and Altair; eleven submarines, V-1, V-2, V-3, S-45, S-46, S-24, S-25, S-26, S-27, S-28, S-29; three submarine tenders, Holland, Ortolan and Argonne; eleven vessels of the train, Procyon, (flagship,) Relief, Medusa, Kanawha, Cuyama, Neches, Partridge, Kingfisher, Tern and Brant. All aircraft squadrons except the thirty planes of the observation wing aboard the battleships and the two scouting planes aboard the Omaha, will operate from the three carriers, Lexington, Saratoga and Langley. The Maryland will be the only battleship not to participate in the cruise. She will remain at anchor at San Pedro until the 31st inst. and then go to the Puget Sound navy yard for her annual overhaul.

DUE BACK HOME IN MARCH

As the first unit to get under way, the aircraft carrier Lexington departed San Pedro at one minute past midnight this morning, she being a unit of the "enemy" or scouting fleet, and thereby proceeding to Panama at high speed ahead of the Pacific force. The Lexington is being accompanied on her long dash by the destroyers Barker and Whipple, as plane guards.

The battle fleet is due back at San Pedro on March 23 and after arriving at Panama on the 30th inst. will remain at anchor on Panama Bay until February 25, save for two week-end tactical exercises. From February 25 to March 1, the combined United States fleet, under Admiral Henry A. Wiley, commander-in-chief and the Navy's supreme head at sea, will be engaged in fleet tactics off Panama. In these maneuvers, 150 ships and more than 300 aircraft will participate. Following these exercises, the battle fleet will remain at

COMMISSION NOT LIABLE

Deputy City Prosecutor Says Members of Police Body Not Responsible for Damages Over Arrests

No liability rests against the members of the Board of Police Commissioners for arrests without warrants made by members of the police department, according to an opinion by Deputy City Prosecutor William V. Krowl, in response to a query from the commission.

The commission wanted to know if the members could be held liable for damages in the event of suit being brought by an individual held on suspicion where there was insufficient evidence for the arrest, following a protest made to the commission by Attorney Herbert J. Goudge. The latter reported that the police were holding men without warrants and without allowing them to communicate with their attorneys on charges that they are enemy aliens.

Goudge charged that enemy aliens could be held only on warrants issued by the United States Secretary of Labor.

"I desire to say that it is the opinion of this office that no such liability would exist," Krowl stated in his opinion, which also was signed by Deputy Prosecutor Claude B. Morton. "The State Supreme Court has held that a board such as yours can neither sue nor be sued except that the board may be mandamused for failure to perform its duties."

The communication advised that since, under the charter, it was the duty of the City Attorney to rule on such questions, that the police board, if it saw fit, could take the matter up with him for further information.

by Harry Carr

THE routes to fame seem sometimes so difficult and tortuous.

From the Sunday Times book reviews I learn that W. B. Seabrook, an author of a popular tome on life among the Arabs, wears his hair in a bang like Buster Brown, sports an Arab thumb ring, and has a wife who runs a coffee shop—all the ideas blending together as one harmonious whole—as it were.

The author is now on his way to China and may be expected to return with a pigtail and compressed feet, and his wife will have to switch to a tea shop.

THE DEAD GUNMAN

The death of Wyatt Earp cancels another famous career as a western gunman.

But it is not true that the most interesting westerner has gone West. The most interesting man who ever lived in the West and knew the West better than any other white man who ever lived there—or here—is still living, with prospects of a great many more years.

This is Maj. Frederick Burnham of Pasadena.

THE GREATEST SCOUT

We hear so much of Maj. Burnham's exploits as a scout for the Britian army in the Boer War that we forget his skill and bravery as a scout against our own Sioux and Apaches.

He is the only white man who learned to beat the Apaches at their own game. Several times his life was saved because he knew the silent mysteries of the trail just as well as the Indians, and on one occasion was able to outrun their greatest long-distance runners.

The career of Maj. Burnham meant something; he can look back to perils and dangers that have accomplished great things. Also, the outdoor world has been for him a book to finger as he pleased.

Incidentally, he started out as a telegraph messenger boy in Los Angeles.

JUST DUMB

Most of us go through this world psychologically deaf and dumb.

The earth is nothing to us but something to walk on—when we can't find pavements. The trees are the things we make bungalows out of; and the Indians are something to look at while the engine is being watered at Yuma and Albuquerque.

We don't live in a world. We live in a fantastic arrangement made up of electric wires (which we don't understand) and pipes and automobile steering gears (which we work without knowing why they work.)

WHAT'S THE ANSWER?

Just picture the arrival of a visitor from Mars.

He arrives full of curiosity and questions.

How many questions could we answer about the world we live in?

For my part, I confess with humiliation that I should have to tell him: "Well, Mister from Mars, I don't really live in the world. I am just kinda staying here."

HEARING SET FOR TODAY

Protests against the ordinance of intention for the improvement of streets in the F-street and Flint-avenue improvement district will be heard today by the City Council. Council also will hear protests against the proceedings for the installation of lighting appliances on Los Feliz Boulevard between Vermont and Serrano avenues.

Women Weep as Father of Victims Testifies

Clark Tells of Ether Being Given Winslow Youth

Cap, Book Leaf and Other Bits Form Evidence Chain

BULLETIN!

GREENSBORO (N. C.) Jan. 14. (AP)—Declaring that he had helped Gordon Stewart Northcott kill four children in a barn in California, Clarence Roberson, 19, of Greensboro, who has been serving in the army, gave himself up tonight to Greensboro police.

Roberson said that several months ago he obtained a pass from a government hospital and went to the farm where Northcott was staying, and that Northcott offered him $3000 to help him kill the children.

Roberson's story is being investigated.

BY JAMES M. KENDRICK
"Times" Staff Representative

RIVERSIDE, Jan. 14.—Sanford Clark, self-confessed eyewitness to Gordon Stewart Northcott's asserted murder orgy, began the recitation of his harrowing story from the witness stand late today.

Hardly had Northcott's 15-year-old nephew plunged into a tale which the State expects to be its major stroke, then he drew from the accused slayer his first emotional outburst of the trial.

"You're lying, Sanford; you know you are," Northcott shouted from the counsel table after half-arising from his chair, when Sanford testified that Northcott forged the name of Rev. John Power, Catholic priest, to a letter sent Riverside school authorities.

FEARED BOYS WOULD SNITCH

"We killed Louis and Nelson Winslow after Stewart (the name Sanford calls his uncle) decided that they would snitch on him for abusing them if he allowed them to go," young Clark calmly recited as he half-faced the jury from the witness box. Step by step today the prosecution built an ever-tightening net of circumstantial evidence about the Wineville chicken farmer and climaxed the day with the sudden appearance of young Clark.

"We gave the oldest Winslow boy ether because Gordon said it would be better than using an ax, if it worked.

"His first plan was to use an ax, because he said there wouldn't be any noise to it," young Clark recited in answer to Dep. Dist.-Atty. Kelly's questioning.

"How did you know they were the Winslow boys when Northcott brought them to the ranch?" Kelly asked Clark.

"They told me they were and so did Stewart. We used to watch the papers and see how the hunt for them was coming along," the youth said.

CRUELTY PICTURED

"Stewart made me nail up the door to the hen house after he put them in there for the night. He made me sleep in the vacant house on the next farm that night," Clark testified.

"How did Louis Winslow come to accept the administration of ether to him?" the Prosecutor asked the witness.

"Well, Stewart told him it would make him smaller and that he would not be known. The boy didn't want to take it because he said it always made him sick," Clark testified.

Earlier in the day, the missing youth's father testified that his oldest son had been given ether when his tonsils were removed.

"Who dug the graves for the boys?" Clark was asked.

"Stewart made me start to dig early in the morning on the day before they were murdered because he said he wanted the job completed by the next night when he would kill them," Clark said.

TAKEN FOR WALKS

The youthful Canadian who was brought here from Canada two years ago and virtually held a prisoner by his uncle, who, the State contends, committed infamous attacks on all his victims, related how the Winslow boys were exercised after dark.

"I would go in and clean up the hen house after dark and Stewart would take them for a walk down the road. Then he would lock them in until the next night. I took food to them and would shove it through the door," Clark continued.

As court adjourned for the night Clark had just begun his explanation of how the drugged youth awoke from his stupor when the ether failed to kill him. The younger boy had been removed to the ranch house to await his turn at the asserted murderer's hands.

An early morning dramatic scene, in which N. H. Winslow, the youth's father, took the stand, caused open weeping among many of the women who packed the courtroom.

Half sobbing, the father told how Mrs. Winslow had objected to her sons attending a meeting of the Pomona Model Yacht Club and later consented when the boys promised to return in an hour.

"But they never came back," Winslow said.

POSITIVE ABOUT CAP

When questioned by Norbert Savay, Northcott's chief counsel, how he was so positive of a cap found on the murder farm which the State says belonged to the younger son, the father said:

"I would know the cap any place. His mother bought it and a long pair of pants at the same time and he had had the cap two years," the father said.

"Isn't it possible that he left the cap somewhere?" the defense attorney asked.

"Yes, but it has always turned up before," Winslow answered.

"Well, it has turned up again now, hasn't it?" Savay retorted.

"Yes—but in the wrong place," the father answered, and bowed his head.

Bits of circumstantial evidence with which the State expects to prove Northcott guilty of four of the most fiendish murders in this county, were introduced into the evidence through the day.

Among others a leaf from an aviation book upon which a note was written to Mr. and Mrs. Winslow by their sons and mailed from Corona, was identified by Mrs. Sarah Moran Jacobas, Pomona librarian, as having come from a book borrowed by the Winslow boys from the Pomona library. Special marks on the page were means by which she identified it. Corona, from where the note was filed, is only three miles from Northcott's ranch.

CLUB OFFICER TESTIFIES

A board with a yacht sketched upon it which was drawn, young Clark said, while the boys were prisoners; an empty ether can; a burnt and charred bit of shirt and a violin string key, said to have been used by the boys on the home-made banjo they had when they left home, played prominent parts in the evidence.

"I am sure that piece of shirt is identical with the one Nelson wore when he left home," Mr. Winslow testified.

Roland Andrews, an officer in the Model Yacht Club, which the Winslow boys joined three weeks before they disappeared, and Constable Chambers of Pomona, were State's witnesses today.

EVANGELIST DEFENDANT IN NEW SUIT

Mrs. McPherson Named in $65,000 Action Over Asserted Contract

Aimee Semple McPherson, evangelist, yesterday was named defendant in a suit for $65,000 filed in Superior Court by William H. Wheeler and William G. Reed, who charge Mrs. McPherson with breach of contract in connection with plans to build an apartment-hotel next to Angelus Temple.

According to the complaint the plaintiffs entered an agreement June 6, 1928, with Mrs. McPherson to furnish plans, construct and finance the building, for which services they were to receive 12 per cent of the cost of the venture. Later, the complaint states, the agreement was amended to the extent that Mrs. McPherson would finance the work and the plaintiffs would receive 10 per cent.

Wheeler and Reed estimated the cost of the structure at $650,000. They declare Mrs. McPherson has failed to carry out her part of the asserted contract.

Confidence Vote Accorded Fitts and Councilman

Resolutions commending Dist.-Atty. Fitts for his efforts in behalf of the public, and expressing confidence in the integrity and courage of Councilman Jacobson, were adopted by the Presbyterian Ministerial Association at the Bible Institute yesterday following an address by Mr. Jacobson on "The Wrongs of Our City Government and the Remedy."

"Mr. Fitts is trying his best to make Los Angeles a cleaner city, but his success will depend on the support he receives from ministers and Christian people generally," said Mr. Jacobson. "The church can control this town if they put their shoulder to the wheel. Parents could help make this a better city by not trusting their children quite so far."

Another speaker was George A. Miller, State director of the Near East Relief, who said that the churches of America are largely responsible for the feeding, clothing and education of millions of children who have been helped through the Near East Relief.

BELL TO PUSH CEMENT PLAN

dents with noise, and how the rock would be ground into powder without dust.

Then right in the midst of the detailed work picture some one in the audience rose up and said:

"Mr. Bell, were you ever in a cement plant in your life?" Bell hesitated, and then answered: "Never." It required severe pounding of the gavel by Chairman Lew Head to restore quiet enough to permit Bell to be heard above the laughter.

SUBJECT CHANGES

Bell, however, apparently abandoned further thought about describing the operation of cement plants, and went into the matter of marketing real estate for residential purposes and the attendant worries about meeting taxes, assessments, etc.

When E. H. Brown's turn came to state the views of the property owners who had purchased home sites from Bell, he did not mince words. He declared the statements made by Bell's associates about producing cheaper cement than the prevailing prices were "camouflage."

"We demand that this thing be settled," he said. "Mr. Bell and his associates have been going about his district telling what a blessing this cement plant would be, but they haven't put anything down on paper. We demand that if they are sincere in all these promises about not contemplating a nuisance they immediately file an application with the City Council for their permit.

CHARGES HURLED

"They are trying to ease this thing off of the public mind by camouflaging. They know that if they file a permit with the City Council that they will have to state their full purposes and that it will reveal what is in back of this cement project, and what it will mean to the man who has invested in a home in this district.

"We know that this talk about a noiseless quarry and joltless blasting and dustless rock crushing is not feasible, nor possible. We have investigated the very plant they say they are patterning after and we find that the blasting jars houses for miles and that the community about the quarry and rock-crushing plant is built up entirely of shacks and huts.

"If Mr. Bell and his associates are sincere then we demand that they file their application with the City Council and have this settled at once. As it is now we do not know whether there is to be a residential neighborhood or an industrial section in this district.

"Only 9 per cent of Los Angeles now is zoned as a Class A residential district and now they are trying to reduce that percentage in the most beautiful section in the world."

ANOTHER QUESTION

"In restricting us property owners when we bought homesites from you, why did you not restrict yourself?" she asked.

"Oh, that was different," Bell said. "We did not restrict ourselves because we were not scared of what we might do."

To further questions Bell admitted that when he planned a $10,000,000 restricted residential district on his property he did not then know of the existence of a $280,000,000 limestone deposit.

DEALERS MOVE TO END GAS WAR

Independent Station Men Will Meet Tonight

Large Companies Accused of Causing Fight

Whether the gasoline "war" between independent service stations, with the resultant cut in price to the consumer, is to continue is expected to be decided at a mass meeting of independent dealers at 4905 South Vermont avenue tonight.

Preparations for the meeting have been made by the Independent Service Station Association. Directors of the association have held meetings daily since the price war started a week ago, but they are unable to devise a way to stem the tide of price cutting.

COMPANIES BLAMED

Charges have been made by the association officials that the price war can be laid at the door of the major oil companies who, it is asserted, are desirous of breaking contracts made last year with independent dealers during a similar price cut campaign. L. W. Sockman, president of the association, stated he had taken up several phases of the price war with the Interstate Commerce Commission and with the United States District Attorney.

According to Sockman, the price war will not permanently benefit the public unless a stabilized margin agreement is reached between the service stations and the major oil companies. He asserted the war is the result of the major companies "egging on the independents to fight each other until they wreck themselves and are forced to sign new agreements with a smaller margin."

LAST WAR DIFFERENT

"Last year there was a price war, but of a different cause," Sockman said. "Our association at that time urged the service-station men not to deliver over their business to the major oil companies through misleading agreements.

"The public hears a lot about bootleg gasoline, but there has never been much bootleg gas sold in Los Angeles except by one company during the last year. Gasoline has been sold cheaply at some service stations only because the station owner was willing to accept the smaller margin of profit. None of us ever obtained a lower margin from the big companies.

STATIONS FACE RUIN

"During the last yar the major oil companies signed agreements averaging about 6 cents differential to a gallon with most of the stations. The companies maintained groups of their owns stations to 'stabilize the price,' but that meant nothing because they had agreements with the other independents.

"The price war, if it continues, will wreck more than half of the service stations, thereby abrogating the contracts with the major oil companies pertaining to the price margin.

"It will mean that half of the service stations will become vacant lots and half of those now employed will lose their jobs. We are willing to cut the price of gasoline to the consumer if the major companies will cut their price proportionately to us."

NIX SWORN IN AS CITY PROSECUTOR

Rumors of Opposition Not in Evidence as Council Acts on Appointment

Despite persistent reports during the past week that a determined fight would be made in the City Council against the confirmation of Mayor Cryer's appointment of Lloyd S. Nix to succeed Dr. E. J. Lickley as City Prosecutor, there was no opposition when the matter came before the Council yesterday.

Upon the submission of a unanimously favorable report by the Police and Fire Committee, the Council immediately and without discussion voted to confirm Mr. Nix in his new post. Mr. Nix, who is commander of the County Council of the American Legion, was sworn in by City Clerk Dominguez several hours later and at once went to work in his new office.

Asked yesterday about the stories which were responsible for the reports of opposition to his confirmation, the new City Prosecutor stated firmly that he had made no pledges or promises of any sort as a condition of his acceptance of his post. He said he had no plans of any sort, either regarding changes in personnel or policies, his only intention being to perform his duties to the best of his ability.

MOTHER ASKS AID IN MISSING BOY SEARCH

Mrs. Abraham Berkowitz, of 400 North Berendo street, asked the police of the Central Station yesterday to find her son, Bernard 16 years of age, who has been missing since he and two other boys left on a supposed hunting expedition on Sunday afternoon. The other boys are Reginald Brown of 1248 North Detroit street, and Charles Davis, whose address was not given. Mrs. Berkowitz said the boys obtained rifles from some source and left in young Berkowitz's small automobile.

GIRL BURNED AS GAS FLAME IGNITES DRESS

Miss Eleanor Minkoff, 19 years of age, of 461 East Forty-second street, was seriously burned yesterday when her clothing caught fire from a gas heater. She was treated at the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital. She is employed in the Postal Telegraph office at 503 East Third street.

Trials Asked in Girl-Show Case

The Main-street show, "Paris After Midnight," reappeared yesterday in Municipal Court when Sam Landesman, manager; John R. Ward, spieler, and Miss Jayda Bryanton, Miss Marie Johnson, Mrs. Zelma Graham and Mrs. Frances Taylor, members of the cast, pleaded not guilty before Municipal Judge Northrup, to charges of conducting and participating in an indecent show. All asked for jury trial, which was set for February 11, next, before Municipal Judge Sheldon.

According to Deputy City Prosecutor Ida V. Wells, Police Sergeant Rogers and three other police officers paid $7.50 each to see "special performances," which they declared indecent and which were put on after the regular show.

Mrs. Annie Thornton, 52 years of age, of Kennington, Eng., has been carpetmender in the houses of Parliament for the past forty-four years.

MILLIONS FEEL ORATORY LURE

Scope of Contests in America Grows Tremendous

Nearly All Western Schools Enter Competition

Attempts at Union Traced by Constitution Expert

Estimates from national headquarters at Washington of the Sixth National and Fourth International Oratorical Contest state that 2,200,000 pupils of secondary schools in America alone will participate in the contest this year. This will exceed last year by 200,000.

"The entrants will represent approximately 25,000 secondary schools," said Prof. Alan Nichols, director of the contest for the Pacific-Southwest yesterday. "Perhaps the general public does not realize the national scope of this contest which reaches into almost every American home no matter whether there are school children there or not. The approximate aggregate audience attending contests last year was 20,000,000 people and 2300 subordinate newspapers, including weeklies, participated in the advancement of the movement."

330 SCHOOLS COMPETE

Locally, the fifty-three districts of California, Arizona and Nevada will have 330 schools represented, out of a total of 337 and the seven schools which are not entering are either very small and in remote localities or they are in the category of the Frank Wiggins Evening Trade School, which has a curriculum of two-hour night work, which does not admit of participation. The standard set by the Pacific Coast is high and probably will not be exceeded any place else in the nation.

To judge the elimination contests in these 330 schools will require the attention of 990 individual judges, selected by the faculties of the respective schools. The judges for the district contests preferably will be selected by the teachers in charge of the contests in the schools represented in any given district, but where necessary will be appointed by the contest director and each case will consist of five judges.

For The Times' grand finals and the finals of Arizona and Nevada the newspapers sponsoring the contest will appoint seven judges.

HISTORICAL LANDMARKS

Continuing landmarks in constitutional history as an aid to oratorical contestants James A. Van Osdol of the citizenship committee of the American Bar Association discusses early attempts at union. "The first attempt among any of the colonies at confederation was in 1639, when the towns of Hartford, Windsor and Weathersfield in Connecticut, drew up and put into operation a real constitution with powers of government lodged in a general assembly and a Governor, all selected by popular vote," he says.

"In 1643 the colonies of Massachusetts Bay, New Plymouth, Connecticut and New Haven formed the 'United Colonies of New England.' This league lasted forty years and carried New England through the fiercest Indian wars of the century.

"In 1754 the royal governors of the colonies united in a call for a general congress of all the colonies to devise a general scheme of operation and defense in the French and Indian war then about to commence. The place of meeting was Albany and that meeting became known as the 'Albany Congress.'

STAMP ACT PASSED

"In 1765 the memorable 'Stamp Act' was passed. Organized resistance to that obnoxious measure was through the 'Stamp Act Congress,' which met in New York and passed strong resolutions of protest and sent memorials to the King and to the two houses of Parliament. These experiences, no doubt, tended to prepare the colonists for the test that was to come. The Stamp Act was repealed the following year. Events which foreshadowed the Revolution were taking place. In 1770 the Boston Massacre; in 1773 the Boston Tea Party; and the seriousness of the impending conflict with the mother country was rapidly bringing the minds of the colonists to a realization of the necessity for united effort and that colonial differences must be forgotten.

"Then came the First Continental Congress, meeting in Philadelphia in 1774. It is noted for the remarkable Declaration of Rights which it adopted. That declaration was framed by a committee of twenty-seven members, but was principally the work of John Sullivan of New Hampshire and John Adams of Massachusetts, afterward President of the United States. That document is profoundly interesting because it anticipates some of the ideas and even some of the words of the Declaration of Independence and foreshadowed the principle in the Federal Constitution that the 'constitutional branches of the government should be independent of each other.'

EVENTS MOVE SWIFTLY

"Events that foreshadowed the Revolution were moving swiftly; the battles of Lexington, Concord and Bunker Hill had already been fought. The Second Continental Congress met the following year.

"The Second Continental Congress worked out a plan that had been proposed by the first Congress, by which the thirteen Colonies would unite. This plan was set forth in the Articles of Confederation, which was not accepted by all the States until 1781. When the Articles of Confederation went into effect, the Continental Congress passed out and the Congress of Confederation took its place. The real central government during the Revolution was the Continental Congress; the Congress of the Confederation did not become operative until the Revolution was almost over. The weakness of the government under the Confederacy will be referred to later.

"The Congress of the Confederation has to its credit the adoption of the Ordinances of 1787, providing for the organiation of the Northwest Territory. The far-reaching influence of that act on the development of our country is one of the most interesting chapters in its history."

O, sing unto the Lord a new song: sing unto the Lord, all the earth. Psalm xcvi:1.

TAKING TOLL

Over 1800 persons were killed in traffic tragedies in this State last year and nearly 25,000 were badly hurt. Sounds like a bulletin from one of the world's big battles, but it is merely the returns from the congested highways. The need of the hour is for bigger and better hospitals for victims of the bumps.

CHECKING DOPE

There is a bill before the Assembly which would make users of dope subject to arrest and punishment under the Vagrancy Act. There is no club over them now unless they can be held for some more serious crime. By applying vagrancy charges they could sometimes be held or committed long enough to undertake their cure. Police departments are in favor of the measure.

PUBLICITY NOTE

American delvers in Chaldean antiquities have been making further interesting discoveries in connection with the opening of the tomb of Queen Shub-Ad in the ruins of the venerable city of Ur. If they keep up the good work they may yet find where King Want-Ad got his start. Up till now the lamented queen was suspected of being the oldest Ad in the world. She was on the front page more than 5000 years ago.

PURE AND UNDEFILED

The board of strategy of the Lawn Tennis Association is fixing it so that no player who writes articles or gives interviews concerning the game can hold standing as an amateur. If one wishes to preserve his holy standing as an amateur he can't do much but wear duck trousers and spend papa's money. If Bill Tilden should chance to tell a newspaper guy that he thought he could still lift a racket he would indeed be cast into outer darkness. The court must be purged of all hint of commercialism.

BLOCKING THE PATHS

Congressional rules should be sane enough and sufficiently business-like to permit a vote to be taken on anything that is strong enough to reach the floor. If a measure or movement ought to be beaten there is no reason why the vote to defeat it should not be taken. If a law ought to pass it ought to be possible to reach the vote which would assure that passage. There is general acceptance of the dictum that the majority shall rule, but it does not seem to have been accepted by Congress—at least until all other plans have failed.

WATCH YOUR STEP

The corporation commissioner of the State is able to demonstrate that his office has saved the people a lot of money by reason of its espionage over tricky financial operators. It seems to be pretty hard for a company to peddle stock in this State unless its intentions are honorable or unless it can guarantee the investor a run for his money. The old days of froth and foam are ended. A million-dollar corporation to make eyewater out of the Pacific Ocean could not get very far in these days of deep inquiry. There are a great many more investors than there used to be and they need all the protection they can get.

FARM UNITY NEEDED

Discussion of possible forms of farm relief brings to light considerable information touching the real plight of the soil industries. The suggestion is that they need some of the mergers, the market methods, the chain policies and massed production habits of big business. If they will do their plowing, their planting, their harvesting and their marketing under the community plan, with the use of modern machinery and methods they will show larger profits and have much more spare time for themselves. The sad fact is that there are thousands upon thousands of honest and well-meaning Americans who are anchored to the soil by circumstances not of their own choosing and who actually know little or nothing of the possibilities of the land they till. The life of the farmer is and should be an independent one, but these are fettered by a frowning fate and seem inadequate to lift themselves out of the rut.

A SPECIAL SESSION

The principal reason why an extra session of Congress is virtually inevitable—President-elect Hoover is of the opinion that one should be called for about April 15—is that tariff revision is intimately bound up with the new administration's plans for farm relief. To attempt tariff revision at the present session is inadvisable; the preparation of a tariff bill involves a tremendous amount of work, for which neither Senate nor House have time in the present session; if it were tried it would result in the sidetracking of everything else, including reapportionment, the appropriation bills, the Kellogg treaty and the naval construction program.

The new Congress, with its fresh mandate from the country, is clearly better fitted to deal with the problem than the present one. In the meantime, the House Ways and Means Committee has been gathering preliminary data upon which can be based amendments to bring the Fordney-McCumber law of 1922 in line with present conditions.

Some portions of the farm relief program could have been put into effect at this session, had there been any agreement among the agriculturists and their representatives in Congress as to what is needed. The simple recommendations of President Coolidge in his annual message could have been whipped into legislative form in a week's time and put through with a minimum of trouble, forming a framework upon which subsequent Congresses could have erected the remainder of the farm-relief structure. The Coolidge proposals for aiding the formation of farmers' co-operative marketing associations are bound to fit in with any sensible scheme that is adopted. But the farm bloc in the present Congress has shown no great interest in sensible schemes, it prefers the grandiloquent and the Utopian to the practical.

Extraordinary sessions of Congress are not particularly relished by the country. They are apt to be both expensive and disturbing to business, especially when they indulge in tariff tinkering. The coming session, it is promised, will reduce this disturbance to a minimum so far as it can, and will endeavor to get its program out of the way and adjourn early in summer. But the Democratic minority in the Senate, unfortunately, may seize the occasion to indulge in long-winded debate.

The situation emphasizes the need both for a revision of the Senate rules, so that that body can transact business without so much obstruction, and for a change in the meeting time of Congress to eliminate short or "lame-duck" sessions. It is plain that a new administration and a new Congress ought to be given the reins of power sooner after election than they now receive them—as plain as it is that Congressmen ought not to continue legislating after they have been defeated at the polls. Our system of government has certain very marked advantages over the parliamentary system, but it has two marked defects from which parliamentary systems are free. The changes indicated would remove them. They also would remove most of the necessity for extraordinary sessions.

There never was any real reason why Congress should wait thirteen months after it is elected before it assembles, and in these swift moving days the provision of law which makes it do so is obsolete.

Many State constitutions contain the provision that an extra legislative session may deal only with the subjects set forth in the call. This is not true of Congress, which, once assembled, may act upon anything it desires. A new device to keep the coming session down to business is now being proposed; the plan is to organize no committees except those to consider farm relief and tariff changes. This innovation may not work, but it is worth trying as an interesting experiment.

HAYS ON CENSORSHIP

In his plea that the censorship heretofore exercised by certain States and communities over motion pictures shall not be extended to the talking picture since to do so would invade the constitutional right of free speech, Will Hays, who is head of the motion-picture industry so far as that industry has any head, is on sound ground.

"News as heard from the screen, the speeches of the greatest public men on the greatest occasions, are all subject to some of the censorship laws, and the great development which is imminent of speaking films for educational purposes is definitely retarded because of the ridiculous possibility of their being cut to pieces by censors," Mr. Hays points out.

To argue that censors would not interfere with anything but possible salacity is to credit them with too much intelligence. There are queer conceptions of what is moral and what immoral abroad, and the sort of individuals who most frequently seek jobs on censorship boards are most apt to be imbued with these queer ideas. What may be written or printed with impunity may not, in many cases, be shown on the screen—an absurd situation.

That the public itself is capable of exercising adequate censorship is shown by the flat failure of recent stage indecency. Theatrical producers who vied with each other in vileness have discovered that their product instead of being attractive to the public was nauseating. Several of the worst of the year's plays from a salacious standpoint have also proved the worst from a box-office standpoint, and there is now on a frantic search for more wholesome material. Neither a play nor a picture which disgusts its spectators can succeed; but where there is censorship the situation develops into a game in which the producers seem impelled to see how far they can go and get by, so that the censorship defeats its own object.

BLUE MUD AND GREEN CHEESE

If the soviet bunch in Russia gave Senator Borah $100,000 in real money and received his written receipt for the donation they should be able to do some business with the Hearst outfit. William is paying the top of the market for documents of this character and is not very exacting as to their genuineness. Any hook strong enough to hold a postage stamp is all right with him.

The LEE SIDE o' L.A.

BY Lee Shippey

IF WE were awarding Nobel or Pulitzer prizes, we would give the one for the most helpful literature we have seen lately to Irving P. Lord, retired attorney, who lives on South Crenshaw Boulevard. In a day in which we are spending-mad rather than money-mad, and when so many of us expend so much on things we don't need that we never can afford things we do need and, therefore, feel we aren't making enough, Mr. Lord shows us how foolish we are, not by "preachcept," but by example. He has spent his life trying to be a gentleman—and succeeding far better than most of us do.

MEDAL FOR MR. LORD!

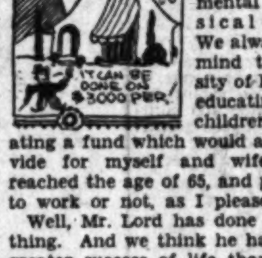
As to $6500 a Year

Recent announcement that a committee headed by a professor in the University of California had completed a survey which showed a professional man with two children must have $6500 a year in order to live decently, inspired Mr. Lord to write a few lines for the steadying of those who are losing their heads, and he wrote a masterpiece. Let us quote:

"I am a professional man, a lawyer recently retired, with a wife and two children. Both my children have been given college educations, and now are self-supporting. My family expenses have never, except in one year, exceeded $3000.

Never Dodged Barber or Plate-Passer

"We have never been considered extravagant or conceited because we were trained differently, and now appreciate that training. Our health has been good and for medical care our expense has averaged less than $60 a year, while our barber bill averaged $50 and we always allowed $100 a year for church. My life insurance, $15,000, is fully paid up. We own our home and owe nobody a dollar. We never had any income other than what I gained by my mental and physical exertions. We always had in mind the necessity of living well, educating our children and creating a fund which would amply provide for myself and wife after I reached the age of 65, and permit me to work or not, as I pleased."



IT CAN BE DONE ON $3000 PER!

Well, Mr. Lord has done that very thing. And we think he has made a greater success of life than many a man now making $100,000 a year.

TENNYSON MABIE.

Wild Parties

Los Angeles is as moral as most big cities, but there are people here who make a business of supplying entertainment for wild parties, and some of them are in the homes of quite prominent people. Not long ago, for instance, a noted horseman gave a party in his stables at which (we are told) there was every sort of dance a satrap with a keen interest in anatomy might have ordered. And in a restaurant of the day-and-night-club order on West Fourth street, right in the downtown district, we witnessed some of the dancing that is all some high-minded tourists go to Cairo to see. It was in a private dining-room, of course. The party was "thrown" by a substantial business man, and all the guests except four newspaper men were in that class.

The cafe proprietor saw everything start nicely and then discreetly withdrew. If anything illegal took place, or was produced from hip flasks, he didn't know it—and how could he expect well-known men like that to do such a thing? But as we passed out we congratulated him. Because he was only an ex-prize-fighter, and had he remained to see and hear the party might have shocked him.

FORD'S UTOPIA

In olden days devising Utopias for the relief of human discontent was trusted to dreamers and sentimentalists of the Sir Thomas More and Jean Jacques Rousseau type who, it must be confessed, made a sorry job of it. They were philosophers of idleness. The latest scheme for making everybody happy comes—appropriately—from a "philosopher of industry," Henry Ford. It should, therefore, at least start from a solid foundation.

It does. Yet an examination of the machine-made, standardized Utopia of our master mechanic only seems to prove that the more practical a thing is, the more undesirable it may be. The blessed isles of the sixteenth century romanticists were eminently desirable, but they wouldn't work. The all-machinery heaven of the twentieth century realist may—some day—work. But will it satisfy?

We have it on good authority that man cannot live by bread alone and living by machinery alone can hardly be considered a happy substitute. Nor do Ford's remedies fit in very exactly with a philosophy of industry. He is at times as paradoxical as Gilbert K. Chesterton.

Thus in his reconditioned Utopia he would have a home where housekeepers no longer housekeep and farms on which farmers no longer farm. Machines would entirely substitute for human hands and brains. Wives would no longer cook. Meals would all come from a standardized community kitchen. Presumably the ideal home would be one where a housewife would have nothing to do but press buttons and start the wheels revolving. In short, Ford would save the home by removing any further reason for its continued existence. A wife would be nothing more than a cog in a machine.

Yet the idea that idle wives would be more contented than busy wives is a strange conclusion for a philosopher of industry. So also to have big city corporations supersede individual farmers and run agriculture on a factory basis hardly promises to add to the joys of country life. Is the dispossessed individual farmer to find his recompense in abstract thinking—even admitting the truth of Ford's confession that "thinking is the hardest work there is." Must all thinking be confined to cold iron and horse power?

On the whole this Robot-made Utopia hardly promises more satisfaction to the hopes and ambitions of the irreconcilable elements we call human nature than did the visionary lotus lands of More and Rousseau. There still seems to be something more to life than the pursuit of material conveniences and bodily comfort.

Radio fans who complain that they are interrupted on their London program by reason of the interference of the big station in Chile must have more impressive sets than we have.

WHERE IGNORANCE IS BLISS

By James J. Montague

Before my small knowledge of science supplied me
With knowledge of microbes, bacilli and germs
Which carry on warfare and battles inside me
And can never abide there on amiable terms,
The ills I fell heir to but little distressed me,
I knew to be sure I'd be sick of a spell,
But no terrible moments of panic possessed me—
I was sure I'd get well.

But now that I know what these creatures are doing
The while through my person in armies they roam,
And imagine what plans they may shortly be brewing
When they make of my sinus or tonsils their home,
And how little I know of their strength or their numbers
Or how their assaults can be quelled or controlled
I am given to fright and to uneasy slumbers,
In fact, I'm scared cold.

I know just enough of this ravaging army
Which quarters itself on my inward domain
To think of its terrible power to harm me
And afflict me with chills and depression and pain.
My mind is consumed with forebodings and fancies,
The fortunes of war I am prone to predict,
I continually dwell on its varying chances
And of who will get licked.

When my grandfather got in a parlous condition
Or was seized with a pain in a lung or a limb
He merely sent round for the family physician
And left all the subsequent worry to him.
My grand-dad refused to get into a lather
Of worry whenever his inwards went wrong,
And that is the obvious reason, I gather,
That he lived for so long.

WHAT'S WRONG WITH AUSTRALIA?

BY JOHN EDWIN HOGG

Stacey's experience with organized labor in Australia is only one of literally innumerable similar happenings that might be cited; for down there in the kangaroo country under the Southern Cross, labor troubles are the curse of the commonwealth. I went to Australia in a Dutch ship, after having booked tickets for myself and wife from Soerabaia, Java, to Sydney. According to the steamship company's literature, the ship would stop for a day at Makassar, in the Island of Celebes, a way post of the Dutch East Indies; Port Darwin, in North Australia; Thursday Island, Brisbane, and then Sydney. We looked forward with pleasure to the prospect of seeing quite a bit of Australia before we really got ashore for a lengthy sojourn. But the labor unions had spoiled that for us, and they'd spoiled a few things for themselves in doing it.

After the ship left Makassar we discovered that Port Darwin was no longer a scheduled stop for ships of the Dutch company's fleet. Our Dutch captain explained it in perfect English. According to his story, Port Darwin is the only seaport of any importance on the north coast of Australia. It exists because of a productive back country producing wool, cattle and wheat. Two lines of steamships formerly served Port Darwin, which has no railway communication with the rest of Australia. These two steamship lines were the Burns-Philp Company, an English firm; and Die Koninklijke Paketvaart Maatschappij, the Dutch company with whose vessel we were traveling. Each company operated a twice-monthly service in and out of Port Darwin. Once each week a ship called, dropping off the mail, and miscellaneous cargo from the outside world. They loaded wheat, meat, and wool to be taken out to various markets.

Everything went well until the dock workers of Port Darwin decided to have more money for less work, and to enforce their demands upon the steamship firms by calling a strike. Besides shorter hours and quadruple pay for overtime work the dock workers demanded pay for a full month in spite of the fact that they were called upon to work only four days out of each month. On this basis, the base pay established by the stevedores' union was 4 pounds and 10 shillings per week, and each man to be paid for a full month for each four days of labor performed. That would have been the equivalent of the steamship firms being called upon to pay approximately $40.40 to each stevedore for a day's work of eight hours.

Did the stevedores' union win its point? It did not. When notified of the situation at Port Darwin, a big Dutchman with a long head for figures, who presides over the affairs of Die Koninklijke Paketvaart Maatschappij (The Royal Packet Navigation Company) at Weltevreden, Java, issued orders to the skippers of his ships on the Singapore-Java-Australia line to discontinue Port Darwin. The English company ran one ship into Port Darwin, and paid the scale of wages demanded by the stevedores' union. Shortly thereafter, officials of the company in London discovered they had lost money on Port Darwin. So, they, too, cut Port Darwin off the scheduled ports of call. The net result is that Port Darwin is a seaport without scheduled ships entering or leaving. The city and the back country are almost completely cut off from the rest of the world. The farmers cannot get supplies in, nor their wheat and wool out. Mail moves in and out only by tramp ships and traders operating on a wholly uncertain schedule. The stevedores' union not only killed the goose that used to lay their eggs, but they crippled the whole of North Australia along with themselves. The state now pins its hope to the early completion of a government railway being built with borrowed money, which will establish rail communication between Port Darwin and the rest of the commonwealth of Australia.

In an effort to keep their business alive after the uncertainty of transportation crippled them, the live-stock men of North Australia spent $5,000,000 to set up a "meatworks"—as they call a packing-house. The plant flourished for a time, but is now nailed up on account of endless labor trouble. Port Darwin is now practically dead. A little wool and wheat are still exported by the ranchers in the back country who have survived, and the live-stock men ship sheep and cattle on the hoof. This commerce is carried on chiefly by Chinese ships of the "tramp" variety. The sheep and cattle exported alive are carried away to various oriental ports to be converted into meat in lands less plagued with the autocracy of organized labor.

In sympathy with the stevedores' union of Port Darwin, the Great Barrier Reef Steamship Pilots' Union, whose headquarters are at Townesville, in the State of Queensland, attempted a "shake-down" upon the two steamship companies that had given Port Darwin the go-by. The regular steamship route down the east coast of Australia is inside the Great Barrier Reef, which extends down that coast of Australia for 1500 miles, all the way from half a mile to 100 miles out from the shore. Naturally, taking a ship through the long, slender, reef-infested passage inside the Great Barrier Reef is a ticklish job of navigation. This route is a graveyard for ships that have lacked the most skillful piloting. So, for many years it has been the custom of all shipping inside the Barrier Reef to employ local pilots.

The fee for piloting over this course was formerly £50 for any vessel, regardless of tonnage. But, shortly after the Port Darwin episode, the Burns-Philp Company and Die Koninklijke Paketvaart Maatschappij were notified that the fee for piloting their ships over the route behind the Great Barrier Reef would be £100, or roughly $500 American money for any of their vessels traveling in either direction. The English company, apparently lacking any alternative, complied with the demands of the pilots' union. However, it's hard to beat the Dutch, and those world-renowned stubborn, methodical people, proceeded to beat an Australian labor union right on their own ground. They decided to dispense with pilots on their vessels. In lieu thereof they recruited several Dutch "gezagvoerders" (sea captains) who had had years of experience in taking ships through spots in the Dutch East Indies where reefs and islands appear on navigation charts as if sprinkled on with a pepper shaker. Those Dutchmen took an old freighter which the Dutch steamship company was perfectly willing to have wrecked, and cruised off to Australia with the thing. For the next several weeks, they amused themselves by running up and down the whole length of the passage inside the barrier reef.

In due time they familiarized themselves with the run. They charted every reef, every tiny island, and every possible menace to navigation in that area. After they were fully qualified as Great Barrier Reef passage pilots, they were transferred to the ships of the company's Singapore-Java-Australia line. Meanwhile, or while those men were being trained for the job, the Dutchmen had taken no chances with their ships. It cost them a little more money for fuel oil to run a few ships on the longer route outside the Great Barrier Reef. But they were many hundreds of pounds ahead over the exorbitant cost of Australian piloting. The ships have long since gone back on the regular run inside the reef, and not a ship have they lost. Apparently, there are no other people on earth who are quite so fond of pleasure, and who are so systematically attempting to live by a doctrine of high wages, and little or no work. For many years they've been spending so much money for American motion-picture films that several enterprises sprung up for the production of motion-picture films in Australia. The country has the favorable climate, the outdoor scenery, and the local talent to have made Australian motion pictures a success. But, what is the story? If a producer wanted to make a film, and limit it to an all-star cast of about two people, he could "get away with it" if the immediately organized Cinema Camera Photographers' Union didn't call a strike. If the cameraman remained on the job, and the producer tried a production calling for a mob scene, a strike among the members of the Motion-Picture Extras' Union was the inevitable result. In the face of such labor conditions Australian motion pictures were "not so hot." Even with the protection of a high tariff, they couldn't compete with Hollywood. So, Australia's motion-picture business passed out of the picture, as the majority of business enterprises have down throughout the length and breadth of the continent. Aside from a few favored businesses, such as the production of sheep and wheat, there is no business enterprise requiring capital that can be established in Australia today which labor will permit to live. Only those enterprises which are capable of standing the most unbelievable labor abuses have a Chinaman's chance to survive.

England is overflowing with jobless men—why not send them to her great southern hemisphere dominion where there are millions of acres of productive land, and where there is room for 250,000,000 people? The answer to that question is—it can't be done. At least, it can't be done so long as approximately 6,000,000 people continue to play "dog in the manger" with a whole continent. Organized labor in Australia has killed off every chance for jobs there for England's jobless hordes. A great deal of Australia's "labor" is jobless itself, and there will never be jobs enough for the present population until the labor unions learn that wealth can't be created by slaying it at its source.

Without organized labor's permission no person can do any manner of work anywhere in Australia. This goes not only for the cities, but the sheep stations, the wheat fields, and everything else. And, getting into a labor union is about as prolonged and expensive a ceremony as getting into the Savage Club of London. Any employer who would give a non-union worker a job would immediately find himself with a strike on his hands—and his output, if any, listed as black.

DEFENDER ASKS CHANGE IN LAWS

Public Attorney Suggests Proposed Improvements

Plans Told to Supervisors for Their Approval

Amendments to Criminal Code Also Desired

Frederick H. Vercoe, county public defender, told the Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors yesterday that during 1928 more than $28,000, representing sums from $10 and up in illegal attachments, were released through the efforts of his office.

"Through these illegal attachments, a great deal of unnecessary expense and additional work was placed upon the county," Vercoe said. "In my opinion it is about time that some adequate steps be taken to amend some of our State laws, so that wage earners and others will get a better break with the collection agencies and that class of attorneys who make a precarious livelihood through the forced collection of unjust claims."

The public defender explained his presence before the board by declaring he was there to submit several proposed amendments upon which he asked the members' approval before they were submitted to the Legislature.

AMENDMENTS RECOMMENDED

Enactment of a provision making the plaintiff in a garnishee action responsible not only for all costs of a suit but also for damages.

Enactment of a provision in the law in which installment houses shall be prevented from making extortionate collections costs, and making the collection of the cost and attorney fees subject to the discretion of the court.

Attorney Vercoe also seeks an enactment which will notify a husband in the event he marries a woman with debts, of such debts, in order that he can make a settlement with creditors before they commence actions to collect the debts.

The public defender also sought the consent of the Supervisors to submit an amendment to Sec. 690 of the Code of Civil Procedure which would exempt all motor vehicles with a value of less than $200 from attachment where the car is necessary to the owner in making his living.

CRIMINAL CODE PLANS

Several amendments to the Criminal Code are also sought by Attorney Vercoe, among them one that will make possession of weapons a misdemeanor rather than a felony, at the discretion of the court. Where an alien is arrested accused of possession of concealed weapons, it would remain as a felony. In the event of a citizen, so accused, such as the finding of a gun in his automobile, the offense would be classed as a misdemeanor at the discretion of the court. The court would be given the choice of sending the guilty party to the County Jail or to the State penitentiary.

Vercoe also recommended that the law relative to escaped convicts, prisoners in road camps, or jails, be changed so as to provide that these offenses may be held as a misdemeanor instead of a felony at the discretion of the court.

Following his appearance before them the Supervisors expressed themselves as in accord with the proposed amendments as offered by Attorney Vercoe.

SHE ACCUSES FILM ACTOR OF DESERTION

Mrs. Hoot Gibson

Radio Principles Illustrated to Electric Club

A vivid demonstration of the principles involved in radio and sound transmission was given yesterday at the Biltmore before the Electric Club by A. P. Hill, radio engineer of the Southern California Telephone Company. The talk was accompanied by motion pictures showing the action of the human voice-box and the human ear and apparatus with which he varied the wave frequencies of both speech and music.

Members of the Board of Education and two representatives of the Japanese government were guests. They were Shigero Murata of the Osaka District of Communications and Masajiro Kitamura, chief engineer of the Tokio Central Broadcasting station of Tokio, Japan.

Music was played and high notes and low notes were eliminated by the use of varying frequencies. Mr. Hill pointed out that this same phenomenon would appear in radio-receiving sets of improper design.

WOOSTER ALUMNI TO DINE

The Wooster Alumni Association of Southern California will hold its annual dinner Friday at 6:30 p.m. at the Elks' Club. The dinner was postponed from December 11 until this date. The guests of honor will be President Wishart of Wooster College and John D. McKee, alumni secretary. Arrangements are in charge of Mrs. Phoebe McCullough, president of the Southern California association.

WIFE SUING HOOT GIBSON FOR DIVORCE

Hoot Gibson, cowboy film star, is made the defendant in an action for divorce filed in the Superior Court yesterday by his wife, Mrs. Ellen Gibson, who asks for a separation from her husband on the grounds of desertion.

HOOT GIBSON.

The petition asserts the Gibsons were united in marriage in 1921 and that the separation took place January 8, 1928. There is one child, Lois.

The petition was filed for the wife by Attorney Edward A. Adams, who stated that a property settlement has been made out of court.

GUN-FIGHTER EARP'S RITES TOMORROW

Colorful Character of Old West Will be Paid Last Honor Before Cremation

Funeral services for Wyatt Earp, two-handed gun fighter of the gold camp days from 1879 to 1900, who died at his home, 4004 West Seventeenth street, Sunday, will be conducted at Pierce Brothers' chapel at 10 a.m. tomorrow. The body is to be cremated.

Mr. Earp, who was 79 years of age, figured prominently in the history of the untamed West when Nevada, Idaho, Arizona and New Mexico were Territories. He served for many years as deputy United States Marshall and town marshall in many of the gold mining camps.

He figured in the Klondike gold rush and made several fortunes.

In recent years he had lived with his wife Sadie in Los Angeles. Frequently he was called on by motion-picture directors to aid in the work of adding color to western pictures, but he never took an actual part in any of the productions. He often was sought out by William S. Hart and other western producers.

Mr. Earp had extensive holdings in oil and mining properties and until a week ago had been in good health except for a kidney ailment. Besides his widow he leaves a niece.

GRAND JURY HEARS SHAW ON SEWERS

City Engineer Testifies in Relation to Asserted Flushing Irregularities

City Engineer Shaw was a witness yesterday before the grand jury in connection with the investigation of asserted irregularities in the installation and removal of upward of $500,000 worth of patented automatic sewer-flushing devices in assessment districts in various parts of the city.

Col. Thomas F. Coke, foreman of the grand jury, declined to discuss the appearance of the chief engineer on the witness stand, but other official sources say he testified to maters pertaining to the administration of his department in direct relation to the sewer flushers.

The investigation has been in the grand jury for more than a month and members of the body indicate it will perhaps not be brought to a close before the middle of February.

Commercial Board Names J. R. Coffman

J. R. Coffman, secretary of the Wholesale Grocers' Association, was elected president of the Commercial Board of Los Angeles by the organization's new board of directors at a luncheon meeting yesterday in the Los Angeles Athletic Club.

Other newly elected officers are Elmer S. Nelson of the Pacific Mutual Life Insurance Company, first vice-president; H. B. Wright, manager of Loew's State Theater, second vice-president; P. H. Ducker of the Southern California Edison Company, treasurer. E. D. Stacy was re-elected to his fourteenth term as secretary.

Installation of these officers will take place at the board's fourteenth annual banquet tomorrow night in the Biltmore. Thomas C. Ridgeway, president of the State Bar Association, will preside. Speakers on the program are E. M. Boddy, retiring president; Mr. Coffman, Dist.-Atty. Fitts and James W. Foley.

Guests will include members of the local government, newspaper publishers, members of the bench and bar and other civic leaders.

Lighting Cigar Ends in Crash

Smoking is Max Clayman's worst habit, reports at the Sheriffs' office indicated yesterday, for it was while he was lighting a cigar that his automobile struck a telephone pole, overturned and rolled down a high embankment at Western avenue and One Hundred and Twentieth street.

Neither Clayman nor Abraham Baranidotz, his companion, were seriously injured in the accident, according to Deputy Sheriffs Gilmore and Dickerson, who investigated the case.

Both men reside at 650 Crockett street.

HIGH SCHOOL TRIO GIVEN HIGH HONOR

Leading Pupils Who Will Soon Graduate Elected to Ephebian Society

Chosen from the 110 boys and girls who will graduate from Lincoln High School on February 1, Katheryn McDonald, Lawrence Colgate and Elmer Franklin yesterday were notified by Miss Ethel Percy Andrus, principal, that they are elected to membership in the Ephebian Society, the only honor society in the Los Angeles City School District.

Katheryn McDonald entered Lincoln High School at the age of 11. She is graduating on the eve of her fifteenth year. In addition to high standards of scholarship she has displayed a capacity for leadership, her instructors say. She will enter the University of California at Los Angeles next September.

Lawrence Colgate, who has a high record for scholarship, leadership and service, is 18. He will go to Columbia University.

Elmer Franklin, also in his eighteenth year, has done outstanding work at Lincoln in all subjects. He plans to enter the California School of Technology at Pasadena with science as his objective.

AUCTION SALE of ORIENTAL RUGS

Mr. Salisian has returned to the city after an absence of 6 months to positively and conclusively wind up his business here and return to his business in New York.

Regarding the auction method as one sure of quicker results, the entire Oriental Rug stock we have on hand will be offered for sale at auction without limit or reserve to be positively sold to the highest bidder.

This is positively the last effort to dispose of this immense stock, and anyone interested in the purchase of any Oriental Rug, whether Persian, Turkish, Chinese or Indian, will surely find one to fill any requirements at the buyer's own price.

We greatly prefer of course to sell every rug we have on hand even at a loss, but failing to do so we will ship back to New York every rug remaining unsold and your opportunity to acquire one of these Salisian gems will be lost forever.

We have sold nothing but Oriental Rugs of the highest quality for the past 14 years in Los Angeles. So do not lose this opportunity of opportunities. Come and take advantage of values which surely will be available to everyone willing to take them.

METAL WIZARDS REVISE NATURE

Wonders Told at Congress of Scientists

Rust-Defying Steel Added to Utilities

Inventions Revolutionizing Industry

Approximately 1000 metal men—scientists, metalurgists, engineers and demonstrators—yesterday gathered together in the Shrine Auditorium to tell the world the story of invention and progress in metals at the opening of a five-day session of the Western Metal Congress.

A romantic story it was, telling of the clank and clatter of steel wheels, the rustle of sparks and lights, the roar and hiss of flames, a story in a twentieth century babel of push and motion that demanded attention.

"You see this strip of steel?" W. H. Eisenman, secretary, asked.

DEFIES RUST

"It's stainless steel; new alloy; chemical added to iron or steel. And the result? Ask the housewife. No more fear of staining knives through rust. "Ask the Builder. No longer are atmospheric conditions, oxidation and other metal destroyers his grim enemies. A new alloy, and his steel structure sands rust-proof against time."

Zay Jeffries, president, had an even greater story to tell.

His was the story of treating metal not only with alloys but catalysts and heat, likewise.

There is a little automobile part, known as the steering knuckle, Jeffries pointed out. Upon it hinges often life and death of a person driving an automobile.

Thanks to the metallurgists, this important part of a motor car has now been perfected to a degree that it is nigh impossible to break or even bend it, by the latest methods of steel treating.

NEW METAL

On the ground floor, delegates pointed out a new metal, toncan iron, alloyed with copper and molybdenum. Drop a quantity of pure copper into a ladle of molten iron. The copper will dissolve into the iron like a lump of sugar in a cup of coffee.

When the iron solidifies, the copper remains in solid solution, the copper has combined with the iron to form a true alloy.

And for what purpose?

According to scientists explaining the new metal yesterday, toncan iron today is reducing fire insurance rates. A house roofed with this metal will defy lightning, making the house impervious to a bolt. The new metal, also being rust proof, is used for culverts, smokestacks, firebox plates in locomotives. It is demanded by the architect as well as the builder.

TREATING METALS

The science of treating metals chemically or electrically is one of the foremost problems of today, according to Jeffries.

"The use of metals in industry today depends more and more on special quality, rather than on production," Jeffries declared.

"The American Society for Steel Treating is keenly aware of this. Each year a large tonnage of metal is heat treated for industrial purposes. The United States leads the world in tonnage of steel which have their physical properties improved by heat treatment.

As one of the most significant and latest treatments of metal, Jeffries considered carboloy, or wiedia, developed by the Osram Lamp Works of Berlin, Germany. This product is so hard that it vies with the diamond, being capable of cutting glass and metals. The material is composed of tungsten, carbide and cobalt and will cut the hardest steel.

Speaking of the future, Jeffries predicted that this new metal will revolutionize industries, together with another newly developed metal, nitrided steel. He insisted that in the future the metal industry will require still higher quality of products and that heat treatment and alloying will be used to a greater extent than in the past.

OTHER SPEAKERS

During the morning session Arthur B. Domonoske, executive head of the mechanical engineering department of Stanford University, Palo Alto, told his audience he rejected the idea of complete elimination of all machine shops in university training in favor of motion pictures and textbooks.

Among today's speakers at the morning session at the Biltmore music room are Jerome Strauss, chief research metallurgist of the Vanadium Corporation of America; V. T. Malcolm, metallurgical engineer of the Chapman Valve Company, Indian Orchard, Mass.; Robert L. Daugherty, professor of mechanical engineering at the California Institute of Technology; Guy A. Barker, manager of the industrial department of the Pacific division of Johns-Manville, Inc., San Francisco.

Speakers at the afternoon session in the Shrine Auditorium are W. H. Fisher, chief metallurgist, and A. H. Martois of the research department of Emsco Derrick & Equipment Company, Los Angeles; Lester Keim, general manager of the Oil Well Supply Company of California, Los Angeles; Glenn C. Merkley of the engineering department of the National Supply Company of California, Torrance; W. H. Laury, research engineer of the Axelson Machine Company, Los Angeles.

Chairman of the morning session today is L. W. Voorhees, mechanical engineer of the Union Oil Company of California, and of the afternoon session, H. H. Anderson of the Shell Oil Company.

COURT APPROVES FILM CONTRACT OF JUVENILE

Official approval of the Superior Court was placed on a contract made between Helen Ruth Mann, 16 years of age, motion-picture juvenile, and Harry Wurtzel, agent, the order signed by Superior Judge Yankwich. The agreement is to run for a period of five years with the agent paid 25 per cent of the young woman's earnings under $750 a week, and 15 per cent if it gets over that amount during the five-year period. The matter was handled in court by Attorney I. B. Kornblum.

PHILCO HAS NEW EIGHT TUBE RADIO

Philadelphia Organization Announces Debut of Three New Styles in Cabinets

An all-electric, alternating-current, eight-tube (with rectifier) radio set, with a new type of highly efficient electro-dynamic speaker and set in an exquisitely designed Louis XIV period style cabinet, is the feature of the Philco line of radio sets for 1929, announced by the Philadelphia Storage Battery Company today.

Undistorted and almost unlimited volume, tremendous range even in daylight, absence of alternating current hum, an exclusive and highly useful range-control device, push-pull audio amplification and a sturdy chassis are other features of the new set.

The Philco console is the headliner of the troupe. Its companions are the highboy and the lowboy. Mechanically and electrically all three are the same. The cabinets, equal in quality, were designed by Albert Carl Moritz and are built up to the most rigid standards of fine furniture craftsmanship, with lines of simple elegance.

It is said that he Series 8 will pick up and amplify to speaker volume any signal that is louder than the static noise of the atmosphere, and in a favorable location with a reasonable good antenna a 3000-mile range is not at all uncommon.

Cookhouse Fire Jumps to Brush

Fire, which broke out in a cookhouse of the State Highday Department maintenance camp at Liebre, near Sandbergs on the Ridge Route, yesterday spread to surrounding brush country, causing many small forest fires, according to reports received by Forest Ranger Sears.

The cookhouse and a garage were destroyed, it is reported, and George Miles, the cook, escaped but lost all of his belongings. The report was received while the forest rangers were in conference in Pasadena. Ten of them left immediately to fight the fire.

Mrs. Wyman to Lecture Today

Additional interesting and good things to eat will be prepared by Mrs. Mabelle (Chef) Wyman during her lecture and demonstrations this afternoon in the Southwest Building, 130 South Broadway.

Today the housewives will learn how to make cabbage curry, oysters and macaroni, fruited cheese salad, maple date dessert and Melba gingerbread.

SEARCH FOR ABDUCTOR CONTINUES

Maid Describes Attempt to Kidnap Daughters of Drug Company Official

Search for the man who was reported to have attempted the kidnaping of the two young daughters of W. M. Brunswig, vice-president of the Brunswig Drug Company, of 1006 South Wilton Place, early yesterday morning, was continued by Wilshire detectives yesterday.

The attempted kidnaping was described by a colored maid, Mrs. John Linsley. She declared, according to the police report, that she frightened the man away from the Brunswig premises by firing several shots at him as he made an effort to break in through a rear door. She handed the officers a bottle of ether, several strips of cotton and a long cord which she said the man dropped as he fled.

Parents of the children were absent at the time. Further investigation will rest, Capt. Cato stated, until he has an opportunity to talk with Mr. Brunswig.

From a description furnished by the maid Capt. Cato declared he does not believe the would-be kidnaper is the same man who recently terrorized housewives in the Wilshire district by ringing door bells, cutting telephone wires and leaving obscene and threatening notes on doorknobs.

Former Officer Pleads Guilty

John A. Martin, former Santa Monica police officer, yesterday pleaded guilty in United States District Judge McCormick's court to a charge of conspiracy to violate the Federal dry laws. His codefendants, Sam Eisman, former Los Angeles officer at Venice, and Charles Deane, a watchman at an Ocean Park pier, pleaded not guilty. The sentencing of Martin and trial of the others were set for the 25th inst.

The three were arrested after E. C. Rhodes, Federal dry agent, had a gun battle with rum-runners at the Ocean Park pier. The rum-runners escaped after landing and leaving twenty cases of liquor and six of champagne.

BOND ACTION HELD UP

Action was deferred yesterday by the City Council on the recommendation of the Finance Committee that the City Attorney be instructed to prepare the necessary resolution authorizing City Treasurer Powell to sell the unsold portion of the 1926 bridge and viaduct bonds, amounting to $950,000. Councilman Hall objected that he did not wish to act on the matter until he had received additional information on details, so the committee's report was withdrawn to be resubmitted at a later date.

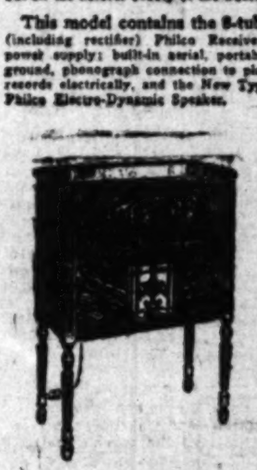
The Highboy

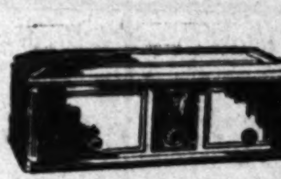
A masterpiece of cabinet design by Albert Carl Mowitz, an international authority in the furniture arts. A modern conception of the Louis XVI period style. Handsomely matched butt walnut panels, fluted legs and pillars, swinging doors. The cabinet is constructed with painstaking care—all joints doweled and glued—no nails, cleats or screws. Exquisite finish brings out all the natural beauty of the walnut.

This model contains the 8-tube (including rectifier) Philco Receiver; power supply; built-in aerial, portable ground, phonograph connection to play records electrically, and the New Type Philco Electro-Dynamic Speaker.



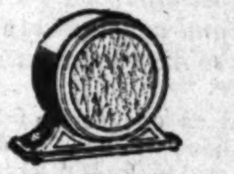
The Lowboy

Another Louis XVI design by Albert Carl Mowitz, for those who prefer a low cabinet. Handsomely matched butt walnut panels. The drop door, when open, forms a convenient arm-rest for tuning. Fluted legs and pillars. No nails or screws. All joints doweled and glued. Exquisite finish.



The Table Model

The Philco table cabinet is of simple, classic design, finished in a rich, two-tone Spanish Brown which will harmonize perfectly with any interior. It contains the 7-tube (including rectifier) Philco Receiver, power supply, phonograph connection, built-in aerial and portable ground.



The Philco Speaker

A speaker specially designed for use with the Philco Table Model Radio. Reproduces the entire musical range, high notes as well as low notes, in perfect balance and proportion. A full broad, life-like tone. And a fit companion to Neutrodyne-Plus.

AND these new 1929 models contain Philco's own radio discovery—Neutrodyne-Plus—which has thrilled the radio world with its startling performance. Philco owners everywhere tell of results never before equalled in radio—distance range, selectivity and rare purity of tone. Wherever Philco has been put to the test, it has won out as superior performance.

Vast Distance Range

"8410 Radio Miles—including 6 Japanese stations," writes a user. And thousands more tell how Philco has brought distance back into its own. Super-power is the secret; power to break through interference; power to reach out and bring in far distant programs at volume you can enjoy!

Split-Hair Selectivity

"88 Stations in a Single Night!" … "4 Stations on 3 Points of the Dial!" … records like these are the pride of Philco owners. Powerful stations confined to narrow limits on the dial. A hair's breadth turn often tunes out one station completely and brings another booming in. Sharp—clear—no "groping." And with a single dial!

NewType Electro·Dynamic Speaker

Philco engineers have perfected the Dynamic Speaker!

Gone the "rain-barrel" effect! Gone the unnatural emphasis on the low tones. No more is the melody lost in the unmusical "boom, boom, boom" of the bass. No more blurred and unnatural speech.

In the New Type Electro-Dynamic Speaker, Philco engineers have restored the high tones to their proper place, while preserving the pleasing background of the lows. Music reaches your ears with correct emphasis on the melody in relation to the bass. Speech is wonderfully clear and distinct. The whole effect is startlingly true to life.

And volume! You can turn on the power till the volume is even too loud for comfortable reception—and still there is no distortion, no rattle. All the sparkle and brilliance of the original tone is RE-produced.

The secret of the amazing efficiency of the Philco Electro-Dynamic Speaker lies in seven major improvements of exclusive Philco design. Fully explained in the Free Philco Booklet. See coupon below.

Neutrodyne-Plus

Power, super-power—that's the secret of Neutrodyne-Plus, Philco's New Radio Discovery. The power to perform under the most difficult local conditions; the power to reach out over vast distances, even during the daytime; the power for split-hair tuning of stations. This great power Philco engineers have added for the first time to Neutrodyne, famous for its pure, clear tone. Thousands, the country over, are praising the wonders of Neutrodyne-Plus.

No Aerial Needed

Philco needs no aerial for local and many distant stations. All-electric—entirely dry. Phonograph connection on the dial plate of Highboy and Lowboy models to play records electrically. Special range control cuts out local interference and separates distant stations. 8 tubes including rectifier. Push-pull amplification. One dial control. Four condensers. Many other features fully described in Free Philco Booklet—Send coupon.

Philco, 1145 Wall St., Los Angeles, Calif.

Kindly send me, free and without obligation, the radio booklet showing the new 1929 Philco All-Electric Radio models and telling about Philcos New Type Electro-Dynamic Speaker and "Neutrodyne-Plus." Also send me prices and details of how I can arrange for a Free Home Demonstration.

WOMAN'S NOTE HINTS SUICIDE

But Hickman Lecturer Has Change of Heart

Lack of Grand Jury Action Blamed for Threat

Her Story of Kidnaping Was Not Verified

Disappointed, she said, because the grand jury took no action on her story of being kidnaped by four men and taken to Oregon in a closed car, Mrs. Eunice McMillan Martin of 1160 West Twenty-seventh street decided to "end it all." In furtherance of her suicidal designs she went to Long Beach and wrote a letter to Edwin E. Cox, member of the grand jury. This letter was turned over to the police for investigation yesterday.

The letter, dated Sunday, the 13th inst., said:

"Tomorrow my dead body will be found in an abandoned apartment-house in Los Angeles. I will be through with this peculiar manifestation we mistakenly call life."

MIND CHANGED

But yesterday Mrs. Martin, who says she is a teacher of the new school of applied Christian psychology, changed her mind. She returned to her home because, she declared, she didn't want the police to think she was afraid to face trial on the 21st inst., for "outraging public decency" by lecturing on the Hickman case. She was arrested October 19, last, after she had advertised the lecture at the Music Arts Hall, 233 South Broadway.

Dep. Dist.-Atty. Oliver, who heard Mrs. Martin's kidnaping story, declined to take action, he said, because Mrs. Martin could present no evidence in support of her amazing tale.

STATEMENT TO JURY

The statement by Mrs. Martin to the grand jury was substantially as follows:

"About noon, on November 3, I was walking on Broadway near Fourth street when a man wearing a police badge accosted me, and asked me to go with him, as he was investigating some of the things I said I was to lecture about.

"He escorted me to a closed car, a dark blue limousine, and drove out to Ventura Boulevard. There were three other men in the car. They drove at a furious rate of speed for two days, and I could tell by the country we were up in Oregon.

"All the men told me was that they were going to take me out to the mountains and kill me. No one would ever find my body, they said. Their motive was that they wanted to punish me for mixing up in the Hickman case.

GLENDALE DESTINATION

"We had nothing to eat but coffee in thermos bottles and sandwiches bought at roadside cafes. Finally they turned south and let me out in Glendale. That was November 9."

Mrs. Martin then, she said, went to the District Attorney's offices and told her story to the grand jury. No action was taken by that body.

A few days before the asserted kidnaping Mrs. Martin reported receiving a death threat through the mails. This consisted of a crudely drawn coffin, with the words: "Death. Beware. You and yours. Vengeance will soon be ours." On the advice of her sister, Mrs. G. M. Caldwell, who is an attorney, Mrs. Martin turned the letter over to the Federal authorities for investigation.

EX-MEXICAN PRESIDENT'S NIECE WEDS

Miss Elise de Huerta and C. Alvarez Gayou Take Vows at Church

Members of the De la Huerta family an da few close friends gathered at St. Vincent's Church, Adams and Figueroa streets, yesterday at 10 a.m. to witness the marriage of Senorita Elisa de la Huerta, niece of the former President of Mexico, to Senor C. Alvarez Gayou. The wedding was marked by the greatest simplicity, the bride's only attendant being her aunt, Mrs. Adolfo de la Huerta, the bridegroom being attended by Adolfo de la Huerta, Jr., son of the former President.

Immediately following the ceremony, the couple left by motor for San Diego, where they will remain a few days before going on to their future home in Phoenix, Ariz.

Mrs. Gayou has lived in Los Angeles for the past three years, residing with her parents at 437 West Twenty-first street. Gayou formerly was a lieutenant-colonel in the Mexican army under Gen. de la Huerta. At present he is engaged in business in Phoenix. He and his bride met in Los Angeles about six months ago.

GOLDEN WEDDING INVITATIONS ISSUED

Mr. and Mrs. Elon R. Proctor of 224 MacNeil street, San Fernando, who were married in 1879 in the meeting-rooms of the First Christian Church in the old two-story Courthouse, which stood on the south end of the site of the new City Hall, have issued invitations to anyone who attended their wedding to take part in an at-home celebration of their golden wedding anniversary on the 19th inst., at the MacNeil-street address. The couple were married by Rev. John C. Hay, who was pastor of the First Christian Church in 1879.

DENTISTS GO EAST

Dr. Frank Kaiser and Dr. Alfred Wilkes are in Chicago for the annual midwinter dental convention, it was announced yesterday. Dr. Kaiser will show his motion picture on the treatment of pyorrhea and Dr. Wilkes will read a paper on inlays.

SOCIETY

BY JUANA NEAL LEVY

Cards of invitation are being issued by Mrs. D. Joseph Coyne of 1250 Crenshaw Boulevard for an afternoon affair Wednesday, the 30th inst., at her home, in honor of Mrs. Christy Walsh and Mrs. Michael A. Weller. The hours are from 2 to 5 o'clock.

Mrs. Walsh was formerly Miss Madeline Souden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Souden of Ponet Drive, who, with her young son Christy, Jr., has come out for her annual visit to her parents and many friends here, and many delightful affairs are being arranged in her honor. Since their marriage some years ago Mr. and Mrs. Walsh have made their home on Riverside Drive, New York City.

For Bride-Elect

Miss Evelyn Kingston, attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick C. Kingston of Lucerne Boulevard, is being the incentive for many delightful prenuptial affairs before her marriage February 19 with Donald Layton Greenwood.

Friday evening Mr. and Mrs. James Flanagan entertained with a dinner party at their home honoring Miss Kingston and Mr. Greenwood; other guests including Mr. Mrs. Theodore Off and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Fishburn. Sunday evening Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Edwards, Jr., gave a buffet supper for them, sixteen guests having been bidden.

The 23rd inst. Miss Marian Gaffney is planning a bridge-tea at the Mary Louise honoring Miss Kingston, while the 25th inst. Miss Ruth Richardson is planning a similar affair at her new home on North Orange Drive, Hollywood, and February 2 Miss Suzanne Stephens, one of the popular debutantes of the season is giving a dinner party at her home on Kings Road for Miss Kingston, with Mr. Greenwood sharing the honors.

Home From Honeymoon

The marriage of Miss Grace Inman, attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Inman of 456 South Van Ness avenue, to Ligon Briggs Ard was solemnized December 21, the ceremony taking place at the Mission Inn, Riverside, in the presence of twenty-five relatives and friends who motored down for the ceremony and wedding breakfast which followed.

After a brief honeymoon motoring through the southern part of the State Mr. and Mrs. Ard have returned to Los Angeles to make their future home.

A photograph of Ruth St. Denis was inadvertently used under the caption of Mrs. Ard in the columns of Sunday society.

Gone Abroad

Leaving last Saturday, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Jevne and the latter's two daughters, Misses Winifred and Alice Rule, are on their way to New York City where, the 22nd inst., they are sailing abroad the Samaria for Europe by way of the Mediterranean for a four months' tour of the continent.

At the Mary Louise

Dr. and Mrs. Ralph Winfred Miller were host and hostess at a delightful luncheon Saturday, the 12th inst., at the Mary Louise on West Seventh street. A large oval table was laid in the main dining-room and decorated with poinsettias and blending sweet peas and ferns. Streamers of tulle and colored candles in silver holders added to the charm of the decorations. The guests were Dr. and Mrs. Rufus B. Von KleinSmid, Dr. and Mrs. Chester Wallace Brown, Dr. and Mrs. Judson C. Rives, Mrs. Sloan Orcutt, Wilson Brown, H. Wilson, Mae Kohler, Ella Spencer, Elizabeth Brown, Mmes. Erasmus Wilson, Albert Beck Wengel, Hill M. Wiley, Ely Patterson, Hattie Ebell and Bess Givens, and Messrs. Paul Harvey, Raphael Herman, Alden Spinner, Richard Abee, Arthur Wiley, Edwin Gilbert and Dr. Emil Harvies.

Bridge-Tea

One of the smart affairs of the new year was the bridge-tea given last week by Miss Margaret Lou Carry of Glendale in honor of Miss Elsie Baxter of Los Angeles, who is leaving next month for Europe, where she will study music.

The decorations were charmingly carried out in crimson and gold.

Yuletide Revels

One of the loveliest of the Christmas parties was the Yuletide Revels given by Westlake School for Girls and Holmby College in their new home, 700 North Fairing Road, this being always a part of the Christmas program.

The "revels" were held in the great hall, beautifully decorated for the occasion with a large Christmas tree, wreaths and red candles. The program began with the playing of chimes by Miss Janet Bellinger, followed by the singing of carols by Miss Dorothy Hoeger, accompanied on the violin by Miss Grace Crenshaw.

Heralds summoned the guests, Miss Janet Schenk and Miss Mary Alice Dolton enacting the parts. Miss Betty Janss made an admirable jester in cap and bells and gave her "salutations and greetings to you all." Miss Margaret Carter as the hunter and Miss Helen Campbell and Miss Marybeth Fyle as servitors participated in the "Board's Head Ceremony," with the students of the college joining in the "Boar's Head Song." Miss Helen Gardner gave a harp solo and Miss Helen Miles a vocal selection, followed by carols, sung by the Misses Esther Pepperdine, Ruth Deames, Irene Victor and Norma Kothe.

Reading of thirteenth-century hymns and carols were given by the Misses Gulita Caperton, Georgia Crowell, Helen Kierulff, Florence Ortman and Maxine George. Members of the senior class sang "God Rest Ye Merry Gentlemen," after which the Yule log was brought in, with the Misses Jean Douglas, Nancy Stafford, Barbara Dukes and Valerie Higgin as the carriers. Songs were sung by Miss Betty Milnor and Miss Elaine Kelly, followed by a "Fire Dance" by the Misses Patricia MacWhinney, Janet Webster, Dorothy Hunt, Janet Dines, Barbara Nims, Jeanie Cleveland, Maxine Dally and Shirley Douglas. Santa Claus arrived and was welcomed by the Misses Janet George, Jane Deagen, June Rinock and June Hibbard with a dance around the Christmas tree.

Following the distribution of gifts, the ceremony of bringing in the "wassail bowl" took place, with the Misses Fern Kasl, Nancy Fanning, Lydia Barry and Dorothy Driver assisting, while the college girls sang. The program was concluded with toasts, followed by "Auld Lang Syne" in which all the school took part.

Society Attends

The Playhouse in South Figueroa street was the scene of a brilliant gathering last evening when society en masse attended the opening performance of "The Guardsman," the second offering to be given by the Los Angeles Repertory Theater Company.

Society of the Southland is enthusiastically supporting this endeavor, and among the season's subscribers who attended last evening's performance, many of them entertaining groups of friends, included Mr. and Mrs. J. C. F. Adsatt, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Baruch, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur S. Bent, Mrs. Albert C. Bilicke, Dr. and Mrs. Ernest Albert Bryant, Mrs. A. G. Bartlett, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hathaway Bixby, Mr. and Mrs. Eli P. Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Sim W. Crabill, Dr. and Mrs. Andrew C. Cameron, Mr. and Mrs. Harry T. Coffin, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Y. Mrs. Ligon Briggs Ard

MR. AND MRS. LIGON BRIGGS ARD, whose wedding was an event of December 31, have returned from their wedding trip and are at home to their many friends here at 5170 Edgewood Place. Mrs. Ard formerly was Miss Grace Inman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Inman of 456 South Van Ness avenue.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

Useful Items

Equal parts of turpentine and ammonia will remove paint stains from woolen clothing, no matter how old the marks are.

To rid house plants of the small black flies which hatch in the soil, insert the heads of three or four sulphur matches in each pot.

Never put away the soup meat in the soup. It will not keep as well. Remove it to a platter and return it to the soup when it is to be reheated.

Never completely fill a hot water bag. It does no more good than a half-filled one and is much more weighty and uncomfortable to the sick person.

Safety and Unsafe Matches

Use safety matches every place in the house except in the kitchen. No woman feels she has the time to bother with safety matches when getting a meal. But these matches can be made safe by keeping them high and in a tin box with a lid. The lid can be removed over meal time but replaced afterward and will keep the matches safe from mice and other causes of accident.

A Protection

If you telephone for your meat as a rule, it is wise to weigh it every so often and see if you and your butcher tally. If you do not, a reprimand will keep the butcher on his guard.

When Traveling

If the silk dress is mussed from packing, hang it over a bathtub of hot water for an hour or so and it will be quite freshened without sending it away to be pressed.

WARDING OFF OLD AGE

In the course of time we may learn to so control our environment and ourselves that we can overcome some or all of the symptoms of old age, but, at the present time, the only hope of a real rejuvenation lies in that which can be secured by better physical health and a joyful mental attitude. Too many people are seeking short cuts. They would rather have something done to them than do something for themselves.

In Gothe's opera, "Faust," is found the remedy for warding off old age. Faust, as do many people today, refused to employ a remedy which required much effort on his own part, preferring a magic formula or decoction. Here are some of the first instructions given to Faust:

"Drop luxuries, and to the fields repair . . . support thyself upon a frugal fare . . . This is the surest method, without fail, at 80 to grow young again and hale."

There are undoubtedly many honest gland surgeons, sincere in their work. They undoubtedly accomplish good in many cases, and I am not trying to deride their efforts in the least, for they know, perhaps better than anyone else, that the big promises of the "rejuvenators" are untrue. There is no method at present known that can in a few minutes make a man of 80 years of age grow in appearance like a man of 25.

It must be remembered in transplanting a gland from one animal to another that the life of the gland depends upon two factors. The first is nourishment from the blood and lymph, and the second is nerve stimulation. It is usually possible for a transplanted gland to obtain sufficient nourishment to keep alive for a limited time, but it is almost invariably true that the transplanted glands have been absorbed and entirely disappear before one or two years have elapsed.

There is much hope dietetically for prolonging youth. The key probably lies in some special balancing of the mineral elements of foods. Potassium, for instance, is believed to be a protective element against many parasites and fungus growths, while sodium acts as an agent to keep the salts of lime and magnesium dissolved. In its absence these are precipitated into the tissues.

Much can be accomplished by living on a carefully selected diet, adopting a youthful attitude of mind, and using regular vigorous physical culture exercises. The idea that food may play an important part in warding off old age is not a new one. It is found in the legends of practically every land. It is said, for instance, that the only difference between the legendary gods of ancient Greece and human beings was that the gods were immortal. The people ate of ordinary foods, but the gods had a special diet consisting of only ambrosia and nectar. By using only this food and drink they incorporated within themselves none of the gross mortal stuffs of the earth. The secrets of these two compounds were supposed to be strictly guarded by the gods, who regarded their own immortality with jealousy, for had man been able to secure ambrosia and nectar he, too, would have become immortal.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Sun Baths

Question: Mrs. A. W. asks: "In taking sun baths, is the benefit greater in hot weather or in the middle of the day when the sun is hottest, or does it make any difference? Also state whether one continues to be benefited after the skin has become quite brown."

Answer: The air of the morning about 10 to 12 o'clock is fresher and has not become so heated by the sun's rays and still it seems that there is about as much ultraviolet effect at this time as later on in the day when the heat rays seem to accumulate. You will continue to be benefited from these sun baths even though the skin becomes brown, and although it takes an increasingly longer exposure to get the same effect upon the blood.

Cinnamon

Q.: Mrs. O. J. asks: "Is cinnamon constipating when used to flavor cakes?"

A.: Cinnamon, along with other condiments, can be considered constipating inasmuch as it tends to irritate the alimentary canal and in that way induce an excessive flow of lubricating fluids of the intestines. The effect is to afterward produce more dryness of these membranes. You heed fear no trouble with any of the common condiments unless they are used in excess.

Rheumatism and Sex

Q.: I. C. C. asks: "Does articular rheumatism attack both sexes?"

A.: The amount of rheumatism between males and females seems to be about equally divided, except that there are more women at the menopause who develop various forms of rheumatism than with the male at approximately the same age.

FUNDAMENTALIST WILL PREACH IN GLENDALE

Dr. J. Frank Norris, fundamentalist, from Fort Worth, Tex., will come to Glendale within the near future to conduct an eight weeks' evangelistic campaign, according to announcement made yesterday by Rev. Dale S. Crowley, pastor of the New Testament Baptist Church at Glendale. A tabernacle to seat 5000 persons will be erected, Mr. Crowley said. Dr. Norris is pastor of the largest church in the world, the First Baptist Church at Fort Worth, with 10,000 members and a Sunday-school enrollment of 5000. The revival services will be conducted under the auspices of the New Testament Baptist Church.

OBJECTORS SCORE

Protestants against the ordinance of intention for the improvement of West Boulevard between Sixtieth street and Florence avenue succeeded yesterday in getting the Council to order that the present proceedings be abandoned. New proceedings will be instituted which will omit the present provision for a storm drain.

"What Will 1929 Mean to You?"

What Are Its Possibilities for Yourself in Business, Finance, Love and Marriage?

"'Know thyself' is more imperative now than in the time of Socrates. Each individual is born with definite aptitudes and abilities that require developing. We may ascertain what these are through the ancient science of astrology; then strike out for a definite goal, knowing what we want and how to get it. Desire for success is active in every human being. Many lead discontented, unhappy lives because they do not do the work for which Nature fits them. Lack of self-knowledge causes them to spend years in fruitless effort and vague dreaming.

"I believe that astrology is the best guide for correct and happy living. It explains our individual characteristics, tells us of the most propitious periods for doing a thing and shows us how to meet and conquer the vicissitudes of life."

If you have an important problem which you wish solved, conduct your daily affairs according to the influences indicated for you in your individual horoscope.

Our shrewdest, wealthy investors have learned that what they invest in is not a factory or a plant, but, in the final analysis, IN HUMAN NATURE. Our most progressive financial institutions have learned the same thing.

GET A HOROSCOPE FOR EVERY MAN OR WOMAN IN YOUR FACTORY, OFFICE, OR HOME. You read it and give it to them to read.

The remarkable results achieved thru just KNOWING themselves will be startling and profitable for you.

Financial success, prominence and marital bliss may await you. This special horoscope is not the general delineation usually sent out by so-called astrologists. This horoscope is worked out according to your month, day and year of birth. For instance, a person born October 10, 1890, will receive a different horoscope from a person born October 10, 1891. This horoscope gives you the influence that each of the nine planets had at your birth and how each will affect your life.

What the Press Says of Belle Bart:

"The personal note in 'TODAY IN ASTROLOGY' makes it very popular with our women readers. And, incidentally, it isn't only Mother and the girls who want to read what is written in the stars about them—Father and the boys are just as curious to know what their birthdays will bring in the way of luck and character and career. Some are so impatient to find out that they cannot wait until their birthdays come around—they must have a personal letter from Belle Bart herself."

How to Keep Love
when excess fat might lose it

People who are over-fat lose in youth and beauty, health and vigor. What a pity. Excess fat is now easily controlled. You see that in every circle.

Some years ago science discovered a great cause of overweight. It lies in a gland which is under-active — a gland which largely controls nutrition. Fat is not lost to stay lost until that defect is corrected.

The modern method of treating obesity is embodied in Marmola prescription tablets. They were perfected in a famous medical laboratory. People have used them for 20 years — millions of boxes of them. They have told the results to others, and year by year the use has spread.

Today you see the effects in every circle. Slender figures are the rule.

Add [illegible] of a cup of vinegar and [illegible] tablespoonfuls of butter, place [illegible] double boiler and stir and [illegible] until thick, add two-thirds [illegible] of sour cream and stir [illegible] for two minutes, remove [illegible] the fire and beat for three [illegible]. Allow to cool and use [illegible] day.

[illegible] FRIED ONIONS

(Saratoga)

[illegible] Los Angeles, Cal.: Slice [illegible] in rings and sep[illegible] each ring, dip in milk, and [illegible] then dredge with flour and [illegible] at a time until brown [illegible] in deep hot fat.

[illegible] CABBAGE SALAD

[illegible] Pasadena, Cal.: Remove [illegible] leaves from a medium [illegible] of cabbage, cut out the [illegible] and shave or slice the [illegible] very thin. Cover with a [illegible] and set aside until [illegible] place in a sauce pan, [illegible] of sugar, two teaspoon[illegible] mustard, one teaspoon[illegible] one-quarter of a tea[illegible] of cayenne pepper, two [illegible] of butter, one [illegible] lemon juice, three ta[illegible] of Tarragon vinegar, one slightly beaten egg and half a cupful of cider vinegar; stir well, let boil up once, remove to a simmer burner, add three chopped pimientoes and eight stoned and chopped ripe olives. Slowly add the cabbage to the dressing and stir until well wilted. Garnish the top with finely chopped parsley, and the yolk of a hard-boiled egg that has been rubbed through a sieve.

BAKING POWDER BISCUITS

Sift three cupfuls of sifted flour with six level teaspoonfuls of baking powder, one teaspoonful of salt, and one teaspoonful of sugar, rub into these three tablespoonfuls of butter, and when like coarse meal, work to a smooth dough with one and one-half cupfuls of milk. Toss onto a floured board, pat out two-thirds of an inch thick, cut, place in a baking pan, brush with melted butter and bake fifteen minutes in a hot oven.

SPANISH CHICKEN PIE

Cut up a chicken and boil with a kitchen bouquet until tender; remove the meat from the bones and fry until a nice brown in two tablespoonfuls of chicken fat with two sliced onions, two chopped green peppers, and sprinkle over it one and one-half tablespoonfuls of flour. Heat three cupfuls of tomatoes, with two dozen ripe olives and one chopped clove of garlic; add to the chicken mixture, add three cupfuls of corn, place the mixture in a baking dish, season with salt, mix well, and bake a nice brown. Serve from the baking dish.

PHILADELPHIA PEPPER POT

E. C., Los Angeles, Cal.: One pound of tripe, two potatoes, two tablespoonfuls of parsley, one knuckle of veal, three quarts of cold water, one herb bouquet, one onion, two tablespoonfuls of flour, two tablespoonfuls of butter, cayenne pepper and salt and pepper. Place the knuckle of veal in a soup pot, cover with water and bring to a slow boil. Carefully skim and let simmer gently for three hours. Cook the tripe, after slicing in pieces about one inch square, for two hours in a separate saucepan. Chop the parsley and herbs fine, and add one-half of a red pepper pod to the boiling knuckle of veal. Add the potatoes which have been cut in dice, then add the tripe. Take out the knuckle of veal and cut the meat in small pieces; allow to cook all together for about half an hour, season with the salt, pepper and cayenne.

BREAKFAST FIGS

C. B. M., Sherman, Cal.: Your letter dated October 4, and sent care The Los Angeles Times, did not reach me until the 4th of January, 1929. Evidently mislaid at the office; I am sorry but you can keep this recipe and use it next year when figs come in.

Remove the stems from three pounds of ripe figs, sprinkle with half a cupful of baking soda and pour over three quarters of boiling water, let stand for fifteen minutes, drain and rinse well with cold water. Let drain and place in a preserving kettle; add two cupfuls of water and bring slowly to a boil, add three cupfuls of sugar and boil until clear. (Do not boil fast, just simmer.) Pack in hot jars, cap and process in simmering water for twenty minutes. Seal tight and cool.

The soda is used so as to soften the skin on the figs and then it is not necessary to peel them.

POPPY SEED COOKIES

H. B. C., Oceanside, Cal.: Sift one cupful of sifted flour with one cupful of sugar, and rub into it one cupful of butter, rub until the mixture is like fine meal; add a fourth of a cup of poppy seeds, two well-beaten eggs, and enough white grape juice to hold the dough together; roll out on a well-floured board to a quarter of an inch in thickness. Cut in any desired shape, place on oiled cookie sheets and bake in a hot oven.

CLAM CHOWDER

S. McA., Los Angeles, Cal.: Place in a saute pan one cupful of finely chopped bacon; heat and add to the bacon one finely chopped clove of garlic, and one finely chopped large onion, cook until the onion is clear; not brown. Heat four cupfuls of milk in a saucepan, add to it two cupfuls of boiling water, and one large can of minced clams from which the juice has all been drained. Heat in a saute pan, six tablespoonfuls of oil and stir into it one-fourth of a cupful of sifted flour; when well blended, add the bacon and onion mixture, then add to the milk mixture and beat until thick; add the clam juice and two cupfuls of boiled potato cubes and the water in which the potatoes were cooked; season with salt, pepper and finely chopped parsley; just before serving, stir in two tablespoonfuls of butter.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope, forwarded to this office, will bring a personal reply.

This department offers leaflets on weaning and feeding the child from 6 weeks to 6 years, prenatal care and diet for the nursing mother, constipation, eczema outfits for the new baby, sleeping, walking, teething, thumb sucking, ammoniacal urine, bed wetting, training in cleanly habits, periods of nursing, cod liver oil, orange juice, hives, worms, vomiting, refractory children, prune juice, lime water, rupture, styes and boils and cradle cap. Before asking a personal question about one these subjects, it is better to send a self-addressed stamped envelope for the leaflet you need. If your particular problem is not covered in the above list, Mrs. Eldred will be glad to give you a personal reply.

CHILD'S TEMPER DISTRACTS MOTHER

Mrs. A. writes: "I am writing you because I am at my wit's end with my 4½-year-old daughter. I have a boy of 7 and a baby of 10 months. The boy and the baby are nice children and they mind well, but the little girl! We have done everything we can think of. I have scolded, then spanked and talked nice to her. But she does things anyway. She goes in the pantry and gets dried beans and fills baby's bottle and throws them around the room. She gets baby's powder when I am out of the room and throws a full can all over the house. I tell her that it hurts me when she is a bad girl and she only laughs.

"Last Christmas she got a set of cooking dishes and before New Year's they were all broken and bent. Could you tell me something that would appeal to her good side? She sometimes tells me to cut baby's head off, if she sees me cutting bread, yet at times she is as good as gold."

ANSWER

The child herself has given you a clew to the cause of her behavior, but you haven't heeded it. All her antipathy seems to be toward the baby and this is not at all uncommon. Children suffer real tortures of jealousy toward younger children who come between the mother and themselves. In spite of yourself you are probably prone to remark to this child: "See how good your brother is and your little sister. Why can't you be nice like them?" Such remarks only infuriate a child.

Another method of attaining attention is to be so bad that you can't help noticing the child, even though you are angry at her. We would think that was very faulty reasoning except that we know most "bad" children are bad because they have found that by being so they gain notice that otherwise would not be given them. This happens very frequently in families the size of yours. The older child has a position of importance because he is the oldest. The baby has a position of importance because she is the baby. Only the in-between girl has no position. So she makes one for herself by being so bad that you notice her because of it. Also, she shows her inner feelings toward the baby by telling you to cut her head off. She wants the baby removed because the baby is taking your attention from her.

Please believe me when I tell you that the remedy is simple. You must in every possible way show your affection for the child so that she no longer needs to use such methods of getting attention. Praise her. Each time you do something for the baby, do something for her, too. Notice her, make her feel that her position in the household is just as important as either of the other children. Never tell her she is bad. When she acts so maliciously, tell her that she is now your big daughter and you expect her to act like a big girl. In every possible way appeal to her sense of being older than baby and therefore more dependable and trustworthy. She'll respond to this by being trustworthy.

WOMEN ASSURE FITTS SUPPORT

Federation of Clubs Passes Confidence Resolution

Delegates Crowd Hall to Hear Problems Discussed

Lines for Coming Elections Drawn at Session

BY MYRA NYE

Expressing approval and encouragement to Dist.-Atty. Fitts in his present court activities, the Los Angeles District Federation of Women's Clubs, assembled yesterday in council at the Catholic Women's Club, passed a resolution unanimously which voiced moral support of the club women in his efforts to maintain the integrity of the county courts.

"Believing in the sincerity, the ability, the lack of interest in purely self-advancement and inherent honesty of Buron Fitts," the resolution reads, "we, the members of this council, do recommend Mr. Fitts for his task with the pledge to stand by him in so far as our influence may prevail."

"To the ultimate end that the county of Los Angeles may stand before the whole United States as law abiding," was another clause in the resolution.

The resolution was drafted and presented by the West Ebell Club, Mrs. Will Lee Austin, president, and presented for action by the president of the district, Mrs. William Waller Slayden, who spoke in its favor.

ALL-DAY SESSION

At the all-day session of the council, with representatives of 200 clubs crowding the auditorium, other actions of importance to the district were discussed. Two plans for reapportionment of the State federation, a subject of controversy for several years, were presented, but no decision was reached. Mrs. Mab Copeland Lineman, well-known lawyer and chairman of one of the State departments, represents the Los Angeles district on the revision committee appointed by Mrs. W. W. Green, State president, and headed by Mrs. W. S. Cairns, a prominent club woman of the State from the San Joaquin Valley district.

"We are asking less than we have ever asked before, but this time we mean business," said Mrs. Lineman, who conducts a department for the council on securities.

In connection with the effort for a more fair apportionment of delegates to convention with voting power and a better distribution of dues, the Los Angeles district having long paid the greatest sum in dues of all six districts of the State and having in proportion to membership the smallest voting power, the line-up in the campaign for elections as brought out yesterday is significant. Mrs. Slayden, whose term of office as chief of the district expires this spring, is candidate for State president with opposition from the southern district. The San Francisco, Joaquin and Alameda districts have been won apparently to Mrs. Slayden's side.

LINES DRAWN

Also the line-up for the election of district officers was definite for the first time yesterday. Mrs. Howard U. Sherwood and Mrs. John Stearns Thayer are contestants for the presidency; Mrs. H. L. Strob and Mrs. Charles S. McKelvey for the vice-presidency; Mrs. W. Riley and Mrs. Ralph Smith, secretary; Mrs. Grace Y. Hudson and Mrs. George Parker for federation secretary, and Mrs. H. D. Johnson for auditor. Mrs. Daniel Baptiste is candidate for the presidency of the county federation of Ventura.

Election will take place for the district at the annual convention in Pasadena in April and for the State at Santa Cruz in May. This month opens the beginning of marked activity in both federations. In their struggle for reapportionment for the California federation, many club leaders have expressed themselves as firm in their belief that a victory for club women in this line is a step toward better political reapportionment in the State.

A delightful program yesterday augmented the activities of the day. Mrs. Hudson, as chairman of community service, presented B. R. Lefferts, recently appointed as chairman of the committee to devise safer traffic, who spoke on "Highway Safety."

Other departments presented briefly, include: American citizenship, Mrs. J. W. Gastrich; business and protective law, Mrs. Lineman; junior memberships, Mrs. Herbert Riley; a noteworthy musical program by the musical department, Miss Lucy Wollcott chairman; parliamentary law, Mrs. McKelvey; radio, Mrs. J. Hokom; federation news, Mrs. W. J. Richardson, and emblems, Mrs. George H. Winsworth

The Saturday Evening Post has become the most widely read magazine in the world—because away back in Colonial days Ben Franklin got the idea that the best publishing policy was to offer the public a publication of quality at a price everyone could pay—sell everybody the magazine and make a tiny profit on each sale. The same principle has made Safeway Stores the West's largest food concern.

Nation's Ranking Metallurgists Here For Western Metal Congress

HUNDREDS of devices and materials involved in the search for a lighter metal with a greater tensile strength, one of the era's greatest needs, are displayed at the Shrine Auditorium where the Western Metal Congress opened a five-day exhibit yesterday, in connection with the conclave at which approximately 3500 technical engineers, scientists and others connected with the industry will be in attendance. The exhibits range from instruments used in improving metals along scientific lines, to the actual finished products, in weight from one ounce to many tons. Morning sessions of the conclave are held at the Biltmore. Photos below on this page were taken yesterday at the exhibit. (P. & A. photos.)

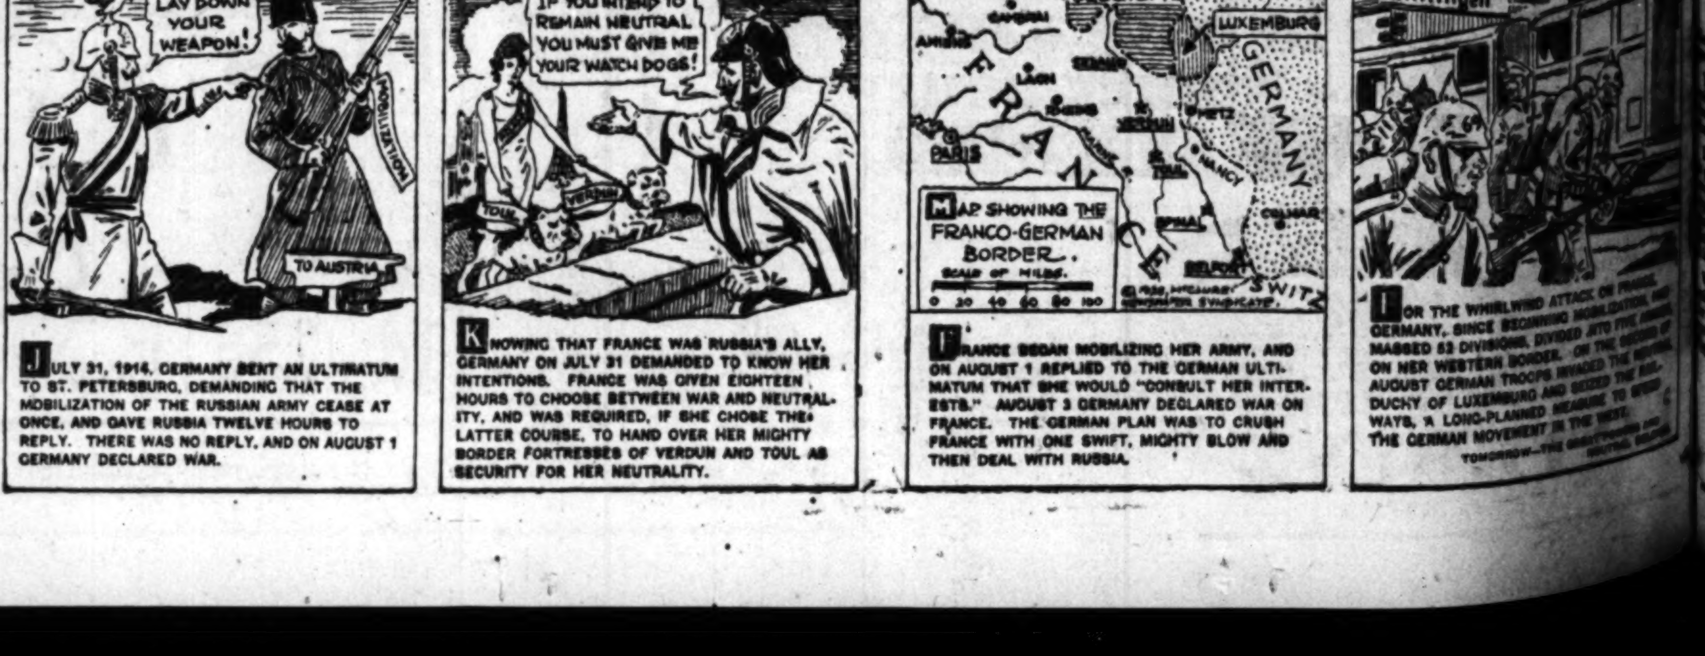
The Story of the World War

VIII—Germany Declares War On Russia and France.

by J. CARROLL MANSFIELD



JULY 31, 1914, GERMANY SENT AN ULTIMATUM TO ST. PETERSBURG, DEMANDING THAT THE MOBILIZATION OF THE RUSSIAN ARMY CEASE AT ONCE, AND GAVE RUSSIA TWELVE HOURS TO REPLY. THERE WAS NO REPLY, AND ON AUGUST 1 GERMANY DECLARED WAR.

KNOWING THAT FRANCE WAS RUSSIA'S ALLY, GERMANY ON JULY 31 DEMANDED TO KNOW HER INTENTIONS. FRANCE WAS GIVEN EIGHTEEN HOURS TO CHOOSE BETWEEN WAR AND NEUTRALITY, AND WAS REQUIRED, IF SHE CHOSE THE LATTER COURSE, TO HAND OVER HER MIGHTY BORDER FORTRESSES OF VERDUN AND TOUL AS SECURITY FOR HER NEUTRALITY.

FRANCE BEGAN MOBILIZING HER ARMY, AND ON AUGUST 1 REPLIED TO THE GERMAN ULTIMATUM THAT SHE WOULD "CONSULT HER INTERESTS." AUGUST 3 GERMANY DECLARED WAR ON FRANCE. THE GERMAN PLAN WAS TO CRUSH FRANCE WITH ONE SWIFT, MIGHTY BLOW AND THEN DEAL WITH RUSSIA.

FOR THE WHIRLWIND ATTACK ON FRANCE, GERMANY, SINCE BEGINNING MOBILIZATION, HAD MASSED 52 DIVISIONS, DIVIDED INTO FIVE ARMIES, ON HER WESTERN BORDER. ON THE SECOND OF AUGUST GERMAN TROOPS INVADED THE NEUTRAL DUCHY OF LUXEMBURG AND SEIZED THE RAILWAYS, A LONG-PLANNED MEASURE TO SPEED THE GERMAN MOVEMENT IN THE WEST.

ALIEN SKY PLOT CHARGED

Federal Officers Assert Suspects Engaged With Ring in Smuggling Chinese by Plane

What is declared by government agents to be a plot to smuggle Chinese into the United States from Mexico on a wholesale scale was revealed yesterday upon the arrest of two men, said to oe the brains of the asserted smuggling ring. The two men gave the names of John T. Henry, 35 years of age and John Frank Smith, Jr. The latter is reported to have said he is the nephew of a Superior Court judge at Denver.

Several others are being held as material witnesses by the government. It was revealed that the asserted smuggling venture involved an investment of many thousands of dollars, the hiring of about a half-dozen aviators and the leasing of a half-dozen passenger airplanes.

LONG INVESTIGATION

The arrest of Henry and Smith followed a three-months investigation on the part of Immigration Inspectors Ellis, Dick and others, and Customs Inspector Hansen and associates.

According to the Federal officers, a meeting was held in September, last, at which time a plan was evolved to transport alien Chinese from Mexico to the United States at $1000 a head. Planes were leased, it is said, and aviators were hired, each to receive $200 for each trip, which were made from Laguna Salada or Dry Lake, twenty-five miles south of Mexicali. Most of the Chinese were recruited from Mexicali, it is said. Numerous Chinese were landed at Sacramento, San Francisco and Los Angeles, it is reported.

PLANES CRASHED

The arrest of Henry and Smith followed the crash of a Ryan monoplane at Somis, near Ventura, on the 4th inst., at which time four Chinese were seen to leave the plane and escape. A similar incident occurred when a plane crashed December 19, last, at Moreno, near March Field, at which four Chinese also were seen to escape.

It was learned that at the time Henry and Smith were arrested in Los Angeles, they were arranging to lease a twenty-five-passenger Ford plane for the asserted smuggling route.

Immigration officers stated that complaints will be filed today against Henry and Smith. Other arrests are expected shortly.

Women's Shoes More Colorful, Says Merchant

Color is the predominating keynote in women's footwear for spring, says C. H. Baker, one of the largest retailers of shoes west of Chicago, who just has returned from an eastern buying trip.

"This will be the most colorful spring in the history of the shoe business," says Baker. "Variety in color combinations of all types will predominate. Solids will be in the minority. Nearly everything in women's wear will run to two or three colors, with trimmings mainly in pastel colors.

An outstanding feature of spring wear is Deauvilles. Where last year there were twenty styles this year there will be fifty. Deauvilles will be extremely colorful. They are hand made, coming from Paris or Czecho-Slovakia.

Reptile footwear with lizards and water snakes predominating, will be in great demand. Solid colors will be smart, especially when trimmed with harmonizing kidskins.

The base of spring fashions will be parchment-colored kidskins. High lights will be in the trimming; pastel kidskins will be shown in light blues, light greens, lavenders and yellows—indeed, a riot of color for milady in the early 1929 spring season.

Fabrics will be extremely colorful. Linens will be colored and the American women will demand colored pipings, collars, straps, applique and fancy heels.

While some parts of India were recently reporting damage from floods, others announced that droughts had dried up their crops.

NEW STORE WILL OPEN TOMORROW

Tilton Company to Make Los Angeles Head for Large Retail Chain

The new Tilton retail store, which opens tomorrow in the Metropolitan Building at Fifth and Broadway, is located at one of the busiest corners of Los Angeles and will be the headquarters for the entire chain of Tilton stores on the Pacific Coast, it was announced yesterday. With the opening, it was explained, the management is breaking a time-honored precedent in the clothing business in not opening at the beginning or at the height of the "clothing season."

J. RESLER

"We do not believe in 'buying seasons' or 'off season,'" said Theodore H. Segall, advertising manager for the chain, yesterday. "Because we do not believe in these overworked habits of retailing we do not cater to them. We offer what we consider the best values possible in clothing and therefore to be consistent they must be worth the same throughout the year. As a result your business is steady throughout every month of the year.

"Proof enough of our beliefs lies in the eagerness we have shown in opening this new store. We have broken every record in our experience and observation with the rapidity which the Los Angeles unit has been opened. We took possession of the premises on the 2nd inst., just thirteen days ago, and in this short time have rebuilt and remodeled our entire floor, have installed our window and electric signs, full equipment for our alteration shop, specially constructed racks and arranged our stock. Doesn't that prove our confidence?"

HAROLD HESKINS

Three of the executives of Tilton organization already have established their homes in this city. They are J. Resler, president, Harold Heskins, manager of the new store, and Harry Resler. Mr. Heskins said the organization long wanted to establish a Los Angeles store but that it had been forced to await opportunity to obtain favorable location.

Greeks Meet Greeks in Test of Eloquence

Men and women students of the University of California at Los Angeles vied for oratorical honors last night when Pi Kappa Delta, national honorary forensics fraternity, staged its annual interfraternity and intersorority oratorical contests at 8 p.m. in Millspaugh Hall Auditorium. Harold Breecher, representing Zeta Beta Tau fraternity, won the interfraternity oratorical cup given annually by Pi Kappa Delta, and Dorothy Miller, speaker for the Alpha Delta Theta Sorority, took first place among the women's Greek letter societies.

Second place in the interfraternity contests was won by Bernard Harrison, Epsilon Phi, and second honors in the intersorority division were won by Winifred Hunt, Alpha Xi Delta. The winning speech of Dorothy Miller was on the subject, "America or What?" while Harold Breecher spoke on Benjamin Ida Wheeler, former president of the University of California and a world-famous educator.

Judges for the contest were Dr. William D. Barton and Dr. C. M. Suttles, both of the public-speaking department at U.C.L.A., and Dr. Marshall Dimock, professor of political science. The orations were judged on content and manner of presentation.

Though distributors' figures indicate a large increase in the number of automobiles in Los Angeles during 1928 due to added population and general prosperity, statistics compiled by the Automobile Club of Southern California show a remarkable decrease in the number of cars stolen, according to Captain of Detectives Wood.

The total number of automobiles stolen was 8251, which, according to Wood, is 1700 less than the total for the year before.

Out of the 8251 cars stolen but 1774 remain unrecovered, the report given out yesterday shows. Twenty per cent of this number, Wood stated, was recovered by owners not reporting the recoveries to police.

Move to Close Cafe Run by Arbuckle Fails

Roscoe (Fatty) Arbuckle's Plantation Cafe can continue to operate, as far as the Culver City Council is concerned, it appeared after a hearing last night, at which complaining witnesses who wanted to close the place as a public nuisance were heard.

After the hearing the Council went into executive session, and later Mayor Reve Houck announced that action would be deferred until "further consideration." This was taken to mean that the complainants against the cafe had failed to prove charges against the conduct of the roadhouse.

Arbuckle himself was an attentive spectator at the hearing, but did not testify.

The complaint against the roadhouse specified that "loud and unusual" noises came from the place after 2:30 a.m., which is the closing hour for Culver City cafes. Several witnesses said they heard such noises, particularly the sounds of orchestra drums, after 2:30 a.m., on at least one occasion.

Woman Married to Rich Rancher Three Days Lists Community Property

Community property running into six figures in value was accumulated at an exceptionally rapid rate between Ora Mae Merritt and her husband, Lewis Napoleon Merritt, wealthy Tulare rancher, according to the wife's action for divorce called for trial yesterday and continued until February 18 for depositions.

In her complaint Mrs. Merritt declares she married Merritt on April 13, 1928 and separated from him three days later. She recites that there is community property consisting of real estate valued at $350,000, three automobiles, a duck club, a ranch in Tulare, a yacht valued at $125,000, and a monthly income of $2000.

Flu-Cough
BETTER CHECK INFLUENZA NOW

Don't take chances—influenza usually starts with a cough—is accompanied by a cough—and ends with a cough. Be sure you take a remedy that is known to check coughs and colds. Piso's has done this for millions in the last 64 years.

PISO'S
FOR COUGHS AND COLDS

Piso's not only checks that irritating cough—but relief is so quick that you can be sure immediately of a good night's rest—and renewed vitality. Soothing and healing to the throat. Pleasant to the taste—excellent for children. Contains no opiates.

Make this convincing and compelling comparison

The reason you immediately detect a superior difference in riding and driving, when you step into a Cadillac or a La Salle, from some other car seeking to compete with them, is this: The Cadillac-La Salle plants are still as they were 25 years ago, the world's greatest laboratories for precision manufacturing.

If all the millions which the Cadillac Motor Car Company and General Motors have expended in developing the closest, finest, highest type of precision manufacturing in the world did not show itself in performance—it would be love's labor lost. But it does demonstrate itself with immediate emphasis.

All you need do is to drive some car aspiring to compete with Cadillac and La Salle—and then turn to the latter. The contrast will prove so startling as to be unanswerable. The moment you step into a Cadillac or La Salle and drive away—you know that there are hours and days and months and years of supremest satisfaction ahead of you which no other cars can yield.

The difference is perhaps more obvious today than ever before. For Cadillac has not been content with building the finest and finest-looking cars in the world. In collaboration with General Motors, it has developed, perfected, and embodied in today's Cadillacs, La Salles and Fleetwoods on these chassis, features of safety, performance and driving ease that contribute a measure of enjoyment and freedom of mind surpassing any other conceivable motoring experience.

In any driving crisis there is no more vital safety factor than the Cadillac-La Salle Syncro-Mesh Silent-Shift Transmission. It permits quiet, easy, instantaneous shifting of gears—at any speed—without pausing in neutral—and without the slightest suggestion of clashing. This transmission can be had only in Cadillac and La Salle.

The second great safety feature is the Cadillac-La Salle Duplex-Mechanical System of Four-Wheel Brakes. No other cars have comparable braking protection, for the reason that no other cars have brakes so powerful, so positive in action, so responsive to the slightest pedal pressure. For these cars and these alone are equipped with this new braking system.

A third great element of safety rests in the fact that all windows, doors and windshields are equipped with Cadillac-La Salle Security-Plate Glass. This means that the Cadillac or La Salle owner may forever dismiss all concern about being injured by flying glass fragments.

Make the comparison for yourself. Drive one of those cars seeking to class itself with Cadillac-La Salle. Then drive a Cadillac or La Salle. The conclusion is inescapable. If you want the supreme motoring qualities that characterize Cadillac-La Salle, you must drive a Cadillac or La Salle.

La Salle is priced from $2295 to $2875; Cadillac $3295 to $7000—all prices f.o.b. Detroit. Cadillac-La Salle dealers welcome business on the General Motors Deferred Payment Plan. Enjoy the car now and pay out of income.

Colden objected to on the ground that Councilman Martin, as a of the Harbor Committee, to report on the first of today and he asked that report made a special order of business for today. He admitted that his breakwater resolution, although it referred to the unification situation, had no direct bearing on the matter and said he would be willing to have consideration of the breakwater resolution deferred.

SUGGESTION ADOPTED

The discussion was ended by Councilman Hall moving to have both resolutions referred to the committee of the whole for consideration at a public meeting in the Council chamber tomorrow afternoon, and that motion was passed unanimously.

The resolution introduced by Councilman Colden yesterday would have the Council go on record as approving a solution presented in it for breaking the deadlock in which the breakwater-extension project is gripped at present. It reviews the reasons which make it seem unlikely that there will be any joint action on the building of the breakwater by Los Angeles, Long Beach and the Federal government.

Then it points out that before the board of review made its adverse report on the breakwater extension, its recorder, Maj. J. D. Arthur, advanced to the City Council and other interested parties the following alternative proposition:

ALTERNATIVE STATED

"A breakwater extension at Federal expense, without condition of local co-operation, either along the outer or inner location, but extending not further easterly than a point 8000 feet from the present breakwater lighthouse, to care principally for increased anchorage, contemplating the full development of inner harbor facilities."

The resolution accepts this proposition as a virtual offer by the Federal government to build an 8000-foot breakwater extension without expense to the city and asks the Council to recommend acceptance of the presumptive offer. It leaves the matter of further extension of the breakwater to the future and Councilman Colden said yesterday that if the Federal government would build the 8000-foot breakwater as proposed in Maj. Arthur's proposition, the city would be getting without any cost to it virtually all that Los Angeles is interested in.

RAIL LINE FACTOR

The rail-unification situation was dragged into the breakwater resolution by referring to it as one of the several factors which seemingly make it impossible for the breakwater to be built by joint action of the cities concerned and the Federal government.

The resolution points out that one of the conditions imposed by the Federal government before it will agree to such joint action is the creation of a publicly owned or controlled beltline serving uniformly and without discrimination all railroads entering the port and all terminals of the port. It then asserts that the present unification agreement does not meet this condition.

SILENCE FALLS ON HOLLYWOOD

Sound Films Call for Quiet and Watchmen Mute Boulevard Life

Red flags waved yesterday in Hollywood, but it wasn't a Bolshekiki demonstration. Flag waving is a new vocation in the sound-film industry—that of sound-stage watchmen.

Thirty of these watchmen were engaged yesterday by the Paramount studio, armed with red flags and whistles. It is their duty to see that nobody enters or leaves the sound stage when a scene is being filmed and that all animation in the vicinity of the stage is halted.

Sunday the watchmen brought into use their flags and whistles to keep traffic from moving on the streets about the studio when some outside scenes were being filmed.

SCOTCH CREAM MUFFINS

Sift one cupful of flour with one teaspoonful of baking powder, beat the yolks of two eggs with a fourth of a teaspoonful of salt, add one-half a cupful of cream and one tablespoonful of melted butter, stir in the flour, add the whites of the eggs beaten to a stiff froth, beat well; fill well oiled muffin pans one-half full and bake in a hot oven for twenty minutes.

SWEDISH FISH PIE

Make a rich pie paste and line a deep dish with the paste and let bake until half-done, take one-half a cupful of cold cooked fish, one-half a cupful of oysters, well drained, one-half a cupful of shrimps, and one-half a cupful of chopped mushrooms, mix all together, season with salt and paprika, add the grated rind of half a lemon, pour over one-fourth of a cupful of melted butter, one-fourth of a cupful of lemon juice, and one well beaten egg. Mix all together, place in the pastry-lined dish, cover with a top crust and bake in a medium oven for twenty-five minutes.

STUFFED VEAL HEARTS

Three medium-sized veal hearts, one cupful of dried bread crumbs, two tablespoonfuls of melted butter, one onion chopped, two tablespoonfuls of tomatoes, a seasoning of salt and pepper, soak the hearts in cold water for one hour, remove the muscles and arteries and parboil for ten minutes; make a stuffing of the crumbs, butter, onion, tomatoes and the seasonings, fill the hearts with this mixture and tie securely. Place in a covered baking dish, make a dressing of one cupful of tomatoes, one slice of onion, one-half a cupful of celery, cut in small pieces, one tablespoonful of butter, and season. Pour over the stuffed hearts, place in a medium oven and bake. Add a little hot water if the sauce cooks away. Remove to a hot platter, thicken the sauce, pour over the hearts and serve.

APPLE SOUFFLE

Cook six apples and sweeten to taste in as little water as possible, add one tablespoonful of butter, beat the yolks of three eggs with two tablespoonfuls of sugar, the juice and grated rind of half a lemon; allow to slightly cool, add the whites of the eggs, beaten to a stiff froth, place in a well-buttered baking dish and bake in a moderate oven.

Eight Recent Van de Kamp Hold-ups Said to Have Been Confessed

Frank Crudder, 23 years of age, of 533 South Figueroa street, and Howard Wilhelm, 28, of the same address, were arrested in their apartment yesterday afternoon a few hours after they had held up a Van de Kamp bakery at 7401 Melrose avenue, according to Detective Lieutenants Warren, Clark and Trosper of the Hollywood division. The detectives traced the men to their home after a witness to the robbery had furnished the license number of the automobile used by the hold-up men.

At the Hollywood station they were questioned for three hours by Captain of Detectives Wallis, who reported later that they had confessed to seven other Van de Kamp robberies and hold-ups within the last month. It was their custom, Capt. Wallis said, to drive up to a bakery shortly after it was opened by its young woman manager in the morning, and take the contents of the till, sums ranging from $30 to $100.

The bakery robberies include two at Beverly Boulevard and Westmoreland avenue; two at 7401 Melrose avenue, and one at the bakeries at 3601 Sunset Boulevard, 4612 West Washington street, and 2924 Los Feliz Boulevard. Crudder, the detectives said, admitted all seven hold-ups and Wilhelm confessed he had been involved in two.

BROTHER TO HANDLE MISS LORD ESTATE

C. C. Choen yesterday was appointed administrator of the estate of his sister, the late Pati Lord, Pasadena manager of the Hoover campaign, by Superior Judge Desmond. Miss Lord, prominent in Republican ranks of Southern California for many years, died November 25 last, leaving property valued at $50,000. Choen was represented by Attorney George Webster.

GIRL-'HUSBAND' GETS LIBERTY

Orange County Official to Drop All Charges

No Crime Committed, Says District Attorney

Agrees With Columnist on Question of Dress

SANTA ANA, Jan. 14.—Freedom was just around the corner today for Katnerine Wing, the girl who posed as a man and married Eileen Garnett, 16 years of age, in Santa Ana two years ago, and who has been held in the County Jail for several days with Stella Harper, 19, who was living as the "wife" of Miss Wing in Los Angeles.

Dist.-Atty. Z. B. West, Jr., today announced that he would order the girl's release. While she committed technical perjury, West said, by misrepresenting the Garnett girl's age at the time of the marriage, Miss Wing was not otherwise guilty of an offense in going through the ceremony or masquerading as a man, since the statutes apply only where someone has been damaged.

The District Attorney also stated that he was convinced after interviewing the girl, that she had no motive in donning masculine attire other than that she stated: to make a better success of the barber business.

"She impressed me as sensible, serious and sincere, and except for the one matrimonial slip, I cannot see that she has done anything particularly out of the way," West said.

"I am of the same mind as the Los Angeles newspaper columnist who admitted that, with the way the Hollywood girls dress, and the way girls appear in gob's attire at the beaches, there seems to be no standard attire for either men or women these days. No one now can say that there is such a thing as masculine attire or female dress," West declared.

There will be no charge against the Harper girl, who came from Springville, Utah, last October, to live with her friend, Katherine Wing, West said. The girl is entirely clear of any offense, it is said.

So "Kit" Wing can go back to her 200-acre ranch in Utah, where everybody is used to seeing her in boy's clothes, she says.

School District Split Looms Over Charges for Bus

ARCADIA, Jan. 14.—That a portion of the South Santa Anita district, now a part of the Pasadena High School district, is seeking separation from Pasadena in a request before County Superintendent Upjohn, was made known by school officials today. The petitioners request that they be given permission to join the El Monte district.

The proposed separation culminated over a controversy which started at the opening of the school term, when the Pasadena district failed to route its school bus through the South Santa Anita section. The complainants, who are residents in that section, state that their children are forced to pay bus charges to reach Pasadena High School.

The controversy was thought to have been solved three weeks ago, when the Pasadena board promised to extend the bus service.

NEW ORDINANCES AT SANTA BARBARA

SANTA BARBARA, Jan. 14.—Four ordinances that will affect electrical and radio installation, airplanes flying over the city and large consumers of city water went into effect today, a month since their final reading and adoption by the City Council.

An electrical ordinance revising old requirements and making provision for new methods of installation received its first recognition today by electricians. More stringent requirements in the setting up of radio aerials is marked in the ordinance, and heavy-duty circuits in wiring are legalized.

Planes flying over the city may not fly lower than 1000 feet, another new ordinance states. Those landing or taking off from a field within the city limits, however, will not violate the law.

Consumers of large quantities of water will pay slightly more for their water, according to an ordinance revising the rates and service charges that is effective today for the first time. The ordinance is entirely separate from that raising the water rates 50 per cent which will go into effect in February.

A fourth ordinance will create a board of water commissioners who will assist the water superintendent in planning future expansion of the department and in settling present problems.

TWO SENTENCED TO PRISON TERMS

VENTURA, Jan. 14.—Judge Collier of Los Angeles, sitting on the Superior Court bench here for Judge Edward Henderson, today sentenced two men to San Quentin. Jesus Rivera pleaded guilty to the charge of assault with a deadly weapon on Jesus Garcia at Montalvo on Christmas Day and was sentenced to prison.

Peter Dehoomack, 19 years of age, a native of Austria-Hungary, was sentenced to San Quentin after the boy had renewed his application for probation and had confessed to having been arrested in Los Angeles for vagrancy. He had previously pleaded guilty to breaking into the Stein & Taily store in Camarillo, where he had broken the windows by hurling rocks through them.

ONTARIO HAS BIRTHDAY

Southland City Looks Back Over Forty-seven Years of Progress and Prosperity

ONTARIO (Cal.) Jan. 14.—Forty-seven years ago today Ontario was christened. There are only two persons living today who attended the christening party. They are George B. Chaffey, Los Angeles, and William B. Dewey.

The name Ontario was brought to Southern California by George B. and William B. Chaffey, who left their home in Ontario, Can., to go to Southern California to seek their fortunes.

They were the men who founded Chaffey colony that has grown into one of the most prosperous and beautiful communities in the Southland. The two brothers, Dewey and Capt. Joseph S. Garcia, and a few other pioneers of the colony were gathered about the veranda of the "old brick hotel" out in Cucamonga district, the evening of January 14, 1881 when the subject of a name for Chaffey colony was brought up.

True to the city that had given them their start in life, the Chaffey brothers suggested Ontario, and the name was unanimously adopted.

The Chaffey brothers, in drawing up the charter that was to govern their colony, let it be known in strong language that they were bitter foes to anything that pertained to liquor.

Provisions were made in their colony charter that no places to dispense liquor would be permitted in their district. Any one caught selling or giving away liquor on colony land would lose his colony property. And any person who rented or leased colony land to negroes would likewise lose his property.

When the Chaffey brothers conceived the idea of a colony that would eventually develop this section of San Bernardino Valley they provided that enough land be set aside to make a beautiful tree-lined avenue, running north and south. Their avenue became known throughout the Pacific Coast as Euclid avenue, ten miles in length. They also set aside twenty acres of land for a college, and provided a substantial endowment. The college they visioned today has grown into Chaffey Union High School and junior college, the finest high school and junior college center in the State.

Ontario has never had a saloon, through the foresight of its founders.

The same successful colonization idea was carried out by Chaffey brothers later in Australia, where they went upon invitation of the Australian government.

Youths Charged With Burglary Over Dynamite

SANTA BARBARA, Jan. 14.—Charges of burglary were lodged late today against Robert Leslie, 17 years of age, and Edmund Symponds, 16, of Santa Barbara, who confessed to police that they had stolen 150 pounds of dynamite from the county road construction vault on San Marcos Pass. District Attorney Ward ordered the youths remanded to the detention home to await trial for the asserted offense.

While officers puzzled over the various charges which might be lodged against the two boys, police were slowly recovering some fifty sticks of the explosive, which had been indiscriminately thrown about the streets of Santa Barbara. Shaking residents gingerly carried a number of sticks to the police with the announcement that they had found them in their automobiles.

The powder, known as "Trojan 30" in sticks, is comparatively safe to handle while fresh, but grows dangerous with age, police pointed out, and, like other explosives, is not safe to be handled with impunity at any time. More than forty sticks of the fifty the boys admitted throwing around the city had been recovered today, in addition to a "cache" of 100 pounds found in the hills.

FOUR GENERATIONS AT GOLDEN WEDDING

HAWTHORNE, Jan. 14.—Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Clark of Acacia avenue here celebrated their golden wedding anniversary yesterday, with seven of their nine children present for the ceremonies, which included the repetition of the marriage vows of many years ago before their daughter, the Rev. Olive Dunham. Supper was served to twenty-one guests representing four generations, there being one great-grandchild. Mr. and Mrs. Clark were married at Smith Center, Kan., in 1879 and members of their family who could be present yesterday were Mrs. J. C. Fuller and Mrs. Ina Brawn of Kingman, Ariz.; Mrs. Ollie Dunham, Lawndale; Mrs. Morris Hughes, Whittier; Mrs. Ray Skaggs and Miss Sara Clark, Hawthorne; Miss Edith Clark, Los Angeles; Mrs. Ollie Smith, Houston, Tex., and Walter S. Clark of Wichita, Kan.

ACCIDENT FATAL TO COLLEGE ATHLETE

CLAREMONT, Jan. 14. (AP)—Edward Hansen, 21 years of age, star tackle on last year's varsity football team at Pomona College, died today of complications resulting from injuries received in an automobile accident last November.

Hansen and Clarence Bishop, another outstanding player on the team, were injured when their car crashed into another machine while the two youths were en route to Banning, Cal., for a pre-Thanksgiving visit with relatives.

ON TRIAL FOR MURDER

SANTA ANA, Jan. 14.—J. W. Montgomery, California Gun Club keeper, went on trial today before a jury in Superior Judge E. J. Marks's court, charged with the murder of two Sunset Beach duck hunters, John D. Callicot and Orlie R. Mahon.

To Arbitrate Question of Water Rights

SANTA BARBARA, Jan. 14.—Arbitration of the suit for water rights in the Santa Ynez River, brought by Santa Ynez Valley property owners against the City of Santa Barbara and Montecito water district and settlement by the State Division of Water Rights, were proposed at a regular meeting of the Board of Supervisors today by C. L. Preisker, chairman of the board, who presented the draft of a letter which he proposed that the board should send to each of the many plaintiffs in the suit, the councilmen of Santa Barbara and the directors of Montecito Water District.

The plan was unanimously indorsed by the board, but the sending of the letter was postponed to Monday, the 21st inst., in order that leaders among the plaintiffs, city and Montecito officials might be seen and their attitude toward the proposal ascertained.

Santa Barbara city and the Montecito Water District joined as defendants in the suit, have been spending thousands of dollars in preparing their defense. City water rates have been ordered raised to meet the growing expense of the suit, which are expected to raise to hundreds of thousands if the case continues for a number of years as the defense attorneys think likely.

FRATERNITY TO MEET IN SANTA BARBARA

SANTA BARBARA, Jan. 14.—Omega Xi Alpha, national journalistic fraternity, will hold its third annual State convention at Santa Barbara State College on January 10 and 11 next year, it was learned today from local delegates to this year's conclave held in Redlands University on Friday and Saturday.

The fraternity, which includes in its membership chapters in colleges throughout the State, was first begun two years ago. John A. Smith, a graduate of the local college who is now teaching in Los Angeles, was one of the founders.

Robert Whiteside of Redlands is retiring president of the national fraternity and H. A. Porter of Fresno State College is president-elect for the coming year. Smith, who is attending Southwestern University, was re-elected secretary-treasurer of the fraternity. St. Stevens College of Columbia University in New York was voted in as a new chapter. Invitations for next year's convention were sent in by Fresno State College, Southwestern University and Santa Barbara State College.

MEXICAN HELD ON BAD-CHECK CHARGE

FULLERTON, Jan. 14.—With three asserted fictitious checks, all bearing the notation, "for hoeing weeds," reposing in the files of local police, a fourth proved too much, and M. Lugo, 28 years of age, of Anaheim, was arrested when he attempted to cash it at a local store today.

Lugo had another check almost exactly like the one he attempted to pass when arrested by Sergt. J. C. Gregory, in response to a hurry call from a local merchant, who suspected all was not well. This check also bore the notation, "for hoeing weeds."

Charges of passing fictitious checks were brought against Lugo today by Dist.-Atty. Z. B. West, who is investigating the asserted "weed hoeing" activities of Lugo.

An automobile registration certificate bearing the signature of L. A. Hensley of Ventura, which was in the possession of Lugo, is being investigated by police. The checks offered by Lugo were signed "L. A. Hensley."

MONROVIA MERCHANTS PLAN FOR ELECTION

MONROVIA, Jan. 14.—New officers of the Merchants' Association will be elected at the annual meeting on the 21st inst., it was announced today. Three new directors will be elected to succeed J. B. McBratney, C. W. Ward and W. G. Barks. Directors who will remain on the board until January, 1930, include G. F. Bentley, N. S. Crandall and W. F. Krumm. Those whose terms will not expire until 1931 are F. P. Redner, Charles Turner and Joseph Armer. It was announced that the directors will meet in the offices of the Chamber of Commerce Building on Wednesday.

CITY TO VOTE ON CHARTER TODAY

SOUTH PASADENA, Jan. 14.—In order to facilitate the voting tomorrow on the new city charter, the twenty general election precincts have been consolidated into six, it was announced today. The polling places will be open from 6 a.m. to 7 p.m. and indications are that about half of the 7500 registered voters will go to the polls.

The proposed charter was drawn up by the Board of Freeholders, elected on April 19, 1928, and was filed with the City Clerk on October 9, last.

INJURY DEATH CAUSE

REDONDO BEACH, Jan. 14.—An injury to his back sustained while cranking an automobile a week ago was given as the cause of death today of Ord C. Goodwin, 39-year-old local resident. The body is at the Cate mortuary awaiting funeral arrangements

PAIR MEET DEATH IN COMPACT

Indications Point That Man Killed Girl, Then Himself in Dual Tragedy

SANTA ANA, Jan. 14. — The bodies of J. E. Shelley, tire salesman, and Miss Barbara Vicroy, 23 years of age, local beauty-parlor operator, were found tonight in Shelley's apartment, victims of asserted murder and suicide. The couple were found in each other's arms. Death was caused by gunshot wounds from a revolver found in Shelley's hand. The girl had been shot in the mouth and Shelley through the head.

Shelley is said to have a wife and several children residing at 1714 Harrison Boulevard, Boise, Idaho. His parents are said to reside at 858 East Twenty-fourth street, North Portland, Or. The girl worked in a beauty parlor here and resided at 331 Normandy street. The shooting is believed to have occurred Sunday morning.

Appraisals of Property Soon Ready to File

SAN DIEGO, Jan. 14.—Appraisal of taxable property in San Diego city and county by Tax Factors, Inc., will be completed by March 15, according to information furnished the City Council today by City Auditor C. K. Stout. The valuations in the city of San Diego will be completed by March 1 and by March 15 the valuations in other cities and in the country districts will be finished, according to advice given the City Auditor by the appraisers.

Valuations being placed on city and county property are entirely satisfactory to County Assessor George W. Moulton, he informed the City Auditor. Moulton also says his deputies are now checking up the city blocks already reported him by the appraisers with a view of entering the values on his books.

"The valuations submitted are entirely satisfactory to me and I believe the company is more than living up to its contract in every way," Moulton is quoted.

The progress of valuations up to the 14th inst. is 58.5 per cent completed and the rate of progress in December was 13.5 per cent, the Tax Factors, Inc., inform the City Auditor, who recommended to the Council today passage of an ordinance appropriating $75,000 to pay the city's balance of the contract price for the valuations. The money was allowed in the last budget, the Auditor stated, and is to be paid the County Supervisors.

CROSSING VICTIM MAY RECOVER

ONTARIO, Jan. 14.—Strong hope was felt today that Benjamin Baltiera, Chino, will survive the injuries he received at Archibald crossing, east of Ontario, Saturday afternoon, when the automobile in which he was a passenger with his brother was struck by a fast Union Pacific train. Cleofas Baltiera, 35 years of age, died yesterday of a fractured skull and internal injuries received in the crash. A Coroner's inquest at Draper's undertaking establishment Ontario, this afternoon returned a verdict of accidental death. The two brothers essayed to drive their automobile over the railroad tracks at a point where approaching trains are visible for a mile each way.

According to testimony the automobile engine stalled on the tracks after pulling the steep grade to the tracks and before the occupants could leap the train struck the car. Cleofas Baltiera died at the County Hospital.

KILGORE ENTERS NOT GUILTY PLEA

EL CENTRO, Jan. 14.—Ray Kilgore, Mar Vista youth who is in jail here facing the charge of murdering F. A. Bartley, Imperial Valley rancher, on December 22, last, pleaded not guilty at the preliminary hearing before Judge A. C. Finney of the Superior Court here this morning. Judge Finney set the trial date for February 4.

Kilgore surrendered to Sheriff Charles Gillett on the morning the murder was committed and told the officer he shot Bartley because the latter was trying to entice his mother away from their Mar Vista home. The mother, Mrs. M. R. Kilgore, has stated through Earnest Utley, the boy's attorney, that she will go on the witness stand and give testimony confirming the assertions of her son.

MAY IDENTIFY SKELETON

Sister of Missing Girl Says Bones Found Near Niland May be Those of Beaumont Woman

EL CENTRO, Jan 14.—Clews that may lead to the identification of the skeleton found by Imperial officers in Mammoth Wash east of Niland a week ago have been received by J. Sterling Oswalt, El Centro Chief of Police, in a letter from the brother and sister of Ruth Switzer, who disappeared from Beaumont seven years ago. The sister, Mrs. A. M. Lafon of Puente, wrote to Oswalt for more information about the bones found in in a shallow grave near the Southern Pacific tracks.

She stated that Ruth Switzer had brown, curly hair, one or two teeth missing in the lower jaw and was 19 years of age. This information fits the description of the skeleton, according to Oswalt.

The girl was believed to have disappeared from Beaumont with W. H. Brown, proprietor of the grocery store where she worked. Nothing had been heard of her since and members of the girl's family have suspected foul play, it was stated.

Coroner B. E. Lemon stated today that he would make a thorough investigation to determine if the skeleton can be identified as that of the lost girl. Searching parties during the past week have found a blanket and overalls near the location of the bones, but the officers expressed doubt that these had any connection with the body.

Drove First Automobile in Windy City

ALTADENA, Jan. 14. — Harold Sturges, said to have been the owner of the first automobile driven on the streets of Chicago, died yesterday at his home, 2480 North Raymond avenue. He came to California fifty years ago, and in recent years had devoted himself to the propagation of subtropical fruits.

The California pioneer was a member of the Altadena Citizens' Association, University Club of Pasadena and the Cornell Club of Southern California.

He leaves a widow, Mrs. Louise Burke Sturges; a son, Livingston M. Sturges, and a daughter, Mrs. Rowena Sturges Cook of Pasadena.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow at 3:30 p.m. in St. Mark's Episcopal Church.

New Ordinance Starts Cab War

SAN DIEGO, Jan. 14. (AP)—Before the ink was hardly dry on San Diego's new taxicab ordinance, a war between rival cab companies was brewing over the stand concession clause of the new law.

Harry Saville, 43, a driver for the De Luxe Cab Company, had been arrested twice today by police for invading a stand designated for a rival company, police said.

In each instance Saville made the necessary $5 bail as provided by the ordinance.

Saville, police say, violated a provision of the new ordinance which provides that taxicabs may stand in certain designated places of the city streets only after the owner of the company has obtained permission from the Traffic Commission.

A rival cab company, anticipating the enforcement of the ordinance, was granted permission from the Traffic Commission to allow its cars to stand in a reserved portion of the street at First and Broadway.

The new law provides that taxicabs may not park promiscuously on the city streets to solicit business but must adhere to portions of the public streets which are designated by the Traffic Commission as taxicab stands.

These stands, the law provides, will be designated by green paint on the curbing and can be used only by taxicabs with the exception of police and fire vehicles.

ANNOUNCE SOLOIST FOR BEACH CONCERT

SANTA MONICA, Jan. 14.—Alice Muma, mezzo soprano, is the soloist who has been selected to appear with the Philharmonic orchestra of Los Angeles in their concert to be given Tuesday evening, January 15, in the Municipal Auditorium here.

The engagement of this artist for an appearance with the Philharmonic Orchestra will be welcome news to her many friends and admirers in Southern California.

For this program, Mrs. Muma will sing the Recitative and Aria "Lascia ch'io pianga" by Handel and the Arioso from "La Mort de Jeanne d'Arc" by Bemberg.

The numbers to be given by the orchestra, under George Schneevoigt's conducting, are "Oberon Overture" by Weber, "Symphonic Poem Viviane" by Chausson, "Aria" Handel, "Three Norwegian dances" by Grieg, and Tschaikowsky's 'Symphony No. 4."

LONG ILLNESS FATAL TO WIDOW OF ADMIRAL

SANTA BARBARA, Jan. 14.—Mrs. Albert W. Bacon, widow of Admiral A. W. Bacon, retired, is dead here after a lengthy illness. Mrs. Bacon had resided here for twenty-six years.

Mrs. Thomas A. Driscoll of San Mateo was with her mother at the time of her death. In addition to her daughter, Mrs. Bacon is survived by a brother, A. B. Stoughton of Philadelphia, and a sister, Mrs. Clifford Richard of Nice, France.

Requiem mass will be said for Mrs. Bacon in the old Mission today and interment will be made beside the body of Admiral Bacon in the old mission cemetery.

MILLIONS PAID GROWERS

Foothill Fruit Exchange Closes Successful Season; Elects Officers

AZUSA, Jan. 14.—New officers and directors for the coming year were announced today by the Azusa-Covina-Glendora Fruit Exchange which has just closed one of its most succesful years outstanding in the history of the association, according to executives.

C. A. Griffith has been appointed as president and others on the new directorate include T. E. Foster, vice-president; J. B. Stair, treasurer, and Paul H. Brecht, secretary-manager.

On the board of directors are Griffith, W. C. Hendrick, C. S. Whitcomb, W. A. Jones, M. S. Vosburgh, E. B. Griffith, C. F. Gordon, I. G. Reynolds, T. E. Foster, M. C. Hutchinson, J. B. Stair, P. H. Brecht and R. J. Lamm.

More than $3,000,000 was deposited to growers' accounts by the exchange during the past year, according to the annual report, which also showed that shipments were the highest for the last five years, totaling 550,916 boxes of oranges and 6352 boxes of lemons.

Average-size orange navels were 183, and average-size Valencias, 213.29 to the box. The fruit all was of exceptional quality and all pack outs were high, officials said. During the year the El Bar Dor Citrus, Inc., of Covina, affiliated with the A. C. G. Fruit Exchange, making a total of six packing-houses handling their fruit through the exchange.

Writer Dies at Pasadena

PASADENA, Jan. 14.—Rosary services for Frederic Haas Schiffman, grandson of the late Dr. Rudolph Schiffman, millionaire medicine manufacturer, will be held at 7:30 tomorrow evening in the chapel of Turner & Stevens Company. High mass service will be held Wednesday at 9 a.m. in St. Andrew's Church.

Schiffman, who was 32 years of age, died at the Pasadena Hospital at 6:30 p.m. today following an attack of bronchial pneumonia which he contracted while attending the University of California-Georgia Tech football game on New Year's Day.

Before his death Schiffman effected a reconciliation with his wife, Lucille Schiffman, who last September filed a separation suit. Notified that her husband was critically ill, Mrs. Schiffman hurried to his bedside and remained in constant attendance until death occurred. The couple's 2-year-old daughter, Jo-Anne, was taken to the hospital but was not permitted to enter her father's room due to fear of contagion.

Young Schiffman, who was known here at "Bud," was ambitious to become a writer and at one time reported for a Los Angeles newspaper. In recent months he had devoted himself to writing magazine articles.

Besides the widow and child he is survived by his mother, Mrs. F. C. Schiffman; two sisters, Florence and Isabella Schiffman; a brother, Rudolph Schiffman, and his grandmother, Mrs. Rudolph Schiffman.

PIONEER DIES AT HOME IN GLENDALE

GLENDALE, Jan. 14.—Mrs. Lois Vivian Olson, 38 years of age, the wife of Phil A. Olson and a pioneer resident of Glendale, died at her home, 1521 East Broadway, last night after a protracted illness. Mrs. Olson came to Glendale thirty-five years ago with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James L. Field, when this community consisted of only a few scattered houses. They later removed to Los Angeles, but when she married Olson in 1910 they returned to Glendale. Mrs. Olson was one of the leaders in the work of the Parent-Teacher Association and of the Tuesday Afternoon Club. Besides her husband Mrs. Olson is survived by her daughter, Ruth Elizabeth, and two sons, Robert Field and Donald Arthur Olson. Funeral services will be held at the Little Church of the Flowers at Forest Lawn Memorial Park, with Rev. J. Whitcomb Brougher, Jr., pastor of the First Baptist Church, officiating.

INVENTOR HONORED BY EXPLORER

SANTA BARBARA, Jan. 14.—John K. Northrup, former Santa Barbara resident and designer of the Lockheed Vega airplane, has been honored by Capt. Sir George H. Wilkins, Antarctic explorer, who named a newly found cape after him, according to reports received here.

Capt. Wilkins is using a Lockheed Vega in his polar explorations. He has named a number of newly discovered capes, bays and peninsulas in the Antarctic region after members of the Lockheed Vega organization.

Mr. Northrup married Ynez Harmer of this city.

TELEPHONE EXTENSIONS

LAWNDALE, Jan. 14.—Immediate construction work costing $23,000 is announced by the Southern California Edison Company through District Manager Carl Elgran to cope with the demand made by the recent development here as an oil field. A high voltage power line to the oil field from the Hawthorne substation and from El Segundo district dual system as an emergency measure are now under construction and additional work is being planned.

TRAFFIC OFFICER INJURED

BICYCLIST VICTIM OF ACCIDENT

San Francisco Man Killed on State Highway Near Oxnard

VENTURA, Jan. 14.—Angelo Morales of San Francisco was instantly killed when his bicycle was struck by Henry A. Anderson, brother of Sydney Anderson, assistant farm adviser, on the State highway near Ivy Lawn Cemetery Sunday. Anderson made a report to the Sheriff's office in which he said that the bicycle was without lights.

Riding with Anderson at the time was Margaret Maulhardt, prominent young society girl of Oxnard and daughter of Dr. and Mrs. A. A. Maulhardt of that city.

Morales was taken to the Lying-in Hospital in Oxnard by a passing motorist, but was dead when he reached there. Morales was on his way to Douglas, Ariz.

"The man turned to the left when I blew my horn," Anderson told the Sheriff's office. I turned the car into the ditch to avoid him as he swung to the right, and his bicycle was pinned under the right wheel."

Frank Cowgill Wins Reward in Song Competition

HUNTINGTON PARK, Jan. 14.—One of the ten $100 prizes offered in the preliminary contest for a national anthem to supplant "The Star Spangled Banner," sponsored by Mrs. Florence Brooks-Aton of New York, has been awarded Dr. Frank B. Cowgill of Huntington Park.

Competing in the contest were 1308 poets in forty-seven States. Dr. Cowgill was the only person in California out of 100 to gain this recognition. Three thousand dollars to go to th ewinners in the final contest, of which one-half will be given the composer supplying the score, this to be decided upon February 16. The best ten poems have been distributed among musical composers.

Three poems were sent by the local man for consideration. The first dealt with "Liberty," the second with "Brotherhood," in its broadest sense, and the third with "Peace."

Dr. Cowgill is a writer of ability, having published two illustrated volumes of verse entitled "Bethlehem" and "Sea Galilee," and also many poems which have appeared in newspapers and in magazines. Two books of prose are from his pen—"How the Boy Was Lost," a psychological work on boy training, and a life of the Christ—"Jesus the Patriot."

He is a retired minister after having given forty-one years of his life in active service in the Methodist Episcopal conference. Since retiring, in 1921, he has been a supply minister, having served the Lynwood church as temporary pastor two years of this time. He was twice delegate to the Methodist Episcopal conference, and in 1907 journeyed to Egypt and to Palestine.

MRS. CHRISMAN DIES AT HOME IN VENTURA

VENTURA, Jan. 14.—Mrs. Melanie Carnes Chrisman, wife of Thomas Chrisman of this city, died last night at her home here. She is survived by her husband and five children, who are T. H. Chrisman, Adela M. Slocum, Maud Chrisman, Mrs. Joseph Gavin and Gabriel S. Chrisman. There are also seven grandchildren.

The remains are at the Reardon undertaking parlors, where funeral arrangements are to be announced later. Mrs. Chrisman was a member of an old family prominent in California history.

PRESENT ZONE MAP TO CITY COUNCIL

HUNTINGTON PARK, Jan. 14.—The first important move in the establishment of zoning in Huntington Park has been made, the map prepared by the zoning commission having been presented to the City Council. The map only limits construction in different districts under general classifications, such as single residences, multiple dwellings, commercial structures and factories. More detailed regulations are to be made when the actual zoning ordinance is drafted and enacted. The Council has order that no industrial permits be issued in Tract 2599, one of the new additions to this city.

ORDINANCE PROTESTS PAVING

HUNTINGTON PARK, Jan. 14.—An ordinance has been given its first reading by the City Council, which, when passed finally, will eliminate the cutting of newly layed street paving by the utilities companies. The ordinance will require that all pipes and conduits by these companies be placed in the ground to take care of at least a five years' expansion. During that period they will be prohibited from cutting street paving along these thoroughfares. The ordinance was drawn up by the City Attorney, Carson B. Hubbard, after many residents had made complaints before the City Council.

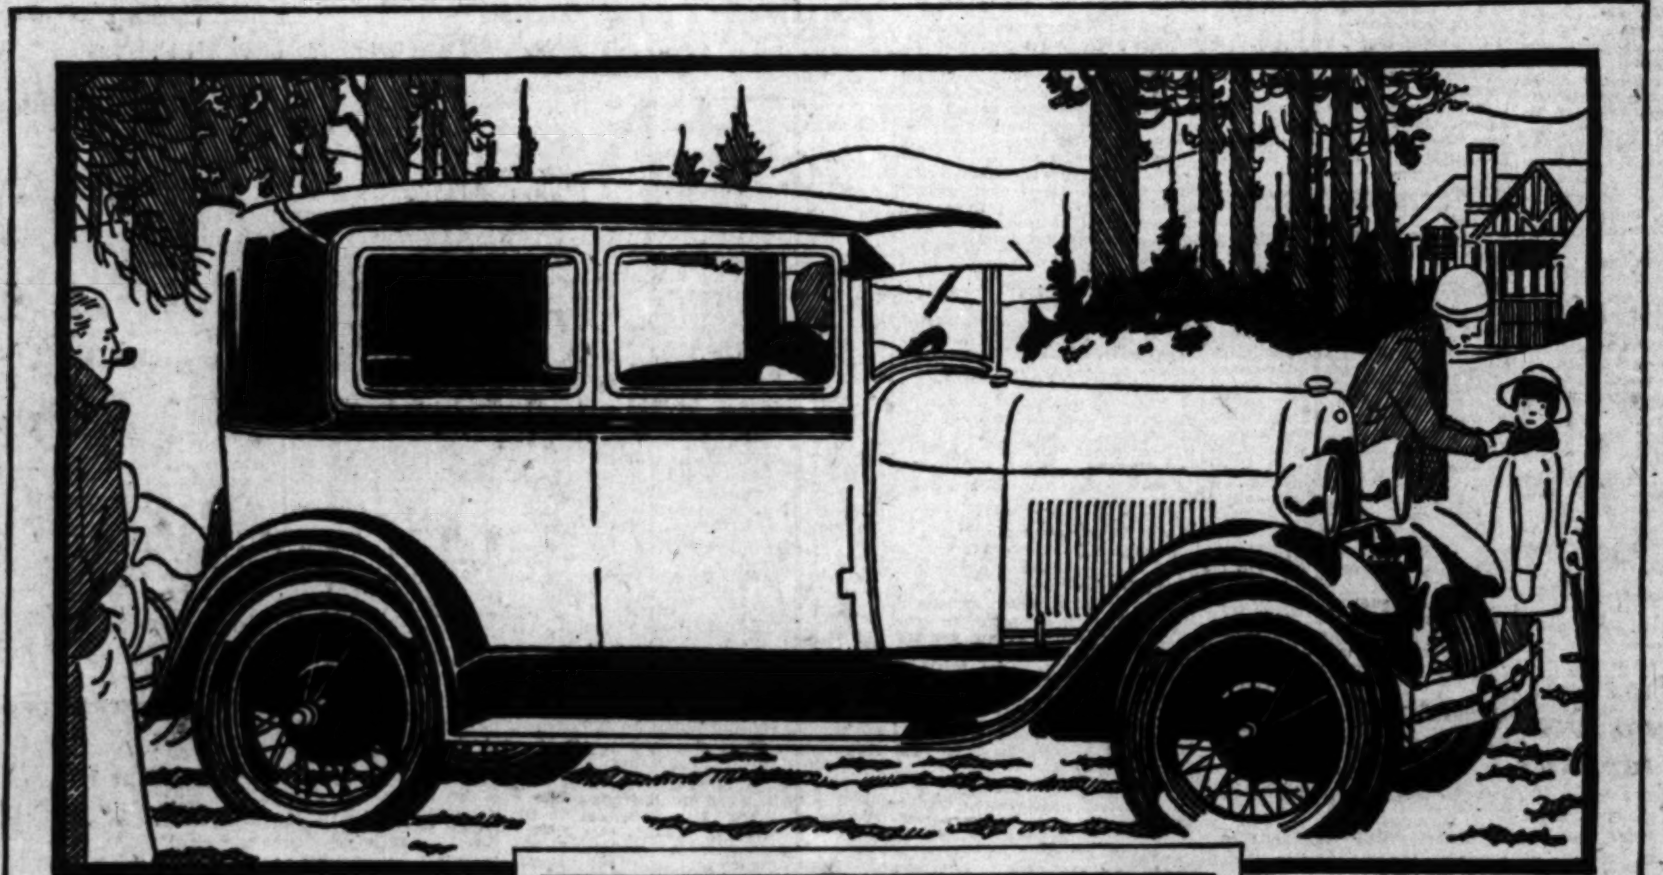
CITY MAY SUPPORT CHAMBER

SOUTH GATE, Jan. 14.—Financial aid for the operation of the Chamber of Commerce here may be given if the voters of the city approve of the plan. The idea is to secure funds by special tax of 10 cents on the $100 of assessed valuation, which would produce something more than $10,000 annually. A special election will be held to decide the proposition, the date to be about February 23, it is reported.

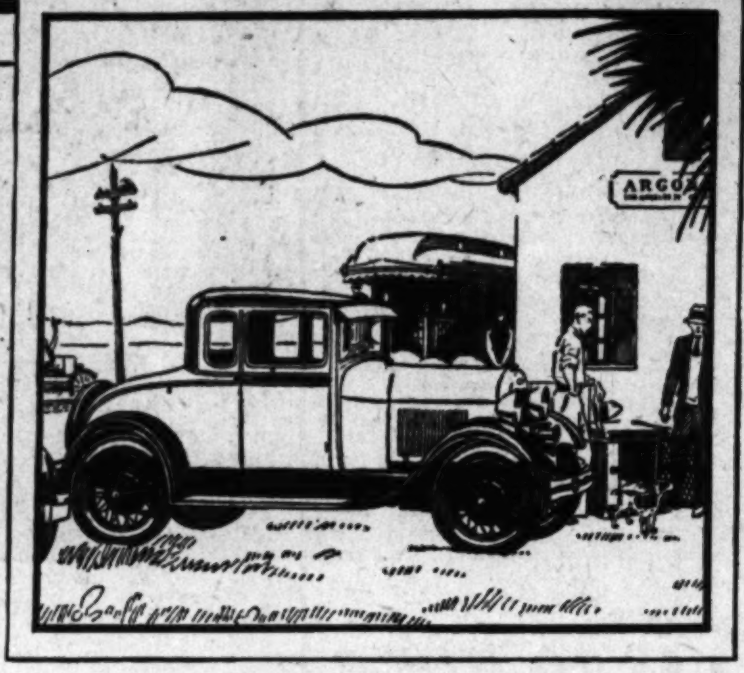
BURGLARS AT VENTURA

VENTURA, Jan. 14.—Two guns and a quantity of clothing were taken from the room of J. P. McCarty at 215 California street some time Friday night

GOOD PERFORMANCE WITH ECONOMY



The new Ford Tudor Sedan. A splendid family car because of its economy, comfort, safety, reliability, speed, power, acceleration and ease of operation and control. Finished in a choice of beautiful two-tone color harmonies. Richly upholstered. All appointments fully nickeled.



The new Ford Coupe is a particularly good example of beauty and utility. Built to serve you faithfully and well for many thousands of miles. Equipped with Triplex shatter-proof glass windshield and four Houdaille hydraulic shock absorbers.

THE new Ford is more than a new automobile. It is the expression of an ideal—an ideal that looks to bringing the benefits of modern transportation to all the people.

Because of this purpose, the price is low and great care has been taken to insure economy of operation and up-keep. Few features are of greater importance to millions of motorists.

Conservative figures show that the new Ford averages 20 miles per gallon of gasoline, with many Ford owners reporting greater mileage on long trips. Oil consumption is also low per hundred miles. There is a considerable saving on tires due to the balance of the car, ease of steering and perfected wheel design.

All tires used on new Ford cars and recommended for replacement are specially built by leading tire manufacturers according to specifications laid down by the Ford Motor Company. Mechanical up-keep is low because of simplicity of design and the enduring quality that has been built into every part.

FEATURES OF THE NEW FORD CAR

Beautiful low lines

Choice of colors

Quick acceleration

55 to 65 miles an hour

Four Houdaille shock absorbers

Triplex shatter-proof glass windshield

Economy of operation and up-keep

Zerk-Alemite chassis lubrication

Large corporations have proved Ford economy

Definite evidence of the economy of the new Ford is shown in the repeated and growing purchases by Federal and city governments, by police departments, and by large industrial companies which keep day-by-day cost records.

The new Ford has been chosen only after exhaustive tests covering every feature of automobile value and performance—from the time of purchase to the final trade-in. Here the Ford policy of not making yearly changes serves to protect and maintain the investment of every Ford owner. All improvements in the new Ford are made so that present owners may take advantage of them quickly and at low cost.

The economy of good service at a fair price

The availability of Ford dealers throughout the world and close factory supervision of all service are additional reasons for the economy of the new Ford.

It has always been our belief that a sale does not complete the transaction between us and the buyer but establishes a new obligation on us to see that his car gives him service. We are as much interested in his economical operation of the car as he is in our economical manufacture of it.

For that reason we have installed a system of controlled service to take care of all Ford car needs in an economical and improved manner. We wish all Ford owners to know what they are entitled to in this respect so that they may readily avail themselves of this service.

Ford service more important than sales

This service begins with proper instruction when you buy the car and includes a free inspection at 500, 1000 and 1500 miles. It continues as long as you are a Ford owner.

No matter where you live or where you go, you will never be very far from a Ford dealer who has been specially trained and equipped to give you courteous, intelligent, economical service. The cost of new parts is low because of the established Ford policy of doing business at a small margin of profit.

The purpose of Ford service is identical with that for which the car itself was built—to help you get many thousands of miles of pleasant, enjoyable motoring at a minimum of trouble and expense. "Good performance with economy" is the reason for the unusual value that is brought to you in the new Ford.

FLAT TIRES SAID CAUSE OF SHOTS

Quarrel Over Punctures Starts Family Row

Man Dangerously Wounded and Girl Injured

Stories of Uncle, Niece and Nephew Do Not Agree

Three flat tires on an automobile were the cause of a shooting, according to police, which resulted in the possible fatal wounding of John P. Yulian, sewing-machine agent of 4517 Colbath avenue, painful injury to his niece, Miss Minne Larnado, 14 years of age, and arrest of his nephew, Antonio Larnado, in Van Nuys yesterday noon.

The shooting occurred at the home of the niece and nephew at 4529 Colbath avenue. In describing the altercation Miss Larnado and her brother disagreed with the uncle.

Yulian, according to Captain of Detectives Newstetter, declared that he remonstrated with his nephew for the price he charged for washing and greasing his automobile Sunday. Yesterday, he said, according to Newstetter, he found his car with three flat tires, punctured by jabs with an ice pick or sharp nail. He went directly to the home of his nephew, he said, and the latter at once began shooting at him. His niece was shot in the left wrist when she got in the line of fire, he declared.

According to the nephew, as reported by Newstetter, the uncle started the shooting as soon as he entered the house. He said he obtained his own revolver after his sister had been shot.

Yulian was shot just below the heart. Both he and the girl were taken to the Van Nuys Receiving Hospital. Yulian's condition is declared critical. The nephew is held on suspicion of assault with a deadly weapon.

MISS PALMER FINED

Film Actress Promises to Heed Her Next Traffic Tag

The next time Corliss Palmer, film actress, gets a traffic tag she will attend to it promptly. This was her promise to Traffic Judge McLay yesterday, after she had been taken into court by police warrant officers.

The judge fined her $5, but warned her that a heavy fine will be imposed the next time she neglects to appear when ordered to do so.

Miss Palmer, the wife of Eugene W. Brewster, magazine publisher, was charged with parking overtime on a downtown street. She pleaded guilty and said that she had been delayed in her shopping.

CHIROPRACTORS HIT BOARD

Eleven Cited to Appear Before State Body Obtain Temporary Writs of Prohibition

As the result of a disagreement between eleven chiropractors and the State Board of Examiners of California relative to permitting them to practice both in California and Nevada, eleven writs of prohibition were filed in the Superior Court yesterday.

The writs of prohibition seek to restrain the State examiners from trying the chiropractors on accusations of "fraud and deception."

PLAINTIFFS IN CASE

The plaintiffs filing the writs are: Dr. Hugh B. Logan, Dr. Joseph W. Rau, Dr. Charles W. Webb, Dr. Agnes J. Rau, Dr. Arthur Stern, Dr. Joseph H. Tanner, Dr. J. Walter Clark, Dr. A. Prehuse, Dr. H. L. Eck, Dr. Edwin J. Fortin and Dr. Jack S. Campbell.

The plaintiffs assert in their complaints that they have been licensed to practice their profession in the State of California and were also granted reciprocal licenses permitting them to practice both in California and Nevada.

WRITS OBTAINED

The plaintiffs further assert that on December 15, last, they were served with complaints accusing them of fraud and deception and citing them to appear before the State Board of Chiropractic Examiners on next Thursday. They assert the board is acting without authority and ask that it be restrained from compelling them to appear for trial on that date.

Temporary writs were obtained by attorneys for the plaintiffs signed by Presiding Judge Keetch. Judge Keetch ordered the defendant to appear on the 24th inst. before Superior Judge Gates to show cause why the writs should not be made permanent.

Macsmen Hear Football Talks

If politics were conducted as scrupulously as football this city would benefit, Coach Howard Jones of the University of Southern California last night told the Macsmen at their January dinner and entertainment in the First Presbyterian Church, Hollywood. Football as a topic occupied much of the program offered the 500 members attending. Dr. Bruce Baxter, University of Southern California, the principal speaker, described the trip of the baseball team to the Orient. Superior Judge Louis Tappaan, formerly a U.S.C. gridiron player and father of a member of the 1923 eleven also spoke.

Arthur Lang, baritone, sang several solos. The U.S.C. ladies' trio rendered numbers and Harold Roberts, director of musical organizations, led the Macsmen in singing.

VICE SQUAD EXECUTIVE QUITS POST

Plummer to Rest Week Before Assuming Duty Under Dist.-Atty. Fitts

Deputy Chief of Police Plummer, after twenty years of service, last night bade farewell to forty-five members of the vice squad, of whom he had been in command for several months, and told something of his plans for the future.

CLYDE L. PLUMMER

In becoming chief of the prohibition law enforcement squad for the District Attorney's office, Plummer says he has been assured that he is to have an absolutely free hand.

There will be no sacred cows immune to arrest because of political influence, nor other considerations, and if there lurks in Los Angeles county any bootlegger or still operator who fancies himself "set," he is due for a big surprise, declared Plummer.

As to Plummer's successor, the office of Chief Davis was noncommittal last night. The man may be drafted from the ranks of patrolmen or he may be a ranking officer.

On one occasion, many years ago, Plummer was warned by certain political powers that closing a certain illicit establishment meant the end of his job. His answer was to arrest one bartender, fourteen customers as material witnesses and the proprietor.

"If you know of any stills operating in Los Angeles county I will appreciate a tip, and I will tell you if I happen to hear of any operating within the city," Plummer said. "However, we shall regard the city as part of the county."

He will assume his duties as chief of the District Attorney's dry enforcement squad after a week's vacation. This means that on the 21st inst., Plummer and twenty-three county dry agents will be on duty.

UNION HEAD TAKEN FOR BOMB REIGN

Cleaners' and Dyers' Chief Jailed After Two-Week Hunt for Acid Outrages

Charles M. Murphy, president of the Cleaners' and Dyers' Union, affiliated with the American Federation of Labor, was arrested last night charged with being a leader in the slugging, acid-throwing and terrorism existing in the cleaners and dyers industry. Murphy was taken to jail by Detective-Lieutenant Hynes, who found him with a group of union men at a hall at 1417 South Georgia street.

Murphy and Isidore Goodman have been sought for two weeks in connection with several asserted confessions made by union sluggers who declared they had been hired by Murphy and Goodman to wreck the establishments of independent dyers.

When found last night Murphy was in a meeting of union adherents who were berating the police for their activity in attempting to clean out the sluggers who have been preying on the independent dyers.

Murphy refused to discuss the charges against him, but admitted he knew Delaney and Goodman. Goodman telephoned to Lieut. Hynes last night after Murphy's arrest and said he will surrender to the police this morning.

FUND USE FORESTALLS VETO PERIL

Council Allocates Money for Grade Separation by Devious Methods

An allocation of $20,000 from the permanent improvement fund to pay 75 per cent of the cost of constructing a grade separation where the tracks of the Southern Pacific Railway cross Radford avenue in the San Fernando Valley was voted yesterday by the City Council on recommendation of its Finance Committee.

Mayor Cryer has opposed the city's paying so large a proportion of the expense, contending that grade separations fall within the classification of safety devices which it is incumbent upon railroads to install. An allocation from the improvement fund, however, does not require the Mayor's approval.

In view of the Mayor's known views upon the subject it is likely that the contract for this work will be signed by the President of the City Council, as was done in a similar contract last week.

LEAD FOR ARLEN SELECTED

Mary Brian Supplies Heart Interest in "Man I Love;" Frank Riecher Signs Long-Term Contract With Pathe; Vivian Bay to Play Lead in Universal Films

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

When Richard Arlen's manly voice rings out in a proposal of marriage to a girl in Paramount's "The Man I Love," it will be Mary Brian's sweet tones which will answer "Yes."

MARY BRIAN

Jesse L. Lasky made the announcement yesterday that Miss Brian would play the feminine lead opposite Arlen and be cofeatured with him in this 100 per cent talking picture, which William Wellman will direct.

"The Man I Love" is an original story by Herman J. Mankiewicz, and will be made both as a talker and a silent picture. One wonders, by the way, if this isn't being done partly to decide which form is the more popular, although, of course, there is the more obvious reason that as a talker it could not be distributed in Europe. Then, too, there are many theaters in this country not equipped for sound pictures, and a comparison of the popularity of the two forms can thus be arrived at.

The story concerns a prize fighter, and it is said that this will be the first boxing story to reach the audible screen.

Frank Reicher With Pathe

The talking pictures are bringing back to Hollywood many familiar faces of folk who were important figures in the industry a decade ago, and then turned their talents to the stage.

Frank Reicher, formerly of the stage, who later became a director and actor for Cecil B. De Mille, but who more recently has again allied himself with the New York Theater Guild, has been coaxed back to the movies. He has signed a contract with Pathe to direct and act in their forthcoming sound productions.

FRANK REICHER.

Just before signing this contract, Reicher played the district attorney in the Milton Sills-Dorothy Mackaill story based on Donn Byrne's story, "Changeling." He was also featured and shared in the direction of Pathe's first all-talking picture, "The Missing Man."

Vivian Bay With Universal

Looking around for a leading lady for Benny Rubin in his series of films for Universal, that organization decided that nobody could do the feminine wile stuff quite as well as pretty Vivian Bay. Wherefore Miss Bay has been signed for the first of the pictures, titled "Pilgrim's Papa," and it is likely will appear in others as well.

Jack Foley, who was gag man on several of Glenn Tryon's pictures has been promoted to a directorship, and will serve in that capacity on the Rubin pictures.

Eddie Kane has been signed to play the school-teacher in the series.

Fox Makes Up Mind

Now you fans can at least be settled in your minds about one thing. Fox films has made a decision for the last time, officials promise us, as to who will have the male lead in "Through Different Eyes," which John Blystone will direct.

Edmund Lowe

At first it was decided that Edmund Lowe was the man; then Warner Baxter. Now comes the final verdict that Lowe will play the part.

Lowe has just finished the talking sequences for "Making the Grade," in which he was co-starred with Lois Moran.

Two for "The Sap"

Both Russell Simpson and Alan Hale have been signed for featured roles in the Warner Brothers talking picture, "The Sap," starring Edward Everett Horton, and directed by Archie Mayo, it was announced yesterday by Darryl Zanuck.

Tom Miranda Writes Titles

Edmund Breese Busy

Edmund Breese is a fairly busy man these days, you may say. Not only is he working on the stage o' nights in "So This Is London," current at El Capitan Theater, but he has just signed for an important part in Warner Brothers' "The Hottentot," featuring Edward Everett Horton.

"WHO is to have the car today?"

"YOUR advertising of the unused transportation in used cars has registered with me," a business man tells us. "It has shown me how to end the breakfast table arguments about 'Who is to have the car today?'"

Very many American families discover every year that the used car stocks of General Motors dealers offer an easy answer to this common problem.

These cars vary in body, type and style. They sell at attractive prices; in some of them the potential mileage has hardly been touched.

They offer opportunity to have a second or third car at lowest possible cost.

You are invited to examine the used cars in the stores of General Motors dealers, and you may pay on the convenient GMAC Purchase Plan.

'GUARDSMAN' IS SUPER-SUBTLE

Molnar Literary But Gay in Deceptive Comedy

Lowell Sherman Clever Star of Repertory Offering

Doris Lloyd Wins Interest as Feminine Lead

BY EDWIN SCHALLERT

Information for jealous husbands. . . . Seek to disguise yourself as the man whom you might imagine your wife to be in love with, and then attempt to discover whether she would succumb to his romantic persuasions. Or, better still, save yourself the trouble and attend "The Guardsman."

Here is a play of neat subtleties that is on view at the Figueroa Playhouse as the second offering of the Los Angeles Repertory Theater. It is excellently presented with Lowell Sherman starring and directing the production, and a qualified supporting cast headed by Doris Lloyd.

A socially and professionally distinguished audience saw the opening of this Ferenc Molnar creation last evening, and gave it an evident due of interest and appreciation. The piece is too smartly intellectual perhaps, to bring the wild show of enthusiasm, but it evokes high mental response to its nuances of plot, dialogue and situation.

Molnar has long dealt in the repartee of sly deceit and skillful innuendo and "The Guardsman" is among his more deft contrivances. It affords perhaps a very slight raison d'etre for a full three acts, but its tenuous theme is handled with an enlivening brilliance. Talk, unquestionably, overwhelms action, but the talk is rich with pungency and meaning.

Here is the plot briefly:

An actor, vain to a high degree regarding his own histrionic capabilities, doubts the constancy of his wife. He suspects, in deed, that she languishes for an admirer. He has gone so far as to test her fidelity by parading en masquerade on the sidewalk opposite her (and his) dwelling. There have been surreptitious signalings. He has apparently won her curiosity by his impersonation of a brilliantly caparisoned military man—in a word, a Russian guardsman.

He decides to carry the "flirtation" one step further. In the regal attire he will come actually into her presence and essay to make love to her. He confides his intent to a friend of his, who is a critic. He is absolutely sure of his thespianic talents and that he will deceive the woman. In the portrayal of the character, of course, he undergoes—what with the addition of beard and mustache—considerable of a metamorphosis.

The charm of the Molnar play from this point on is its elusive trickery. The audience views the impersonation in a variety of lights while it is in progress, believing it to be a success at times, wondering how it can be at others. Then later—wondering again whether or not, as she declares, the wife knew her husband was play-acting all the time, or whether she was really deceived and took him seriously as a prospective amoroso.

Perhaps the second act is the most ingratiating. Laid in the anteroom of a box at the opera, this scene divulges the progress of the suit that the husband in the role of the Russian officer pays to his wife. It is during a performance of the first act of "Madame Butterfly" heard off stage with singing and instrumental accompaniment.

This act did not quite attain its proper peak last evening in the interpretation. Something was wanting of that smooth grace that belongs to it, perhaps, but on the whole it made a zestful impression. I rather surmise the future performances will find it running more swiftly and certainly. Molnar singularly demands both these attributes.

Sherman is splendid in his impersonation of the actor, particularly in the first and final episodes. He accomplishes the change to the disguise of the guardsman right on the stage in the latter, with marked cleverness. The role exerts demands for versatility that are unusual, and Sherman met these with ample spirit. He seemed nervous at times, but is in every way an exceptionally polished and energetic interpreter. The only material fault that might be noted was his tendency to subdue his voice too much in certain more confidential moments. Clarity in enunciation was slightly sacrificed on these occasions.

Doris Lloyd achieved a pleasantly inscrutable characterization as the wife, and made a rather flashing picture in the opera scene. Her efficiency as an actress has seldom been more effectively proved than in this play. Light, shade and temperament just occasionally became mechanical in her portrayal, but it gives every promise of a consummate cleverness.

From Blanche Frederici a little more may be expected as the stage mother, as she is a very interesting actress. She failed to sound some of the subtler depths of the role, though her work seemed to please the audience. Claude Flemming approaches adequacy as the critic, while Betty Middleton, Hans Herbert and Jane Elton played lesser roles.

A very interesting play is "The Guardsman," especially for those who prefer the wiles of a light and gay literary sophistication.

FOOTBALL SEASON AN ANNOYANCE TO ACTOR

When Emerson Treacy, now playing Bud Weaver in the comedy "Take My Advice," which Henry Duffy Players are presenting at the President, was an undergraduate at St. Joseph's College in Philadelphia, he was a three-letter man, winning his insignia in football, basketball and track. He was second-string quarterback on the varsity, played regular forward on the basketball team and could run two miles in 10m. 14s.

"The toughest part of the theater to me," says Treacy, "is to have to play a Saturday matinee when the football season is on. I've only been able to catch two games in the last four seasons."

Talkie's Appeal Unabated

Dorothy Burgess

Plays Tonia, the untamed, in "In Old Arizona," the Fox sound film which is still drawing throngs to the Criterion Theater. Miss Burgess will make a personal appearance this evening.

Baritone Will Offer Recital

RICHARD GUIBERSON

Following his recital here, the eminent Californian is to be heard in the northern part of the State, and will then leave for the East, returning through the South, where he is a much-sought concert artist.

Significant is the fact that Guiberson, without the usual publicity trumpeting, finds himself re-engaged nearly in every city. As a result he has been compelled to limit his concert activities in the western part of the country. Plans are being laid, however, for a New York appearance, and possibly concerts abroad.

Endowed with a resonant baritone, an inborn sense of style, and equipped with excellent technique, Guiberson is well in a position to sing a program of rare quality. Assisted by Mrs. M. Hennion Robinson, Los Angeles composer-pianist, he will present an interesting group of Italian, French, German and English songs.

Conrad Yarn to Remain Current

So popular has Joseph Conrad's story, "The Rescue," proved itself in screen form at the United Artists, that the management has decided to hold the Ronald Colman vehicle over for a third week. Having originally booked the picture for one pre-release week, the United Artists considers "The Rescue's" continued popularity as a tribute to its star. Colman's achievement as a solo artist is here shown; for it is his first picture since he was cinematically separated from Vilma Banky by the producer, Samuel Goldwyn.

Midnight-Play Plan Limited

Following the announcement that a special midnight performance of "The Front Page" would be given at the Belasco Theater the 26th inst., with the reporters of the Los Angeles daily papers as guests of Belasco, Butler and Curran, the producers, the Belasco box office has been deluged with inquiries as to whether or not any other midnight performances were contemplated.

Reporters' night will be the only late performance of "The Front Page" to be given locally, states Homer Curran. There will be seats available to the public for that performance, but it is given mainly in honor of the local news gatherers.

HADLEY IS DEXTROUS

Art Hadley, cartoonist, offers a novelty number in the stage act at the Boulevard Theater this week. With the Hollywood Beauties holding easels, Hadley does a lightning-speed series of sketches that is both unique and intriguing. "Prep and Pep" is the feature film at the Boulevard.

MISS KING ON NEW FILM

Bradley King's European vacation will not start upon completion of "The Squall" for First National-Vitaphone production. It became known Saturday that she already is at work on Richard Connell's "Pat and Mike" for Milton Sills as that star's second dialogue special to follow "The Barker."

POLAND DENIES RETURN

Joseph Franklin Poland has no intention of returning to his former post as general supervisor at Universal City. The young writer-supervisor made this statement last night to refute reports indicating production factor over the Laura La Plante, Reginald Denny and Glenn Tryon subjects for Carl Laemmle.

ACTRESS MAKING WHOOPEE

June Collyer has nothing to say in "Let's Make Whoopee," which comes to Loew's State this week. Sound alone is incorporated in the picture, and there is no dialogue.

Music Revue to Entrain Soon

The new Music Box Revue with Lupino Lane, Doris Eaton and the "Garden of Eden of Beautiful Girls," will continue only three more weeks at the Hollywood Music Box, after which the company moves to San Francisco to open there at the Curran Theater on February 3.

New skits, new dance numbers, and new principals have been added since this intimate production opened here Christmas night, and the show now runs in two acts and twenty-four scenes. An extra show is given every Saturday at midnight, with screen and stage stars dropping in for special impromptu stunts with Lane. Tonight will be Glendale night at the theater.

Outstanding features of the Music Box offering include the Lupino Lane comedy skits and dances, the revival of "The Doll Dance," by Doris Eaton, the new sketch entitled "Montmartre," the "Memories of Picardy" episode, and "Singin' in the Rain."

Revealing a new collection of Hollywood beauties, the chorus appears to best advantage in the new Indian slave dance, the toyland scene, the lunch box number, and the "Dance of the Marionettes."

Picture Aims at "Met" Records

Shattering all box-office records at the Paramount theaters in both New York and Brooklyn, "The Shopworn Angel," now showing at the Metropolitan here, is well on the way to establish patronage history in this city, it is prophesied.

All eastern critics, without exception, referred to this tale of love between an uncouth soldier boy and a Broadway chorus girl, directed by Richard Wallace, as one of the finest cameos of entertainment ever to come from the film center.

The directorial ability of Wallace, apparent in every picture which he has previously directed, has in this production made itself even plainer.

"McFadden's Flats," which Wallace directed a little over one year ago for First National, is known to have established a precedent in grossing receipts.

"My Man" Will Vacate Shortly

Warner Brothers' Theater today announces the final two weeks of Fannie Brice in her singing-talking picture, "My Man." The engagement will end on the 27th inst. to make way for a previous booking. The coming fortnight also offers the final presentations of Larry Ceballos's spectacle, "Orange Grove," with its California setting.

BRIDGE FAN DEFENDS HIS FAVORITE GAME

Walter Percival takes issue with the pronouncement of a teacher of physical education in the University of Washington that bridge games bring out the least desirable traits in a person and that they are bad for the nerves.

"That is all poppycock," unqualifiedly asserts the actor who plays Henry Allen in the production of "Daddies" at the Hollywood Playhouse. "Bridge is excellent for the nerves. It is a relaxing game, especially for an actor. My greatest diversion after the theater is a good game of bridge. It takes my mind away from my work and an hour's play is almost in the nature of a tonic.

"As for bringing out the undesirable traits in a person, that also is nonsense. Undesirable traits may be discovered in various ways, not only by losses at bridge. A person is revealed by his daily actions and his habits in little things."

JUDGES PASS ON MURDER AT MASON

New Cast "Acquits" Self by Admirable Work in Courtroom Melodrama

BY MARQUIS BUSBY

Mary Dugan again stands trial for her life in Bayard Veiller's gripping drama of court procedure, "The Trial of Mary Dugan," which returned to the Mason Theater last night.

"The Trial of Mary Dugan" is a startling departure from all set rules of the dramatic craft. Here is a play that discards the time-honored curtain to mark the end of an act. Instead there are court recesses and adjournments. There is little action. From beginning to end the sordid story of Mary Dugan is told in the grimy room of the Supreme Court. But one's attention is riveted to the stage. Interest does not waver from the dramatic, mystifying trial.

Last season "The Trial of Mary Dugan" closed its Los Angeles engagement at the height of the run, after establishing itself as a dramatic smash. The return production brings a different company, not as excellent in some respects, but an unusually capable one in every instance.

It is difficult to relate much of the plot of the play without revealing the surprising denouement. Mary Dugan is a Follies beauty, standing trial for the murder of Edward Rice, her lover. Witnesses come and go, chorus girls, a physician, policemen, and the widow of the slain man. In the middle of the trial Mary Dugan's case is taken over by Jimmie, her brother. It is Jimmie who turns the tide of the trial, points out the real murderer and frees his sister.

The audience, by the way, comprises the jury. Lawyers harrangue the audience, and witnesses are told to make their remarks to the jury. Mary Dugan is acquitted by the audience.

Undoubtedly, the stellar trio of the play are Florence Mason as Mary Dugan; Allen Connor, Jimmie, and Forrest Stanley, the prosecuting attorney.

Mary Dugan does not take the stand until late in the second act. Although she is on the stage throughout the play, she has but this one scene. It is an intensely difficult emotional bit, but Miss Mason acquits herself splendidly. Her breakdown on the stand is excellently done.

Allen Connor, as the young brotheh who tries the case, has appeared in numerous light comedy productions here, but for the first time he demonstrates high ability in straightforward drama. Connor received an ovation after his plea to the jury, last night.

Henry Crosby, who appeared as the judge in the original Los Angelse production, again appears in the same role. This in itself is a recommendation.

Amusing comedy highlights are provided by slangy chorus girls in the persons of Lenore Cosnova, Joane Warner and Frances Sheehan. Lettie Sherwood is a capable Marie Ducrot. Guy d'Ennery appears as the first attorney for the defense, later supplanted by the brother of Mary Dugan. There are also numerous court attendants and witnesses.

Stokowski to Build Home California

Coincident with the verification of the story printed in The Times yesterday morning to the effect that W. A. Clark, Jr., had announced in New York his decision to continue sponsorship of the Los Angeles Philharmonic Orchestra, by the Philharmonic management in Los Angeles, comes the news that Leopold Stokowski, world famous orchestral conductor, is making plans for the building of a home in Southern California.

Mr. Stokowski conducted the Los Angeles Philharmonic recently and received remarkable demonstrations of approval from packed houses.

Mrs. Caroline E. Smith, manager of the orchestra, is returning from a trip to New York, and is not available to confirm or deny various rumors regarding next year's plans for the orchestra.

As the sponsorship of the orchestra hinged upon ability to obtain a lease on the Philharmonic Auditorium, which was obtained, it is presumed that the orchestra will be housed in the auditorium for the next five years.

Miss Eldridge to Quit Stage

The 19th inst. when the comedy, "Her Cardboard Lover," closes its run at the Vine Street Theater to make way for "The Swan," the stage will lose one of its most popular and charming leading ladies. For Florence Eldridge, much to the regret of local playgoers, will close her unusually successful stage career when the current play ends, it is said.

Sacrificing a career for domesticity, Miss Eldridge is retiring to private life as the wife of Fredric March, remembered for his role in "The Royal Family" and now under contract to Paramount.

Miss Eldridge's loss to the stage will be keenly felt, as her interpretations have ever shared the spotlight at the Vine Street with Edward Everett Horton. She is at present essaying the role made famous by Jeanne Eagels in "Her Cardboard Lover."

CRAVEN A SAMARITAN

Being an adept at the game of golf, Frank Craven, who is now appearing in his own comedy at the Biltmore Theater, has in his appearances in the tee scene of the comedy unconsciously helped the stance of many a golfing aspirant who has attended his performances.
